Gay Scenes At Windup Of The Local Christmas Chest

It was a gay and successful occasion when the Christmas Chest Drive ended on a note of cheer for over 500 people who received gift boxes from the citizens of Chilton County. Shown in the top picture are some of the folks who helped to make the drive so successful. Front row, left to right: Mrs. A. T. Hickman, Mrs. R. M. Tucker, Miss Margaret Lee, Mrs. Ralph Morrison, Miss June Lake.

Back Row, left to right: Leo Thompson, Rev. A. T. Hickman (1949 Chairman), I. D. Armstrong, Probate Judge W. L. Parrish, and R. M. Tucker, Finance Chairman Russell Williams, and Bob Taber, Publicity Chmn., were absent.

Builders of Clanton

ONE OF A SERIES

Ed Mullins, of the Mullins & Scott Department Store in Clanton, is carrying on the fine traditions of one of the county's oldest and most respected families.

It was 'way back in 1889 that the Mullins family brought their store into Clanton from out in the country, and since that time they have continued to build their reputation for good merchandise and good citizenship.

Just two months ago the front of the store was remodeled, and about three years ago the entire interior was remodeled, to make it one of the finest department stores in Central Alabama.

Ed, who is one of the store's partners, was born and raised right here in Clanton, and went away to school is Montgomery and to the Gulf Coast Military Academy. He finished college at Sewanee in 1934, and came straight back to Clanton to go into the family business. Miss Nell Williams of Thomaston became Mrs. Ed Mullins about 11 years ago, and they have four fine children—Edwin Renfro, James Hugh, Robert John, and Nelda Jean.

ED MULLINS

They all live on "Mullins Hill," so called because so many of the Mullinses live up there. There's Reese, Little Reese, Burton, Ed, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Scott. Mrs. Scott was a Mullins before her marriage. "Scotty" will be the subject of a future article in this series.

Working right along with them is John D. Mullins, Ed's brother, who married Elizabeth Murphy of Aliceville and now has his 18-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, studying at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo.

Men and women's clothing, G.E. appliances, cotton and fertilizer are some of the items they feature at Mullins & Scott—carrying on the traditions of the family and helping out in many ways to make a bigger and better Clanton.

It's no wonder that the name of Mullins stands high among the "Builders of Clanton."

Chilton's high - ranking National Guard unit is composed of five officers and 161 enlisted men. It is the fourth largest unit in the State of Alabama, of which Chilton County should be proud. There are 116 units in the state.

This unit annually brings into Chilton County approximately $30,000.

Monday night of this week, work was completed on the new utility building for the National Guard here, which will be used as a vehicle storage building, for supplies, and for use as a temporary armory.

Additional plumbing work, already contracted, is expected to be completed this week, and more money will be spent soon to put in shelves and partitions in the new utility building.

As an indication of the high showing of the local unit, Lt. Williamson said that out of 128 men in competition last August, 100 were picked to go to camp. This good showing will be repeated this year, he hopes.

The unit is preparing now for a showdown inspection on February 8, to be followed by Federal inspection of troops as well as company equipment. They are out to beat their showing last year, which was excellent.

The National Guard meets every Monday night at 7:00 p.m.

Gunman Fires At Wright Boys

For no apparent reason Alton and Austin Wright, Clanton Route 4, were fired upon by an unknown assailant last Saturday night.

The boys were just leaving their yard when a car stopped about fifty yards ahead and cut out its lights. Someone got out of the car and fired a shotgun blast over the door and directly at them. The gunman got back in the car and drove off while they were running for their house.

Mr. Martin Wright, their father, ran out of the house but was unable to obtain the tag number or the make of the car.

The shooting occured shortly after nightfall and the boys were walking to a friend's house.

The majority of the shot rained from their clothes but Austin received a wound in his nose. They could give no idea as to who it was or why they were fired upon.

Crimson Tide Planning To Return To Glory

In recent years, Alabama's once famous Crimson Tide football team, has been variously fair, to mediocre. The last several annual editions have been disappointing to Alabama alumni, long used to champion or near championship teams.

Signs are appearing which indicate that a determined effort will be made to restore the Tide to her former prestige and standing in the Conference. Hank Crisp, who turned out impregnable lines for 'Bama for 21 years, has been lured back to Tuscaloosa from Tulane. Crisp will greatly strengthen the Tide coaching staff.

Another step in the right direction is the signing of 32 out of the state's top 60 high school football stars. In recent years, dozens of top high school stars were lured out of the state by rival colleges in adjoining states. The flow of home material, is being directed to our own state schools, for a change.

Alabama formerly secured excellent material from Illinois, Pennsylvania, and other Northern states on athletic scholarships. Importing of out-of-state material, lapsed for several seasons, and the Tide's record reflected this loss of good material.

We suspect that the Tide's loss to Auburn this season had much to do with 'Bama's awakening from it's legarthy, and determination to climb back to the gridiron heights. We will welcome a return to the good old days when the Tide was a perennial contestant in one of the bowl games each New Year.—Cullman Democrat.

It's Easy, Ha!

So you think its easy to put one word after another and make a product that is readable.

Well, here are some sentences that hint those who write for their daily bread can have headaches, too:

"She whipped him upon his return."

"The colonel was shot in the ticket office."

"She seated herself upon his entering."

And last, but not least, this spellbinder:

"Mr. Jones walked in upon her invitation."

A public speaker could fluff over such, but an editor, never. — Andalusia Star-News.

And we saw one the other day: "The lady was shot and the bullet is in her yet."—Ed.

Now Comes 1950

The approach of this first day of January brings into being no ordinary New Year. It is the turn of the half-century, depending somewhat on the way you count, Holy Year, the Year of Jublilee, A.D. 1950.

One might hope that such a year would bring with it a magic transformation of all the world's trouble and misery. There is no easy way, however. In 1950, as in all other years, the slow progress of the world will depend on the persistent effort of individual human beings, working toward the goal of civilized living and brotherhood of man.

Every day is in reality the beginning of a new year, a new century, a new millenium—if we had the vision and purpose to recognize it as such.—Our Southern Home.

New Coins

A California man is managing a campaign to get three new coins introduced in the United States monetary system. He wants a 2½c piece, a 7½c piece and a 12½c piece. He has the names selected. The 2½-center would be a Ben (for thrifty Benj. Franklin); the 7½c would be a Link (for Abe Lincoln); the 12½c would be a Bit. All Southerners understand that, for 12½c is a bit. Two bits make a quarter; six bits, 75c.

The sponsor's idea is that some items now selling at three cents would be reduced to two and a half; while many ten cent items would drop to a link.

Our idea is that many nickle items would rush up to a link, and a dime's worth of something or other would cost a bit.

Certain manufacturers feel that it would help, because items now selling at two for a quarter could be sold better at one for a bit, as the one item now has to sell for 13 cents, and it takes a minimum of four coins to make 13 cents.

And on the other hand, how could it help much in Alabama, when there is a sales tax added to the cost of everything to make pennies necessary in practically every transaction?—Greenville Advocate.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

The other day as we were riding around town we noticed a suspicious character going from one parking meter to another. Later on, about thirty minutes, as we drove down another street the same party was stooping under another parking meter. Well, says we, something is going on here that doesn't meet the eye, so we keep a watchful eye on the strange acting party. He would go from meter to meter, stoop down a while under the coin box and then straighten up, kick the "kinks" out of his feeble old knees, and go to the next meter. After several minutes of this we decided surely we were wrong. It was John Ponder Lawrence alright, but he wasn't robbing the parking meters, he was painting numbers on each one of them for the City.

Rev. A. T. Hickman is enjoying a holiday this week and will not have his weekly sermon on the editorial page. However, it will be in its accustomed place next week. Watch for it.

Sheriff J. A. Nivens was telling us the other day that in his seven years in the Sheriff's office he has never had a bad report from the State Auditors. The first year he was Sheriff he had a six dollar over-payment, but his other books were in such splendid condition he was complimented by the state men anyway. Incidentally the Sheriff tells us that he will definitely be a candidate in the election this year. He will be running for his third term.

What do you think of a couple who would spend ten or fifteen minutes getting into their home through a front window only to find after crawling over a sofa, that the front door wasn't locked in the first place. . . . Who was that fellow who went to the A&P and bought a large order of groceries and signed the check to pay for them, "Santa Claus?" . . . Did we see Mr. Grady Reynolds washing windows in his new law offices the other morning? The new offices, by-the-way, are upstairs in the new building just finished by Dewey Rockett. . . .Can't get a line on who will occupy the Gowan Building where the Bus Station used to be. . . . mighty good location for somebody. . . .Bob Windham is going to remodel the Elite Cafe. Has it closed for the present. . . .Most things we worry about never happen. We know a woman who is worrying over a new fur coat.

Danger Signals Of Cancer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a series of stories on the symptoms of early cancer, furnished the Chilton County News by members of the Chilton County Medical Society.

A type of cancer that kills more than 30,000 Americans every year—cancer of the colon and rectum—usually flashes its danger signal while the disease is still in an early, curable stage. But so unaware are most people of the significance of the symptom, that in the majority of cases, patients still wait until the disease is far advanced before they seek medical attention.

The best time for cancer treatment and cure is at the first sign of trouble, and the first sign of trouble in this type of cancer usually is a change in normal bowel habits.

Constipation, diarrhea, and bloody or "tarry" stools are all a signal for an immediate visit to a doctor for a thorough examination. or the patient who always has had easy and regular bowel movements, and persistent constipation should be a warning. A patient who has had a tendency toward constipation should take note of any increase in the difficulty of bowel movement. Diarrhea, alternating with constipation, also is a danger signal.

If there is bleeding it may appear at the opening of the rectum before anything else is expelled. Usually it is mixed with the stool and may appear as a very dark blood or "tarry" stool. If the cancer is nearer the rectum, bleeding becomes more pronounced and change of bowel habits, particularly constipation, becomes more marked. The early signs of rectal cancer are more easily noticed than other forms of intestinal cancer and are much more often cured.

Unfortunately, many patients dismiss such symptoms as hemorrhoids (or piles). Bt it is extremely dangerous to assume that rectal bleeding is merely hemorrhoids.

The intelligent person will protect himself by asking his physician for a thorough examination to eliminate the possibility of cancer.

In spite of the amazing progress that has been made in diagnostic techniques and treatment methods for cancer of the colon, there still are thousands of needless deaths each year from this type of cancer. Until patients learn to recognize the symptoms that may indicate the presence of early cancer and place themselves in the hands of competent physicians at the first suspicious symptom, these needless deaths will continue.

Cancer of the colon — like other forms of cancer — can be cured if it is treated early. It will be cured in a much higher percentage of cases when patients seek medical advice in time.

The last article in this series will appear in the Chilton County News next week. For additional information about the subejct of today's article, write for the American Cancer Society's free booklet "cancer of the Digestive Tract." Address your request to "Cancer," Clanton, Ala.

'50 Dimes Drive Opens January 16

The 1950 March of Dimes gets under way in Chilton County and throughout the nation Monday, January 16, and will continue until the end of the month.

During that two-week period, citizens of Chilton County, like their fellow Americans in all parts of the country, will help write the answer to the threat of polio epidemics next summer by providing for continued care and treatment of polio patients of 199 and prior years.

Terming the 1950 March of Dimes the most critical in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Mr. Leo Thompson, County Campaign Director, said that the fund-raising machinery is all set to launch the greatest March of Dimes ever undertaken.

"It is imperative," Mr. Thompson said, "that all know the seriousness of today's polio situation. More than 40,000 cases were reported during 1949, the worst polio onslaught in the history of the disease in this country.

"Thanks to public support of previous annual appeals of the National Foundation, prompt and effective aid was rendered the stricken. But as case after case developed, chapter after chapter of the National Foundation found itself without funds. Financial aid was rushed to them from the organization's epidemic reserve fund. So great was the drain that millions of dollars earmarked for emergency assistance dwindled to the vanishing point."

Consequently, Mr. Thompson pointed out, if the Chilton County Chapter is to continue providing services to polio patients in this and other communities, everyone must "hit the line hard" during the campaign January 16-31.

"Toward that end,' Mr. Thompson said, "we are organizing committees on a widespread front. Volunteers are being enlisted from civic, fraternal, business, labor, school, sports, womens club and social fields. Workers will be briefed thoroughly as to the problem and the desperate need for an enormously successful 1950 drive."

Citing the high cost of polio, Mr. Thompson disclosed that during the height of the recent epidemic season the National Foundation was spending March of Dimes funds at the rate of $100,000 per day to pay patient bills alone! He said that it is estimated 17,000 of those stricken in 1949 will require continued aid in 1950, in addition to victims from prior years who also still need help.

"Obviously," Mr. Thompson said, "there's a tremendous job of work ahead of us. I am confident, though, that all the people in Chilton County will do their utmost to meet the challenge during the coming March of Dimes.'

YOUR HEALTH

SUPERSTITIONS

Pediatricians find that even the most level-headed people appear to swallow absurdities when it comes to the care of the young. Unhappily, superstitutions are likely to have more serious than comic results.

Perhaps the most dangerous misbeliefs are those surrounding the process commonly undergone by every human being — teething. A mother whose 12 to 14 month old baby starts vomiting and showing a slight fever is likely to dismiss the symptoms as the accompaniment of cutting the "stomach" teeth. Actually, teething may cause crankiness but never a fever.

The following medical explanations will act as intellectual vitamins in making for a healthier, saner attitude toward the young: Babies are blind at birth. False. Babies are capable of seeing at birth but do not realize what they are viewing. Prenatal inflences may cause birthmarks. False. Birthmarks are simply the result of minor faulty architecture. A protruding naval is a sign that the doctor did not tie the umbilical cord correctly. False. A protruding naval is caused by the failure of muscles to unite properly.

If any of the following superstitions strike you as fantastic, remember that every one was reported by a pediatrician as among the more commonly held misconceptions: It is bad luck to cut a baby's hair before he is old enough to go to a barber shop; a baby must not look into a mirror until he has teeth; a baby who looks at the sky will have crossed eyes; bedwetting is inherited; a child's growth will be stnted if he crawls between anyone's legs or allows someone to step over him; a baby will be bowlegged if he walks before he is a year old; grinding of the teeth during sleep indicates the presence of worms. These false "old wives' tales" have no scientific or medical justification.

1949 Was Our BIGGEST YEAR
In Rural Telephone Expansion

More farm families in the South got new telephones during 1949 than during any other year in history.

The 57,000 poles we erected to extend rural telephone service was a record number, too. So was the 105,000 miles of wire placed in service. Setting these new records required record expenditures of $26,000,000 for new rural facilities for the year.

Serving the rural areas of the South is one of our biggest jobs, and we're making record progress. It's good telephone service, too—backed by nearly three-quarters of a century's experience, plus the teamwork of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Western Electric Company in developing new methods and equipment to make the service still better.

4 YEAR OLD BOY WAS WASTING AWAY

My son Bobby Jean, 4, had been suffering from vomiting spells. Each attack sent him to bed with fever for 2 or 3 days. We tried all kinds of medicines but he continued to lose weight and grow pale and weak. We started giving him HADACOL and since the first dose he has never had a vomiting spell or fever. He gained 4 pounds in 2 weeks and is full of pep and energy. It is really remarkable how HADACOL has helped my child.

IS HADACOL A MIRACLE FORMULA?

No, there is nothing miraculous or mysterious about HADACOL. The potent health-giving benefits of HADACOL are based on a proven scientific fact: Lack of sufficient vitamins and minerals in most diets leaves the door WIDE OPEN to diseases and weaknesses of all kinds. HADACOL, the scientifically balanced dietary supplement, helps to CLOSE that door and KEEP it closed.

BOBBY JEAN JUST ONE OF THOUSANDS!

Had is not been for HADACOL, the story of Mrs. Prejean's little boy, as told in her letter above, might have had a tragic ending. His system was run down to the danger point. Medicines and treatments didn't help. What he really needed was a supply of "building materials" for his poor little wasted body—and that's what he got from HADACOL. Today, like thousands of others, he is healthy again!

WHO SHOULD TAKE HADACOL?

HADACOL is not a medicine. It is a concentrated FOOD formula containing all the important vitamins in the B Complex group as well as these vital minerals: iron, calcium, phosphorus and manganese. If you are not getting your full daily quota of these essential dietary components, you may be heading straight into danger—weakness, loss of appetite, and then disease!

Let HADACOL help you stay on the Highway of Health!

Only $1.25 for the regular size —$3.50 for the large family and hospital economy size.

What Can The People Believe?

When the anti-trust lawyers in Washington filed their suit to put the A&P out of business, they immediately handed out for all the newspapers of the United States a story giving in detail their "allegations" against this company.

When we published advertisements giving our side of the case, they protested, even though they had made, and have continued to make, in newspapers, in speeches and over the radio these charges that would seriously damage our business, if they were believed by the public.

Every week millions of American housewives patronize A&P stores. Many of them would not want to deal with the kind of people that the anti-trust lawyers represent us to be.

We think we have a right to protect this 90-year old business which has made it possible for millions of American families to get more and better food for their money, which is providing high-wage employment for 110,000 Americans and which is helping millions of farmers to improve the methods of distributing their produce.

No answer by us would be necessary if the anti-trust lawyers were always right.

But they, like all other human beings, can be wrong.

In this case we know they are wrong.

They have been wrong before.

In case after case they made charges against A&P which were proved in court to be utterly without foundation.

We will prove that statement right up to the hilt.

The anti-trust lawyers tell the public that they won a previous anti-trust suit against us at Danville, Illinois. They did.

What they do not tell you is that they brought case after case against the A&P in federal courts all over the United States. Before they won this case they suffered three defeats.

The anti-trust lawyers have told everybody about the time that the courts said they were right. We think you are entitled to know about the three times the courts said they were wrong.

Now we are going to tell you about the first one. In future advertisements we will tell you about all of them.

The Washington Bread Case

In April, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Washington, D. C.

They charged that the A&P, two grocery chain competitors, two labor unions and other good American citizens had conspired to fix the price of bread.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business? They asked millions of people to believe that we were the kind of grocers who would take bread out of the mouths of poor people and make it harder for a wife and mother to feed her family.

These charges were false.

In that case it developed that the A&P and the two competitors who were charged with conspiring with us to maintain high bread prices actually sold bread cheaper than most of the other stores in Washington.

The anti-trust lawyers presented and argued their case. When they were through, Federal District Judge Allen T. Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even have to put in a defense. He ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.
> "Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

So here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against the A&P, in support of which, in the words of the court, they did not have "any evidence at all."

This was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made charges against the A&P which the courts said were not true. In future ads we are going to tell you about these other suits. We are not going to duck, either. We are going to tell you about the criminal suit that the anti-trust lawyers won at Danville, Illinois.

The anti-trust lawyers say that they are not attacking "bigness" or efficiency. They have to say that because the courts have decided that "bigness" and efficiency and selling at low prices is not a crime.

But the fact is crystal clear that they only brought their bread suit against the big companies and against companies that sold good bread at the lowest prices; just as in this current suit they are attacking a big company that sells good food cheap.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

MACEDONIA

It was a lovely day Sunday, the beginning of a New Year, 1950. Many resolutions were carried out, but many will be broken before next Sunday. Yours might have been "Go to church more often." It should have been if you've been lagging back. It should have been that you would go forth with a greater determination to be a real Christian and a true soul winner. It should be thus for all of us. People of other countries and even here in our own are dying without God.

PROVIDENCE — BEAT 13

Christmas was very quiet in this community. Everybody seemed to enjoy Christmas, even though it was unusually quiet. The quietness probably was partly due to the fact that we now have in Alabama a law prohibiting the sale of fireworks. Thanks to our Legislature for enacting a law to that effect.

The health of the community is good, with exceptions of Mr. Jas. E. Harrell and Mrs. Beatrice Killingsworth, who have been under the care of the doctor for the last few days.

Well the Old Year, 1949, has rolled on and now becomes history. 1950 has now come upon the scene, so let's all endeavor to have our part in making 1950 a better year in which to live, by our prayers and resolutions.

We had a nice crowd at Sunday School Sunday to begin the New Year. Officers were elected for the new quarter at Bible Quiz Sunday night. Mr. R. K. Cox is Quiz Leader and Lloyd Samples Secretary.

Next Sunday is our regular second Sunday afternoon singing. Everybody come out and help make this a good singing. — Reporter.

UPPER LEFT: One of the most popular means of feeding hogs farmers have found in recent years is that of "hogging corn." Here David Bryant, Cropwell, Rt. 1, is shown with some of the 60 hogs he topped off this Fall in a nine-acre patch of 60-bushel-per acre corn. Note the feeding pen in the corner of the field where Bryant supplies the animals with protein supplement of minerals. The hogs also have access to two and one-half acres of alfalfa.

UPPER RIGHT: Grade beef cattle grazing temporary pasture is becoming more and more a common scene across Alabama's landscape. The Herefords shown here are grazing crimson clover and ryegrass on the farm of Glenn Murphree, Odenville, Rt. 2. To feed his beef herds this farmer has 25 acres of fescue, ladino and clover-ryegrass combination, plus 25 acres of button clover. He also has 35 acres of sericea to which he recently added clover mixtures for Winter grazing.

LOYALTY

In 1931 a dear friend sent this poem to me. How appropriate to me today.

"When friends stand by you as faithfully,
As mine have stood by me,
There's not much to fret about
As far as I can see.

And though at times within the skies,
There's been a little bit of blue,
The helping hand of loyalty,
Has always led me through.

Through toil and strife, throughout my life,
The help that I've received
Has been the means toward the end,
Of every goal achieved.

So it's just this little thought
That I would leave with you.
There is not one thing in all this world
Like friendship that is true.

And as I journey on and on,
God grant my earnest plea,
That I may be as good a friend
As friends have been to me."

While I have not been able to attend church services for 3½ years on account of being a cripple, the fine ministers of our town, have been good to visit me from time to time, comforting and encouraging me, by reading the Word, prayer and Christian fellowship. I must thank Bro. Hickman of the Temple Church; Bro. Stuckey, Concord; Dr. Hutchinson, First Baptist; and my own dear minister, Bro. Atkinson, Methodist.

God bless these dear "Bearers of love and good will." May "He who notes the sparrows fall" bless and comfort all my friends and loved ones in the years ahead.

Thanks and love.

(Mrs.) BELLE HUYETT WADE.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Warning to all old age people and their friends!

Don't be deceived by any Social Security plan for a pension, for it can't be done. Wiley P. Gordon has fought Alabama Old Age Pension Association for the last six years. He and George Beasley have done the old folks more harm by drawing off from the Association and starting them a group of their own. They were responsible for the cut the old folks got on the last round or the Legislature gave that hint.

Alabama Old Age Pension Association Board of Directors will meet on February 1st to give their endorsement for candidates all over the state and Reuben L. Newton will be the only candidate that is a friend to the old folks. We will not endorse a Social Security Plan. We want a pension like Louisiana, Texas, Colorado, California and Oklahoma, which would be sent direct from Montgomery. Remember Wiley P. Gordon is a right hand bed-fellow of our enemies that fought Big Jim Folsom and are still fighting his administration. These gentlemen that have started this Social Security Plan are your enemies. They are opposed to you getting a pension. They are fighting this administration now, keeping you from getting a pension. Your Organizer, Board Members, Alabama Old Age Pension Association. Stay with us and we will get a pension. — S. A. Harrell, Box 61, Jemison, Ala.

The Danish team is at present on a year's tour of the United States and Mexico. All members of the troupe are amateurs and have been selected from schools and clubs over Denmark for their skill and technique.

ESCO - HEADLEY VOWS SAID AT HOME WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Esco and Mr. Arthur Wallace Headley was solemnized Sunday afternoon, January 1st, 1950, at 4 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Oliver Esco of Clanton, Ala. Mr. Headley is the son of Mrs. Julia Headley also of Clanton, and the late Mr. A. T. Headley.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cox in Clanton, Ala. The Rev. John R. Smith officiated.

Music was presented by Mrs. Raymond Mims with Mr. Henry Grady Heflin soloist. He sang "Because" and "Always." Mrs. Mims played the bridal march from "Lohen Grin." During the ceremony she played "Clair de Lune."

The bridal party stood before a setting of southern smilax and palms flanked by standards of white snapdragons and white gladioli, with white [illegible] in branched candelabra [illegible] white satin bows.

The candles were lighted by Dr. William B. Eiland.

Attending the bride was Mrs. William B. Eiland, matron of honor. She wore a two-piece dress of green velveteen, with dusty rose accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink camellias tied with brocaded tulle and pink satin ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a two-piece dress of dusty rose satin and a rose hat. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with lily of the valley.

Mr. Clark Headley of Selma served his brother as best man.

Reception—

The reception rooms were artistically decorated with flower arrangements of white chrysanthemums and white snapdragons.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth. A tiered embossed wedding cake, crystal candelabra and white flowers completed the appointments.

Assisting in serving were Miss Ann Callen, Mesdames Kermit Jones, Clint Carlisle, Billy Maddox, L. D. Easterling, Harold Lawrence, Kenneth Smith and Guy McKee.

About 70 guests registered during the afternoon.

For traveling the bride chose a black suit, with a winter white hat and a white orchid corsage.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Clanton.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Harold Parr was our lover boy last . . . .uh! a few weeks ago. (In other words, mystery man.)

Well, we hope all of you kids enjoyed the Christmas holidays. I can truthfully say I did. No work, no school, no nothing, but playing. Boy, it was really fun. Of course, there were a few exceptions but who am I to gripe about that.

Boy, are we gonna have fun for the next two weeks on those exams and tests.

The lunchroom has gotten to where it sounds like a regular hen house these days. They sure must be a lotta indigestion cases down there because they really make enough noise when they're eating.

The gym really looked nice the other day when they got through varnishing it, didn't it, kids? Oughta be fun to skate on, huh?

This week's mystery person is a girl. She has light brown hair, a few freckles, wears glasses, about 115 pounds and stands about 5' feet 3 inches tall. She is not Alice DeRamus but you see her with her a lot. She has a sister that will knock your eyes out but she doesn't live in Clanton and she's married. (Dadgummit).

Boy, will I be glad when the football season rolls around again. I sure do miss going to the games and playing it.

Sometimes I wonder if poor Miss Hunter is ever going to get those kids under control down there. She's tried everything possible and it looks like they just don't want to cooperate. Or maybe I should say all of us.

Hardly anybody had a party over the holidays and I think we all are looking forward to having one if more ever get ambitious.

Looks sorta like the whole Sr. III class has the "Love Sick Blues." Nearly all of them are either engaged to BE married or just plain MARRIED.

Sometimes I wonder about that Jr. I class. They're always writing in to the school paper and telling the staff their love problems. Man, some of those girls must have mighty big crushes. The trouble is it's always on a Sr. I, II, or III, that never even think of those girls. And those poor girls never think of anybody their own age that might, accidentally care a little something about her. Same thing goes for all the rest of the girls as far as I'm concerned. And don't get the peculiar idea that I'm by myself. No sir, if I was I sure wouldn't be writing it down!)

District Supervisors For Census Chosen Saturday

Appointments of district supervisors and assistants for the Clanton and Montgomery districts in the population census to be taken next year were announced Saturday by the Census Bureau.

Lloyd C. Warr, Clanton, will be supervisor of the Clanton district, with Mary L. Griffin, Marion, as assistant.

The Clanton district includes Bibb, Chilton, Greene, Hale, Perry, Shelby, Sumter and Tuscaloosa Counties.

Information needed by the government to complete a national inventory of sugar supplies will be obtained as a result of an inquiry to be made of 2,000 representative families throughout the United States as part of the January current population survey of the U. S. Bureau of the Census, it was announced today by District Supervisor, L. C. Warr, whose office is located in Clanton, Ala. A considerable number of Chilton-Perry area families are to be included in the survey, Mr. Warr said.

The information on sugar supplies in American homes is being collected at the request of the Department of Agriculture in furtherance of its program under the Sugar Act of 1948, which is a continuation of the sugar program in effect since 1934. This law directs the Secretary of Agriculture to provide among other things, a "supply of sugar which will be consumed at prices which will not be excessive to the consumer and which fairly and equitably maintain and protect the welfare of the domestic sugar industry.'

The information about the extent of household sugar stocks is needed at all times even though the supplies may be plentiful as they are now.

Each family will be asked the number, of pounds of sugar of all kinds it has on hand. Since the government already collects statistics on sugar inventories from refiners, importers, retailers, etc., the information obtained from householders will fill in the missing link and provide a complete national inventory of sugar supplies.

This month the sugar question is in addition to the regular questions on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the current population survey.

The January current population survey will be conducted in Chilton County by a small number of Census interviewers during the week of January 15. Supervisor Warr pointed out that all individual information furnished to the Census Bureau is treated in absolute confidence and that only statistical summaries are published.

DAN THOMAS
Candidate for State Treasurer

Dan Thomas, veteran career state accountant and present State Auditor, in announcing his candidacy for the office of State Treasurer in the 1950 election, said, "Since neither the State Auditor nor the State Treasurer can succeed themselves, I gratefully ask continuance of the half-century old tradition of the Alabama voters endorsing their State Auditor for State Treasurer, due to his training and experience gained through regular audits of the Treasury records."

The State Auditor supervises regular audits of the accounts and records of the State Treasury, thus gaining sound knowledge of the accounting duties and fiscal responsibility of the Treasurer, which can be gained in no other way.

Dan Thomas entered state service fifteen years ago after an accounting and business career in Birmingham, Carbon Hill and Winfield, retaining his business interests in Winfield until his installation as State Auditor January 17, 1947.

Dan Thomas was elected to office for the first time in 1946, after proving his qualifications on the staff of State Examiners of Public Accounts, where he won advancement throughout three administrations, having been successively promoted to Senior Examiner Principal Examiner and State Field Supervisor of Accounts and Audits.

When the Uniform Accounting Act and the Financial Control Act were enacted in 1935, Dan Thomas had a leading part in planning, installing and supervising the various systems of accounting and financial control which have proved efficient and effective throughout the state, including county and city governments.

This wealth of experience, together with advanced training in accounting and the law, all essential to proper operation of these offices, affords him an unusually broad knowledge of the efficient operation and effective service of state, county and city governments.

Incidentally, the legality of his accounting decisions has been sustained in each test by both the circuit and supreme courts.

Dan Thomas is a member of the American Society for Public Administration and the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers. He is also a member of the Baptist Church, Masons and the Shrine.

Active in Veterans' work, Dan Thomas has served as a service officer of the American Legion since 1926, and was appointed an accredited service officer in 1933. He also served as First District Commander and is a member of the 40 and 8, and the Disabled American Veterans.

He married Miss Beatrice Roberts of Winfield, Marion County, and they have two children, Dan, Jr., 17, and Frank, 12.

Plans Made For A Council For C.C.S.

The Chilton County Ministerial Association is projecting the organization of a Council for Coordinating Community Services, according to an announcement made this week by the President, the Rev. W. Brunson Atkinson. The Association had its monthly meeting Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, at the First Methodist Church. The ministers were served refreshments by Mrs. W. Brunson Atkinson, at the close of the meeting.

Plans are underway by the Association, and the presidents and|or chairmen of the different civic, social, fraternal and religious organizations will be called to a meeting soon to perfect the Council for Coordination Community Services.

This Council could be the medium through which all community-wide projects, such as the Christmas Chest, the March of Dimes, etc., would be sponsored and carried out. Too, the Council proposes to set up a Calendar of Events for each month, to the end that there would be fewer conflicts of dates and events being sponsored by the various clubs and organizations. With the presidents of all these groups represented in the Council, it would be possible to maintain for church purposes Wednesdays and Wednesday night, it was pointed out. This would be helpful to all organizations, for your leaders of these organizations are, for the most part, men and women who are interested in our churches. And, Wednesday is traditionally a church day in America.

Other matters discussed at Tuesday's Association meeting included an appeal that all the ministers of Chilton County become affiliated with the Association. The next meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, February 7th, at the First Methodist Church, it was announced.

Lloyd Warr Elected As Chief of Arrows

Lloyd Warr, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Warr, was among the Clanton Boy Scouts who attended a convention and banquet in Montgomery on December 31st, 1949, given by the Order of the Arrow Scouts of the Tuskahatchee Area. At this convention Lloyd was elected chief of this area which is made up of thirteen counties of which Chilton is one.

Being elected chief entitles Lloyd to attend the National Convention which will convene in Bloomington, Ind., next Summer.

For some time Lloyd has been a member of the Arrow Scouts. We have three Clanton boys other than Lloyd whom we should be proud of in this work of the Arrow Scouts. They are Louie Reynolds, Fred Thompson, and Russell Williams, Jr. These boys also attended the convention and banquet in Montgomery.

.. A year ago this month Lloyd was made an Eagle Scout, which is the highest rank a Scout can make. At that time he was the only Eagle Scout on record in this county.

Clanton should be very proud of these boys and all of our Scouts. Much credit is due the Rev. John R. Smith who is the present Scoutmaster, and the late Mr. Henry Adair, past Scoutmaster for the rapid progress of the Scouts' work during the past years.

Jemison Independents Win Over Parker Service Station

The Jemison Redbirds defeated a fast-breaking Montgomery team last Saturday night by 46 to 40 score.

Led by Campbell and Varden with 10 and 12 points, respectively, the Jemison team loped into a 8 to 5 lead at the first quarter. At the half, however, they were on the short end of a 15 to 14 count. During the third quarter they blasted out 22 points, to take a 36 to 28 lead. The final quarter saw the visitors throw a scare into the local boys when they came within four points of a tie. K. Cobb, Campbell and Varden came through with field goals that protected and held the lead. McNeill, A. Cobb, Maddox and T. Cobb all scored, but confined their best play to neat defensive work.

Brown and Powell led the scoring for Montgomery with 10 and 8 points, respectively.

The Jemison Independents have played 10 games thus far, winning 8 and losing 2.

Their next game will be against Epps Jewelry Co. from Birmingham, Ala., next Saturday night, January 14.

Dimes Cans On the March

Widespread distribution of 1950 March of Dimes coin collectors is now under way. Mr. Leo Thompson, County Campaign Director, revealed today. Local retailers, hotel owners, railway and airline terminals, banks and clubs are cooperating solidly to help put the polio drive over the top he said.

"This year," Mr. Thompson said, "the coin collector, with its attractive color display, simulates a miniature respirator. It—like a genuine lifesaving respirator—is designed to make its own great contribution to the fight against polio.

"The dimes and dollars of men and women, boys and girls in Chilton County, placed in one of these coin collectors, will help empty real iron lungs, give patients a new lease on life and health."

Mr. Thompson urged all local retailers to display the coin collectors as prominently as possible as soon as deliveries are made. To obtain collectors, merchants were asked to call Campaign Headquarters, phone 119.

"The splendid support of this phase of the March of Dimes on the part of local businessmen," Mr. Thompson said, "is a most important factor in ensuring the success of the March of Dimes. I know we can count on all to help to the greatest extent in our year of greatest need."

Join the March of Dimes!

Builders of Clanton

ONE OF A SERIES

This week we are honoring one of Chilton County's outstanding religious leaders in our "Builders of Clanton" series on community leaders.

A. T. HICKMAN

Rev. A. T. Hickman has been in the forefront of religious life here for many years. Preaching for 29 years, he had touched all the Southeastern states and some states in the North and Mid-West. It was almost exactly 25 years ago that Rev. Hickman and his wife made up their minds that Clanton was the place where they wanted to live out the best years of their lives.

Around 1940, while he was making a reputation in Birmingham as a powerful preacher, and while building a church there, he took on the added duty of serving Chilton County's Temple Church.

Under Rev. Hickman, Temple became the first rural church in the county to go on a full-time schedule—which was a most worthwhile service to the community.

Coming here to live in 1944, he has continued to build his reputation as a preacher and writer on religious subjects. He is the author of a popular column in the News, and leads the Saturday morning devotional each week on the local radio station.

On the first Sunday of each month, Temple Church is on the air from 10 to 12 for religious services.

Another great service Rev. Hickman rendered was in the formation of the Clanton Ministerial Association, which has recently been broadened to include the entire county. He is a past president of the association.

Born in Coffee County, Rev. Hickman married a Coffee county girl, Lena Thames, and they have one son, Andrew James Hickman, who is finishing up his studies at the University of Alabama this year. Andrew married Josephine Broadhead, daughter of a Clanton merchant. Josephine has already received her A.B. degree from the University.

Rev. Hickman is a Kiwanian and a leader in various civic enterprises. He and Mrs. Hickman say that they want to "live out their lives right here in Clanton."

We think they are making a good choice, and we're glad they plan to stay. And as long as Rev. Hickman is here, we know he will be one of the outstanding "Builders of Clanton."

$750,000 Trade School Is Sought In Chilton County

An eight-man committee of Chilton County citizens went before the State Education Board Tuesday of this week in an effort to bring one of the state regional tradeschools to Chilton County.

Appearing before the State Education Board in Montgomery, the committee outlined the advantages of Chilton County as a location for such a school, and asked for consideration of these claims before a final decision is made.

The 1947 Legislature authorized four regional trade schools to be built in the state at $750,000 each.

Although Education Superintendent Austin R. Meadows recommended that Montgomery be the sight of the school, other board members opposed the recommendation on the grounds that the central and northern part of the state ought to be considered.

Governor Folsom felt the same way, and opposed the location of the trade school in the capitol city.

Consideration of Chilton County as the location was then turned over to a five-man committee of the State Board of Education. The Chilton County group will be in constant contact with the Education Board committee until he final decision in February.

Members of the local committee of citizens included: Cohen Stapp, Reedie Taylor, Leo Thompson, Howard Boockholdt, R. M. Tucker, Hollis Jackson, Judge W. L. Parrish and C. B. Cox.

MRS. JOE MOORE HOSTESS TO CLANTON STUDY CLUB

The January meeting of the Clanton Study Club was held Friday afternoon, January 6th, at the home of Mrs. Joe Moore.

The president, Mrs. John D. Mullins, called the meeting to order, and after a brief business session Mrs. J. E. Gowan, as one of the program directors, introduced the subject for the afternoon, "Flower Arrangement." Mrs. Allan Cowart, from South America, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Folk, of this city, was introduced by Mrs. Grady Heflin as the guest speaker for the afternoon.

The members and guests were delighted with the talented and artistic arrangement which Mrs. Cowart displayed. Timely hints and bits of information on arranging flowers for many occasions were given by Mrs. Cowart as she so capably illustrated as she formed lovely pieces, using flowers and containers in large variety.

At the end of the illustration Mrs Heflin presented several of these lovely arrangements as gifts. Everyone present was given a number and the ones drawn received these attractive arrangements.

Rip Burnett at Clanton Motors, Inc., was telling us the best one we have heard in a long time, the other a.m. Rip said that several years ago a mighty good customer came in with his Ford bucking and jumping. The old gent drove up to the back of the garage and asked them to see what could be done. Sleepy Miller and Rip got into the car and drove around the block. When they got out the owner asked: "Say, Miller, What seems to be the matter?" "Spark plugs missing," answered Sleepy. "Well," fumed the old one, "By cracky, if anything's missing it disappeared after you got it in here. It was all there when I drove it in."

During Christmas Week Highway Patrolman Braswell stopped a truck driver on the highway for an infraction. During the questioning Braswell asked the party if he had ever been arrested before. The man answered that he had — once. The Highway Patrolman checked his record with the Montgomery headquarters and found that the fellow had "forgotten" about four of his arrests. He had been arrested five times before. The moral to this paragraph is that with modern day equipment it's no use to lie to the Highway Patrolmen. They can check on you within a matter of minutes.

Billie Gene Mims and his wife were both born on the same day. Only he was born one year earlier. The day—January 23rd. . .A carload of Negroes were seriously hurt last Friday morning when their automobile failed to make the curve just south of Coopers. They were taken to a Birmingham hospital. The car turned turtle. . .Mr. Jesse Mitchell's little bull dog has left home. He is a great favorite of Mrs. Mitchell and they want him back mighty bad. Mr. Mitchell says she is practically all white except for a few yellow spots on her ears and where her tail ought to be—if she had one. She disappeared last Wednesday night from the Mitchell home and hasn't been seen since by them. They'd appreciate any information. . .Ott Miller is spreading out. We don't mean that middle-aged spread, although he's old enough. We mean that new business of his. Last month he reported on accounts from states as far away as Oregon, which there is none further. He made reports for accounts in Louisiana, Illinois and several Eastern States. His local office has been accepted as a member by the National Credit Bureau and has grown tremendously within it's short life. However, we'll have to concede Ott knows his business well and we predict a bright future for him. That is unless he gets hold of some accounts against us. . .The house that Pontiac built. Ain't it going to be a beauty?

Mrs. Joe Campbell and Mrs. R. C. Williams drove to Tuscaloosa Thursday afternoon to attend the Kiwanis banquet with their husbands and installation of district officers. When they arrived at the hotel, Mrs. Campbell asked the room number of Joe's room and called from the lobby and inquired if Mr. Campbell was in. A very pleasant ladies' voice replied that he was not. Mrs. Campbell, somewhat bewildered, hung up. Mrs. Williams said, "Why didn't you ask if R. C. was in?" "Well, you call up and see if they gave me the wrong room. Mrs. Williams called and the lady answered again, and said Mr. Campbell was not in, neither was Mr. Williams. Mrs. Williams said, "I'm Mrs. Williams from Clanton, to whom am I speaking?" The lady answered, "I'm Mrs. Campbell from Kentucky." Mrs. Williams then told her that Mrs. Joe Campbell was with her and the desk clerk had given them the wrong room number.

Both Mrs. Campbell's were beginning to brew; Mrs. Joe Campbell, because a lady answered what she thought was Joe's room and Mrs. Lee Campbell from Kentucky because she thought her husband was having lady callers in Alabama.

Joe Campbell was installed as Lt. Governor of 4th Division of Alabama. Lee Campbell is Treasurer of Kiwanis International and gave the address at the banquet.

P.S. No one answered Joe's room when Mrs. Campbell got the correct room number.

Beware Of False Prophets

The Lord Jesus Christ spoke the above words to His disciples; saying, "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves." We have many false prophets today which we will do well to beware of. You will find them among the political advocates. The advocates of communism are false prophets coming to us in sheep clothing. They are here to devour, hurt and to destroy everything good. Beware of them. You can know them by their fruit. Take notice to the fruit of such political trees.

A. T. HICKMAN

And we have false prophets within Christiandom. They profess to have been sent of God, but in their works they deny Him. A false prophet is one who lurks around the flock, not to feed them, but that he himself might be fed. He wants to live at the expense of the flock and give nothing in return. But watches for an opportunity to hurt, scatter, and destroy the flock of God in order that he might build something around himself, and for himself.

Friend, watch a man's life. Study his conduct. Judge a man by his life and conduct and not by the word of his testimony. What a man is speaks louder than what he says. If a man's life and conduct is not according to that of a minister, brand him a false prophet, and beware when he is around. Anyone whose life is questionable, his character not above reproach, you had better beware. Your own life becomes questioned by those with whom you follow.

I may be a little too hard, but personally, I put the false teacher, whose life has been questioned and reproached by sin, and those who follow him in the same class. How true an old proverb. "The bird of a feather will flock together." A man's works are the tongue of his own heart, and tells honestly whether he is inwardly corrupt or pure.

A good tree brings forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree brings forth evil fruit. By their fruits ye shall know them.

Danger Signals Of Cancer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final article in a series on the symptoms of early cancer, furnished Chilton County News by members of the Chilton County Medical Society.

Regular and thorough physical examinations are the most effective protective measure any person can take against cancer.

But in spite of this fact, the great majority of people do not make regular physical examinations a habit.

They excuse themselves on the ground that they "fell fine, or that it is "not necessary" to take up their time or the time of a busy doctor.

Should the person who feels all right take up his time and his doctor's time to have a physical check-up? The answer is an emphatic "yes."

If a person waits until he doesn't feel well, or until he has pain, it may be too late. In most cases, the early stages of cancer are painless. At the present time it is true that all cases of cancer cannot be cured. But a much higher percentage of cases can be cured, if they are treated early.

Protective is a good word to use in connection with physical check-ups for cancer. The deaths caused by cancer can be cut down a great deal if doctors have a chance to detect and treat the disease in its early stages. Medical statistics show that 59 per cent of fatal cancer cases have been diagnosed less than six months before the time of death; eighty per cent, less than a year before death. These figures tell a tragic story of patients who waited until too late to see their doctors.

Many types of cancer have symptoms that the patient can recognize in himself. Commonly referred to as the "seven danger signals," they are:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening, in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

If a patient recognizes these symptoms and goes to his doctor right away, his chances of cure—if he does have cancer—are good.

But there are other cancers that do not give a warning that the patient himself can recognize. In these cases cancer can be discovered only by the trained physician. In all probability, many deaths from these types of cancer could be prevented, if the patients had had a physical check-up at the time when the cancer was just getting started.

Everyone should have a physical examination at least once a year.. For persons over 35 years of age, the check-up should be made every six months.

One examination is not enough. regular visits for check-ups must be made to get continuing protection against cancer. And there is no law of nature that says malignant growths cannot start between visits to the doctor. That is why it is important to know he seven danger signals and to seek medical advice if one of them accurs.

In most cases, cancer can be cured if it is detected and treated early. Late cancer is fatal.

YOUR Health

LAUGHTER

Laughter as a tonic cannot be denied. There is something about a smile or a laugh that promotes happiness and, since happiness is conducive to peace of mind and contentment, it has a close relationship to good health. If more persons would try laughing or smiling, everyday living would be a little brighter and certainly physical and mental health would be improved. Laughter is a healer not only of the body but of the mind. It creates harmony, not only within oneself, but in those with whom there is contact. It promotes good will. Laboratory tests have proved that laughter reduces muscle tension and relaxes the tissues, even though it also vigorously exercises certain muscles and organs. Worry, fear, anger or even voluntary frowning in which the face muscles only are involved produce fatigue and a waste of energy.

In laughing many muscles and organs of the body are stimulated. With the churning movement caused by laughing, the glands of the neck and throat are exercised, lung spaces are ventilated, and the suprarenal glands, situated above the kidneys, are stimulated to extra activity by supplying more blood to them, thus causing more adrenal fluid to find its way into the blood stream. The value of the adrenal fluid cannot be denied, since it tones the muscular coat of the blood vessels and heart.

Laughter dispels gloom. It also dissolves fear, anxiety and anger and many an unpleasant situation has been averted by a well-timed laugh. It is a relaxing agent, for it releases tension in taut muscles and dissapates nervous fears. Notice the expression of enjoyment of smiling or laughing person. The eyes sparkle; the lips turn up at the corners and there is the bright spirit of zest and merriment that conveys itself to the onlooker. veryone likes to be amused, to be entertained, to be made happy. And yet there are many persons who refuse to give one smile or one gesture toward laughter. They persist in the frowns, choosing to be "grumpy" instead of cheerful.

Of course there are many types of laughter that are not good. These are the unkind, derisive laughs that are aimed at sarcasm—to hurt instead of to heal. Then there is the excessive, overdone laughing that provokes hiccoughs and even convulsions. In laughing as in everything else, moderation is in order.

Laughter is a tangible sign of happiness and mirth. It is the one infectious agent against which no one should ever be immunized. So when you're out of sorts, find something or someone to make you laugh. Don't yield to pessimism—try laughing instead. Remember that anything that ceases strain also serves to maintain balance.

NEXT CHRISTMAS I'M GOING TO...
WHY WAIT 'TIL CHRISTMAS?
YOU SAID IT, REDDY!

"Next Christmas we're going to have an electric dishwasher. Washing all those dishes by hand took a lot of fun out of Christmas dinner." That's what a customer told Reddy Kilowatt during an after-Christmas visit.

"Why wait 'til next Christmas?" Reddy Kilowatt asked. "Don't you wash dishes except at Christmas?"

"Not since he found out what a disagreeable job it is, he doesn't," his wife said.

"Aw, now, honey," said her husband.

"Why not get an electric dishwasher right away and enjoy it between now and next Christmas?" suggested Reddy.

"You said it!" exclaimed the Missus.

Home economists of a large electric dishwasher manufacturer report that more and more women want completely electric kitchens and that electric dishwashers are at the top of the list. A big labor-saver with low operating cost. Inquire at any electrical appliance dealer or at any of our local offices. Ask, too, about electric water heaters and ranges.

PLAN NOW TO PUT ALL LAND TO WORK

On many farms there are steep, eroded slopes and gullied plots and water disposal areas that should be established to kudzu or sericea to control erosion, improve the soil, and provide grazing and hay for livestock.

"Now is a good time to prepare land for these crops so a good, firm seedbed will be established for early planting," declares S. R. Doughty, A.P.I. Extension Service Soil Conservationist.

Now Hospitals Are "Banks," Too!

Doc Simpson was saying, "Hospitals are building up 'bone banks' that work just like blood banks. When bone is needed, the surgeon takes one from a refrigerator, cuts it to the right shape and simply splices it in."

"You doctors are sure making progress," I says, "but tell me, are any of the patients fussy about whose bones they're getting?"

"No, sir!" replies Doc. "No more than they worry about whose blood they get. No one yet asked for a bone from a man who went to the same school or church he did."

From where I sit, it would be a better world if we were half as willing to accept other people's ideas and tastes, as we seem to be willing to accept their bone and blood. There'll always be differences. Some like buttermilk, others would rather have a sparkling glass of temperate beer. But underneath we're pretty much the same—deserving each other's respect and tolerance!

Surprise Birthday Dinner—

Last Sunday the children of Mrs. T. C. Sims surprised her with a birthday dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Mae Hathcock. After the bountiful dinner was spread upon the table, with the large beautiful birthday cake with 56 candles burning, they carried their mother in and sang, "Happy Birthday." It was a real happy surprise for Mrs. Sims. A very lovely gift was presented to her by her children.

The children who were able to attend were: Mr. Howard Sims of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sims of Prattville, Ala., Miss Carrie Jean Sims of Maplesville, Miss Lillie Mae Hathcock and a granddaughter, Beatrice Smitherman, of Maplesville.

Invited guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Claude Averett of Maplesville, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Smitherman of Prattville, Mrs. W. W. Kelley and Mr. Fred L. Kelley of Maplesville. Everyone enjoyed this happy occasion very much, especially the honoree, Mrs. Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pullman and family had as Sunday guests Misses Nell Hayes and Nolvis Mims, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Jones of Randolph and Mr. and Mrs.. Proctor Davenport.

We are very happy to have Mr. and Mrs. George Almaroad and sons, Ralph and Clayton, in our community. We extend a hand of welcome and fellowship.

A group of young people gathered at the church to go on to Thorsby. There they presented a grand program. Six churches were represented and we were second to having the largest group present. Mrs. J. C. Morris conducted the devotional with Mr. Douglas Hayes playing softly, "Blessed Redeemer," and Mrs. Athlone Davenport doing a chalk-talk. Those participating in the playlet were: Jo Ann Nix, Nell Hayes and Joyce Misses Lorene Cofer, Nolvis Mims, Oates. Each of them did their part very well, and everyone seemed to enjoy the playlet very much. Other young people were present from our church, also some elders.

Only a few were present for prayer meeting last Wednesday. Let's pick up our skirts and go on out; and you who don't wear skirts. We need our prayer service. We need to pray every day, not only Wednesdays and Sundays.

All around us every day we see people sinking further and further into sin. Yes, mothers and fathers failing to lead their children the right way. So the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, but, oh, so many cradles are rocked the wrong way.

We look around us and we see the beauty of the lovely green of nature, or we see the lovely sunset, like a great flame of glory sinking into a rosy sea dripping with beauty. Or we look toward the East and see the sun rising from the heavens streaked with many colors, or go into our homes and see a smile upon the face of those we love; we grip the hand of a friend tried and true, and it seems there isn't a thing in the world but beauty and friendship. Somewhere over the way, perhaps only a few miles, someone doesn't remember it's Sunday; he doesn't see nature or the sunset, nor does he care for a friend. Why? Because the last thing he ever thinks of is God. Satan has taken complete control of his life, and he has his agents he uses to wreck and ruin the life of some one else. Liquor is probably the strongest of these. It tears down one's mind and makes him do things he wouldn't do under ordinary circumstances. Liquor not only ruins the lives of those who participate in it, but it often times spoils the lives of innocent people. Would it but be vanished from the face of the earth. However, we know that's impossible, but we can pray and help to win such people to Christ.

Rev. Hyman Atheson brought a fine morning message and Bro. McGee brought the evening message. Both were inspiring and very well rendered. We were happy to have Bro. McGee with us. Everyone go to church somewhere next Sunday. Let's make this year the best year of our lives thus far.

IN REMEMBRANCE

In memory of our dear wife and mother, Annie Watson, who passed away two years ago—January 10th:

You are missed so very much
Each day of every year,
You were always so kind
To us you were so dear.

God gave us friends to help us
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant when He called you,
No one will ever know.

She was always full of cheer
O God help us to keep faith and let
Her know, that we down here,
Do not forget and love and miss her so.

Loving husband, W. J. Watson and and children. 1tp

Services were held at the Lutheran Church on Sunday night, conducted by Rev. Glen Pierson of the Board of Home Missions of the Augustana Lutheran Church. After the regular services, a business meeting was held for the purpose of discussing plans for the future of the Lutheran Church in Thorsby. Plans are being made for the church here to be transferred from the Augustana Synod to the United Lutheran Church of America. The reason for this being, that they are nearer and better able to serve this church than those of the Augustana churches. Dr. C. A. Linn, President of the Georgia-Alabama Synod of the United Lutheran Church, came here from Atlanta, Ga., and took part in the services.

SHOULTS

We thank God for the nice crowd we had at church Sunday and Sunday night. Bro. Mike Moore brought us a wonderful sermon Sunday. All who missed this, really missed a good message.

We had a still larger crowd Sunday night. Lots of our friends came back whom we always welcome home. The Lord really blessed us.

The ladies in this community met at Mrs. Walter Lawley's last Wednesday for a quilting. After the work all were served a delightful dinner at the noon hour. We quilted nearly four quilts. We will all meet back next Wednesday and have W.M.S. in the afternoon. Everyone is invited.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shoults back at home in this community. They have been visiting relatives in West Palm Beach, Fla.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and family move to our community.

Jemison High Defeats Siluria 39 To 28

In a ding dong tussle last Thursday night the Jemison High basketeers downed the highly-tooted Thompson High cagers from Siluria, to the tune of 39 to 28. Ellison and Cobb led the scoring with 12 points each. Collins, the baby member of the Varsity team, chipped in with 6 points; Sorrell, Stellar 16 year old guard, looped three markers and Hayes playing his best defensive game this season racked up 6 points.

For Thompson Brogden was the big noise, hitting the net for 15 points.

At the end of the first quarter, Jemison led 12 to 8. The half closed with J.H.S. trailing 16 to 18. In the third quarter, however, they edged ahead 25 to 23 and the fourth quarter they rang up 11 points to clinch the game. Jones and Marcus came through with a nice display of defensive work. These boys were out to avenge a lop-sided loss to the Thompson High boys in football last Fall. This was their show, and they really gave the spectators thrills for their money.

The Jemison High B team won their game by the close squeak of 19 to 18.

On next Friday night (tomorrow), January 13th, Jemison meets Calera High on the Jemison Court. Calera is one of the teams that has defeated J.H.S. So if you are interested in seeing the boys in their endeavor to even up the count, come on out. The new J.H.S. auditorium is proving an attractive place for amusements.

JR. STEWARDS MET

There was a meeting of the Junior Stewards of the First Methodist Church Monday night, January 9th, at the home of Robert Tucker. It was the first meeting for these boys and it looks like they're going to make good. The boys decided they would meet the first Wednesday in every month at 7:00 p.m. at the church.

The following boys were chosen as members of the Jr. Stewards: Louie Reynolds, Robert Tucker, Rusty Shelton, Joe Phillip Klinner, Bobby Kinney, Reuben Gaylor, Jerry Studdard, Fred Clackler and Howell Glenn.

There were four more boys chosen but the nine listed above were the ones that attended the meeting.

Local Kiwanis To Celebrate International Anniversary

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Clanton will celebrate the 35th anniversary of Kiwanis International this week.

R. C. Williams, president of the club, said today that plans for the anniversary meeting, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. January 19, (today) at the high school lunch room, had been virtually completed.

The program according to Williams will be based on the community service organization's 1950 administrative theme, "Aggressive Citizenship Safeguard of Freedom."

The Clanton Kiwanis Club will join with more than 3,000 others in observing the week throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, and the Yukon Territory. Some 300 clubs in cities having radio stations have arranged special broadcasts, while approximately 35 other clubs will participate in television programs.

A feature of the Clanton Club's observance will be the reading of a message from J. Hugh Jackson, dean of the graduate school of business at Stanford University and president of Kiwanis International.

Plans for this week's meeting are under the direction of the committee on Education and Fellowship of which Hollis Jackson is Chairman.

Kiwanis was established in Detroit January 21, 1915. It now embraces more than 200,000 business and professional leaders.

Political Rambling

It being only a matter of days now until the State Democratic Committee meets in Montgomery, to be exact Saturday of this week at the Jefferson Davis Hotel, the time has come to pass on to our readers the rumors and the facts about coming candidates and talked of candidates.

J. B. Atkinson, County Democratic Committee Chairman, will more than likely be calling the county organization together very soon after the State Committee meeting to set the local qualifying fees.

We don't understand the rukus being raised about who supported the ticket last year and who didn't. If no one but democrats pledged to the walkout were on the ballot and you voted at all, then it seems to us that you supported the Democratic Ticket—whether you were a Truman Democrat or a States Righter.

In the various offices to be up for scramble this year it looks like the list of gubernatorial candidates will lead the field. Those already stating definitely that they would run and those only mentioned as possible candidates are: Chauncey Sparks, Gordon Persons, Elbert Boozer, Reuben Newton, J. Bruce Henderson, Handy Ellis, William M. Beck, Eugene (Bull) Conner, Albert Stapp, R. K. (Buster) Bell, Joe Money, Ward McFarland, Broughton Lamberth, Albert A. Carmichael, Judge G. C. Blanton, Kyser Stewart, George Salley, J. M. (Big Jim) Robinson, L. L. Gwaltney, Jr., Dan Houston, Earl M. McGowin and Judge John Snodgrass.

Several candidates have also stated their intentions to run for Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Auditor, Attorney General, and several other state officers. These we will give you at a later date and when things are more definite.

As to the local picture it looks like Charlie Cox is a sure candidate for the Legislature. Jim Plott is also a sure bet. Luther Little has been mentioned but nothing definite could be learned.

The race for County Sheriff will be a hot one. Sheriff Nivens will run for his re-election to a third term. Sherman Motley looks like a possible. Luther Kendricks, Highway Patrolman, hasn't definitely said yes or no, or hadn't at the last meeting. Ernest Davis who has been talked of as a candidate for the past several years will be a possible starter [illegible]

Howard Boockholdt is the only one prominently mentioned as a sure candidate for County Superintendent of Education.

As to the other offices to be contested this year would be candidates are mighty quite. Maybe they're waiting until after the County Democratic Committee meets.

And again maybe they're going to keep their campaign a secret. Anyway we'll keep you posted.—BEN.

"THE CASE OF THE BOUNDING DEATH"

Farmers in Utah and in other Western states faced ruin in 1919, despite a fine crop year. A strange disease, unknown to doctors, was sapping their strength so badly they were unable to harvest their crops.

The story of how that disease was traced down, and the simple prevention for it found, will be told over Radio Station WKLF on Tuesday, January 24th, at 1:00 p.m. The program is another in the 'S' Men Series, a public service feature of Station WKLF, sponsored jointly by the station and the Chilton County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"The Case of the Bounding Death," which is the title of the program, relates how Dr. Edward Francis of the U. S. Public Health Service discovered the disease known today as tularemia, or "rabbit fever," and how he found a simply way to avoid catching it.

Participating on Tuesday's program are Mrs. Lillian Thompson Simpson, Commander of the Chilton County Unit and Dr. C. O. Lawrence, Pres., Chilton County Medical Society.

ANNUAL REPORT OF ON-FARM TRAINING PROGRAM

Each year a report is made on the veterans taking On-Farm Training in Chilton County. This report is very beneficial to those who are interested in the program, as it shows the progress being made in the different phases of farming. It also shows the weaker points; therefore, the instructors know where to devote more of their time in order that each might have a well balanced farming program.

Listed below are some of the accomplishments of the program for the calendar year 1949. Number farms purchased 27, cover crops turned 1,551 acres, legumes planted 2,329 acres, sericea planted 311 acres, kudzu planted 70 acres, Soil Conservation Plans made 93, strawberries planted 38 acres, truck crops planted 1,169 acres, number bushels corn produced 75,983, number laying hens 13,062, number broilers produced 27,897, number of hogs sold 1,022, dairy cows and heifers owned 677, number of homes screened 134, number sanitary toilets constructed 191.

After reading the above report it can readily be seen that considerable progress has been made on the farming program, and a large number of these trainees will be outstanding in the years to come.

THORSBY FRUIT AND TRUCK GROWERS MET LAST SATURDAY

The Thorsby Fruit & Truck Growers Association held a most enthusiastic meeting on last Saturday at their building. Officers were elected and plans outlined for the ensuing year. Officers elected were: For Board of Trustees, Akins Collins, Eugene Littleton, W. A. Hayes, L. A. Gore and Clyde Gore. David Childress was retained as manager.

This is the oldest organization of its kind in this country, and we are proud to learn of the continued work of this group and sincerely hope that it will continue to exist and flourish.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS MET

On January 11, 1950, the Clanton Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America had its annual initiation for Junior degree members.

This was fun day of initiation as the girls were dressed in a most unusual style, some being scarcely recognizable.

There were about 35 girls initiated. This brings Chilton County High's Chapter having about 70 members on the roster.

LAWRENCE PAINT CO. MOVING TO NEW HOME

The Lawrence Paint Company is moving to its new home on February 1st. The new home being the building just completed behind Rockett's Hardware and Building Supply Store.

John Ponder Lawrence returned to Clanton in 1946 and opened the Lawrence Sign Shop. Within two years he saw the demand for a paint and wallpaper store here and in connection with his sign shop the Lawrence Paint Company was born.

Shortly thereafter Maurice Wyatt who had joined the force at Lawrence's on its beginning, bought a half interest in the growing concern and is still a partner in the business.

Throughout the remainder of February the Lawrence Paint Company is running bargains on all their stock in preparation for moving. Already known far and wide as the most complete and up-to-date paint and wallpaper store in a city of the size of Clanton, anywhere in the south, the new store will be even bigger and more up-to-date. Principal items handled are paints, wallpaper, venetian blinds, and all waxes and cleaners for home decorating.

In connection with their paint store Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Wyatt have six regular employed painters, paperhangers, and floor finishers to serve your decorating needs.

There Is Room For One More Pupil?

ANNUAL MEETING OF SUPERVISORS AND DIRECTORS OF INSTRUCTION

Miss Elsie Schurter, Supervisor of Chilton County schools, has returned from the work conference of Supervisors and Directors of Instruction, held in Montgomery during the week of January 8.

The work conference of Supervisors and Directors of Instruction is sponsored in cooperation with the State Department of Education. This year, as in previous years, the conference was most helpful to supervisors in planning the over-all program for improving instruction throughout the state.

The major emphasis of the conference changes from year to year. The theme for the work this year centered around an examination and study of various types of instrutional materials now in process of development. The organization of the group for working brought about broad participation on the part of each member. There were general assemblies for addresses, symposiums and panel discussions. Each address was followed by the work of small groups under the guidance and leadership of those selected because of special competencies in a particular area.

The help gained through participation in the conference will be most valuable to those attending in offering leadership to local teacher groups in the continuous improvement of instruction in the public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Guy of Birmingham are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Baker and other relatives this week.

The old saying, "There's always room for one more," is just about out of date in the schools of Alabama and Chilton County. Vital Statistics of this state show that the birth rate of the state has increased from 65,301 in 1941 to 87,242 in 1947; an increase of over 1-3. Where there are new babies there will soon be new pupils. The above figures indicate that the enrollment in our schools will be at a new peak in 1952. When we look at our already overcrowded classrooms, we ask ourselves the following questions:

Where are we going to put them?
Who will teach them?

Already we are faced with the problem of overcrowding. Not only are the classrooms full, but teachers have more pupils than they can effectively teach. We can only expect the situation to grow worse with the above facts and there is no indication that we will be able to do anything about it under present conditions.

Today 26 new classrooms are needed in Chilton County to properly take care of our present load. Each year will see this need increase. Our buses are even more crowded than our classrooms. At least 15 new buses would be required to reduce loads to a desirable standard. Both buildings and buses in the county are very old on an average. More pupils are staying in school each year, which helps to increase the annual enrollment.

More pupils mean additional teachers. Additional teachers mean more money needed for teachers salaries.

It is a problem TODAY; one that refuses to be postponed. Every patron and future patron should face the situation squarely and seek the solution to these questions.

deGRAFFENRIED—

Urges Young Men To Make Application For Annapolis

Congressman Edward deGraffenried has announced that there are three vacancies for midshipmen at the U.S. Naval Academy to be filled by young men from the Sixth Congressional District of Alabama.

For each vacancy Mr. deGraffenried may nominate one principal candidate and three alternates. Those nominated will stand the Naval Academy entrance examination on April 19, 1950, and the three who qualify will be admitted to the Academy at Annapolis, Md., on July 1, 1950.

Applicants must be between the ages of 17 and 21 on April 1, 1950, except young men who have had one year of honorable service in either of the U.S. Armed Services, in which case the upper age limit is 23. Applicants must be residents of the Sixth Congressional Destrict.

There are three methods of qualifying mentally for admission to the Naval Academy: (a) By passing the regular mental examination. Two and one-half days are required for this examination. (b) By passing the substantiating examination in mathematics and English and submitting an acceptable certificate of credits on graduation from an accredited high school. Two days are required for this examination. (c) By submission of acceptable certificates of credits from accredited high schools and colleges, WITHOUT MENTAL EXAMINATION.

Applicants must also pass a strict physical examination.

Mr. deGraffenried urges that all young men who wish consideration for appointment to the Naval Academy this year write him immediately giving information regarding education, date of birth, and character references. Although under the law nominations must be made by March 4, 1950, the Department of the Navy has requested that they be made as early as possible.

'50 Polio Appeal Campaign Set For January 16 Thru 31

Heads Drive

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, heads his thirteenth March of Dimes, January 16-31, 1950.

A record number of civic and social organizations have united to carry the 1950 March of Dimes campaign through its most crucial test, Mr. Leo Thompson, County Director of the March of Dimes committee, disclosed today. The annual fund-raising drive of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis opened Monday, January 16, and continues through January 31.

Epidemic aid funds of the National Foundation, Mr. Thompson said, were [illegible] by 1949's record high infan[illegible] paralysis epidemics in which more than 40,000 children and adults were stricken with the crippling disease. These [illegible] were expended not only in caring for new cases, but in continuing treatment for thousands of patients stricken during the serious outbreaks of 1948.

"We are faced with the certainty that about 17,000 victims of 1949 must be cared for during most of 1950, the greatest carry-over case load in the 12-year history of the National Foundation," the March of Dimes county director stated. "That alone calls for a record-breaking March of Dimes campaign. But, further, we must stand ready to help new victims of outbreaks we know will hit many areas next summer.

"When we add to all this the cost of continuing vital research and the educational programs of the National Foundation, it becomes clear that only a united community effort can boost the March of Dimes to a total sufficient to do a job almost twice as big as ever before."

Outstanding Events—

The challenge will be met, the county director predicted. The March of Dimes committee has enlisted the entire community in this crusade against one of mankind's most cruel foes. In response, civic and social organizations as well as individuals have announced a series of outstanding events for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Mr. Thompson disclosed that a greater number of volunteers than ever before have helped his committee with its extensive pre-campaign work. March of Dimes coin cards [illegible] already been distributed and the [illegible] style coin-collector is on display in stores throughout Chilton County. The canister, Mr. Thompson said, is made to look like a miniature iron lung.

"When we fill these miniature respirators," the county director said, "we help to empty the real iron lungs."

The March of Dimes committee also has furnished special school coincards to children whose contributions for some years have aided the important york involving chiefly the nation's children.

DEATHS FOR THREE MONTHS PERIOD REPORTED

Montgomery, Ala.—The 6,329 deaths reported during July, August and September from the entire state included 42 reported from Chilton County, according to the State Department of Health. That county's total included 37 deaths of white people and five of Negroes.

The State Health Department's announcement was based upon provisional reports prepared by its Bureau of Vital Statistics.

The state total for that three-month period represented a slight decline from the 6,412 deaths reported during the previous three-month period. However, they substantially exceeded the 6,047 deaths reported during the corresponding (July to September, inclusive) period of 1948.

We should be greatful that we have one of these schools in our section. The cost is small and it is hoped that we will have a large number for the opening of the quarter.

PICTURES AT SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

K. M. Kennedy, pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, announced that they would have a series of motion pictures on mission work done by the Adventist in their world-wide program. Friday night, at 7:00 p.m., January 20th, the first meeting of mission films will be held. Two films will be shown, the first, "Witchbound Africa," which is a fascinating picture of the life and work of Christian doctors combating witchcraft and spirit worship in darkest Africa.

The famous Malamulo Leper Colony is shown. Treating disease and training of African youth to care for their people is plainly portrayed.

The second film, "Black Diamonds," is a picture of the darkest, rawest heathen kraals of Africa, being polished and transformed by Christian education. The trip visits Malamulo, Solusi and other mission stations to give intimate glimpses of African youth on the march to the dawn of a better day.

The meeting is open to the public. On the following Friday evening film trips will be made to Ethiopia, South America and Mexico.

Kind Words

It's a funny thing. When it rains, it pours. You go on, and on, and then out of a clear blue sky there it is.

The past two weeks we have received dozens and dozens of letters telling us how much our newspaper is appreciated and how it is watched for each week. Letters wishing us a happy birthday and best wishes for the New Year.

Them's kind words, folks. And a newspaper man's correspondence being usually loaded with "gripes" makes the change most pleasing and so-o-o-o-o appreciated.

You're Not In A Position To Ask...

The other day while in Montgomery with a committee to go before the State Board of Education in an effort to secure a Trade School for Chilton County, a citizen of that county made the statement to us: "You folks in Chilton County are not in a position to ask for anything, are you?" And he added, "after what's happened up there."

We wonder if a person, or a group of people, would really have that attitude against Chilton County and her citizens because of the bad publicity we have received in recent months. God forbid that human beings could be so narrow.

No one has as yet been convicted of a crime against the County of Chilton.

BUT, suppose when the indicted persons come to trial within the next few weeks they are convicted of wrong doing. Are the good citizens of Chilton County going to be branded as criminals?

"You folks in Chilton County are not in a position to ask for anything, are you?"

For sheer narrow mindedness and littleness of soul, that remark makes us sick to the pit of the stomach.

There are just as good citizens in Chilton County as there ever were. They are just as loyal and as honest as people anywhere. If our skirts are dirty we have faith enough in the people of this county to believe they will see to it that justice is done and the guilty will pay for their crimes.

The good people of Chilton County are in a position to ask for anything they want.

Anywhere, any time.

And they are also capable of fighting for what is rightfully theirs.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Delos and Martha Culp have moved to Elmore, Alabama. He is with the State Department of Education, you know. Since we can't have them with us, living such a few miles south of us is the next best thing we suppose.

Do you know the difference between a brand new Dodge and a potsfor? Well, we are sure you know who sells the Dodge and if you think for a minute you will recall what a pots for. Anyway, that brings us to our subject. We won a prize. A beautiful pot. No. This was a beautiful aluminum cooking pot. Mr. W. M. Polk gave it to us after the showing of his new Dodge the other day. He had a drawing of everyone who registered and gave away a lot of nice prizes. We tried to swap our new pot in on a new Dodge but Mr. W. M. wouldn't take it. He thinks that maybe if we filled the pot with twenty dollar bills he would think about a swap. And by that time we would be trading for a 1975 model.

Mr. J. G. Heida of Thorsby is mad. He's mad about this milk situation. He says the dairymen around there are selling their milk for seven cents a quart and then when you go to the store to buy it, it costs you twenty-five cents a quart. He also says the dairymen around there all spend their money at home for expensive feed and there shouldn't be such a great difference in the selling and the buying price. What Mr. Heida wants to know, is what's wrong? As we told him. The same difference applies to many products that go out of Chilton County. And what we would like to know it what's wrong?

What's this about the new Tot Shop where Era's Beauty Shop now resides? Understand that it will be operated by Miss Elsie Barrett who used to be associated with the Kemp Dry Goods Store. Miss Elsie knows her dry goods and we are sure will do all right in her new business. We wish her the best of luck.

We hear that Era's Beauty Shop will be located at the Willingham Hotel.

Looks like the hottest race in the coming May Primary will be for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County. That is, the hottest local race. Already mentioned as possible candidates are Luther Kendricks, Ernest Davis and Sherman Motley. Sheriff J. A. Stevens has already stated that he will definitely be a candidate and make his announcement at the proper time.

The lady at the local eatery tells us that she sometimes gets so far behind in her work that she thinks she's ahead.

We must publicly compliment Rev. Brunson Atkinson on the increased interest he has instilled in his Sunday night service at the Methodist Church. Also for the fine sermon he delivered Sunday night for the young folks. His all girl choir was splendid, and do you know what? You'd go a long way to find a prettier and more talented group of young ladies.

Letters To The Editor

OLD AGE PEOPLE AND THEIR FRIENDS

An Open Letter To My Friend,
W. T. Bryan.

Dear Mr. Bryan:

Your note last week in The Union-Banner in regard to me was misleading and misrepresenting. I need no authority to publish what I did, being a member of the Board of Directors and a organizer of Congressional District 6, including Chilton County and knowing the discussion of the last Board meeting. The next meeting was set for February the first and hadn been changed when I wrote the paper. I am sure I knew about the change of the date before you did, and I helped make the change, and then you were asked to endorse the change.

You know, Mr. Bryan, that Wiley P. Gordon has taken no part in Alabama Old Age Pension Association since he and Beasley drew out and started a group of their own which lasted about three months. Then Gordon and Beasley fell out. Both of them have fought Folsom and his administration and still are. Both of them are indirectly an enemy to the Old Age Pension movement and are doing more harm to the old folks than Bruce Henderson has. I say again we will not endorse any Social Security Plan. We couldn't afford to endorse Wiley P. Gordon's plan. It would be turning our Asociation completely over to Gordon and our enemy.

(Signed): S. A. HARRELL,
Jemison, Ala.

I want to first state the Alabama Old Age Pension Association did not instruct the writing of this letter. The Alabama Old Age Pension Association is hot fighting Wiley P. Gordon. Gordon has never fought the Alabama Old Age Pension Asso., Inc. Wiley P. Gordon has not fought Folsom's Administration. Wiley P. Gordon is one of the founders of the Old Age Pension movement in Alabama about 10 years ago. Wiley P. Gordon is in no way connected with George Beasley.

The Alabama Old Age Pension Association Board of Directors will not meet on February 1st to endorse candidates all over the state, but will meet January 29th, 1950, in regular session. But not for the purpose of endorsing candidates. Hon. Wiley P. Gordon will attend the meeting. The Alabama Old Age Pension Association does not believe in fighting each other.—T. W. Bryan, a Trustee, Alabama Old Age Pension Association, Inc.

Video and Modern Youth

A 12-year-old boy in Hayward, Calif., hanged himself a few days ago, apparently while re-enacting a scene from a television show, according to Alameda County Deputy Sheriff Glen Harvey. The parents found the boy in the bathroom of their home, hanging from a belt looped around his neck, when they returned home from a dance. The younger brother said that the two boys had been watching a Western movie on television during the evening. The show on the television program included a hanging scene, he said, and the two boys had discussed "how it must feel to be hanged."

A. T. HICKMAN

Then last Friday, January 13, a sobbing father in Chicago, Ill., blamed television for the death of his 9-year-old son. He was found hanged in a closet wearing his cowboy suit. The boy's name was Warren Biel. His body was found hanging in the closet with a belt looped around the throat and a clothes bar. So said the Associated Press.

In bitter tears, the father, Carl Biel, age 37, testified before the coroner's jury, "that his son was an imaginative boy, and I am sure that he got the idea from those pictures for some kind of experiment which caused the accident." The father also stated that his son was a grade school honor student, and had been an avid viewer of cowboy television shows. The boy came home from school, and donned his cowboy outfit to see a television program. And that is what happened. He was found by his brother, Ronald, 13.

What a pity; that these two young boys would be influenced to do a thing that took their own lives, and that by a modern television program. I am wondering who is most guilty in the sight of God. The boys themselves; who merely obeyed the common urge to copy an act seen done by others; or the parents, who left their boys to choose their own type of television programs; or the authorities who permit such stuff to be on the air?. . . "This know also that in the last days perilous times shall come." Friend, what will become of the inventors of evil things? Read Rom. 1:29-32.

BICYCLING

When children ride their bikes to school or elsewhere, they, too, should obey traffic rules and regulations and should practice courtesy as much as anyone else.

The bicycle is an accepted means of transportation between the home and school. Approximately 12,000,000 bicycles are in use in the United States today—one to every three motor cars. In traveling, the bicyclist competes with the motorist and is subject to vehicle laws.

In an accident, the bicycle rider is predestined to be the loser, as he travels at ten miles an hour while the automobile is traveling at fifty miles an hour. The measure of safety for the cyclist is decided by himself. When an accident happens, in three cases out of four, the bicycle rider is a violator of traffic laws. Nearly half of the deaths due to bicycle accidents happen to children between five and fourteen years old.

On the highway, the bicyclist has the same rights as the automobilist; and he has the same responsibility to obey the rules. Riding a bicycle can be a lark, but it is also a matter of life and death. The whole matter of bicycling for safety resolves itself into educating the youthful cyclist to know and fulfill his obligation. To this aim parents and teachers, police and service clubs, and safety councils should be dedicated.

Thorsby News

There will be piano solos, ducts and a selection using eight hands. The Girl's Glee Club and also a boy's group will round out the program. The voice class will contribute to the evening's entertainment also.

There were seven students from Thorsby Institute who's poems were chosen by the National High School Poetry Association to be put into the Annual Anthology of High School Poetry. They were: Norma Jean Glass, Margaret Lambert, who also received special mention, Ann Heaton, Charles Smith, Eugene Williams, Richard Davis and Sarah Ruth Manning. These students were given certificates last week at Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Turnquist, Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. James [illegible]worth spent Monday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Erle Ellis in Clanton, and celebrated Mrs. Ellis' birthday.

Mr. Sam Pate and Calvin spent Monday afternoon in Birmingham shopping.

There is again a lot of foolish wrangling among a certain group of our people, which if continued, will certainly prove detrimental to our town. What a pity that we cannot work together in peace and harmony, instead of constantly trying to tear down what little we have. If our business men and our "church folks" cannot work together peaceably, then, what is there to expect?

Major and Mrs. Owen Carter of Columbus, S. C., have been spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Howard and other relatives Major Carter left on Tuesday for Columbia where he is in the service at Ft. Jackson, but Mrs. Carter remained for an extended visit with her parents

Mrs. L. M. Jackson is visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Robinson, in Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Biggs of Atlanta, Ga., spent Tuesday night here with Mr. and Mrs. Gust Berlin.

Mr. Lloyd Howard and Mr. Chas. Howard spent Thursday and Friday in Mobile, Ala. They brought back a big suply of azaleas and camelias which are now on display and for sale at the Wayside Gardens.

Harold and Earl Mims have both been confined to their home for several days with a severe case of flu. We sincerely hope that these two popular young fellows will soon be well again.

News has been received here of the illness of Mr. Ted Lefstead, brother of Miss Alma Lefstead. Mr. Lefstead has been quite ill for some two weeks now and is in a Chattanooga hospital suffering from virus pneumonia. His friends here wish for him a very speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Petersen and daughter, Shirley, Mr. Carl Turnquist and Miss Naemi Turnquist went to Montevallo last Wednesday night, and attended a performance at Palmer Hall, put on by the Danish Gym team. It was indeed a wonderful performance and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Quite a large number of Thorsby people enjoyed the first number put on by the Community Concert Association at Clanton last Thursday night. Jorge Bolet, pianist, was presented in concert and gave a most magnificent performance. Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mrs. Irene Peterson attended a banquet given in his honor after the performance. This banquet was a lovely affair and guests included those who had assisted in selling tickets for this year's Community Concerts.

News was received here last week of the death of Doc Powell, who died in a Birmingham hospital on Wednesday, January 11th. Mr. Powell was at one time in business here and owned the Thorsby Sundries Store. He made many friends here during the short time that he lived among us, who were shocked to learn of his untimely death.

We note news of another death of one who lived in Thorsby years ago, and who had many friends here. The Birmingham News carried a picture and news of the death of Leon Stanley, eldest son of the J. J. Stanleys, who lived here for years. Leon died on last Friday at an infirmary in Birmingham. He is survived by the widow, his mother, Mrs. J. J. Stanley; two sisters and one brother, Gordon Stanley.

Major and Mrs. Owen Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard were entertained at a dinner party on last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Robinson.

How to Grease Your own Car

FIRST
Put on your dirtiest clothes so you can crawl under your car.

SECOND
Buy a supply of transmission, differential, universal joint, water pump and pressure grease, a grease gun and a spray gun. Also some penetrating oil and No. 40 oil.

THIRD
Equip yourself with lots of strong words such as "Darn" and "Oh, Hang," and the like to use on the joins where the grease doesn't want to come through. Keep using these words until the grease comes out the other side.

FOURTH
Buy yourself a complete set of wrenches to use on the containers that must be opened to inspect the lubricating supply inside. Also some new skin to graft on your knuckles when the wrench slips.

FIFTH
Fill your spray gun with penetrating oil to spray on the springs. Be sure not to breathe for about 10 minutes while spraying the springs or you may oilplate the inside of your lungs, which is bad.

SIXTH
Be sure not to miss any place that should be lubricated as it may cost the price of twenty grease jobs for repairs.

OR-
. . . if this seems like too much trouble and expense, drive your car in here. We can assure you, if you get our "Guaranteed Lubrication," you just won't try that home job again.

CONTRACT

THE STANDARD FORM OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN OWNER AND ARCHITECT.

THIS AGREEMENT made the 21st day of November in the year Nineteen Hundred and Forty-nine by and between THE CHILTON COUNTY COURT OF COMMISSIONERS, CLANTON, ALABAMA, hereinafter called the Owner, and PEARSON, TITTLE & NARROWS, MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA, hereinafter called the Architect, WITNESSETH, that whereas the Owner intends to erect an addition to the Chilton County Courthouse, NOW, THEREFORE, the Owner and the Architect, for the considerations hereinafter named, agree as follows: The Architect agrees to perform, for the above-named work, professional services as hereinafter set forth. The Owner agrees to pay the Architect for such services a fee of Six (6) per cent of the cost of the work, with other payments and reimbursements as hereinafter provided, the said percentage being hereinafter referred to as the "basic rate."

The parties hereto further agree to the following conditions:

1. THE ARCHITECT'S SERVICES.—The architect's professional services consist of the necessary conferences, the preparation of preliminary studies, working drawings, specifications, large scale and full size detail drawings; the drafting of forms of proposals and contracts; the issuance of certificates of payment; the keeping of accounts, the general administration of the business and supervision of the work.

3. SEPARATE CONTRACTS.—The basic rate applies to work let under a single contract. For any portions of the work let under separate contracts, on account of extra service thereby required, the rate shall be four per cent greater, and if substantially all the work is so let the higher rate shall apply to the entire work; but there shall be no such increase on any contracts in connection with which the Owner reimburses the Engineers' fees to the Architect, or for articles not designed by the Architect but purchased under his direction.

4. EXTRA SERVICES AND SPECIAL CASES.—If the Architect is caused extra draughting or other expense due to changes ordered by the Owner, or due to the delinquency of the Owner or Contractor, or as a result of damage by fire, he shall be equitably paid for such extra expense and the service involved. Work let on any cost-plus basis shall be the subejct of a special charge in accord with the special service rendered. If any work designed or specified by the Architect is abandoned or suspended the Architect is to be paid for the service rendered on account of it.

5. PAYMENTS.—Payments to the Architect on account of his fee shall be made as follows, subject to the provisions of Art. 4: Upon completion of the preliminary studies, a sum equal to 20% of the basic rate computed upon a reasonable estimated cost. Upon completion of specifications and general working drawings (exclusive of details) a sum sufficient to increase payments on the fee to 75% of the rate or rates of commission arising from this agreement, computed upon a reasonable cost estimated on such completed specifications and drawings, or if bids have been received, then computed upon the [illegible]est bona fide bid or bids. From time to time during the execution of work and in proportion to the amount of service rendered by the Architect, payments shall be made until the aggregate of all payments made on account of the fee under this Article, but not including any covered by the provisions of Article 4, shall be a sum equal to the rate or rates of commission arising from this agreement, computed upon the final cost of the work. Payments to the Architect, other than those on his fee, fall due from time to time as his work is done or as costs are incurred. No deductions shall be made from the Architect's fee on account of penality, liquidated damages, or other sums withheld from payments to contractors.

6. SURVEY, BORINGS AND TESTS.—The Owner shall, so far as the work under this agreement may require, furnish the Architect with the following information: A complete and accurate survey of the building site, giving the grades and lines of streets, pavements, and adjoining properties; the rights, restrictions, easements, boundaries, and contours of the building site, and full information as to sewer, water, gas and electrical service. The Owner is to pay for borings or test pits and for chemical, mechanical, or other tests when required.

7. SUPERVISION OF THE WORK.—The Architect will endeavor to guard the Owner against defects and deficiencies in the work of contractors, but he does not guarantee the performance of their contracts. The supervision of an Architect is to be distinguished from the continuous personal superintendence to be obtained by the employment of a clerk-of-the-works. When authorized by the Owner, a clerk-of-the-works acceptable to both Owner and Architect shall be engaged by the Architect at a salary satisfactory to the Owner and paid by the Owner, upon presentation of the Architect's monthly statements.

8. PRELIMINARY ESTIMATES.—When requested to do so the Architect will furnish preliminary [illegible]mates on the cost of the work, [illegible] he does not guarantee the accuracy of s[illegible]

RINSE DARK WASHABLES IN THE RIGHT MANNER

Auburn, Ala. — Dark-colored clothes of washable fabric are often favored for winter wear because they show soil less than light colors, yet can be tubbed at home rather than dry-cleaned.

"If they are to keep their clear dark color after washing and show no whitish or greyish streaks or spots, special care in laundering is necessary," says Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist.

She advises homemakers to use soft water for washing dark-colored fabrics if possible, but avoid strong water softeners which may fade colors. Make a good thick suds of lukewarm water. Avoid soaking. Put garments into water and wash as rapidly as possible. If the water is hard, make a second lighter suds for the first rinse, or rinse in lukewarm water containing a little vinegar. Then rinse at least twice in clear water. Traces of soap leave greyish streaks on dark fabric so thorough rinsing is important.

JEMISON HIGH EDGES CALERA 35 TO 32

After trailing for three quarters the Jemison High basketball team put on swift-breaking offense the final quarter and defeated a plucky team from Calera High last Friday night. Led by Ellison with 11 points and Cobb and Hayes with seven points each, the winners pulled a game out of the fire that seemed a certainty to become their second loss to the visitors.

The Calera boys totally outplayed our team the first three quarters, but their defense weakened in the final round and the J.H.S. boys drilled hard and fast to cop this one.

A. Lowery was the shining light for the Calera team. This lad literally burned the nets out for 19 points and gave a fine demonstration of floor work.

Marcus, Almaroad, Collins and Sorrell all plugged hard to help salvage this game for their Alma Mater. Much credit must be given these boys.

The Jemison Bees won their ninth straight game by a 26 to 23 count over the Calera Bees. This game, too, pulled a noisy crowd to their feet on numerous occasions. The lead exchanged several times.

On Tuesday night, January 10th, the Jemison A's defeated Maplesville A's in a 3-overtime period game by a score of 37 to 35. Hayes looped the winning field goal. The Jemison B's won their game 35 to 24.

On next Friday night the Bibb County High team from Centreville comes to Jemison for engagements. Extra periods were required for Jemison to defeat the Bibb County boys by a 2-point margin at Centreville several weeks ago. So, these should be red thrillers too. Game time 7:00 p.m.

DO'S AND DON'TS FOR SAFE DRIVERS

If the following safety suggestions given by Stella Mitchell, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist, are put into action by each driver in the family, many trips to the hospital will be avoided.

Don't race to a stop sign, traffic light, or highway intersection, then slam on the brakes. Don't start with a rush and roar, nor try to beat the other cars in a quick get-a-way when traffic signals change. Do adjust speed to conditions. On slippery surfaces and when visibility is poor, conservative speed is imperative for safe driving.

Shopping for groceries by impulse is a sure way to get poor returns for your time, money, and effort.

LABOR SAVING ELECTRICITY

The operating cost of electrical equipment is extremely low. In many instances, five cents worth of electricity will do as much work as a man can do in one day.

JEMISON INDEPENDENTS DEFEAT CENTREVILLE

The Jemison Redbirds copped their ninth win of the season on last Wednesday, January 10th, by trimming a smooth-clicking Centreville team by a score of 47 to 42.

Campbell was high scorer for this game. The Redbirds suffered their third loss of the season last Saturday night in a rough-tumble affair with Epps Jewelry Company of Birmingham. The score was 46 to 48.

An extra period was required to settle the issue. K. Cobb was high point man for the losers.

The Jemison Independents go to Isabella tonight (Thursday, 19th). They defeated Isabella recently by a large score, so the home team will be out to avenge this loss in what should be a real thriller. So go on out and plug for your favorite team.

STANTON NEWS

What is A. A.? (Alcoholics Anonymous). You should have attended the meeting of this group in Clanton at the City Hall last Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. Members of Alcoholics Anonymous were there from Birmingham and Montgomery. 'Twas such a nice meeting and one that was highly instructive.

Much can be said of Alcoholics Anonymous. They are doing a swell job. Sunday this group was organized in Chilton County, Clanton. They will hold closed meetings each Friday night in Clanton and open meetings will be held each second Sunday afternoon at 2:30 of each month. You can attend their open meetings. They ask for the support of ministers and other interested persons.

This group invites any one interested in the problem of alcoholism. Whether as victims, friends of victims, physicians, clergymen, psychiatrists or social workers. These meetings will give you an inside view of the problems which the alcoholic faces.

"Alcoholism is one of our largest health problems. There is a job to be done that must be approached from several angles. In this country Alcoholics Anonymous is a most effective organization dealing with the alcoholic himself, and I know many psychiatrists who share my opinion," said Lawrence Kolb, M.D., Medical Director, U.S. Public Health Service.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Well, kids, at least last week was a good week for semester exams, wasn't it? Rained all week, or practically all week, anyhow. (That's one man's opinion though; as far as I'm concerned NO week is good for semester exams!)

By the way, our dream girl for this week was Joanne Scott. (O.K., so she doesn't have many fleckles; she still wears glasses. At least I got one thing right.)

Now about next week's BOY, let's see he has brown hair, wears glasses, weighs about WOW! 158 pounds, works sometimes, is about 5 ft. 6 in tall, and he's really a lotta fun. He is also in the Sr. I, II or III class (Ha, fooled you on that, he might not even be in any Senior class.) Anyhow! For all I know he doesn't even exist! No foolin', he does exist; I have proof! There's enough of him, he oughta exist.

We at least had a half day out of school this week. Boy, since Christmas we haven't, and I don't think we will, have any good holidays, but it's just a half year until summer and then, oh boy!

The basketball games are getting better as they go along, keeds. Last week we played Starke and man we romped all over them. Here's hoping we do as good with our next game.

Whew! Speaking of exams, I do believe I passed all of mine. Man, what an ordeal, a whole week of cramming and man, was I tired last Friday afternoon.

One class I went into (it was biology and I don't believe Miss Perry will mind) I felt "most amused." We had had tests all week and I had been making fairly well on them. Then when Friday came around I was all set for this test because I thought I would make a "Leetle" better on this one than usual Miss Perry came up and said we wouldn't have the test. It all turned out just as well, though. She read us a story instead and it was a good one, too.

I saw James Pyron in the drug store last Friday evening before the basketball game that night and James said he wanted his name in the paper. I told him to do something UNUSUAL that night and I would put his name in the basketball story. Well, he sounded serious enough about it, so I figured he would try harder than usual. I went to the game that night and JAMES got five fouls which automatically put him out of the game. Say, James, you really did something unusual but I must say I couldn't write you up in the basketball story, so I just put you in this column.

You don't mind, do you? I know it's not the highest in class, but anyhow you got your name in the paper. Next time, really do something (uh! I won't say, unusual, when I do you go to extremes. Let's say, spectacular.)

Lard will render more rapidly and completely if the fat is cut into small pieces before being put into the kettle.

As it cures, meat will usually develop a more uniform desirable flavor if it can be at an even temperature of about 38 degrees.

Plane Forced to Land On Hiway Near Here Friday

Well, to our surprise we had an airplane to light on the highway close to Mr. Grady Harrison's last Friday. Part of the school children got to see it on the ground. It stopped out of the heavy fog.

We had one half of our Sunday School attendance at church Sunday. This was good, but we have so many people in our community who should come to the Lord's house on the Sabbath day.

If you are not a regular member of your Sunday School, have you ever stopped long enough to think how much the Lord has given to you and how little you have given Him? The very best we can do for our Lord on this earth is but little in the sight of our Savior.

Please, dear readers, won't you go to church somewhere Sunday?

Next Saturday night, January 21st, will be prayer service at our church. Mothers and fathers, please come. Let's don't forget next Sunday is our regular preaching day.

The ladies of this community spent the day last Wednesday at Mrs. Walter Lawley's. They quilted out two quilts for her in the morning. All brought lunch and at the noon hour all enjoyed a wonderful dinner. In the afternoon we had W.M.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Messer Smith had their children home this week end from Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Gilliland and Mrs. Robert McAfee visited Rev. Mike Moore last Thursday.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

James Rich, of the Mt. Pisgah Community, is getting ready to start plowing up kudzu seedlings. Last spring he planted approximately one acre. He used ten pounds of clean scarified seed. These seed were planted in broom sedge land so as to get away from grass and weed competition. Young kudzu seedlings are very easily choked out and killed and for this reason should always be planted on ground that is relatively free from grass and weed seed. Mr. Rich believes he will get at least 30,000 seedlings. All of these seedlings will be set out on his own farm.

Charlie Childress' Kentucky 31 fescue and white clover meadow strip is beginning to show up now with all the rain and warm weather we are having. This meadow strip will be used as a water disposal area and also for winter grazing. The meadow was planted last November and he plans to start grazing it the last of this month. Mr. Childress harvested approximately 500 pounds of Kentucky 31 fescue seed last spring and says he wished he had planted every one of them on his own farm. He states that one of his neighbors, Mr. Hunter Rasco, has a patch and that his cows (Mr. Rasco's) prefer it above any of the other winter grazing crops that he has.

Complete soil and water conservation plans were made on the following farms last week: Charles Patterson, Thomas White and Hollis Thornton. This makes, up to date, six hundred and six farm plans that have been made since the North Central Soil Conservation District was organized covering 6,842 acres in Chilton County.

You can have kudzu:

If you will prepare the land now.

If you will plant two to four pounds of seed per acre March 20.

If you will fertilize with 500 pounds of 4-10-7 fertilizer per acre.

If you will work the young kudzu and keep grass and weeds killed.

You can produce kudzu in approximately three years instead of the usual five years.

Clanton Stomps Starke

A—Teams [illegible] 27 [illegible]

B Teams [illegible] 32 [illegible]

Friday [illegible] at the Chilton County [illegible] Starke [illegible] in an [illegible] Scales [illegible] He scored eight times [illegible] possible score of 16 [illegible] one free shot which [illegible] total of 17 points. Freddie Popwell and Tom Frank Scott both made six scores or 12 points each. Freddie got into the roughest part of the game and really did well. Tom Frank showed the crowd something he has never shown before and he really surprised them.

On the Starke team, Kennedy and Welch were [illegible] of the game. Kennedy racked up [illegible] points and Welch got eight. Both boys played a good game.

There were two time-outs in the whole game, one on each team, which is pertty good from the looks of the score.

The "B" team played a close game than the A team, which of course, made it more interesting.

On the Clanton team Ivan Smith made 22 points and Bates made eight.

On the Starke team Moody and Cargile both racked up eight points each and Fowler almost caught up with them with a 7-point game.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.
> "Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and had argued their case Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes.

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case.

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

WAYS TO RID CATTLE OF CONTAGIOUS WARTS

Service livestock specialist, reveals that most warts are clipped off and the stumps painted with tincture of iodine.

Other successful ways to remove warts include the use of a wart vaccine or castor oil applied to warts daily. When the vaccine is used, repeated injections are necessary.

"Disinfecting stalls and pens will usually prevent spread of warts."

deGRAFFENRIED—

BLASTS ADMINISTRATION OF COTTON ALLOTMENTS

Congressman Edward deGraffenried of the Sixth District of Alabama made a strong statement before an informal meeting of the Committee on Agriculture of the House, which met in Executive Session today, relating to cotton acreage allotments.

The Congressman stated that the trouble is not so much with the present law is written as with the way it is being administered. He stated that he was in favor of the Cooley amendment and hoped that the Committee would report the amendment favorably immediately and that it would be acted upon favorably by the House as soon as possible, as it would be too late to give relief unless it was quickly done. The Cooley amendment provides that no farm cotton acreage allotment shall be less than the larger of seventy percentum of the average acreage planted to cotton, or regarded as planted to cotton, under Public Law 12, 79th Congress, on the farm in 1946, 1947 and 1948, or fifty percentum of the highest acreage planted to cotton, or regarded as planted to cotton on the farm in any one of such three years.

The Congressman stated, however, to the Committee that in order for this amendment to be of material help to the farmers of his District and of the cotton states, this amendment would have to be properly administered and if it was not properly administered, it would not be of much help. He stated that if no farmer was cut more than thirty percentum of the average that he had actually had in acreage in cotton for these three years, that the farmer would be materially helped but that if BE estimates are used as a base on acreage, the farmers would not be materially helped. He suggested to the Committee that each county committee before finally alloting acreage devoted to cotton by such farmer in the county for these three years, by consulting with the farmer, his neighbors, and his ginning records and by other means. He stated that he had been informed that in Perry County in his District that using a thirty percentum maximum cut and BAE estimate acreage and that this same ratio would probably apply to the other counties in his District. He stated that a provision should be contained in the amendment whereby a maximum cut of thirty percentum of the farmer's known planted acreage would be all that he be required to take.

In connection with his statement, the Congressman read a letter from a constituent of Uniontown, Alabama, opposing the use of BAE estimates in alloting acreage.

Under a new proposal to the Cooley amendment, which may be favorably reported by the Committee, any farmer who is dissatisfied with his farm acreage allotment for the 1950 cotton crop may within fifteen days after mailing to him of notice, as provided in Section 363 of the Act, or within fifteen days after the effective date of the amendment, which ever date is later, have such allotment reviewed in accordance with the provisions of said Act.

Mr. deGraffenried stated that he was for the Cooley amendment and hoped and urged that the Committee, if possilbe, place some provision in the amendment for its effective administration to see that each farmer really was cut no more than provided in the amendment.

USE ANIMAL MANURES

It will pay to use all available stable manure on such crops as tomatoes, beans, corn, and watermelons. It should not be used on sweet or Irish potatoes.

DUST WINTER GARDEN

Certain leafspot diseases may attack the leaves of turnips, mustard, beets, and rutabagas. And vegetable weevils may destroy carrots and turnip greens. Often cabbage worms and plant lice can be found. The Auburn-approved, general-purpose garden dust will control all of these troubles.

Weddings Top News As Love Sweeps USA

THE new year 1950 will bring many big news stories but it will have to go a long way to top the headlines that several wedding ceremonies drew in 1949's last weeks. In rapid succession Vice President Barkley, New York's Mayor O'Dwyer, Movie Stars Clark Gable and Cary Grant took wives. But important as these weddings were none so stirred the USA as the marriage of Andrew H. "Andy" Brown to Miss Abigail Simpson in a surprise ceremony on the CBS' Sunday Amos 'n' Andy show. Proving America loves to laugh, millions, glued to their radios, followed Andy as he dashed from the church immediately after the wedding and went into hiding. At last report, Andy was still hiding—with the Kingfish's help—and all America was still laughing.

CORN-KUDZU ROTATION INCREASES CORN YIELD

Auburn, Ala. — Now is a good time to set kudzu crowns, and, to stimulate interest, here are some results of kudzu-corn rotations on eroded land.

S. R. Doughty, A.P.I. Extension Service soil conservationist, says that in all cases reported, the kudzu was allowed to become well established and make a good growth for four or more years before it was turned and followed by corn.

The records show that on one badly eroded field, kudzu was grown for a few years and then every fourth terrace was planted to corn. The yield from these strips equaled the crop produced by the entire field before it was planted to kudzu.

Also, kudzu furnishes hay and grazing. Cultivating the corn does not destroy all of the kudzu crowns. These crowns will grow and cover the land until planted to corn four years later.

Do you know cancer's Seven Danger Signals? They are the symptoms that may mean you have cancer. Learn them, so that you can protect yourself if cancer should strike.

Anyone can learn to recognize the symptoms that may mean early cancer. If you don't know what the symtoms are, write for the free booklet which explains them. Just send your name and address to "Cancer," in care of your local post office.

Cancer ranks second on the list of diseases as a killer of children. The American Cancer Society is investing millions of dollars in cancer research to help control this scourge.

The best insurance against cancer is to have a physical check-up regularly. Everyone should have an examination at least once a year—every six months after 35.

Fresh pork that is to be roasted should be sprinkled with salt and pepper before it goes into the oven. If you want a crisp crust, rub a little flour on the roast before cooking it.

Also taken in the arrest was a half dozen knives and three rifles, one a high-powered .30 .30 and five boxes of shells. These, it is reported, were taken in a store robbery at Chipley, Fla.

Local authorities turned the youth, who was only 18 years old, over to the F.B.I.

It is located on the ground floor and is well heated and amply equipped.

Plans are completed and committees are working toward the first session of February 5th of the new and enlarged Men's Bible Class. It will meet in the Sanctuary at 9:45 each Sunday morning and Judge J. O. Middleton is the teacher.

Hon. Omar Reynolds, Chairman of the Board of Education; Mr. R. C. Williams, General Superintendent of the church school; and Mr. Roy Roper, Adult Division Superintendent, jointly, are sending letters of invitation to a hundred men, urging them to attend the very first session of the Men's Bible Class.

"Plans are underway, looking toward showing of a movie of the Alabama-Auburn football game at our xt meeting of the Men's Club," resident Mullins said. "We try to ary our programs from time to time, and we believe that this type of program will interest the fellows," the sident added.

Tuesday night's meeting began with a potluck supper, when each man brought a covered dish of some particular food. The committee on arrangements set the table and made the coffee.

"THE CASE OF THE DEADLY TENEMENT"

During Civil War days, soldiers were safer on the battlefields than in some sections of New York City. The city's rate of death from disease was one of the highest in the world. Yet, a corrupt political machine sided with a group of wealthier landlords to defeat every attempt to enact adequate health laws.

The way a young doctor fought back against that machine and won is the topic of the program on Radio Station WKLF on Tuesday, January 31, at 1 o'clock. The program describes how New York progressed from a city of death to one having the most modern of public health statutes.

The program, entitled, "The Case of the Deadly Tenement," is another in the 'S' Men Series, a series describing the unending war of men and women of science against suffering and death. It is broadcast each week in the public interest, sponsored jointly by Station WKLF and the Chilton County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Appearing on the broadcast on Tuesday will be Miss Louise Foshee, School Chairman, Public Information Committee of the Chilton County Un- nd Dr. Ed Day.

J. A. NIVENS

Mr. Nivens will be a candidate in the Democratic Primary for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County. He has served two terms as Sheriff and is widely known throughout the County and State.

Service Assured Despite A Strike Threat Claim

Following is the text of a statement made today by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The Communications Workers of America — CIO — has announced in Washington that a telephone strike seems inevitable and, in the event of a strike, threatens to jam telephone lines to cause a breakdown of the service.

The public recognizes that uninterrupted telephone service is vital to public safety. Millions of people—CIO members and their families included—depend upon it day and night to keep them within an instant's reach of the doctor, the fire department and the police.

A threat to disrupt this essential service therefore is more than just a threat to the telephone Company, it imperils the health and safety of every telephone user and his family to whom a call may mean the difference between life and death. It not only would endanger the lives of individuals, but it would be disastrous in event of a local, regional or national emergency.

The national union leaders talk of a strike despite the fact that collective bargaining on a new contract between several of the companies—including Southern Bell—and the union has not even begun yet. The CWA-CIO leaders say such a strike seems inevitable. It is clear to us that a strike is inevitable in the area Southern Bell serves only if the CIO leaders have decided in advance that they want a strike and come to the bargaining table with closed minds.

Apparently this threat to jam telephone lines is part of CWA-CIO tactics to create fear in the public mind and force the telephone company to come to an agreement on the union's terms. It is certainly a plain indication of the irresponsibility of this union's top leadership.

In any event, telephone users can be assured that the telephone company will do everything within its power—whatever happens—to see the essential cals go through.

Wiley Gordon is the founder of the first state-wide pension association ever started in Alabama, that was ten years ago, and then known as the Old-Age Living Plan, this movement has gone forward during these years and today many thousands of people are interested in the pension question. Worry, Worry. Tough Is The Lot Of A State Auditor

Don't ever think that the fellow who gets his name mentioned in the auditor's report of the county doings has all the worry. 'Taint so.

Some time was spent the past few days at the courthouse with the State Auditors who are still at work there, and their lot isn't an easy one.

For instance John Doe sells the county a barrel of striped paint. Or a pair of paper stretchers, or some sky hooks or left-hand monkey wrenches—whatever the case may be. In due time he bills the county for the commodity he sold them. That's all well and good. But does he state on his bill when the item was bought, who he delivered it to; who placed the order? He does not.

The Alabama Code says: ". . .of illegal disbursements for indefinite, inadequate and|or doubtful services and failure to follow legal requirements."

In plain English the law requires evidence of delivery and the order authbrized by a legal and proper official.

Many, many cases now being scrutinized by the auditors are perfectly legal claims, entered by honest businessmen of Chilton County, but lack the information mentioned in the paragraph above and therefore cannot be oked by the auditors.

Just because your name was mentioned in the last report by the state auditors does not mean that you are regarded as a crook or a thief. In the majority of the cases it is only that your claim was not supported by a delivery ticket as to the receiver, authority for the purchase, quantity, etc., etc.

If your claim against the county has been investigated or questioned, don't get excited or angry. The authorities will be glad to discuss the account and do all in their power to straighten things out. More than likely it can be righted in a hurry with a proof of delivery or authority for purchase.

Thirty-Five Years Of Kiwanis

(By John L. Hollis, Mitchell Dam)

The first club was chartered in Detroit, Michigan, January 21, 1915, but it was organized December 7th, 1914, by Mr. Allen S. Brown and Joseph G. Prance. The name was selected by Mr. C. M. Burton, Historian for the City of Detroit. The new club had a very hard road in the early months of 1915, as there were two professional promoters in the new club who were trying to rule for a personal gain. The 250 members then in the club made it so hot for these two that they left Detroit to play their trade elsewhere. It was then that Kiwanis was really born and at that time Mr. Forrest W. Boswell was elected President and Kiwanis has never ceased to grow.

In 1916 there were twenty clubs and at the convention in Cleveland, Ohio, that year the first slogan adopted and I think it very fitting, "Service Brings Its Own Reward."

In 1917 we had grown to fifty-five clubs and at the convention in Detroit the emblem we now wear was adopted, the letter, "K."

In 1918, another memorial year, we had grown to ninety-five clubs and at Providence, R. I., the late Roe Fulkerson was elected editor of the official magazine which was called, "The Torch," and later "The Hornet" and last "The Kiwanis Magazine." There cannot be enough said for what Roe did for Kiwanis and for all of those who were privileged to know him. He was a great character.

In 1919, the convention was held in Birmingham. Up until this time the Kiwanis name was owned by Mr. Brown, the organizer, and at the convention in Birmingham they raised $17,500 and bought themselves. So by now Kiwanis was International, with clubs in the United States and Canada, and growing each year as the slogan, "We Build."

In 1921 the late Fred C. W. Parker was made International Secretary and in this year the first International Board of Governors was held, which is a training school for our District Officers each year.

In 1922 the objective "Service to Underprivileged Children" was adopted. This club in Clanton has done a memorial service to this objective.

In 1925 there were 1,382 clubs with a membership of 94,422. In this year the Key club was born with the first club in Sacramento, Calif.

In 1928 the Selma Club came to Clanton and did a little talking around town and organized the Clanton Kiwanis Club and I can recall three men who I think did outstanding work in pushing the young club: Cohen Stapp, I believe was the first President, Mack Wyatt and the late Mell Martin who worked untiringly. I like to think of the many baskets of food and clothing Sam Ezell, Mell Martin and I took all over this county in the depression era and to the joy that came to the faces of the young and old as they were delivered. I like to think of the many farmers that were given a trip to Auburn to learn the methods of Agriculture and when I see all the peaches, strawberries, cattle and others, I like to feel that Kiwanis Club of Clanton played a part in these advancements. When I drive by the airport, I think of what the Kiwanis Club did to get that; and when I hear our churches report 500 in attendance at Sunday School on a Sunday and see a full auditorium at church, I like to feel that one of our main objectives, "The support of our Churches," played a part in it. And when I see a Boy Scout uniform I like to think of Kiwanis Club who started it in Clanton and has supported it every since and now have erected a Hut for them. I like to think of what the Kiwanis Club has done to help 4-H and F.F.A. clubs in their work. I like to think of the Old Horse Sale to raise money to pay for a number of tonsillectomies for underprivileged children. I like to think of a Chilton County girl who could not walk from a deformity and the Kiwanis Club of Clanton had her operated on and for a long time she would come visit the luncheon walking alone. I like to think of the many times I have heard Chilton County people say, "Get the Kiwanis Club behind it and they will put it over," when it was a worthwhile project dying on the vine. I like to think of the many Christmases I have seen Clanton lighted up to bring more thought and to commerate that birthday, the Birth of Christ from Whom we all and what all we accomplish comes. When I look over the faces and the roster of this club and see four ministers of our churches represented, I am sure that we still have the one fundamental principle to accomplish whatever we will. "We Build" — Kiwanis in Clanton can feel justly proud that it has helped in a big measure to build Clanton and Chilton County a bigger and better place.

In 1945 after four of the most disasterous years of another World War, Kiwanians had played a major part in our country helping to win it and I think it speaks for itself when Kiwanis was officially represented at San Francisco in the preliminary planning of the U. N.

In 1949 the administrative theme "Aggressive Citizenship—Our Individual Responsibility," I like to think of that as Americanism. Let's go back 172 years in History when we were three million nobodies, but with liberty and freedom and thirteen weak states to 1950, the top of the world power. Now we have only 7% of the world's people, only 6% of the world's land area and yet we have 35% of the world's railroads, 60% of the world's telephones, 80% of the world's automobiles, 66% of the world's wealth and more. Our unemployed on relief have a greater buying power than the employed in other lands.

HOW DO WE GET ALL THIS? ARE WE SUPERIOR BEINGS? NOT AT ALL!

We the people of America have no more brains—no more God-given [illegible]—no better souls and bodies than other people. Neither race, [illegible] has anything to do with our [illegible] what we have and [illegible]. We have simply lived under the system that gives us the rights and privileges, the liberty and freedom that every man, woman and child should have.

[illegible] of the thoughts, [illegible] the plans, and [illegible] man that are set out in our Constitution that is Americanism. [illegible] is no such thing in this country as the "comman man." He [illegible] "uncommon" of all. He is what he is and has what he has [illegible] an American citizen. He has liberty. When we, the [illegible] that, we become not common men but common slaves. This [illegible]" an holds the fate of the nation in the palm of his hand [illegible] thinks, votes, strikes and works.

[illegible]ere are also other facts he should have before him, facts of our [illegible] Economic, Political and Public questions.

[illegible] keep the rights of freedom in America, which step by step [illegible] in other countries.

[illegible] are many people in our country who have reached success. Many of them came here as immigrants because only under our Bill of Rights could they use their brains freely and their talents without fear.

Millions of people in our country own a part of the plants, rail[illegible]s and business. But every one, every living soul in America owns a part of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. If we cannot catch the reflection of ourselves in the light of this freedom and use our freedom of thought, and exercise our priviliges to vote intelligently and our freedom to worship the Almighty God in whatever church we so desire then we have utterly failed the great men who wrote the Constitution and Bill of Rights. We have betrayed ourselves. We have failed miserably to live up to the liberties and freedom that our two-fisted, God-fearing fathers handed to us on a platter.

If there is a Godly way of life on earth we have it. Your right to escape control and dictation. My right to make these statements, your right to listen to them, your right not to listen to them, every single right you exercise from morning until night. Every safety you have all the night through.

The only enemies you have in the world are two in number. One is the enemy who wants you to exchange your Americanism for some foreign "ism," and to take your liberties away from you by making this a totalitarian police governed autocracy.

The other enemy is YOU, too complacent, too careless, too indifferent to protect what you have. The battle for liberty and freedom is never decided on the battlefield. It is decided before all battles and before all wars. If we, the people, will keep our freedom, we will forever echo Patrick Henry, "Give me liberty or give me death."

Or would it be easier to say, "Master here I am, put on the ball and chain. Enslave me. I am thy goods and chattel. I am nothing, you the State is all there is.' Liberty isn't merely a heritage, but a conquest for every generation.

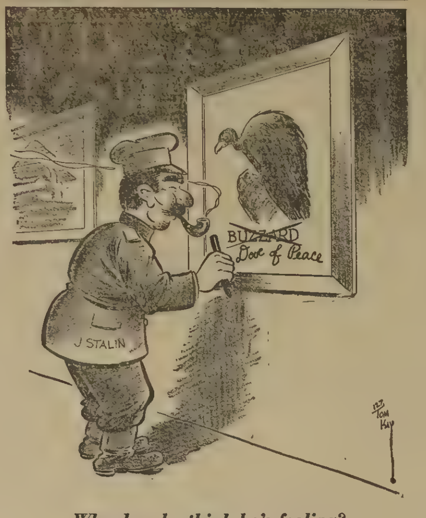
We were once a weak nation, having nothing but freedom and liberty. We were short of everything but the right to exercise our own initiative and enterprise. But under our documents of freedom we have become a beacon to the world. The right to enter America is now considered something like a passport to heaven by all who are not here. Show where on the face of the earth has there been a country or a form of government by which Communism, Collectiveism, Socialism has given the people more happiness, higher pay checks, less hours of work, more comforts, more luxuries, better food, better entertainment and greater opportunities than given by Americans under the American system. Show us not by arguments, dreams, blueprints, or imaginary figures but with facts. Give concrete evidence, prove it by example, prove that any other system is better than ours.

Benjamin Hill stated, "The Constitution is my only client, it's preservation is the only fee I ask." That now should be the code by which all of us conduct our lives from here on.

Without a single political purpose, without a single hasty charge, without pointing a single finger of scorn at any other system let us review what we have, before we trade it for any other form of government or bow to any other being superior to ours.

If ever a people were charged by Almighty God with the preservation of freedom on earth that is this generation. Let us salute the 200,000 Kiwanians throughout the United States and Canada who are striving by precept and example to preserve the documents of faith to be held inviolate by we, the people.

THE AMERICAN WAY



Who does he think he's fooling?

Faith

"Without faith it is impossible to please God, for he that cometh to Him must believe that He is, and that He is a Rewarder of them that diligently seek Him." (Heb. 11:6).

But some one may ask the question: 'What is faith?" The Bible answers the question, saying, "Faith is the substance of things hoped for; and the evidence of things not seen." Faith is believing when nothing is in sight. It is taking God at His word. Man has faith in the banker, or he would not leave his money in his care. Man has faith in the doctor, or he would not take his medicine. We have faith in the schools and the teachers, or we would not send our children to them to be taught and trained for their life career. In all walks of life men manifest their faith. So why not manifest faith in our Creator; the One who knows the end from the beginning? To have faith in God is not a leap in the dark. Faith is not a blind act of the soul. Faith has a foundation. But all foundations must be tested, they must be tested by evidence. The foundation of our faith in God is His own Word. The evidence is the Gospel which reveals all that relates to man's salvation. Man need no other evidence, for this is the sure word of prophecy. Faith takes God at His Word.

A. T. HICKMAN

What men want most of all in this world with its dangers, doubts, wonderings, questioning, and fear, is something they can attach the word "certainty," this is faith. For without faith, definite belief in definite things, definite confidence in eternal justice, there would be no happiness except for unthinking fools. Faith is like a staff in the hand of a man walking over a rocky ground. Faith is like a lamp at the feet of one walking in darkness. Faith is the only window through which we can look into the future. Faith is the only bridge over which we can pass from this short life into the next and its glorious mysterious. Faith soothes men's pathway of life. It soothes in the last hour when there is no hope of another one to live. Faith gives men courage to face death. Faith enables women to face sorrow worse than death, to stand under the trial to see their children born only to sicken and die. Let us pray in the words of the apostles, "Lord increase our faith."

....there's plenty of out door activity

Some like to hunt. . . .some like fishing. . . .and others rely on their Sunday afternoon walk for out-door exercise. But no matter what your favorite is, you'll be able to find it in or near Our Town. And you know, that's not all you'll be able to find here either. When it comes to buying almost anything, you can be sure there's a merchant in town who has just what you want. Yes, you just can't beat Our Town for real, down-to-earth good living. . . .there's no other like it.

YOUR HEALTH

CARBOHYDRATES AND YOUR TEETH

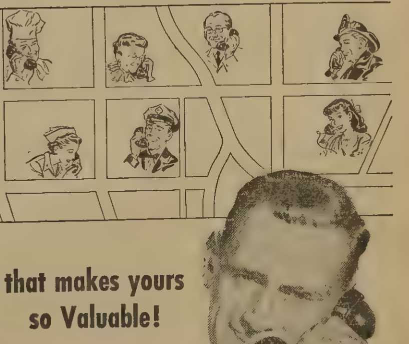
Lucullus and his close friends may have abused their stomachs by overeating and too much drinking, but they knew how to save their teeth. After eating and even between courses they rinsed their mouths out with water. This rinsing removed the carbohydrates left in between and about the teeth and helped to prevent formation of acid.

We can take a lesson from the ancients who took care of their teeth. Sugar is one of the chief agents causing dental decay, and the average person in this country eats more than 100 pounds of sugar a year. Sugar remaining in the mouth is quickly fermented by acid-producing organisms, germs and yeasts. Within five minutes after eating refined carbohydrates which include starches and sugar, mouth acidity increases.

Because many of our meals end with sweets, it is obvious that rinsing the mouth with water after eating reduces the chances for acid formation. The question of what to do about children with their desire for candy and other sweets is a difficult one for parents. It is unwise to forbid them to have candy, for they see other children enjoying it, along with soft drinks, cakes, cookies and the like. Many dentists suggest limiting sweets to a sensible and flexible minimum to be eaten at or immediately after meals, promptly followed by rinsing or brushing the teeth.

Let's do as the Romans did and save our teeth.

It's the other fellow's Telephone...



that makes yours so Valuable!

If your telephone were the only one in town, it wouldn't be worth very much to you. It's the people you can call and the people who can call you that makes telephone service mean so much.

The value of your telephone increases as more new telephones are installed. Today there are more than twice as many telephones in service as there were before the war and new ones continue to go in at a record rate. Probably some of your friends or relatives are among these thousands upon thousands of new subscribers. Yes, it's the other fellow's telephone that helps to make yours so valuable.

When you consider how much it does for you at the price you pay, telephone service stands out as one of today's real bargains.

Word has been received here of Dr. Carl A. Polson's call to pastor a large community church in Brule, Neb. Dr. Polson is a former pastor of the Thorsby Congregational Church and he, with his good wife, made many friends here who will be interested in hearing of his continued good work and his new call. He began his pastorate on January 1st. He resigned his former pastorate in David City, Neb., to take up this new work in Brule. Dr. and Mrs. Polson were honored guests at a covered-dish supper at the David City Church social hall and presented with a handsome silver service as a parting gift. It seems the Polsons did a great deal of community work there as well as achieving growth in his own church. It was with regret that the David City folks bade this lovely couple farewell, but all wished them God-speed and success in their new field.

Directors are: J. L. Williams, R. F. Holly, E. R. Barrett, J. H. Mims and George Voight.

W. J. Bean was re-elected Vice-President, but declined the office on account of poor health, so Mr. Collins was elected in his stead.

Plans were made for handling various crops this year such as strawberries, black-berries, beans, tomatoes, peaches, corn, sweet potatoes, etc. Presented at the meeting was Mr. Byrd of the W. & W. Pickle Company who encouraged the farmers to grow cucumbers. He stated that he would like to see at least 100 acres planted in this County. This will be a new crop and a new venture for this section.

Southern Bell Adds 36,000 Telephones In Ala. In 1949

For the fourth consecutive postwar year, telephone growth and demand in Alabama during 1949 continued at an amazing pace which spot-lighted the state's part in the rapidly developing new South—and the telephone's contribution to that progress.

In the homes and business offices of Alabama, the Southern Bell Telephone Company added 36,000 telephones during the year, bringing to over 355,000 the total in service at the year-end. The company in four years since January 1, 1946, has added 166,000 telephones in Alabama, or a gain of 85%.

That's over four times the gain in the four prewar years 1936-1939. Likewise, the company expenditures for construction of new facilities in Alabama have been several times the 1936-1939 prewar period.

Both Postwar Demand and Performance Have Set New Records—

Amazing as is this record of performance, the scope of demands for new service which Alabama has made on Southern Bell are even more striking. Approximately 340,000 people have applied for telephone service in Alabama since the war, it was disclosed. "At the end of 1949, only 36,000 of the 340,000 were still waiting for service," State Manager S. H. Youngblood revealed.

Applications continued heavy on up to the end of 1949, Mr. Youngblood disclosed—in fact, in 1949 were only slightly below 1948, which was the all time high.

"Our experience is striking evidence of the economic, agricultural and industrial growth that has taken place and is still occurring throughout Alabama. These facts prove that the needs and the requests for telephone service that have been expressed to us go much deeper than the "backlog of war." If the telephone demand that we have experienced during these four years had been nothing more than backed-up applications from the war, we would have caught up with all service orders two or three years ago."

Record Year For Rural Telephone Installations—

The State Manager also revealed that in 1949, more rural telephones were added by Southern Bell in Alabama than in any other year in its company's history. More than 10,000 were added to the approximately 44,000 in service as 1949 started.

In four years, Southern Bell has increased the number of telephones in farm areas from 11,400 at the beginning of 1946 to 54,000 as 1949 closed. This means that in 48 months the number has increased nearly five times.

Another record was written on the books in 1949 — the number of telephone calls handled in Alabama daily reached 2,870,000, largest number in its history. At the year-end, calls on the average were going through faster than at any time since before the war. The average Alabamian in the average community was able to reach, without a toll charge, nearly twice as many telephones in his own community as before the war. "And, Mr. Youngblood said, "It's the other fellow's telephone that makes yours so valuable."

Progress Continuing Into 1950, Fifth Postwar Year—

With demands for the service continuing so heavy, Southern Bell goes into 1950 with a continuation of the service improvement and expansion activities already well under way in Alabama. New capital, added to the large sums already spent, must be attracted to the business and put to work to help finish the job of bringing the public added convenience and usefulness from the telephone, Mr. Young blood stated.

A SICK RABBIT

A sluggish bunny or one that is thin may have tularemia. If very tiny or yellowish spots are found on the liver, it will probably be unwise to eat the animal. The absence of the "salt and pepper" spots does not always mean the rabbit is not infected with tularemia.

AGRICULTURE HEAD PREDICTS BRIGHT DAY FOR LIVESTOCK RAISING IN SOUTHEAST

Montgomery, Ala. — Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, who visited this state during the week, expressed the belief that Alabama and the Southeast will someday become the world's livestock center.

Following an address before the annual Farmers Conference, at Tuskegee, Secretary Brannan told newsmen that he is "convinced that it (the Southeast) is the coming livestock center."

In discussing government support of farm prices, Brannan said, "I think government price support will continue until somebody figures out a device for assuring the reasonably diligent farmer an adequate income."

As to the outlook for 1950 on farm incomes, the agriculture secretary said he would go along with the economists who predict a decline during the coming crop year.

GOOD CARE MEANS BETTER PIGS

Proper feeding and care of brood sows this winter can affect size of profits when the spring litter goes to market as tops.

Iowa and other experiment station tests have proved that the bigger and stronger baby pigs are at birth, the more of them live to weaning age and the heavier they are when they go over the scales.

In some tests, sows that have had right diets while carrying the unborn litter have weaned three more pigs than litter-mates that were cared for just any old way.

Thousands of Alabama brood sows are now carrying litters for farrow in early March. Sows that get a ration of corn alone will come to farrowing time looking good themselves, but the pigs will likely be small, weak and slow-growing.

Sows that get the right diet, including just enough corn to keep them going in weight, 1-4 to 1-2 pound protein supplement daily, free-choice sale and mineral mixture, and plenty of green grazing, should bring strong, vigorous pigs that will be good doers from the first day.

Many sows and gilts are being used to glean corn fields and they may easily get too fat. Over fat sows too often bring small litters of small pigs, are poor milkers and are usually pig killers.

If profit on the top hog market in July, August and September of next year is important to you, better let the corn or peanuts rot in the field than to burn out or over fatten your breeding herd now.

If proteins and minerals are not supplied in the diet of the pregnant brood sow, she will draw upon her own body for the minerals and proteins which her babies will need. And her reserve is not enough to insure big litters of big pigs.

Green grazing for brood sows during the three months, three weeks and three days pregnant period, cannot be over-emphasized. It is a "Must" in a sound and profitable hog program.

Important Changes Made In Chilton County Farming

Important changes in the use of farm land in Chilton County will be made in 1950. Fewer acres will be planted to cotton, leaving more land for other kinds of farming.

County Agent, M. R. Glasscock, believes that every acre removed from cotton should be put to work producing feed for cows and other livestock. He sees this as a big opportunity for farmers of this county to make profitable adjustments.

"But livestock and livestock products are big money crops with a few Chilton County farmers now. In recent years corn has moved into a high place for livestock and poultry feed. Along with corn, ample grazing is needed for all livestock."

Well managed woodlands, too, offer good opportunities for many farmers in this County. Truck crops and seed crops also offer opportunities for some farmers to increase their in[illegible]. But farmers must be careful in the selection of truck crops to fit market needs.

Mr. Glasscock said that he is not expected to forecast what will happen as to prices, but added that economists, on both the state and national levels, feel that all farmers in 1950 will be confronted with the following:

(1) No increase — and probably further decrease — in prices of products sold by farmers.

(2) Little, if any, decrease in prices of things that farmers buy.

"It is clear," he continued, "that each farmer should plan well and operate on a low-cost basis in 1950. Make each dollar accomplish more."

The County Agent advised farmers to use enough fertilizer of the right kind and also enough; power and equipment. These, he explained, are in line with higher total production at low cost per unit produced.

If farmers will make use of the information and the opportunity available to them, Mr. Glasscock believes that 1950 should be a satisfactory year in Chilton County farming. He knows that high production is essential to high income in farming the same as in manufacturing.

He defined a sound production program in farming as one that gets high production per man and per acre while the land is being improved.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Mr. J. B. Atkinson called this a.m. to tell us there would be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee Saturday afternoon at the Courthouse The meeting is called for 2:30 o'clock and Mr. Atkinson, Chilton County Chairman of the Committee, will preside. He asks all members to be present and to bring a lot of interest and enthusiasm along with them. He wants a lot of votes cast this year and the more interest in the various campaigns the better

Did you hear about the fellow down on Route Two who had the hen that lays a square egg, and talks. When we asked him what the hen said when she talked, he answered: "She says, ouch."

John Ponder Lawrence and his co-worker, Maurice Wyatt, are going to have a classy new store in the new Rockett Building. They are working night and day fixing things up there for their formal opening on the first of February. According to reports it will be the prettiest paint and wallpaper store anywhere in the South Whether the city be large or small.

Things are moving again around town. Rumor has it that when the Goodyear Store moves to where the Bus Station was for so long on the corner, well, then Ralph Morrison will move his Morrison's Furniture Barn out of the old Kemp Building into that building. Julian Evans is going to open an antique shoppe somewhere but hasn't found the right building yet. That is, the right building that he could get. I. D. Armstrong's Shoe Hospital will move to the building that is being vacated by Lawrence Paint Store. Understand that Tiffin Furniture Company has secured a large part of it for storage. Lots of other things moving, but we'll tell you more next week.

Don't feel too cocky because you're sitting on top of the world. Remember, every twenty-four hours it turns over.

This is the time of year that every husband should start thinking about a spring garden. But when you plan it, be sure it isn't too large—if your wife tires easily.

The street running from the Selma Road to the Grammar School is badly in need of paving and widening. There is no doubt that it is one of the most widely used streets in Clanton, and when two cars have to pass there, it is dangerous. Too, the kids, many of them, have to walk down that street on their way home. And there are two kinds—the quick and the dead. Up until now they have all been quick enough. Let's hope we get the street widened and improved before anyone is dead.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

The Beta Club Party was a pretty good one after all, wasn't it, kids? Man, I think I'll move to Jemison; there are some mighty cute girls up there. Mrs. DuBose did her best to get those fellows to dance with them but they just wouldn't do it. (I mean dance with the Jemison girls, not her). Now, Mrs. DuBose, I wouldn't mind a bit dancing with you if you'd dance. And then again your husband might not like me for it either.

Last week's "Bouncing Boy" was Billy Powell. Billy says I missed his weight by about 12 pounds. Well, Billy, you've got so many pounds it was kinda hard to guess.

I guess we've just gotta have a girl this week, haven't we? Well, we've got one. She has blonde hair, I don't know what color eyes she has, but I don't guess that is so important. She is about 5 ft. 4" tall; weighs about uh, oh, 130 something. Let's just say she's exceptionally plump, I like plump girls anyhow, especially this one; she is very friendly. And she is 15 years old. Who?

That truck of Wallace Neeley's will really run. If you don't believe me just ask Joe Blair or Billy Powell or "Tuck." You see, Wallace (Frog) took us home in that WONDERFUL car of his after the party last Friday night and man, there were a few times that I thought we weren't going to make it home. He is a pretty good driver, though, because I did get home.

Boy, that play in Montevallo was good. I never have gotten tired clapping my hands, but I strictly did that time. I don't believe I will be by myself when I say that the whole thing was sensational and I have never heard or seen any such acting in my whole life. I'm sure the cast put a lot of work into it and they can be mighty proud of themselves.

It was too bad that James Pyron had to get sick and miss the whole play. Well, anyhow, he's alright now and maybe he'll get to see it some other time.

You know, I feel sorry for all those poor students that didn't get to see that play; they sure missed a treat.

Miss Griffin passed what I thought was a swell compliment. She said, "I'm glad I was with Clanton High School students instead of some of the others that were up there." I'm sure Miss Griffin was really proud of her students and I know Mrs. Mullins felt the same way.

Say, kids, just think, it isn't too long until Spring and boy, will I be glad. Even if we haven't had any real winter around here, I just don't like to be in danger of having any.

SYLACAUGA TOPS CHILTON HIGH IN A CLOSE GAME

A—Teams Sylacauga 51 Clanton 50
B—Teams Sylacauga 39 Clanton 29

Chilton County High and the Sylacauga Aggies clashed in a close squeeze of a game.

During the first half of the "A" game Royce Seales, who plays right forward for Clanton and plays it well, made a score of nine points and Freddie Popwell, center, racked up eight points.

On the Aggies team Coleman, who is the outstanding star for Sylacauga, made a neat 13 points and Bulger got seven points. Caldwell who plays left guard racked up only four in the first half but altogether he was second highest scorer of the whole team.

In the second half Royce Seales made another nine points which gave him a possible score of 18 points. Freddie Popwell in the second half made seven points which gave him a score of 15. Both boys play excellent basketball and we regret losing them next year.

Of the Aggies, Coleman made 12 points which gave him a score of 25 points. This Colement fellow is really frightening when it comes to basketball. I just wonder if he's that good in football. Bulger didn't make any points in the last half, but he really helped to make a lot of them. Caldwell made six in the last half of the game which made him a score of 10 good points.

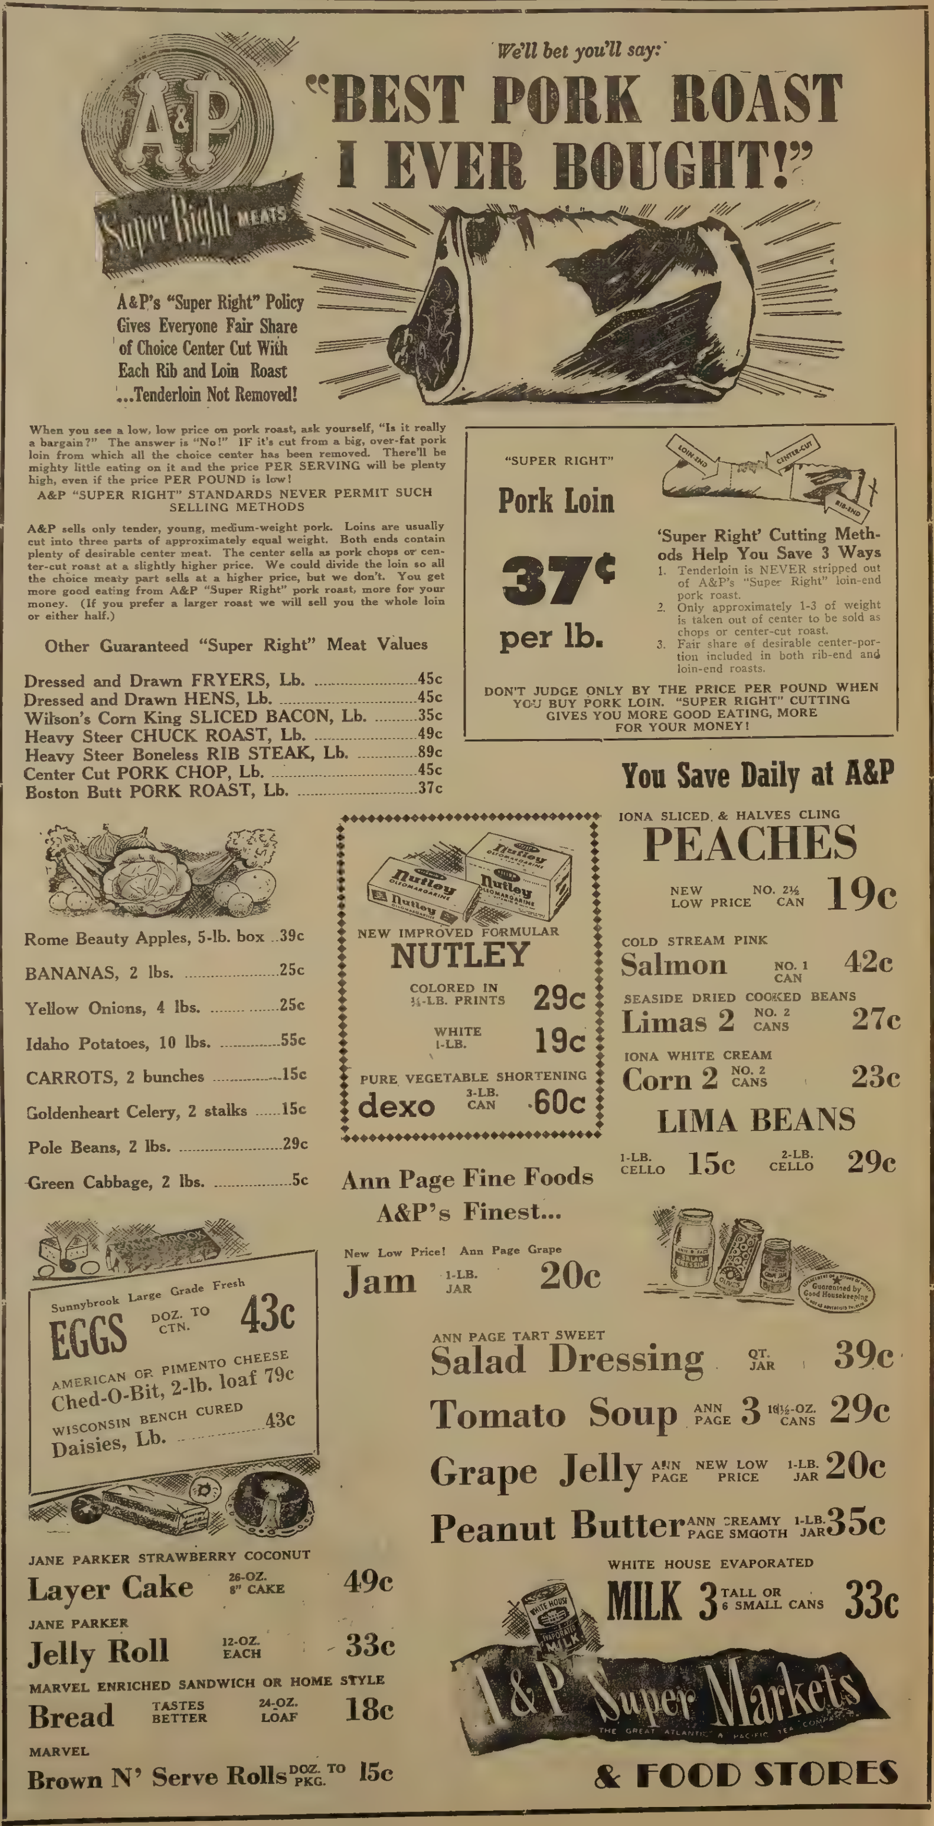
"B" Teams

The Aggies beat the Tigers more in the "B" game than they did in the "A" game, but that doesn't mean the Chilton team quit trying. For a while there they showed the crowd some real razzle dazzle, but they slowed up too soon and lost by 10 points.

On the Aggie team Williams and Spence both got 11 points each and Saunders racked up nine. All three boys played excellent ball.

On the Clanton team Ivan Smith and Phillip Lawrence got seven points each and David Maddox came up with a neat six. James Pyron is not much at the point making but he really knows how to handle that ball.

Well, we take on Marion next and here's hoping we come out on top this time instead of the other way around.



We'll bet you'll say:
"BEST PORK ROAST I EVER BOUGHT!"

A&P Super Right MEATS

A&P's "Super Right" Policy Gives Everyone Fair Share of Choice Center Cut With Each Rib and Loin Roast ...Tenderloin Not Removed!

When you see a low, low price on pork roast, ask yourself, "Is it really a bargain?" The answer is "No!" IF it's cut from a big, over-fat pork loin from which all the choice center has been removed. There'll be mighty little eating on it and the price PER SERVING will be plenty high, even if the price PER POUND is low!

A&P "SUPER RIGHT" STANDARDS NEVER PERMIT SUCH SELLING METHODS

A&P sells only tender, young, medium-weight pork. Loins are usually cut into three parts of approximately equal weight. Both ends contain plenty of desirable center meat. The center sells as pork chops or center-cut roast at a slightly higher price. We could divide the loin so all the choice meaty part sells at a higher price, but we don't. You get more good eating from A&P "Super Right" pork roast, more for your money. (If you prefer a larger roast we will sell you the whole loin or either half.)

"SUPER RIGHT"
Pork Loin
37¢ per lb.

LOIN-END CENTER-CUT RIB-END

'Super Right' Cutting Methods Help You Save 3 Ways
1. Tenderloin is NEVER stripped out of A&P's "Super Right" loin-end pork roast.
2. Only approximately 1-3 of weight is taken out of center to be sold as chops or center-cut roast.
3. Fair share of desirable center-portion included in both rib-end and loin-end roasts.

DON'T JUDGE ONLY BY THE PRICE PER POUND WHEN YOU BUY PORK LOIN. "SUPER RIGHT" CUTTING GIVES YOU MORE GOOD EATING, MORE FOR YOUR MONEY!

MACEDONIA

I suppose everyone was thrilled over the sunshine Sunday—so very much they could scarcely stay inside. I know I was, but, isn't there always sunshine after rain? However, many are sick with colds and flu. Let us hope for all of them a speedy recovery.

Fine crowds gathered for both morning and evening messages. Both were uplifting and brought to us by our pastor, Rev. Hymon Atcheson. Some visitors were present and we surely welcome those who came and all others to visit with us any time possible.

Has the week passed happily thus far? Did you go to prayer meeting? Should tomorrow never come, would you be ready to meet God? Those, of course, are questions I cannot, nor can anyone, answer for you. Only you know the answer and only you can make the answer [illegible] doubt of tomorrow [illegible] die: afraid tomorrow [illegible] Jesus, then there must be something wrong. If our lives are like a small boat upon raging waters of time, drifting further and further from the shore—the shore of peace and eternal life, then there is something wrong. What is the answer? MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Church News—

Attending the Methodist District Conference at Monroeville, Ala., last Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cox, of Cox's Chapel Church, and Mrs. H. E. Cochran of Maplesville. They reported a very enjoyable day.

This is Deacon's Study Week at the Baptist Church every night at 6:30. Friday night deacons and wives are invited to the pastor's home for supper and fellowship hour. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman who needeth not to be ashamed," so says Paul.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert have been quite busy for the past two or three weeks administering to the many sick and shut-ins of Maplesville. They practice what they preach, with humility and modesty. God will abundantly bless them.

Surprise Birthday Party—

Mrs. Jessie Gillespie honored Mrs. Frankie Lawrence Seals, a very dearly loved elderly Christian lady, on her 71st birthday last Friday night with a party at Mrs. Gillespie's home. Those who enjoyed this happy occasion were: Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert, Mrs. Annie Laura Potts, Mrs. Bessie Hayes, Mrs. Dudley Nix, Miss Estelle Davis, Mrs. J. W. Guinn, Mrs. Hattie Cawthorn, Mrs. B. F. Atcheson, Sr., Mrs. Ed Day, Mrs. Evie Cochran, Miss Lucy Walker, Mrs. Omar Walker, Mrs. Eula Seals, Little Buddy Goff and Dr. Day were also present late in the evening.

Mrs. Seals received many very nice and useful gifts. Games and contests were enjoyed. Mrs. Bessie Hayes and Rev. Clayton Gilbert won prizes for writing the most words from the word, "Birthday." After the fun, the beautiful birthday cake was cut and each guest was served a bountiful serving by the hostess, Mrs. Gillespie. Every one enjoyed the party very much. However, a few hours after the party everyone was saddened by the news that the honoree, Mrs. Frankie Seals, had suddenly been stricken with pneumonia.

The following day the ladies carried a little wagon artistically decorated, full of gifts, flowers and a beautiful tray, to Mrs. Seals as she was confined to her bed. She has countless friends who are very sorry about her illness. At this writing she is improving. Mrs. Seals is greatly missed in all the activities of the church and we hope she will soon be able to return. Mrs. Seals expressed her gratefulness to her friends in such a gracious manner for their kindness. She was overcome with joy.

AZALEA TRAIL HAS EARLIEST OPENING IN HISTORY

Mobile, Ala. — Are you a flower lover? You are? Then plan to visit Mobile on January 29th when this year's colorful Azalea Trail will be opened officially in that city.

One of the mildest winters on record has caused the Trail to have its earliest formal opening in history.

Due to the balmy weather that has prevailed for the past few weeks, Mobile's beautiful azaleas and camellias began opening in mid-December. And observers believe that the Trail will be at its peak around opening time—that is, if the 17-mile floral journey doesn't suffer a damaging freeze this week.

A Tonic For The Missus

The missus came marching in with a new hat yesterday. She was as happy as a circus poster.

I've learned one thing about the hats she buys. A hat is a tonic to her. If she's feeling blue, nothing gives her a lift like a new hat. Now, I could trade in my old grey fedora without raising my blood pressure a notch. But I'll admit that more than once I've bought a new briar pipe I didn't need—just because life was getting a little bit monotonous.

With Buck Howell it's something else again. When Buck is feeling low, he gets over it by blowing on a broken-down clarinet he hasn't mastered in twenty years.

From where I sit, different people are always going to respond to different things in different ways. So let's keep a friendly understanding of what other folks get out of a new hat, an old clarinet, a chocolate soda or a temperate glass of sparkling beer or ale now and then.

THAT ELECTRIC DISHWASHER CERTAINLY SOLVED THE DISHWASHING PROBLEM

MORE AND MORE PEOPLE, including the children, are discovering how convenient and clean electric dishwashers are. (Water hotter than human hands can stand assures greater cleanliness.) They save a lot of time, because drying the dishes becomes unnecessary. Wash dishes, glassware, silverware and most pots and pans.

When planning your all-electric kitchen, be sure to include the electric dishwasher. (Like electric ranges, electric refrigerators and electric water heaters, the electric dishwasher may be purchased separately.)

Ask about the increasing popularity of electric dishwashers the next time you pass an electrical appliance store.

Jemison High 'Cobbs' Chilton County High

The J.H.S. varsity team eked out a 33 to 31 victory over the Chilton County High basketballers on Tuesday night, January 17th, on the latter's court. Leading all the way until the final quarter, the J.H.S. team allowed the Clanton lads to tie it up and take a 2-point lead; but, Floyd Collins sacked a field goal from the near corner to even the score 31 all. With less than two minutes to play Hays put Jemison back ahead by looping a foul shot; then with seconds to go, Ellison was fouled and he, too, sank a one-pointer for the 2-point win.

Joe Frank Cobb copped the scoring honors for Jemison with 17 points, while Seales led for Clanton with 11 points. Both teams put up a stiff battle for the roaring spectators to roar over, but the visiting team had a little bit too much speed for the locals to overcome. The sportsmanship and conduct of both teams was marvelous; and it was a good game for Jemison to win, and a tough one for the Clanton boys to lose.

In the preliminary B-game the Chilton County High Bees gave the Jemison Bees a 46 to 26 shellacking for their first loss out of 11 games. The half ended with Clanton leading 21-12. From this point on it was a rather drab affair as the Jemison boys never did click together, while the C.C.H.S. team continued to pour the ball through the net consistently. E. Smith for Clanton led the scoring with 21 points. Burkes led for Jemison with eight.

Jemison Dusts Off Centreville High 51 To 16—

On the following Friday night (last) the Jemison A's rolled over the Bibb County High School team from Centreville by a lop-sided count of 51 to 16. Cobb was the big racket in this game too, in scoring 13 points, followed closely by Collins with 10.

Cost, Cofer, Ellison, Hays and Lowery stood out defensively for J.H.S. For Centreville, Steel, Leach and Stamps, with four points each, were the stand-outs.

In the preliminary the Jemison B's upset the Centreville B's to the tune of 23 to 13.

Jemison takes the road this week for Isabella on Tuesday night (last); Wetumpka, Wednesday p.m. (yesterday) and Verbena tomorrow night—27th.—Robert B. Johnson, Sports Reporter.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR SPACING PINE TREES

Pine trees spaced 6 by 6 feet result in high returns from thinnings and high quality stands for sawlog production according to 17-year results of an experiment conducted at the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station and reported by George I. Garin, associate forester.

He reveals that a thicker spacing, 4 by 4 feet, resulted in a slightly larger yield of cord wood and fence posts from thinnings, but was not desirable in other respects. On the other hand, under certain market conditions for pulpwood or farm needs for fence posts and cordwood, the 4 by 4 spacing may prove to be satisfactory.

The study also proved that if there is no market for pulpwood and thinnings are not planned, 8 by 8 or 9 by 9-foot spacings are more desirable. Any wider spacing will produce trees of poor quality and the growing space will not be used efficiently.

Miss Blue Bonnett Will Be At The City Hall Feb. 9-10

On Friday and Saturday nights, February 10-11 at 7:30 p.m., "Miss Blue Bonnett," a three-act musical comedy, will be presented at the City Hall under the sponsorship of the Clanton Elementary P.-T.A. This is a Sewell Production under the direction of Miss Evelyn Stille. Miss Stille brought with her a trunkful of costumes to outfit the five choruses, who sing and dance to tunes of such songs as "Oh, Doctor," "I'm Always Throwing Kisses at Redbirds," "Rainy Days," "Froggie Song,' "Blue Bonnett" and "Believe in Me."

"Miss Blue Bonnett" is a story about frogs and love, with a cast including Beatrice Bryan as Mrs. Evans, the mastering hand in the Dr. Evans (Leonard Farley) household. Their daughter, Magnolia, (Geneva Hill) spurns Hickory Stout (Bob Campbell) who is the biggest frogman in the South.

First to hear the latest news, even though a little deaf is Minerva Mattox (Eleanor Craig). At the quilting party we find Una and Kate Granahan (Nell Sessions and Ann Callen); Susie Perkins and Sally Hagard (Pat Huddleston and Bernice Broadhead.)

Coming to Green Pond to conduct a Psychology Class is Miss Blue Bonnett (Elaine Martin), and right in the middle of the class Wes Evans (Doug Grooms) and Thad Penny (Bob Lecroy) stage a fight. Arriving in time to complicate a well-timed plan is Burton Hills (Paul Reed). How this web of events takes shape will be witnessed at the showing of "Miss Blue Bonnett."

You'll be entirely out of the "tea cup gossip" and the "courthouse checker game" if you miss "Miss Blue Bonnett."

Committees Appointed for "Miss Blue Bonnett"—

At a special meeting of the P.-T.A. on Monday afternoon the following committees were appointed to help with the staging of "Miss Blue Bonnett."

General Chairman, Mrs. Referee Lineberry; Cast Committee Chairman, Mrs. C. C. Polk; Ticket Committee Chairman, Mrs. James Wade; Publicity Committee Chairman, Mrs. R. M. Tucker; Stage and Costume Committee Chairman, Mrs. J. L. Teel.

Wiesbaden, Germany — Sergeant David L. Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Parrish of 511 Lay Dam Road, Clanton, Alabama, has been promoted to the grade of Staff Sergeant in the Airways and Air Communications Service.

Naval Electronics Unit Authorized For Chilton County

Captain G. A. Moore, U. S. Navy, Director of Naval Reserve for the Sixth Naval District, has authorized the establishment at Clanton of a Volunteer Naval Reserve Electronics Warfare Unit, which will be located in a downtown building. The purpose of this unit will be to educate civilians who are members of the Naval Reserve in radio and other electronics subjects, including radar and sonar (anti-submarine underwater detection), guided missiles and elementary nuclear physics.

All ratings in the Naval Reserve are eligible to participate and all former members of any of the Armed Forces are eligible to join the Naval Reserve and participate in this unit. Also, young men who have had no previous military service and who are of the ages of 17 to 40 inclusive, may join the Naval Reserve.

Members of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve are eligible to be associated with this unit.

While this training offers the opportunity for education in interesting scientific subjects, it also provides retirement benefits for the members who attend the classes twice monthly in the evenings, and does not interfere with one's civilian activities.

The facilities of the Naval radio station would be a great benefit to the community in the event of local disaster which might disrupt normal communication facilities.

Details of the organization are being handled by Erskine R. Jackson, Electrician's Mate Second Class, USNR, of Clanton. Mr. Jackson is Bookkeeper at the Peoples Savings Bank.

There will be a meeting at the Chilton County Courthouse at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, February 8th, for the purpose of explaining the Naval Reserve and the formation of this unit to anyone interested and the public is also invited.

Mr. Cox will announce within the next few days for re-election to the Legislature from this County. He has twice before served the county in the State Legislature.

INSTALLATION OF STEWARDS AT FIRST METHODIST

The annual public installation of the Stewards of the First Methodist Church will take place Sunday morning, February 5th, at the 11 o'clock hour, as has been announced through this newspaper and in the regular church bulletins. This is always an impressive ceremony, though very short. Other special features about this worship hour will be the celebration of the Holy Communion. This is a special plan being used Sunday, and the congregation will be given ample opportunity to express their desires in the matter of the form, and its usage in the future. It was used for the first time on Christmas Sunday, and was acclaimed by those in attendance as a most worshipful setting.

There are 31 Stewards in the First Methodist Church, besides the members of the Board of Junior Stewards. Ten Senior Stewards are being added Sunday by the authority of the recent Quarterly Conference.

The Junior Stewards will be officially installed at a later date, it was announced.

The wives of the Senior Stewards are requested to stand with their husband-Steward at the altar for the service Sunday morning.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Board of Stewards will be held Monday night, February 6th, in the Wesley Fellowship Class room. Of course, all 31 Stewards are urged to be present. The ten new Stewards will be placed on the various committees, according to plans.

FELLOWSHIP MEETING AT SUNSHINE CHURCH

There will be a fellowship meeting at Sunshine Church Sunday afternoon, February 5th, 1950, at 2 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to come and have a good time.

At this early stage of the game it looks like three candidates will try their wings in the race for Representative in the Legislature from Chilton County.

To date the Secretary of State office has announced only G. C. Walker as an announced and qualified candidate but according to Representative Charlie Cox and Jim Plott of Verbena, there will be at least two more after that office.

Both Cox and Plott stated early this week that they would qualify and announce their plans later this week. Both said they would have a statement at that time.

John Foshee, of Montevallo, will also have opposition in his race for the Senate. Mr. J. T. (Tom) [illegible] of Siluria, qualified Monday with the Secretary of State, for the [illegible]

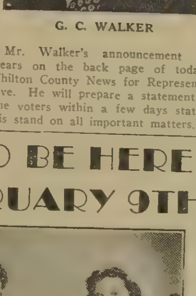
The race for the office of Sheriff is still to be staged between three candidates it seems. The present Sheriff J. A. Nivens, Luther Kendrick, who resigned his place on the State Highway Patrol to make the race, and Ernest Davis, local business man. All are well known throughout the County and have strong backing.

Winston Huddleston will not lack opposition in this race either. Mr. Glenn Curlee, of Wetumpka, Huddleston's hometown, announced this week for Solicitor of this District. He is a well-known Elmore County attorney and has already been in Chilton County making connections.

It looks like a clear field for [illegible] H. Boockholdt for Superintendent of Education unless Zane [illegible] [illegible] enter the race. It has been rumored around that he might be a candidate, but he has kept quiet in the matter so far. Until recently he was principal at Isabella High School, but is in Autauga County now.

All is quiet on the northern front so far as the two places that will be open for County Commissioner are concerned. At present they are filled by Jack Lenoir and Hoyt Freeman, but neither have definitely stated their intentions to run for re-election.

All candidates have until March 1st to qualify with the Chilton County Democratic Executive Committee.



G. C. WALKER

Mr. Walker's announcement appears on the back page of today's Chilton County News for Representative. He will prepare a statement to the voters within a few days stating his stand on all important matters.

"IF WE PRINT IT - IT'S TRUE"

The Public Must Say

It is trite to say the schools belong to the public—as much so as to affirm that "today's boys and girls are tomorrow's men and women." Both are true, though badly shopworn.

Because the public schools are what the public wants and makes them, the AEA legislative committee on December 12 issued a statement to the citizens of Alabama.

The statement cites the remarkable education gains made in the past ten years. It explains that these gains were made without any additional taxation amendment; that the people in 1947 reassigned the proceeds of the income tax for teachers' salaries and that while this gave a material lift to school finances, it was not a new tax, having been adopted in 1933.

The statement further points out that the revenue for the gains in recent years resulted from the prosperity of the war and post-war years.

The statement goes on to cite the needs of schools as they will exist in 1951. It asks citizens of the state to understand that the educational surplus of some $16,000,000, as of October 1 last, is being spent. By 1951 there will be no surplus. Unless Alabama's schools and colleges are to experience a serious cut-back, additional revenue for education must be provided.

The statement urges the citizens of the state to consider these facts during the coming months when candidates for the next legislature and for the governorship are to be chosen. It further urges the voters to send to Montgomery officials who are fully apprised of school conditions and who stand ready and willing to provide additional revenue for the education of Alabama boys and girls. — Alabama School Journal.

Spring?

The woods and the yards are full of Spring flowers and it isn't even Spring. Could be that we're in for some hard cold weather yet, and chances are that we are. If so, our lovely flowers will take a beating. But no matter what the outcome, so far as the weather is concerned, aren't the Spring blossoms beautiful?

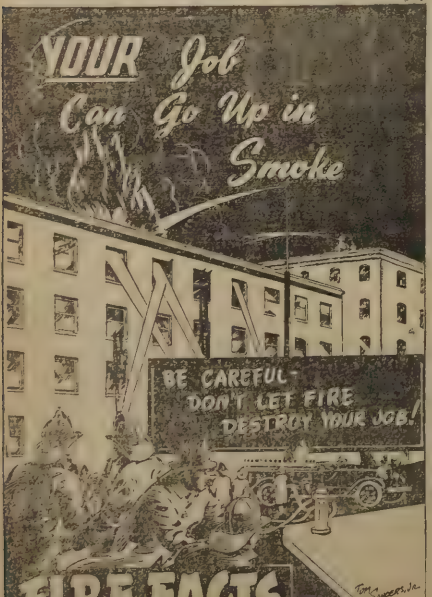
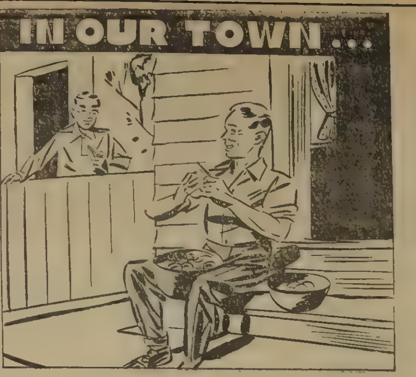
Why Wait Too Late?

Alabama Law specifically states: "No person shall stop, stand, or park a vehicle. . . .within twenty (20) feet of a crosswalk at an intersection except at intersections where traffic is controlled by a traffic officer or a traffic-control device."

That law is regularly broken at all four corners of the intersection one block East of the Court House and many other intersections over the city. This practice is a menace to life.

Will it take a death at one of the intersections to open the eyes of those in power to the danger lurking there?





It's "Howdy Neighbor"

There's nothing quite as friendly and neighborly as a "back-fence chat." And that pretty well describes the way things are here in "Our Town." The friendly way in which the merchants do business and the cheery greetings from the people you meet on the street makes "Our Town" one of the best. That's the story, Neighbor. . . .we've got a great place in which to live, trade, and do business.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

A valued subscriber and a lady whom we could learn to respect highly, given the chance to know her better, came in to renew her subscription the week end. She rebuked us for our peaceful nature in regards to some things and we are sure the lady was absolutely right. Like you, or the good lady, or ourself, we would like to right all the world's wrongs but our humble influence doesn't control that kind of power. We let the wrong-doer often go unpublicized for fear of hurting an innocent party—not in fear of anything or anybody. If complete facts are known and if and when guilt is established we would speak out against our own brother, if it were he who had committed a sin against our society. In our years of newspaper work we have been threatened, bullied and visited by "Indians," for statements published in our columns and to date, as always, we are concerned most with getting the facts and publishing the facts.

S. E. Scott, our local photographer, is due a lot of thanks and appreciation by the people of Chilton County. Had you stopped to think how many times Mr. Scott is called to make pictures for which he receives nothing. At every civic gathering he is called on to make pictures of the affair. Once in a blue moon he gets paid for it. More often than not, he doesn't get a dime. But Mr. Scott never complains. The next time he is called he answers never knowing where or when he will get is pay. We think he's a very deserving fellow of our support and gratitude. Someday we might even pay him what we owe him in pictures.

Mr. G. C. Walker dives off the deep end this week. He's running for Representative from Chilton County in the coming election. He needs no introduction to the people of Chilton, or to politics for that matter. He has represented us in the Legislature before. You'll find his announcement in this issue.

Luther Kendricks is another who is starting his political announcement in this issue of the Chilton County News. Luther, who was our local Highway Patrolman until Tuesday of this week, is now a candidate for Sheriff of Chilton County. He resigned his job with the State to make this race and will be looking you up pretty soon.

Looks like J. D. Wesson will be an old employee at the Service Barber Shop before we get to say anything about it. Two weeks ago we wrote a piece about the change at the Service and Mr. Wesson taking the first chair there, but things happened and it didn't ever get to print. Last week the same type lice got into the copy and it didn't run, but we got them this week. It's on the front page, if you don't believe it, look. Better late than never, we always say.

Noticed at the Democratic Executive Committee meeting last Saturday at the courthouse, the Committee didn't put any qualifying fee on Beat Committee members. New here is your chance to run for office cheap. We dare say it is your only chance to run for office at such a bargain. And, too, look what a service you will be doing your party and your county. All you fellows line up now and qualify for a membership on your Democratic Executive Committee. No kidding, your party needs you.

A very close friend of ours tells us of the fancy Christmas present he received. It was a tie and handkerchief to match. Unable to stomach the awful colors and inferior workmanship he took the gift to town to give it away. The first stop was the filling station and the colored boy cleaning his windshield seemed a likely customer, so he offered the tie and handkerchief to the negro. He took one look at the gift and said: "Naw sir, boss. I don't likes it."

In this business you get to meet the most interesting people. Of course you eventually get to meet the same people but we get to meet them first. We mean the annual or bi-annual members of the royal order of would be office holders. The Royal Order has organized and have started their relentless charge on the great American public. In this campaign it looks like there will be a lot more losers than usual. This is because there is going to be a lot more candidates than usual. There will be the same number of winners—one for every office. We have warned you to be on the lookout for these fellows now. If they catch you, it's your fault.

MRS. DELLA J. ELLISON

Mrs. Della Jane Ellison, age 75, of Clanton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Smith, Thursday, January 19th. Funeral services were held at Cane Creek at 11:00 a.m. Saturday, conducted by the Revs. Hymon Atcheson, Jadie Thomas and Sam Connell.

She was the widow of the late Rev. F. A. Ellison and is survived by six sons—Lee, Marion, Aaron and Floyd Ellison of Clanton, Loyette Ellison of Maplesville and Hubert Ellison of Birmingham; four daughters—Mrs. Lillie Mae Smith and Mrs. Carrie Caton of Clanton and Mrs. Lizzie Williamson of Birmingham and Mrs. Mary Caton of Childersburg, Ala.; two brothers, Bud Jones and Rube Jones of Clanton; three sisters — Mrs. J. M. Willis and Mrs. T. L. Williams of Clanton, and Mrs. Lee Maddox of Sheffield, Ala.; 37 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren.

Grandsons served as pallbearers and granddaughters as flower girls.

Music was furnished by the Melody Four Quartet.

MRS. DAVIS DIED AT HOME IN VERBENA

Mrs. Jennie J. Davis, a resident of Montgomery for two years and formerly of Chilton County residing near Verbena, passed away Tuesday morning of last week at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Thelma Palsey. Mrs. Davis will be remembered as the wife of the late G. W. Davis.

Besides her daughter, she leaves five sons, R. M. Davis of Birmingham, L. W. Davis of Gorgas, A. C. Davis of Montgomery, E. A. Davis of Verbena, and J. E. Davis of Baltimore; two brothers, B. L. Johnson, Brook Haven, Miss., and W. W. Johnson of Selma; two sisters, Mrs. L. B. Coley of Marion, and Mrs. C. F. Habison of Brook Haven, Miss.

The funeral services were held from Pine Flat Baptist Church near Selma Wednesday afternoon, January 18, with Rev. J. W. Jones of Thorsby officiating.

Hope

Hope is that grand and glorious expectation of the soul for the good and noble things of life. We are saved by hope, but hope that is seen is not hope, for what a man seeth why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it. Hope is classified along with two other great attributes, that of faith and love. "There abideth faith, hope, and love." Though love is declared to be the greatest of the three, yet hope is the all - powerful force that propels us along. It fills our days with happy and glorious anticipations. High and noble inspiration and aspirations are born in the soul through the power of hope. Hope grants unto us the strength and courage to discharge our responsibilities in life. Hope helps us to bear and endure the hardships that comes across our pathway. Hope can erase the mist of doubt and fear from before our eyes, in order that we may see the illuminating light of a more glorious horizon. Hope quickens the heart and brightens the mind. It fills the soul with a flame of new zeal and greater purpose of heart to succeed in all worthy undertaking. Hope brings serenity to the soul. It inspires one with cheerfulness and good humor. Hope not only gives to us the roses, but helps us to scatter the same in the pathway of others.

A. T. HICKMAN

I like to think of hope as the sunshine piercing the dark shadows, and as the comforter in the days of sorrow; and as a guiding star which leads us along life's rough road. May this star of hope shine on and on till the Sun of Righteousness rises with healing in His wings. Let us hope for the best of everything. Fight on, strive valiantly for that which you are convinced is best; knowing that happiness will follow sorrow as sure as sunshine follows shadows.

Thanks be unto God for this great hope which cheers us day by day. The hope of the resurrection from the grave. The hope of the glorious appearing of our blessed Lord and Savious. The hope of seeing Him one day, yes, seeing Him as He is. Every man that hath this hope in Christ purifieth himself, even as He is pure. May God give us higher hopes, deeper and more abiding.

PEDICULOSIS

Pediculosis or lousiness is a condition ordinarily associated with filth or uncleanliness. Not infrequently, however, through personal contact, lice are found on the bodies of persons who live under the most hygienic conditions.

Of the many types of lice, only three attack human beings—body, head and pubic lice. So far as known, head and pubic lice do not transmit disease, but body lice have been found to carry the germ causing typhus fever.

Head lice settle in the hair, and are transferred from one person to another by combs, brushes and hats and caps. Body lice live in the clothing; so it is only persons who neglect cleanliness of body and clothing that can harbor them. Pubic lice cling to the hair of the lower region of the body.

While the three parasites differ somewhat in shape, their one common characteristic is feeding on the blood they such from their victim. The procedure provokes a stinging sensation and itchiness. When the victim scratches the point of the wound, he is apt to break the skin over a wider area, often producing infection. Various skin conditions, such as boils or eczema, may develop, while the lice continue their activity beneath the crusts and scales.

Overcrowding and uncleanliness are the two principal reasons why lice spread. The former makes it easier for personal contact, while uncleanliness creates a haven for the parasites.

Personal cleanliness is most important in preventing lousiness. Frequent bathing and shampoos with soap and water are necessary as are frequent laundering and cleaning wearing apparel with particular attention given to the seams. One should avoid using combs, brushes and headgear belonging to others and be wary of resting the head on the backs of seats in public places.

While some simple remedies are available to rid the body of lice selection and application should be done on the advice of a physician.

The Old Folks of Chilton County and the State of Alabama

I know you would like to have a report of the meeting at the Tutwiler Hotel. Well, we didn't get to do much business as we had so many candidates that have committed political suicide. It took some time to bury them. The latest one committing suicide was Wiley P. Gordon with his Social Security Plan in Clanton Saturday. He got his henchmen to offer a resolution to endorse him for Governor. The hangman's rope and gallows were ordered at once. [illegible]

NEW CEDRON NEWS

Bro. J. I. Bice filled his last appointment the fourth Sunday. We are sorry that his health would not permit him to stay with us longer, having been with us almost 10 years as pastor.

The church called Bro. Coleman as pastor to finish out the associational year. We had to change our preaching day from the fourth Sunday to the first and third Sundays in each month. Everybody come out and give our new pastor a warm welcome next Sunday. We also invite everyone to Sunday School and B.T.U. Sunday and Sunday night.

We have organizanized a prayer meeting which will be every Wednesday night. On the first night we had 20 present. Please take notice that we will meet, the Lord willing, each Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. Everyone has a special invitation to be with us at any time.

Are We Paying Too Much School Tax?

By next year, the Education Surplus Fund will be used up. This surplus has been supplementing regular state taxes for schools during the last few critical years.

When this surplus is gone, we will be faced with one of several choices: First, teachers' salaries can be lowered drastically. Second, services which are offered by the schools can be cut or abolished. Third, additional taxes can be raised to meet the demands of a steadily rising school load.

No new school taxes have been levied since 1947. Many new services are now being given by our schools. Among these are the medical college, enlarged transportation benefits, an extended lunchroom program, and better qualified teachers.

Chilton County ranks extra high in the state in teachers' salaries and high in providing proper transportation. We are somewhat below the average in buildings and equipment.

Alabama spent 2.5% of its income for schools in 1947-48. Ten years before it spent 2.7% of its income. Notwithstanding the big increase in school funds in the last few years, Alabama made less effort last year than in 1938. This is due to the big increase in state income. We spent more money last year but a smaller percentage of its income.

Thus Alabama is making less effort to support its schools. Arkansas, Kentucky, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee are among the Southern states that contribute a greater percent of their incomes to schools than does Alabama.

We know, all of us, how everything has gone up these past few years. We know, too, that the birthrate has boomed. This year the war babies reached school age. Every year now, more and more of our children will be going to school.

Where is there a room for them? Where is there a teacher to train them? What are we going to do with these little ones whom we call our most precious investment?

Are they worth our raising more funds? If we do not, they may be turned away since there is no room for them. Hundreds and hundreds of first graders in Alabama are going to school only one-half a day this year. The rest of the day is used for those for whom there was no room in the morning—nor teacher.

Even if we offer them what we already have—which in many instances is far from what we wish it were—we must have new sources of income in 1951.

News Of Soil Conservation

The cutting of the cotton acreage is going to leave us with a lot of idle land that would ordinarily be planted to cotton. A great deal of thought should be given to the kind of crops that should be grown on this land. Since cotton is becoming less and less in importance as our major source of cash income, we are forced to find other sources. One of the best ways to increase our farm income and put those idle acres left by cotton to work, is to plant them in soil conserving crops. Some of these crops are: Small grain, sericea, kudzu, lespedeza, the clovers; button, crimson, manganese and subterranean; vetches; caley peas and others. Some of these crops, in turn, can be converted into cash income by grazing and selling milk, beef, pork, poultry products, and seed. Others can be used in a rotation to increase corn and grain production to feed to the livestock. Put all your acres to work. Idle acres breed poverty.

Mr. J. W. Hand, South of Verbena, is very proud of his reseeding crimson clover and rye grass and justly so. He says, "Since I turned in on it I have quit buying commercial feed and my milk production, in the meantime, has increased."

* * *

C. C. Fiquette has had his herd of Hereford cattle on his winter grazing (reseeding crimson clover, oats, and Kentucky ·31 fescue) for the last few weeks. He states, cows have gained considerably in weight since they were turned in on the winter grazing." Mr. Fiquette plans to let his field of 30 acres of reseeding crimson clover go to seed and then plant it to sericea the last week in June.

With the planting season of various crops just around the corner, why not consider planting the shaded-sapped part of your cultivated field in a wildlife border of bicolor lespedeza and partridge peas or sericea lespedeza. These plants will provide a good row and supply food for quail.

Allen Lenoir, near Adam's Station, states, "I can always find a covey of quail in my bicolor patch. My bird pup points them every time I carry him out there." Mr. Lenoir further states, "A teaspoon of bicolor seed will be in the crop of each bird."

C. C. Gay, Sr., killed a quail out of his bicolor patch and states, "The bird's craw was full of those bicolor seed."

Why not prepare a border on your farm by harrowing up a thirty-foot strip. Lay off the area in ten two and one-half foot rows, and apply 4-10-7 fertilizer at the rate of 400 pounds per acre. Then contact this office and get the seed donated to you by the State Department of Conservation.

Charles Robinson, Clanton Route 4, has all of his land turned for spring seeding of sericea lespedeza, kudzu and kentucky 31 fescue.

* * *

J. J. and Leo Headley are busy making their plans to expand both their pasture and number of cows. This fall, reseeding crimson has been sowed alone and in combination with sericea. The Headleys have their own combine and have or will have their own source of seed to use in the expansion of their pasture.

Public Warned Of Civ.-Serv. Courses

The Civil Service Commission has issued a warning to the public concerning so-called Civil Service Schools, according to Reese G. Mullins, Local Civil Service Secretary. Many of these schools grossly exaggerate opportunities for employment in the Federal Civil Service, and many give the impression they are connected with the government, Mr. Mullins said.

Mr. Mullins stated that the Commission wants to make clear to the public that no civil service school has any connection with the Civil Service Commission or any other branch of the Government; the Commission has no agents who sell "Civil Service" courses; no school can properly promise success in passing civil service examinations; no school is given advance information regarding examinations to be announced, nor any other information which is not available to the general public. It is not necessary to take a course with any so-called civil service school to compete in or learn about any of the Commission's examinations.

Information about examinations for the Federal Civil Service may be obtained at any time without cost from the Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board of Examiners at first or second-class post offices, or from the U. S Civil Service Commission in Washington, Mr. Mullins said.

A dining room rug is due for various stains. First, try clear, lukewarm water; sponge it into the rug. If this does not do the trick, add a little soap or detergent to the lukewarm water. Work it lightly to avoid a too-clean spot. Or try a regular cleaning fluid applied lightly.

Mrs. Inga Anderson Passes—

Mrs. Inga Anderson, a pioneer resident of Thorsby, passed away on last Wednesday morning, January 25th, and was laid to rest on Saturday afternoon, January 28th.

Mrs. Anderson had been in declining health for some time, but death came to her quite suddenly and was a shock to her many friends and relatives. She became suddenly worse in the night, and in the morning her son and her grandchildren were summoned, but before they could reach here, she had passed away. At her bedside when she passed were Mrs. Bosworth, Mrs. Reagan and Mrs. Cora Littlefield who had been her faithful nurse all through her declining months.

Mrs Anderson was loved by all who knew her. She was a jovial, interesting person, and though confined to her room so long, was always uncomplaining and her mind was always most alert till the very last.

Funeral services were held from the Lutheran Church on Saturday afternoon with the Rev. David F. Conrad, of the Christ Lutheran Church of Birmingham, officiating. Pallbearers were: Messrs. Chas. Howard, Ernie Hanson, Carl Turnquist, James Nelson, Verner Carlson and John Bostrom. Interment was in the Concordia Cemetery with Spigener in charge.

The many floral tributes gave evidence of the love and high esteem held for her. She leaves to mourn her passing one son, Albert Anderson, of Sylvia, N. C., and daughter-in-law; also five grandchildren and several great-grandchildren, all of whom attended her funeral, besides a host of friends. Members of the Lutheran Ladies Aid attended in a body and assisted in handling the flowers.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Church News—

Rev. Paul Oden of Clanton preached at the Baptist Church here Sunday morning and Sunday night in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Clayton Gilbert. Rev. Oden preached two wonderful sermons.

Rev. Gilbert urges every one who possible can to attend the associational Sunday School Rally at the Baptist Church, Clanton, February 19th, at 2:30. This begins a week of study for both Unity and Chilton associations under the leadership of Southwide and State workers.

Remember March 5th is the date set by Mr. Carlos Owens, our Sunday School Superintendent of the Baptist Church, to reach the goals set for increase in enrollment and attendance. Let's all work doubly hard and pray continually to achieve the results.

We can whisper our prayers daily and God will hear. We should all read Matthew 6:7, "But when ye pray use not vain repetitions, as the heathern do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." Also read Matthew 6:5, "And when thou prayest thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men, verily I say unto you, they have their reward."

The W.S.C.S. of the Maplesville Methodist Church held their regular business meeting recently at the residence of Mrs. McCain. An interesting program was conducted by Mrs. Perry Thomas. Song service was led by Mrs. Evie Cochran. The secretary and treasurer, Mrs. F. H. Brown, gave a report of the year's work, which was very gratifying to all the members. Those present for the meeting were: Mrs. McCain, President; Mrs. Sue Foshee, Vice-President; Mrs. F. H. Brown, Mrs. Evie Cochran, Mrs. Perry Thomas, Miss Estelle Davis and Mrs. Bobbie Saportas. Several other members were detained on account of illness.

The Methodist Church building has recently received some interior repairs and when completed will add greatly to the appearance and comfort of the building.

The Methodist ladies are to be commended for their tireless efforts they put forth to beautify their house of worship.

Clanton Stops Wetumpka

(By BOBBY TUCKER)

Clanton "A"—53 Wetumpka "A"—43
Clanton "B"—42 Wetumpka "B"—16

The Clanton Tigers took on a much believed in Wetumpka team Tuesday night, January 31st, in a pretty neat game. Freddie Popwell for the home team and Biggers from Wetumpka were the best sports and showed the least tempers throughout the game. On the Tiger team Freddie Popwell and Royce Seales were the high scorers. Freddie, who played center, made a score of 17 points throughout the game and Royce Seales, who played right forward, came up with a pretty nifty 14 points, which helped an enormous amount in the end, in fact it could have won the game! Who knows?

On the Wetumpka team Banner and Farrer showed their team what they could do. Banner, who plays right forward, made 13 points. (It seems 13 isn't so unlucky after all for some people.) Farrer making a score of 12 points.

By the way, we failed to mention Joe Popwell above on Clanton's team. Joe, who plays right guard, can't seem to ring that basket, I guess it's too small for him, anyway, he can really handle the ball and he knows how to take it from his opponent. (Fairly, that is.) Keep up the team work, Joe, and maybe they'll get a larger net, just for you.

On the "B" teams, the following boys played well: For Clanton, Ivan Smith and David Parrish were the high scorers. Smith got 10 points and Parrish got 9. Both boys played swell games.

On the Wetumpka team, Landers, C. Clack and Haynes were the outstanding trio. Landers made 4 points and Clark and Haynes got 3 each. The "B" game wasn't as exciting as the "A" game, but it wasn't dull by a long shot.

Local Colored Farmers Did Attend Tuskegee Meeting

The following farmers from the Chilton County Training School Community and patronage area represented Chilton County farmers at the 59th Tuskegee Institute Annual Farmers Conference on January 18, 1950:

Rev. Smitherman, Ralph Oden, J. A. Wood, George Parker, Rev. Bennie Sanders and Otho McKinney. Otho McKinney represented for the Chilton County farmers as Farmers Conference Day speaker from Chilton County. The trip was the most inspiring and educational trip that has been witnessed for a long time. The conference was a cross-section of ideas and accomplishments of farmers from other states as well as farmers from different sections of Alabama.

The report was interesting, educational and full of facts related about our own Chilton County farms. It has aroused the interest to such an extent that more farmers are beginning now to be ready for making an impressive report at the Sixtieth Annual Farmers Conference which will convene at Tuskegee Institute in January 1951. We solicit and request important information from our County Agent, Mr. Glasscock, and other County Agricultural workers to help us to put Chilton County over the "Top."

Plans are being made for specific N.F.A. participation in the overall farm program of Chilton County. Our hats are off to all those farmers who are striving to carry out the theme of recent farmers Conference at Tuskegee Institute, "Improving Farm and Home Practices."

Secretary of Agriculture from the U.S.D.A. was the main speaker for the occasion. Honorable Charles F. Brannan, Washington, D. C.

Marie Williams spent one full week attending the Farm and Home Week at Tuskegee which terminated on Farmers Conference Day. Her report was very inspiring.—Rose V. Lee, Home Economics Teacher; B. T. Whittington, Vocational Agriculture Teacher.

EARLY DUSTING MAY CUT COTTON YIELDS

Auburn, Ala. — Because of unusually warm weather this winter, many farmers believe 1950 will be a bad boll weevil year in Alabama.

To help cotton growers make plans to meet this threat, F. S. Arant, entomogolist of the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station, reviews cotton dusting experiments conducted over a period of 25 years.

First, he warns farmers against early dusting — just after squaring. In fact, early season applications of poison failed to increase yields throughout the Cotton Belt, except in some parts of Texas where every farm in the entire community or county was treated with new organic insecticides.

"In different parts of Alabama," says Mr. Arant, "early dusting with new organic dusts actually resulted in some losses of cotton. The losses occurred when dusting was discontinued after three or four applications. The dusts killed the boll weevil's enemies, and when the dusting was stopped, bollworms migrated into the enemy-free area, causing more damage than bollworms did on areas that had not been dusted."

The entomologist recommends that cotton be dusted with proven materials at proper intervals during the time the crop is being set and matured. Average gains from cotton dusted in this manner in 1949 ranged from 766 to 1,243 pounds of seed cotton per acre.

See the local county agent for complete information on proper dusting of cotton to control insects.

CENSUS DISTRICT OFFICE TAKES APPLICATIONS FOR CREW LEADER JOBS

Applications for the position of crew leader in the 17th Decennial Census to be conducted in April are now being received by the Clanton District Office of the United States Bureau of the Census.

Final selections for the crew leader positions will be made about the end of February after oral and written tests have been given candidates for the jobs, according to L. C. Warr, Census District Supervisor. Approximately 16 crew leader positions will be filled in Mr. Warr's district, which includes Tuscaloosa, Chilton, Hale, Sumter, Perry, Bibb, Greene and Shelby counties. Each crew leader will have supervision over about 20 enumerators.

Qualifications required for selection as crew leader include, as a minimum, a high school education and at least three years experience in supervising or assisting in the supervision of an office force or field crew, training of subordinates, making and reviewing reports of average difficulty, and handling related assignments. In general, an applicant's record of experience must show satisfactory performance in increasingly responsible positions. College education may be counted in part in lieu of experience.

The Census Bureau further specifies that the applicant's previous employment and associations must be of such a nature that they will facilitate obtaining cooperation from respondents. Census Bureau employees are sworn to secrecy and are punishable by law for revealing confidential information but beyond this, care is exercised to employ only persons who have public confidence.

Letter from Luther Kendrick

Clanton, Ala., February 1, 1950.
To The Citizens of Chilton County, Alabama:

As many of you already know, I have submitted my resignation as Highway Patrolman, effective January 31, 1950, to enter the race for Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic Primaries.

First, I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of you, along with the local Bar Association, the Courts, both local newspapers, the local radio station, both funeral homes, the different civic organizations and other law enforcement officers for the full cooperation given me while I have been stationed in Chilton County as a Highway Patrolman. Any success I have enjoyed is due to the cooperation the people have given me. I have taken this step after much encouragement, and I do feel that I can be of greater service to you as sheriff of our County.

I am 39 years old. I have a wife and two children, Jimmie, age 9, and Glenda, age 3. I was born and reared in this County. I am a member of the First Baptist Church of Clanton, the American Legion, Veteran of Foreign Wars and P.-T.A. I served in the E.T.O. with a combat force during the past war. I have been a member of the State Highway Patrol since 1941.

If elected as your Sheriff, I will keep that office open during business hours and give you the best service possible in good, clean, fair and impartial law enforcement. When I am given information of any law violations, I will keep my informer's name strictly confidential.

I believe we should provide ample security for our deserving old people. I believe organized labor is essential to our progress, but I will not tolerate vandalism by any person or group.

I am not backed or sponsored by any person, group or clique. I have not made a "trade" with anyone.

I will greatly appreciate your "giving a young man a chance" by casting your vote for me.

Sincerely yours,
J. LUTHER KENDRICK.

4-H COUNCIL MET RECENTLY

One of the objectives outlined by the 4-H County Council at their meeting in January was the observation of Rural Life Sunday in all churches in the county where 4-H Club members attend. Club members, in their respective clubs, are making plans for this observation which is to be held March 12th. Girls are responsible for the cleaning and decoration of the church. Boys will be responsible for the distribution of song books, collection of the morning offering, and will serve as ushers. The group will sit together in reserved pews and will present a short program on this date. Ministers of various churches are being asked to cooperate by bringing a message suitable for young people. Local adult leaders are cooperating with 4-H boys and girls in making this observation a success.

One of the H's in 4-H Club work is to train the heart for greater loyalty to the club, community and country. Rural Life Sunday observation is the training of the heart in order that richer, fuller, more wholesome living way result in the home life of 4-H Club members.

To those of you who have not renewed your Farm Bureau dues this year, PLEASE don't wait for your community leaders to contact you. He is a busy farmer just as you are. Let's help him by helping ourselves.

BRIGHTEN UP THAT SOILED UMBRELLA

Auburn, Ala. — Umbrellas that become dingy or spotted with soil can usually be cleaned at home with a soapsuds shampoo.

"Before washing," says Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist, "open the umbrella and brush the fabric with a clothes brush to remove loose dust or dry mud. Grease spots should be sponged with cleaning fluid."

She points out that the bathtub is a convenient place to wash, rinse, and dry an umbrella. Hold the open umbrella over the tub and go over the outside with a soft brush dipped in thick, lukewarm suds of mild soap. Handle and wash umbrella gently to avoid strain on the stretched fabric.

"An easy way to rinse the umbrella," reveals Miss Ellis, "is to hold it under a spray of lukewarm water from the shower. Leave the umbrella open and stretched while it dries."

GOVERNOR SETS FEBRUARY 12 AS TEMPERANCE DAY IN ALABAMA

Montgomery, Ala. — By executive proclamation, Governor James E. Folsom has set aside February 12th as Temperance Day in Alabama.

"In these crucial times," the Governor said further, "each one of us must command a quick mind and healthy body if we are to possess the self-satisfaction due ourselves and the respect of our fellow men.

"Only through temperance in our own habits can we set a good example for those who will come after us to take over where we left off," the Governor added.

In observance of Temperance Day in Alabama, Governor Folsom urged that each individual citizen of this state, its churches and local civic groups call special attention "to the pressing need for a temperate society."

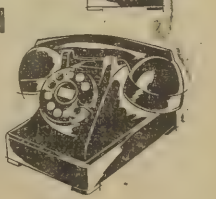
do you think were installed in Alabama in 1949?



The year 1949 was such a big year in the growth of telephone facilities and service, we thought you would like to know some of the facts and figures. Here's the story of the year in brief:

New Telephones

More than 81,600 new telephones were installed in Alabama last year! That's a lot of telephones, requiring the addition of huge quantities of wire, cable, poles, central office equipment and new buildings or building additions.

Rural Telephones

Many construction crews were busy stringing lines in rural areas throughout the state last year. During the year more than 27,200 new rural telephones were installed.

Money Spent

This vast expansion and improvement of telephone service in Alabama in 1949 cost more than $12,340,000. This was over and above other millions of dollars paid out in Alabama for operating expenses.

New Buildings

A number of new buildings and building additions were completed in the state last year and work is under way on other new building projects for 1950.

People at Work

At the close of 1949 there were more than 5,100 people employed by Southern Bell in Alabama. Wages for these men and women amounted to millions of dollars—a substantial contribution to trade and prosperity throughout the state.

Alabama and the South are growing as never before and we are continuing our all-out effort to make telephone service constantly more valuable and available to more and more people.

The Jemison B's took the preliminary by a 16-13 score.

Isabella High gave the J.H.S. boys a working over on Tuesday night, the 25th, by a 29 to 22 stretch. Collins 9 for Jemison and Foshee 11, were leading scorers.

In this preliminary the Jemison Bees took another close one, 24 to 22, in an overtime period.

In this preliminary the Jemison B's slapped a 31 to 16 trimming on the Verbena B's. To date this gives the Jemison B's a record of 13 wins against one loss. Clanton B's pinned this bad defeat on the boys 46 to 26.

The Jemison A's have won 10, losing 4.

RUNS A DIME DELIVERY SERVICE INTO THRIVING BUSINESS IN TEN YEARS

LEWIS "Pig" HEADLEY

Some ten years ago a small boy hung around the back of what is now Moatts Market and Grocery hauling groceries passed out by the welfare department to needy families, at a dime a haul. He had a little wagon and was a very little boy for his age too, but he had a very large ambition and that was to be a merchant and businessman of Clanton.

Today, a little more than ten years later, Lewis (Pig) Headley, owns his own store, his home, his mother's home which he bought for her, and several lots in his hometown.

Initiative and the will to make something of himself is all that little "Pig" Headley had when he started hauling groceries at the age of fourteen. Since that time like most boys he got a newspaper route and sold The Birmingham News for Mr. F. R. McBee, who was agent here at that time. Soon "Pig" decided that the money wasn't coming in fast enough; so he had several jobs at one time, plus going to school. He was delivering The Birmingham News, delivering groceries at the Piggly Wiggly, taking special Delivery letters for the Post Office and had just rented a small frame, one-room building out the Maplesville Highway and started him a store. He called it "Pig's Place," and says the oil company let him have some oil and gas on credit and he had a few cans of sardines and a few boxes of crackers.

He ran his small store into a good business and by the time he graduated he was still "throwing papers," but he owned his little store, had paid cash for a motor scooter for deliveries, and had saved enough to buy two lots in a residential section of Clanton.

That was the momentous year of 1942. He turned his store over to his mother and joined the U. S. Marines.

After three years service, eighteen months in the South Pacific, he returned home. With money he had sent home during the war plus the sale of the little business he started in 1940, his mother had bought a better business in West End and had also bought some valuable property along Second Avenue.

For a hustler like "Pig" Headley, with a bank account he had saved, a business to run, there was only one way to go—and that was forward When articles that were hard to get after the war couldn't be found anywhere else "Pig" got them. He would make trips to Montgomery and load his car down with Mayonnaise, bananas, etc., that was practically impossible to get, and bring them to his store for his customers. The same customers remember that now and trade at "Pigs" Grocery and Market.

Today "Pig's" Grocery and Market is a brand new modern brick store with a parking lot next door, owned and operated by him for his customers. The store fixtures are new and modern and his boast is that his retail business is as good if not better than any independent store in the county. A rolling store is also operated daily throughout the County. All this in ten short years with only his ambition to get ahead, to help him.

Lewis Headley married Miss Dot Wesson of Clanton after returning from service and they have one child, a girl.

His story is a perfect example of what can be accomplished in America, if one has the ambition and courage to "do something" or "Be Somebody."

Grand Jury Compliments Chilton County Officials In Their Latest Report

The Chilton County Grand Jury which adjourned February 1st, gave county officials a clean bill of health in their report to Judge Oakley W. Melton. During the investigation 33 cases were considered and 67 witnesses examined in which 19 true bills were returned. The county jailer and officials of the Sheriff's office, Probate Judge, County Treasurer, County Superintendent of Education and Department of Public Welfare all were complimented on the efficient manner in which their books and records were kept.

Honorable C. R. Keener and Hon. Roland L. Sparkman, Examiners of Public Accounts, reported they are making progress in their examination of county records of the Commissioners Court of Chilton County but that it was incomplete to date

In their report they called attention to the fact that all Justices of the Peace of the County should appear before future Grand Juries and present their dockets and fee books for examination as provided by law.

Hon. Oakley W. Melton was especially thanked for his able charge given to the Grand Jury when first empanelled. In making their report the Grand Jury expressly thanked Sheriff J. A. Nivens and his deputies, Hon. Winston Huddleston, Circuit Solicitor and Hon. A. B. Foshee, County Solicitor, for their efficient and courteous help.

The Hat Shop Has Remodeled

The new Spring hats have arrived and the Hat Shop is this week getting a new coat of paint and some new fixtures, so they will be better prepared to display their merchandise.

When the Hat Shop opened, one year ago last October, they planned to carry only higher priced hats, but the demand for a lower price hat was so much greater until they have decided to carry hats priced from $1.98 through $7.95 exclusive.

The Hat Shop also carries a line of handbags, blouses, hose, gloves, underwear, and hand-made articles. They have two lines of brassieres, "The Delores and the Peter Pan." These bras are nationally advertised. The Delores has for the past five years, taken the lead in the North and is becoming better known every day in this section. While the Peter Pan is being sold in all leading department stores throughout the North and South.

Mrs. Mims wants you to know that through the courtesy of the Peter Pan Foundation Co., she will be able to give you two Peter Pan Bra's for only $3.50. This is a $5.00 value. You buy one brassiere for the regular price of $2.50 and get an extra brassiere for $1.00 more.

This sale is for the month of February only. The public is invited to visit the Hat Shop and look over the new arrangements. You are welcome to try on as many hats as you please and you are not obligated to buy.

Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Winford Jackson, James Edwin and Jerry Wayne of Jemison.

Tom Phillips To Make Race For Senate

Mr. J. T. (Tom) Phillips, Siluria Industrialist, will be a candidate in the coming election for the office of State Senator from the 15th Senatorial District, composed of Shelby, Chilton and Autauga counties.

In identifying himself to the voters of Chilton County Mr. Phillips stated: "I am a businessman, head of the Buck Creek Cotton Mills, at Siluria. I am a member of the Shelby County Board of Education. I am a Baptist, Mason, Shriner, a member of the Civitan Club and active in all civic affairs of the county and state."

Mr. Phillips' opposition to date is Mr. John Foshee, of Montevallo, also a member of the Shelby County Board of Education and a lawyer.

MR. C. B. COX MAKES A STATEMENT

I would like to make a statement to the voters of Chilton County. First, let me ask that you refrain from forming your opinion from false gossip.

I believe that some have fallen out with me because of my friendship with the present administration. I have been in the Legislature long enough to know there is only one way to represent the people fairly and that is to be friendly with the administration that is in power. I did not agree with the Governor on all issues, but I handled it in a way not to fall out with him.

By being friendly with the Administration I have been able to get a $60,000 appropriation for our Horticultural Experiment Station; $35,000 from the Federal Government for our National Guard Armory; $8,800 for two

A Grass-Roots Country

The government of this nation is dominated by the small towns and the rural areas—not by the great city populations. That striking fact is developed in an analysis of the United States Congress published in the December issue of The American Press.

The analysis shows that 76 out of the 96 Senators —79 per cent—are elected by rural majorities, and that 54 per cent of the Representatives represent more rural counties than urban counties. For the purpose of the study, a rural county was considered to be one in which there is no community with more than 10,000 population.

The small number of Senators who represent predominately urban constituencies mostly come from states with very small land areas and concentrated industry, such as Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The study shows further that 42 Senators and 132 Representatives have a weekly newspaper as their home town paper. It then said: "All of those from rural areas depend on weekly newspapers as one of their chief barometers of opinions of their constituents."

The point is that this is still a grass-roots country.

This Could Be You

Are you paying the premium for another person's insurance? That sounds like a silly question, doesn't it? According to M. C. Folmar, Manager of the Birmingham Social Security office, some persons are paying premiums on Old-Age and Survivors Insurance for the other fellow.

Mr. Folmar said that a mix-up in social security numbers may result in crediting wages to the wrong person under social security. There are so many persons with the same name that the Government felt it was necessary to assign a number to identify each person under social security.

A recent case in Shelby County was almost tragic before the truth was known. The widow and minor child of a worker applied for benefits as a result of the worker's death. The social security records showed that the deceased worker had not been employed long enough under social security for the widow and child to be entitled to benefits. Three months later the widow called on the Social Security representative and said that some mistake must have been made because she knew her husband had worked under social security for a long time. As a result of the widow's call, contact was made with the employer of the deceased worker. Investigation by the Social Security representative with the help of the employer brought out that the worker had been using his son's social security number. The initials of the son were the same as those of the father so that neither the father nor the employer realized the mistake. The Social Security Administration was able to correct records so that monthly payments are now being made to the widow and the minor child. The total payments will exceed $850.00.

Cross-Section Of America

The Boy Scouts of America is observing its 40th Anniversary. Although it began with a small membership in 1910 it caught on rapidly. By 1916 Boy Scouts had rolled up so creditable a record of service to their communities that the Congress of the United States granted the Boy Scouts of America a Federal Charter.

The record shows that the current active membership is two and a half million boys and leaders. During the organization's forty years, more than sixteen million, five hundred thousand have been influenced by the Scout Oath and Law. As a matter of fact, nearly twenty per cent of the male population of America today has been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of Scouting, reads the Federal Charter, "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues."

Today, the Boy Scouts, virtually a cross-section of American life, are at the mid-point of a two-year Crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" by bringing a better Scouting program to more boys under trained leaders. This worthy effort will have its climax in a great National Jamboree this summer which will fittingly be held on historic ground—Valley Forge, Pa., where George Washington and his heroic Continental Army helped to lay the foundation for our Republic. It will be a gathering of the youth who will be among the nation's top leaders a few decades hence.

To the Boy Scouts of America on their fortieth anniversary, we say: "Happy Birthday!"

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

We're mad at the whole National Guard. The other week we saw a story in our local (favorite) newspaper that the National Guard was going to get their pay in silver dollars. Now when the local Guard gets paid in silver dollars or any other kind of lettuce, that ain't hay. That's a lot of dough, moola, smakers, etc., etc. They really have a nice payroll. But what we're mad about is, we haven't even seen a sparrow, much less any of those eagles they talked about. We just figured accidently we would get our claw-like hands on some of those cart-wheels as they rolled around Chilton County hunting a place to park. But, no sir, ain't no eagles roosting around our house yet. And we are particularly fond of that bird.

Some of the politicians are squaking about their picture being left out of the News last week. We just had about thirty of the pictures and write-ups sent to us for publication. We published as many as we could find room for and will do the same this week until we get them all run. You readers will just have to bear with us. If some of them scare the kiddies just explain that it's a public service to try to print the pictures of all the fellows who run for office and there is only two or three months of it every two years.

Is it true that the O. P. Klinner Furniture Company will move to new quarters? And Bell Hardware will move to the building now occupied by Mr. Klinner. And will Watson's expand? That's what's going around. Course that's the clean gossip that's going around. Dear me, couldn't possibly put the other in print, but we'll listen while you tell us what you know.

Amon Jones has bought out Luker Furniture Company. He will change the name to Jones Furniture Company. The store will remain at the same location and all that will be added is electrical appliances. Amon has an advertisement in this issue of the newspaper you are now reading. Turn to it for full details.

Did you know that Dent Williams has been holding people up? He's still holding them up, by the way. Here's the way it happened. Dent has a beautiful new home in South Clanton that he will move into within a short while. In the meantime he's holding up Bill Davidson who want to move into the home the Williams now live in. That makes Bill Davidson a hold-up man. He's holding up the Flem Higgins who want to move back into their home. Incidently the Flem Higgins are moving back to their home after 17 years. Mamye is quite thrilled. Well, back to our hold-up story. Now the Higgins are hold-up people too. They are holding up the Carl Vinsons who will move into the Higgins' home when the Higgins move into the Davidson home when the Williams move into their new home—get it? Well, we don't either, but that's the way it is, so help us.

It's good to see Mayor C. Fenn Jones out enjoying the sunshine again. You know he was confined to his home for several days quite ill. He looked in the pink of health Sunday when we saw him.

YOUR Health

YOUR SKIN AND COSMETICS

The correct use of cosmetics enhances an individual's appearance, yet many persons apply layer after layer of some cosmetic preparation, forgetting entirely the fundamental principle of cleanliness first and the beauty objective of suggestion rather than obviousness.

Many people do not realize that the skin is an important organ of the body; in fact it is the largest organ, weighing just about twice as much as either the liver or the brain. Actually the skin is a mirror of the health of the rest of the body. Many internal diseases are sometimes diagnosed because of the changes seen in the skin. This accounts for one reason why the care of the skin is important.

On the whole cosmetics are not harmful, provided that the true health of the skin, coming from within, is maintained. Some individuals may use certain cosmetics without any harmful effects; on the other hand others using the same cosmetics whether it be cream, lipstick or powder, may react noticeably with skin eruptions, rash, eczema, and other uncomfortable irritations. When this occurs, very often the real cause of the trouble is the individual's sensitivity to certain ingredients in the cosmetics used. In selecting, it is better to try the powder on the face, not on the back of the hand where the skin texture is different.

Face powder has little to do with the formation of blackheads, since these blemishes are really accumulations of dried fat or sebum in an opening of the oil gland.

Without exception, it is important to cleanse the skin before retiring, allowing the oil and sweat glands of the skin an opportunity to give off their secretions normally without obstruction. Creams do not nourish the skin, since the true nourishment comes from the blood within.

Cosmetics are all right, provided they do not produce individual irritation. Bear in mind there is no substitute for adequate rest, a well balanced diet and careful attention to the general hygiene of the body.

Letter To The Editor

Just a few words in regard to the coming election. Now, good people, as we are nearing another election here in our county, we should be thinking of what has been done in the past and what is to be done in the future.

If the good people would stick together, we could have a good county in which to live. Almost every way you turn you hear nothing but gossip about our tax money. Well, probably we have lost some, but listen, friends, if Bill Jones steals a mule it shouldn't hurt Lonnie Cost, so let's get behind the wheel and get it to rolling.

Now, friends, we have already got some good people out for office and some more to announce, so let's pick a good man and stay behind him. Friends, as we all know, there are lots of taxpayers in the county and just a few officers, so that's why we should think very seriously when an election comes on. Who is in office, how long he has been there, what he has done while he was there.

Now, friends, as we all know when a man once gets an office he had almost rather lose his arm than the office, but as I just said, there are too many good people in the county for one man to have it always, so now is the time to think ten times before marking one ticket.—A true Democrat and for a better county in which to live. Lonnie L. Cost, Rt. 2, Jemison, Ala.

Love

Last week and the week before, we wrote on the subjects of "Faith" and "Hope." This week let us consider the greatest of the three attributes, that of love. Without faith it is impossible to please God; and all that is not of faith is sin; and we are saved by hope, and hope is that all powerful force that propels us along the road of life; yet, it is recorded twice in the same chapter that "God is love."

A. T. HICKMAN

So it is easy to determine that love is the greatest of all the gifts of life. Love is the greatest theme ever spoken; and the greatest song ever sung. Of all the painting of art, that which depicts love is the greatest. Love is the greatest story ever told, and the greatest literature ever published. Some one has said, "Love makes the world go round and round." Love is the queen of industry.

What is it that inspires the building of beautiful homes; beautiful furniture, and everything which is beautiful to the eye and that which makes life more happy? Surely it must be love. The love of family, of home life, of friends, and of God and everything that is good and noble. Love is the crown of all our blessings.

But twice in the Bible we read of some being "Without natural affection, or without natural love." It is but natural that we love our own blood kin, but today many in our land are without that natural love. And that is why so many homes are being destroyed, and so many are dying at the hand of some kinsman. Friends, we owe it to ourselves and to each other to love one another. Love is the badge of true Christianity. Jesus said, "By this shall all men know ye are my disciples when ye have love one for another. He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, but he that hateth his brother is in darkness. Again it says, "He that hateth his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him." . . . .But we know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death. Little children, I write unto you that we love one another; for love is of God, and everyone that love is born of God, and knoweth God, for God is love. Let brotherly love continue.

"On My Honor."

February 6 began a week of observance of the 40th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Boy Scouts of a few years ago are now grown men. Many have distinguished themselves on the field of battle, in civic affairs, in church, school, the arts and the professions. Many, remembering the fun that scouting gave them when they were boys, now devote much of their spare time to serving as Scout counselors and leaders, instilling into boys of the newer generation enthusiasm for the principles stated in the Scout Promise, which every Boy Scout makes:

"On my honor I will do my best:
(1) To do my duty to God and my country;
and to obey the Scout Law;
(2) To help other people at all times;
(3) To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake,
and morally straight."

(There are twelve points in the Scout Law—A Scout is Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean, Reverent.)

(This advertisement published by Alabama Power Company as an endorsement of the principles stated in the Scout Promise and Scout Law. These principles are essential in "Helping Develop Alabama.")

West End Baptist—

Sunday morning, February 5th, the West End Baptist Church of Clanton had with them Mr. E. A. Herron from Montgomery to give some high lights on the plans for the church.

Rev. R. E. Wilkins filled his regular place in the pulpit Sunday evening with a very inspiring message.

The West End Baptist is happy to have Earnest Owens, Jr., as a new member.

The ladies of the W.M.U. met Monday afternoon at the church. Circle Two gave a very interesting program on 'How Christian Is America?" Mrs. J. .W. Williams gave the devotional and Mrs. Lynn Williams, Mrs. R. E. Wilkins, Mrs. Hazel Jones, Mrs. Herman Lowery, Mrs. Kelly Gillespie and Mrs. W. E. Owens took part on the program.

On February 21st the adult and young people will study "Buried and Living," by John D. Freeman. Mesdames Jim Blair, Alex Arnold, J. D. Williams, R. E. Wilkins and I. S. Spiller will teach the book at the church.

The leaders of the R.A.'s, Sunbeams and G. A.'s will be responsible for the teaching of their books on February 23 at the church. The Y.W.A. met at the home of Betty Sue Owens Monday evening, February 6th. We are very proud of our Y.W.A. and the work they are doing, as community missions. For this month they delivered a large box as a love gift to an unfortunate family in our community.

Everyone has a cordial invitation to come and be with us in both our morning and evening services. We feel sure you will receive a blessing from the messages.

Don't forget the prayer service each Wednesday evening at 6:30. With everyone's prayers and God's helping hand we feel sure we will keep growing to be a larger royal band.

Our "Mayor" is Only 16 Years Old!

Poked my head into Mayor Howard's door the other day at Town Hall and took a second look in a hurry. Sitting at the Mayor's desk was "Butch" Carter—president of the Junior Class over at the High School.

"Hello, Mr. Marsh," says Butch. "Can I help you?" The high school pupils took over for the day! They elected their own officers, "ran the town," and learned a little something about the responsibility of local government.

We grownups, too, might sometimes take a little lesson in accepting responsibility. If you look at the Brewers' Self-Regulation Program, you see what I mean. Beer retailers cooperate by accepting the responsibility to keep their places clean and orderly—right up to the letter of the law—beyond any possible reproach.

From where I sit, knowing and accepting our responsibilities—whether in government or business—is one sure way to build a better country. The public's good is our own good at all times.!

Church Items—

All circles of the W.M.U. met at the Baptist Church Monday afternoon for their regular meeting, with a large number attending. Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, president, opened the meeting with a very interesting devotional. Mrs. Willie Hathcock, program leader, with Mrs. Sammie Begue and Mrs. Sara Mitchell giving talks on, "How Christian Is America?" Other members gave discussions in the form of forum, or panel, which were very interesting.

The Sunbeams will meet at the church Thursday afternoon of this week at 3:00 with their leader, Mrs. Theron Watson. All mothers are urged to send their children.

Mr. Carlos Owens was happy to have a large increase in the attendance at Sunday School last Sunday at the Baptist Church. Let's remember to have a larger attendance next Sunday by bringing the whole family.

At the close of the worship service at the Baptist Church last Sunday Rev. Clayton Gilbert, pastor of the church, read a letter of his resignation. The congregation was so shocked and grieved that it was more like a funeral than worship service. Everyone was speechless for quite a while, then very reluctantly it was moved that his resignation be accepted, as God had called him into a new field of service, the Hopewell Baptist Church, Tuscaloosa, Ala. The members feel as sheep losing a good shepherd.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert have done a marvelous work here for the church and town. The attendance of the church, Sunday School, B.T.U. and W.M.U. have grown more than double since they have been here. Many souls have been saved, many Christians have been revived, many sick and shut-ins have been cheered and comforted by their faithful ministry here. The church and town in general feel a great loss. As God calls them to a new work, we pray that our Heavenly Father will richly bless them. For their work here will live on and on in the memory of those they so faithfully served.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Sorry, I couldn't make it last week but nothing happened around here to write about, except a robbery and they just got $200.00, so you see nothing exciting ever happens around here

By the way, Harold Gene Parr did have a party Friday before last and boy, was it a good one! Say, Harold, reckon we will ever teach Myron Levine how to dance? He just runs into everyone on the floor. May be that he can dance too well. Whichever it is, it isn't good. Harold really had a nice crowd though and there wasn't a one there that didn't look like he was having fun.

Doesn't look much like we're getting to see many basketball games these days, does it, kids? Seems as if the home team likes to travel a lot here lately and isn't staying home anymore.

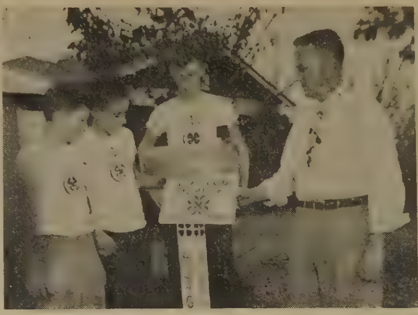
Looks like we're stuck with those daily tests for a whole y ear, or what's left of the year anyhow. What's left of it seems to be too much for some students (including myself).

Say, keeds, the new skating rink is not far from opening and they sure oughta get a lot of business. From what I hear you screwballs just can't wait until it opens. Well, for my part—well, first of all, I can't skate and second, I don't want to, and third, I had lots rather go swimming if the pool ever opens. If the weather keeps up like this it should be warm enough by March instead of April to open the pool.

From what I hear the Glee Club had a wonderful time at Sylacauga, especially the girls. Now I wonder if there are any boys there that are so much better looking than some we have here. I guess those girls just go for good looks. Oh well, fellas, don't worry about it, they can't go on forever like that.

I think Miss Griffin hit the nail on the head when she told some girls why boys didn't respect ALL girls anymore than they did. In case you don't know, ask Miss Griffin.

4-H CLUB NEWS



By J. D. Sellers, Ass't. County Agent

Mr. Smith is presenting Hoyt Ellis a 4-H Club metal sign for being the first 4-H Club member to complete his mail box and clean-up projects.

Hoyt Ellis is feeding out a beef calf that he plans to enter in the county and district Fat Stock Show.

These 4H metal signs were donated by the First National and Peoples Saving Bank of Clanton to stimulate greater interest in 4-H Club work. These signs are being given to all 4-H Club members when they have painted and initialed their mail box and post, cleaned up around their living premises, and have decided what projects they will carry out in 1950.

Letter To Chilton County News

Dear Sir:

Will you please give me a small space in your paper this week? This is W. F. Gilliland, Clanton, at West End

First, I want to say that I was born and raised in Coosa County. My mother died when I was about six years old. I can recollect going to church with my mother before she died. I can remember the old bush arbor where we went to after my mother died. We moved to another place where we were raised. There were four of us oldest children, two boys and two girls, and we are all four living yet; I am 71 years old.

I can remember when we were small children that we went to Sunday School and walked three miles. I can well remember when we went to church in the ox wagon and we walked three miles to school. My father owned his own home. We all worked and seemed to enjoy it and the first preacher I can remember was old Bro. Nelson who lived in Coosa County and later on moved to Chilton County. He lived to be over a hunderd years old, and when about 18 I united with the Baptist Church in Coosa County. Bro. Doss Hughes was the pastor for about fifteen years; a man that has meant so much to me and a man that I always loved and has meant so much to my life.

When in my 20th year, my wife and I got married and moved out to ourselves and went to work on my father's place. The next year we bought us a place of our own, and in a few years my father and my stepmother died, which we missed so much. But the Lord knows best in all things.

Times now are not like it was then. Everybody seemed to enjoy life and we would drive the mules and wagons to church and would go five and six miles to church at night and have good, old-time revivals. As time passed on we sold out in Coosa County and moved to Chilton County and bought us a home and raised six children to be grown and married.

The two oldest ones are gone to meet their reward, for which we hope to meet in that Great Beyond, where there will be no more sickness and no more pain. We still have five children living, one girl at Lanett, Ala., one boy at Talladega, one at Anniston and two in Detroit, Mich.

The Lord has wonderfully blessed us, for we know it is through Him that we are living. I just thank the Good Lord for my life and for what He has done for me. I know my time is not long here on this earth. But we don't know when He is coming back to earth to gather His children together, for He said when He went away that He would come back to earth and gather His childern together where there will be no more sickness and no more pain.

I want to be in that number when He comes back to earth to gather His children together. We don't know how long it will be.

The Lord knows we belong to the Baptist Church down at Poplar Springs, but the way I understand the Bible there isn't but one church; for the Bible says, "One faith, and one Lord and one Baptism. If I understand it right that is Baptism of the Holy Spirit. I want all Christian people to pray for the wife and I, for we are not able to work any now, but don't forget us in your prayers.—W. F. Gilliland, West End, Clanton, Ala.

GLEN CURLEE

A new figure has entered the political arena in Autauga, Chilton and Elmore Counties. Glen Curlee, young attorney of Wetumpka, Ala., has qualified with the Secretary of State as a candidate for Circuit Solicitor of the 19th Judicial Circuit composed of these three Counties.

This is the first time in twenty-four years the present Solicitor, Mr. Winston Huddleston, has had opposition. Mr. Curlee was born and reared near Wetumpka, Ala. He attended public schoool in Elmore County and is a graduate of the University of Alabama Law School. While a high school and University student he attained widespread recognition throughout Alabama and the South as an Orator.

As a high school student he was on the debating team that won the State Championship and represented Alabama in the National High School Debating Tournament. In addition, he represented the Fourth Congressional District in the Birmingham News-Age Herald Oratorical Contest and was Alabama's and the South's representative in the Future Farmers of America Public Speaking Contest in which he placed third in the nation.

He was prominent in campus activities at the University and represented that school in many intercollegiate and regional debating tournaments and public speaking contests. His Senior year he was elected President of the Senior Law Class. He was admitted to the Bar immediately after graduation.

During World War II he served twenty-four months in the Pacific as a Machine Gun Corporal in an Infantry Division and as an Agent of the Counter Intelligence Corps. He is a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

After discharge from the service he was employed by the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration in Montgomery in the Adjudication Division where he remained until January 13, 1950. On that date he resigned to enter private law practice in Wetumpka.

Mr. Curlee is the son of Mr. A. W. Curlee and the late Mrs. Mary Turner Curlee of Holtville Road, Wetumpka. The Curlee family is one of the early families of Elmore County. His immediate family has resided in the same community for over sixty years where they have been engaged in farming. This is Mr. Curlee's first bid for public office. He is young and energetic and has stated that he will see every voter possible between now and May 2nd.

VETERAN FARMERS VISIT THORSBY NURSERY

For the past three years veterans taking on farm training in Chilton County have visited the Thorsby Nursery to see the latest experiments in crops being grown to conserve soil and water.

At present the veteran farmers are touring the nursery to observe plants growing, some of which can be used for hay and grazing, and at the same time conserve the soil and water. Plants of special interest are: Kentucky 31 Fescue, Ladino Clover, Sericea, interplanted with Crimson Clover, Kudzu and Button Clover.

These tours are very beneficial and are very ably conducted by William Crawford Young, manager of the nursery. Farmers who make this tour and then put into practice the things learned there will certainly be more successful farmers in the years to come. —M. D. Tingle, Head Teacher Vocational Agriculture.

ANTI-TRUST LAWYERS USE CHARGES COURT REJECTED AS FALSE, A&P CONTENDS

Inflamatory and damaging allegations made in a suit against The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company at Dallas, Texas, were so baseless that the Federal Judge "threw the Anti-Trust Lawyers and their case right out of his court," the Company will say in advertisements this week end.

The advertisement, scheduled for The advertisement, scheduled for publication in 2,500 newspapers throughout the nation, was the third in a series discussing former court cases where Federal Judges found there was no evidence against the company and administered stinging rebukes to the Anti-Trust Lawyers.

In the Dallas Anti-Trust Suit, the ad states, the Anti-Trust Lawyers "made practically the same allegations they are making toady" in their current suit to break up the 90-year old food store chain.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, the ad states, ruled that the Dallas case "should not even be tried" because the indictment "contained inflamatory statements he would not allow to be presented to a jury."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning," the ad quotes Judge Atwell.

"God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell, the ad also says, told the Anti-Trust Lawyers—"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

Captioned "The Third Time the Anti-Trust Lawyers were Wrong," the advertisement reviews two other actions—The Washington, D.C., Bread Case and Wilson, N. C., Potato Case —in which Federal Judges found no evidence to support "damaging" charges brought by Anti-Trust Lawyers against A&P.

The Anti-Trust Lawyers are "Still determined to destroy A&P," the ad continues. But it adds—

"Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed."

The ad cites how suppliers, unions, competitors, newspapers through editorials and people "in all walks of life" have rallied to A&P's support.

"The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this Company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume," the ad says.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the Anti-Trust Lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price."

Boozer Offers To Bring Capitol Back To People

Planning a program that will literally bring the 'capitol back to the people," the Boost Boozer and Build Alabama Committee, a statewide organization with thousands of members in every county, sponsoring Elbert Boozer's campaign for governor, are at the beginning of what may be the most spectacular political campaign ever waged in Alabama.

The program was conceived by a group of Boozer's supporters early in 1949. An early test in a few widely scattered counties met with almost instant success and Mr. Boozer was invited to a dinner where representatives from more than 15 counties had gathered.

The plan was explained and offered to Boozer. He accepted and the 'Boost Boozer and Build Alabama' committee was formed. From the first meeting, the organization has spread and numbers in every county in Alabama.

The committee raised sufficient funds to pay the cost of building a large trailer, the trailer to be an exact duplicate of Alabama's historic capitol building.

The trailer was constructed in Alabama, of all-Alabama materials. Even the sand necessary for the glass comes from an Alabama sand pit. The trailer will be equipped with desks, telephone, radio, public address system. From the steps of this trailer, Mr. Boozer will make his campaign speeches.

A member of the Boost Boozer and Build Alabama committee will accompany Mr. Boozer during the campaign and explain to every audience why and how the trailer was built and loaned to him for the campaign.

When Boozer is elected governor, the committee will offer the trailer to the state and as governor, Mr. Boozer will load it with hundreds of Alabama manufactured items and produce from Alabama farms and send it to every state in the union to advertise Alabama.

All scheduled appearances of Mr. Boozer and the capital trailer in every city and town will be widely publicized so everyone will be given an opportunity to hear Boozer's program for bringing 'Yankee' dollars south and building Alabama and seeing the unique capitol on wheels

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED EVENING VESPERS AT FIRST METHODIST

A large crowd attended Evening Vespers last Sunday night. The all-girl choir led in the singing and rendered a very inspirational anthem, under the direction of Miss Jean Lake. The Junior Stewards are the Ushers and the emphasis is upon Youth at these services. The services are informal and the fellowship angle is stressed. Much enthusiasm is being shown over the possibilities of having Open Air Vespers on the lawn at the rear of the church during the Summer months.

This and other plans, working toward the celebration of Lent and Easter will be discussed at the Stewards meeting next Monday night, it was announced.

Open Air Vespers are becoming very popular over the country. Provisions can be made for the blocking off of some streets, around the church, for the hour of the Vespers, so that any who might like to bring their children and sit in their cars, may be able to do it.

The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington. These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.
> "Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes.
> "I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case.
> "But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time—this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said that the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision.

Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed.

A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Let's Make 1950 A Sericea Year In Chilton County

WHAT IS SERICEA? Lespedeza Sericea is a close growing perennial legume that produces from early spring until frost. It is a soil protector, a pasture crop, and an excellent hay crop.

WHY PLANT SERICEA? Cotton acreage control is forcing a number of farmers to look to other crops for cash income. One of our most practical sources of additional income is through milk or beef sales. Sericea is the one plant that will fit the largest number of Chilton County farms and form the basic feed crop in developing a livestock program. Sericea is easily managed and will withstand heavy grazing.

WHEN TO PLANT. Begin preparing land now by first breaking for late March or early April seeding. Watch your local paper for detailed information on cultural recommendations.

What Users of Sericea Think Of It's Value—

JOE SMITH OF JEMISON RT. 1—

Joe has three and one-half acres in sericea. He is using it as a grazing crop, as a soil protector and as a hog crop.

Joe says, "I grazed five head of mature cows, three yearlings, and my workstock on sericea. I cut my sericea three times and it produced 19 two-horse loads of good quality hay."

"There is not one crop better for soil building, soil protection, hay, and pasture altogether than sericea.

I plan to increase my acreage this year and I know that Chilton County farmers cannot plant anything better for hay, pasture, soil protection or soil building.

Sericea is a better feed than other crops that I have used, in that they will fatten faster and produce more milk on sericea than on other hays I have tried.

I am a 100% believer in sericea and plan to continue to increase my acreage."

B. L. JOHNSON, RT. 1, VERBENA—

Mr. Johnson has two acres of sericea he is using for grazing and hay.

Mr. Johnson says, "Sericea is a good soil builder. It is particularly good to improve soil texture or to soften up hard land. Sericea can be used for grazing, hay and seed production. It is a good cash crop as a hay or seed producer."

N. W. LATHAM, MAPLESVILLE—

Mr. Latham has fifty acres of sericea and has winter clover on the same land. He used sericea as pasture, hay, and seed producer.

Mr. Latham says, "My sericea put 100-pound gain on 150 head of cattle. I saved approximately twenty tons of combine run seed and put a big crop of hay in the barn off of it."

MR. H. L. TRAWICK, MAPLESVILLE, RT. 2—

Mr. Trawick has fourteen acres of sericea that he used for cattle and hog grazing, for soil protection, and for hay production.

Mr. Trawick says, "I cut two to three tons of hay per acre and plan to increase my sericea by ten acres in 1950, for hay, soil protection, and water disposal.

WILLIAM E. CLARK

William Eugene Clark, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Clark, of Rt. 1, Clanton, died at a local hospital at 12 noon Sunday. Funeral services were held at Chestnut Creek Cemetery, conducted by the Rev. Cook at 10:00 a.m. Monday, January 23rd.

Surviving are the parents; one sister, Miss Mary Clark, of Clanton; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Clark of Rt. 2, Clanton, Mrs. Charlie M. Levines of Montgomery and W. A. Liveoak of Thorsby Rt. 1.

Baptist Church Notes—

Baptismal services were held Sunday following the evening worship service for Mrs. R. N. Minor and Mrs. E. C. Pounds. We are happy to welcome these two fine women into our church family.

The hearts of loved ones and friends of Bro. Ollis Littleton were made glad in his (using his own words), "Unconditional Surrender" to God and His call to preach the gospel. He enrolled in the Howard Extension Course last Thursday night. May the prayers of all praying people be for his continued service in this field.

The church extends its heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kendrick in the loss of their infant.

The attendance at Wednesday evening prayer service continues to be good. Everyone enjoys studying together the Book of Acts. Bro. Burks is conducting this study in his own inimitable way and those of you who are missing out on this weekly church service are losing golden moments which can never be recalled.

The Training Union broke the attendance record at the service last Sunday evening. The B.T.U. has a place all its own in the training department of church work. Everyone who can do so should enroll and attend this service.

Next Sunday has been set aside by the Protestant Churches of Alabama, as Alabama Temperance Day. This is an organization made up of all the Protestant churches of Alabama. It is certain nothing will be done about this disgraceful traffic in liquor unless it is done by the pastors and Christian people.

You have a cordial welcome waiting you at the Thorsby Baptist Church to attend all church services.

MACEDONIA

As we all know Sunday was as lovely as any day; as rare as a day in June. Over our country many hearts trembled with gladness and praise, yet, others wept bitterly. Every day we live and are happy, we should give thanks and be glad, for although our time of weeping has been prolonged, we know not the hour it cometh.

Because of my not being able to attend church Sunday, the news is a little more rare than a day in June, nevertheless, I hope to be able to attend hereafter.

Saturday night a shower was given at the home of Miss Miriah Freeman, honoring Mrs. Proctor Davenport. The hostesses were: Mrs. Jimmie Ward, Mrs. Coy Rasberry and Mrs. Roy Rasberry. Several were present and others sent gifts.

Let me say in my behalf, there are no words to express my appreciation. There is something which you can neither see nor touch. You can feel it, and it's so sweet and blessed it's hard to hold back the tears, not of sorrow, but great joy and thankfulness. That's the way I felt Saturday night.

Perhaps some day I'll have an opportunity to repay a small portion of everyone's goodness. Special thanks are due Miss Miriah Freeman and the hostesses.

Gordon Drafted To Make Race For Governor

At a state-wide Convention of all Pension groups who met in Clanton, Alabama, recently, Wiley Gordon of Oneonta was drafted to make the race for Governor.

Gordon, a business man who has been active on behalf of Pensions for old folks since 1939, and who is the founder of the Old-Age Pension movement in Alabama, and who the Pension forces urged to run for Governor in 1943, but refused at that time to make the race because of the fact that the people had not become pension-minded enough to support a candidate without the cooperation of the business interests of our state, feels today that sufficient education with regards to old-age security has placed a different light upon this question.

He is the author of the State Social Security Pension Plan that would provide pensions without any "additional taxes." The plan pays the present old-age generation a pension although they are sixty-five and older and would not be able to contribute into such a plan, but they would receive a pension like those who will follow after them as contributors. The purpose of the plan is for each active generation up to sixty-four years of age to provide security for their predecessors.

Already many thousands of old and young who believe in the "Gordon Social Security Pension Plan," as it is called, have signed "Voters Pledge Cards," agreeing to work and vote for the candidates who will support the "State Plan." Gordon contends that his plan will have to be adopted if pensions are paid, and schools are to be kept open. He points out that pension forces and school forces fight over tax appropriations, but by setting up a State Department of Pensions and supporting it with State Social Security contributions would take the old people off the hands of the Legislature, thereby giving all the money that would have to go to pensions to schools.

He contends that Alabama can pay $65.00 Old-Age Pensions, and twelve months school teachers salaries without raising taxes a single dime.

Gordon says further: "Alabama can do either of two things; set up the State Social Security Pension Plan, or get ready to raise $20 millions of dollars a year through taxes to provide match funds for old-age pensions."

Old people have the votes, and they are tired of promises without plans. Farmers, merchants, housewives, self-employed groups not under the National Social Security Act, are tired of paying other peoples' security when they themselves get nothing but the privilege of helping them pay for their security. All the above uncovered groups would be under the State Social Security Pension Plan.

Gordon is 58 years old, born in Etowah County, raised in Morgan County, has lived in Blount County the past 16 years, operates cotton gins and a warehouse, and was for several years connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture (Cotton Dept.), Washington, D.C.

At the conclusion of the meeting, he stated that he appreciated the spirit shown by the people and their confidence in the things he stands for; therefore, he said, "I suppose I will have to run, and while I stand for the security of all of our people both young and old, I would advocate 12 months school teachers salaries, good roads, and many reforms that would work for the betterment of our people in general without imposing needless tax burdens."

Released by the State Committee and the State Social Security Plan.
(Pd. pol. adv. by State S.S.C.)

TIME SHORT TO APPLY FOR ALLOTMENTS

The time is running short for farmers in Chilton County to apply for a peanut allotment for 1950. February 15 has been set by the State PMA Office as the last day on which farmers may apply for a peanut allotment in 1950. We have plenty of forms in the Chilton County PMA Office, come by as soon as possible and make your application. M. E. Lord, your County Administrative Officer wishes to emphasize the importance of getting these applications in early.

YOUR COTTON ALLOTMENT APPLICATION IMPORTANT

Now for the all important subject—cotton. The farmers in Chilton County who haven't already received a cotton allotment or the ones who haven't made an application for a new grower allotment are urged to make an application right away. Those who are eligible to make an application are those farmers who are on a farm where there wasn't any cotton grown in either of the three years 1946, '47, '48. If a farmer is in doubt he should check with the PMA Office by February 15.

JAMES FOSTER KING DIED RECENTLY AT BILLINGSLEY

One of Autauga's outstanding citizens, James Foster King, died Saturday morning, January 21st, at 11:00 at his home in Billingsley following a lengthy illness. Mr. King spent some time in the hospital recently, and was returned to his home somewhat improved, but little hope was held for his recovery. He was 70 years of age.

A native of Dallas County, Mr. King had lived in Autauga County and had made his home in Billingsley since 1903. He served as rural mail carrier for 30 years prior to his retirement on May 31, 1949, because of failing health. He was succeeded by a daughter, Miss Mabel King, who resigned as post mistress at Billingsley to accept the appointment.

Mr. King's only son, J. Bertram King, of Prattville and Montgomery, is state purchasing agent.

Besides the son and daughter Mr. King is survived by his wife, Mrs. Genie Apperson King, to whom he was married on February 17, 1904; two grandchildren, Judy and Cathy King, and three brothers and a sister who are John M. King, of Prattville; P. R. and Claude C. King and Mrs. Ila B. Herman of Jones. Miss Lillie D. Worrell of Lake Wales, Fla., is an aunt.

Funeral services were held from the Billingsley Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a member, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. J. D. Hopper, of Mt. Creek, officiating. Burial was in the Jones Baptist Cemetery with Griffin in charge.

Active pallbearers were: Messrs. W. F. Gafford, D. M. Jones, Floyd Gilliland, W. F. Harris, Joe Turner and E. S. Harrison. Honorary pallbearers were Messrs. J. W. Pattillo, J. F. DeWitt, L. A. Marlar, J. F. Apperson, W. A. Patrick and J. F. Sheppard.

MT. PISGAH

Our attendance was smaller last Sunday, but we believe this was due to several being sick.

Mrs. Pauline Dureen and Mr. Roy Knight are in a Selma hospital. Both are improving and we hope will soon be home.

Mrs. Elijah Chadwick, Miss Alma Faye Chadwick and Mr. Oscar Davis missed service Sunday because of illness. We expect them back next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coggins and Mabeline spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Odell Jones and Diane.

We had at church with us Mrs. Alford Yeargan of Talladega. She was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mims.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Devaughn left immediately after Sunday School to attend preaching service at Maple Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mims are moving to Montgomery this week. They will be missed by everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Jones were the Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis.

Everyone who can come to church next Sunday—come. We have an interesting lesson on Widening Our Horizons.—Mrs. Odell Jones, Reporter.

CANCER, DISEASE OF YOUNG AND OLD

Cancer — once considered an "old person's disease" — today ranks second as a cause of death among children from 1 to 14 years old. It is first on the list of death-causing diseases in the 5 to 9 year age group.

These facts, taken from a statistical study of cancer among children made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, were released here today by Mrs. Lillian Thompson Simpson, Chilton County Commander for the American Cancer Society.

Leukemia is the most common type of fatal cancer in children, accounting for more than four out of every ten cancer deaths in the age group, Mrs. Simpson pointed out. Brain cancer ranked second, causing 17 per cent of the cancer deaths in children between 1 and 14; cancer of the bladder and kidney was third with seven per cent, and cancer of the bone followed with six per cent.

The startling increase in children's deaths charged to cancer was indicated in the report by a comparison between statistics for 1930 and 1947. Figures for 20 years ago indicated that cancer was responsible for one death out of every 50 caused by disease in children between 1 to 14 years old. In 1947, the figure was one out of every nine such deaths.

The increase has been substantial in every period of childhood, but was greatest at 5 to 9 years. The outstanding feature of the trend, the report points out, is in the increase in the percentage of deaths reported from brain tumors.

"The statistics about cancer among children are not cheerful figures," Mrs. Simpson declared. "But medical authorities believe that the situation is not as black as the figures would indicate.

"More accurate diagnosis is now possible. Now more cancer cases probably are reported correctly. Other diseases that formerly caused a large number of deaths during childhood have been largely brought under control. All these factors probably contribute to the blackness of the statistical picture of cancer among children," she explained.

"But even though some of the figures may not be entirely accurate, the situation still is very serious.

"There are an increasing number of reports of children who are being cured of cancer when their cases are diagnosed and treated early. This means that parents must be alert to the danger signals of cancer in their children, and must see that periodic medical checkups are continued beyond the period of infancy," Mrs. Simpson declared. "Cancer, at any age, must be treated while it is in its early stages, if chances of cure are to be good.

"Meantime," she said, "cancer researchers are devoting a major portion of their time to an effort to find out more about how cancer affects children and to discover more effective ways to diagnosis and treat it if it does strike."

A simple, easy-to-understand booklet prepared by the American Cancer Society, giving information about this dread disease, may be had by addressing your request to "Cancer," Clanton, Ala.

A table of weights and measures attached to the inside of a kitchen cabinet door is very handy for ready reference.

Fine Oysters Now Being Harvested In Alabama Gulf Reefs

Some 900 tongers are at work harvesting what many regard as the nation's finest oysters from the reefs in Alabama's coastal waters, it was revealed by Conservation Director Bert E. Thomas. Director Thomas said that this was the largest number in years.

A seed oyster and shell planting program initiated three years ago by the Department of Conservation is credited with producing the present bountiful bivalve crop. Enough oysters are now being produced along Alabama's coast line to supply the state's needs, Mr. Thomas said.

BIRD HUNTERS ASKED TO MAIL LEG BANDS

Auburn, Ala. — Alabama sportsmen are asked not to keep leg bands they found on mourning doves taken during the season. If one or more leg bands were found, they should be flattened out and sent with a letter to the Bird Banding Office, Patuxent Research Refuge, Laurel, Md.

"Information contained in the letter," states Earl F. Kennamer, A.P.I. Extension Service fish and wildlife specialist, "should include the tag number, the location where the bird was killed, the date on which it was bagged, and the manner in which the dove was taken. The hunter should also write down the tag number and keep it at home because the band may be lost from the envelope. If the hunter wishes to have the tag returned as a souvenir, he should mention this in his letter."

SMALL WOODLANDS CAN PRODUCE CONTINUOUSLY

Many people have the idea that a forest cannot be managed so it will produce a continuous supply of forest products unless it covers thousands of acres. There are, however, a number of small farm woodlands that are being managed very well for continuous production.

I. R. Martin, A.P.I. Extension Service forester, says that one of the best managed woodlots in the state, only 10 acres in size, belongs to Mr. Louis Hendrix, Route 4, Greenville.

"Looking at his stand from a short distance," says Martin, "it does not seem that anything has been cut from it in many years. But, 25,000 board feet were harvested in 1942 and 80 pieces of piling in 1944, leaving good sized sawtimber standing and young trees growing."

PIGS SAVED

In 1949 United States hog raisers saved 13 per cent more pigs than they did in 1948. In Alabama, pigs saved jumped to 23 per cent.

COX'S STATEMENT

fire towers to protect our forests.

During this administration the County and Federal Government have put something over $600,000 in our road construction in this county. At this time we have one other seven-mile road project under construction and plans for three other projects this year.

It has been rumored around the county by some of my political enemies that I haven't supported old age pension legislation. This is untrue. I have supported every bill introduced in the House or in the Rules Committee.

I have never failed to support any bill introduced to benefit welfare, schools, roads, or our service men.

If the people of this county see fit to send me back to Montgomery I will do the same at the next session of the State Legislature.

C. B. COX.

(Pd. pol. adv.)

JIM PLOTT WILL MAKE RACE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

To The Voters Of Chilton County:

I will qualify with the Secretary of State next week for Representative from Chilton County. I firmly believe that I can be of great service to the people and here list a few of the things that I am for and will work to bring about if I am elected to represent you in the State Legislature:

I am for mail box roads.

I am for Old-Age Pensions, first, last and always.

I am for 12 months pay for school teachers.

I am for free lunches for school children.

I am for putting the sales tax on the wholesaler to collect instead of the merchant. That would take the tax agents off the road and save the taxpayers two to three million dollars annually.

I am for exempting everything that is a necessity of life from sales tax.

I will not pass any local bills without first submitting them to the people.

I will not vote any increase in taxes.

These things I promise to work for if you will send me to Montgomery to represent you in the State Legislature.

Sincerely,
JIM PLOTT.
(Pd. pol. adv.)

SHERIFF NIVENS ASKS REELECTION

To the Voters of Chilton County:

I have qualified as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Chilton County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in May. I do this with the full confidence that I have filled my office well and am justified in asking your support in electing me to another term.

During the years I have spent as your Sheriff we have done much in the way of closing up honky tonks, bootlegging, etc. I believe the fair-minded voters of this county will agree that conditions are much improved.

If the voters see fit to honor me again with this office I have years of experience to offer the county and I feel that a much better job can be done the next four years with an experienced officer filling the office than with an inexperienced man trying to do the job.

When I ask your support, I do so promising absolute honesty in office, and with the object in mind to work for a better Chilton County at all times. Doing the job as the statutes regulate and showing partiality to no special citizen or group of citizens.

I will try to visit with each and every one of you during the coming campaign, in the meantime, if I can be of service to you, please call on me.

Your Friend,
J. A. NIVENS.

DAIRY CATTLE

Indications are that the downward trend in dairy cattle numbers has been checked and in some areas has started upward.

EASY-TO-GROW FRUIT

The rabbit-eye blue berry will grow in any part of Alabama. They do especially well on land that is low and rather moist but not marshy. A family needs 15 to 25 bushes spaced 15 feet apart. Keep bushes cut back so you will not need a ladder to harvest berries.

"National Maid Of Cotton" Makes Visit To Clanton

WELCOMING THE COTTON QUEEN TO CLANTON

(By Yvonne Hargrove)

On Saturday morning, February 11, at 9:35, a plane came sailing out of a slightly cloudy sky carrying only three passengers. Charlie Preston, the navigator, Jim Wade, manager of the National Maid of Cotton and last but not least, "The National Maid of Cotton" herself, Miss Elizabeth McGee. Miss McGee hails from Spartanburg, S. C., and is only 19 years old. Her tour will include 4,500 miles of territory. Of the 4,500 miles Birmingham was her first stop. Clanton, her second stop, was very proud to have this young lady to visit us. Her tour will include 30 cities in this country, as well as England and France, doing fashion shows in the leading Department stores in each town she visits. Her wardrobe consists of 34 costumes, designed by America's top designers.

Judge Parrish was on the welcoming committee that greeted her at the Clanton Airport, and also visited the Mill.

Miss McGee stated that this was the second textile mill she had ever been in. She also stated that she thought she would get tired of going through so many mills, but so far she hasn't and every time she goes through a mill, she learns something new.

She also said that the weather that Alabama was having right now reminded her of South Carolina.

Mr. Wade, who has been all over England and visited textile plants all over the world, stated that this was one of the nicest and cleanest plants he had ever been in. He was quite fascinated in the process of making corduroy.

Miss McGee was wearing a beautifully tailored cotton suit set off with a blouse, and was wearing a beautiful brown corduroy coat. Her accessories were black and red.

She said one of the biggest thrills she had yet had was riding in Charlie Preston's small private plane. However, I'm sure I was more thrilled when Mr. Preston took Mr. Bob Argo, Miss McGee and myself up for a spin.

Miss McGee thought our little town was wonderful. She said that everyone was so nice to her that she hated to leave.

We hope Miss McGee has a very pleasant trip while on her cross country tour.

Miss McGee also stated that while in the final contest at Memphis, Tenn., Alabama's maid of cotton really had her worried. Although Alabama's own Sara Jones didn't win, we wish to congratulate Miss McGee, and wish her the best of luck and much success in everything.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Maddox attended the Ice Follies of 1950 in Birmingham last Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mims of Montgomery visited Mrs. Mims's mother, Mrs. N. A. Gray, during the week end.

LAWRENCE PAINT CO. IN NEW HOME

The Lawrence Paint Company that recently moved into their new home has completed decorations and have their store ready for inspection

J. P. Lawrence, Jr., co-owner of the store with Maurice Wyatt, stated that the store might not be the biggest store in Clanton and it may not be the most expensive, but he would stand anyone down that it was the prettiest. This week they are giving away an expensive set of silver and 10 venetian blinds to customers who register at the store. If they hold a lucky number, that is.

More Than One Straw

Often some good citizen of our county stops to congratulate us on an idea expressed in these columns. But why, oh why, are the same good citizens so reluctant to write a letter with their name signed to it, adding their "2 cents worth," and perhaps thereby encouraging others to do the same.

No feature is so interesting in the daily press as the "Letter to the Editor" columns. Think how much more interesting one could be on this page. In Chilton County where nearly everyone is known to each other the value of such letters would be so much greater.

The next time you get an idea that might benefit others or have something worthwhile to say, sit down then and write a letter to the editor of this newspaper. We'll publish it on this page. If you are bashful and would rather your name would not appear in print we will leave it off, however, we don't believe anyone in this county is that bashful.

Where a suggestion here blooms and dies, a lot of letters on the same subject would get things done. It wasn't one straw that broke the camel's back.

Alcoholic Anonymous

Miss Ruth Hicks, Guest Editorialist

Several attended the meeting of the "Alcoholics Anonymous Group at the City Hall in Clanton Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Appearing in The Dothan Eagle and The Selma-Times Journal recently the following:

There isn't a thinking individual in the United States who doesn't take his hat off to Alcoholics Anonymous. For selfless service to humanity, for sincerity and frankness, this loosely formed organization that operates without rules and dues is without peer. It is held together only by the desire of its members to help others go through a day of sobriety, then pass another day without taking a drink, then another, another and so on.

The AA is a success for several reasons. There is no sham about it, no hypocrisy, but only forthright frankness. Every member will tell you that he can't handle liquor. The AA is non-political inside and out. It is non-denominational, non-interfering and, above all, non-profit. All these things add up to its success and account for the respect it enjoys.

The other day a woman who had learned how to stay sober through AA left the organization $10,000 in her will, with no strings attached.

AA leaders in New York turned it down. Members of the AA, they said in a statement that they believed [illegible] the public, have found that "the acquisition of property or money other than that raised by passing the hat at their own meetings tends to divert them from their primary task of helping other drunks."

The AA will take into membership any person who has a liquor problem. There is no screening, no inquiry into background, no questioning. Yet, wide open as it is, no one has crept into the organization and tried to take it over to make it into an organization for personal or collective gain. And they never will.

It would be easy to raise funds for AA. In fact, many chapters are often asked to accept gifts to promote their work. With a promoter they could make a killing.

But the AA says "no," to a gift of $1.00 or $10,000. If the alcoholics need money for expenses, they'll take it out of their own pocket. The only thing they are interested in is helping another drunk reach and hold fast to sobriety.

They are, as they say, a bunch of drunks. But what principle and what an example they are setting in the man's relation to men.

Friendships mean a lot

You know, it could safely be said that ours is a town that friendship built. Whether it is in business dealings or personal visits, a cheery atmosphere of friendliness always seems to be apparent. Guess maybe that's one of the biggest and best reasons anyone could have for being proud to call a place "the old home town." Guess that's the reason why everyone in "Our Town" says it's the best place in which to live, trade, and do business.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

That's a nasty thing to say. Last week we wrote a paragraph about the candidates pictures frightening the kiddies. Well, Charlie Cox said if the picture at the head of this column hadn't already frightened them out of their wits, he supposed it was safe to run any and all the candidate pictures without worry about the kiddies. Hum-m.

Robert Clemens is able to be up and about. His right leg is still in a plaster cast and he has difficulty getting about but you know the old saying—you can't keep a good man down. Well, brother Clemens is ready for some business. He is in the market for some income tax returns to make for Clanton and Chilton County residents. He says he can be found at 1707 Glendale Drive and will appreciate the business. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Bob Argo, who is with Ala. Mills in Birmingham, called us Friday night and gave us the opportunity of a lifetime. We will have to do something nice for Bob. . such a fine fellow. Oh yeah, we were telling you about Friday night. Bob called and told us the National Maid of Cotton, or Queen of Cotton, or something, anyway a beautiful lady, would be in early Saturday morning and he wanted us to (this is the good part) interview the young lady when she stepped off the plane at the airport. Well, you won't believe it, but the party that runs our house decided that we would go to Birmingham real early Saturday morning to spend the week end. Well, to make a long story short, we went to Birmingham Saturday morning early to spend the week end. That's the nearest we ever came to meeting a Queen.

It looks like the Clanton Grammar School Parent-Teachers made a big success of their play, "Miss Blue Bonnet." We've heard just lots and lots of favorable comment on the play and the players. So many are to be complimented on their work in the play and on the arrangements that we won't call any names. Suffice it to say that all who were connected with the production are to be congratulated for their contribution to the Parent-Teachers Association.

Here's one to think about. We lifted it from Alapressa who lifted it from Coronet magazine:

When someone stops advertising,
Someone stops buying.
When someone stops buying,
Someone stops selling.
When someone stops selling,
Someone stops making.
When someone stops making,
Someone stops earning.
When someone stops earning,
Someone stops buying.

Get your tickets and get ready for the big show at the New Wadesonian Friday night. Clanton Lions Club will choose their Queen for 1950 and in addition give away about fifty valuable prizes. Everything from screw drivers to table lamps is on the list of prizes and your chance is just as good as anybody's if you are a holder of a lucky number. Course if you don't hold a lucky number, your chances ain't so good. But the idea is to be there for the fun. There'll be enough for every body.

Attention! Mr. R. M. Tucker, Editor

Dear Mrs. Tucker:

I am enclosing an announcement of our next Alabama State Society Ball to be held here in Washington, D.C.

As the Secretary of this organization, formerly a resident of Chilton County and one who still claims the farm of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie C. Gay, Sr., located in the southwest corner of "our" county as my home, and sister to your County and State Forester, Charlie C. Gay, Jr., residing in your city, I would appreciate any publicity you are able to give this announcement as well as requesting any persons from Chilton County living in the District or visiting here and desiring additional information to contact me. My home telephone number is Columbia 9742. (Usually home from work by 6:15 p.m. each evening.) Maybe others get the Chilton County News as I do. Honest, my mother couldn't have given me a nicer birthday present. I enjoy reading it each week.

Alabama has other active activities here and I'll gladly give information relative thereto to any who call or write me.

Thanking you for your kindness, I am,

Very truly yours,
ILA RUTH GAY,
Secretary Alabama State Society.

Senator Hill Urges Action Against Espionage Danger

Senator Lister Hill called for steps to strengthen America's internal security after hearing much confidential testimony from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in a closed-door session of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

As he urged stronger measures for United States security, Senator Hill said it was imperative that America press forward with development of the hydrogen bomb as well as renew her all-out efforts for effective international control of atomic weapons through the United Nations.

Hill is a member of the Appropriations Committee's subcommittee on the armed services which handles appropriations for national defense. During the war, as a member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, Hill took the leadership in pushing through many vital wartime measures.

Hill said he was able to disclose after testimony that subversive activity in the United States was now at an all time high. The FBI, he declared, had broken the spy case of Dr. Klaus Fuchs, British atomic scientist arrested in London for passing secret data to Russia.

"We can be certain," Senator Hill said, "that if war comes again it will not be any more like World War II than that war was like the trench warfare of the First World War. In addition to jet-propelled, radar-guided missiles with atomic warheads, another war would be a war of political aggression, fifth columns, sabotage, infiltration, and propaganda.

"We have already seen this type of warfare in Czechozlovakia and other countries taken over by Russia. It is being carried on in China and the Far East today. We must be prepared against this warfare from within, as well as against military attack from without."

Hoover appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee to request funds for additional FBI Agents. Hill said he supported Hoover's request.

The Court of County Commissioners met this February 6, 1950, with all of the members of the court present with Chairman W. L. Parrish, Judge of Probate, presiding. By previous invitation to the land owners and patrons of the road from Clanton toward Enterprise School, the court met with the land owners and patrons in the assembly room of the City Hall. A large group of land owners, with as many or more friends, gave words of good wishes and cooperation. Everyone is willing to furnish all the land which is needed for the rights-of-way on both sides of the road as the road goes through his property or each person is willing in sharing 50-50 with his neighbor for the rights-of-way. No trees, vines, bushes or shrubbery was reserved nor any storm pits, necessities or luxuries were reserved. The court wishes for this to go on record with the expression of thanks for wholehearted cooperation of the entire group. Also a special word of thanks goes to the goodly number of ladies present.

Unity Y.W.A. Rally—

The Unity Association Young Woman's Auxiliaries will meet at Alpine Church for a Rally on Sunday, February 26th, at 2:30 p.m. The theme for the program is "Young Women for Christ." Everyone is invited. Young women of Y.W.A. age are invited to be present.

Mrs. R. L. Bondurant, Fairfield, Ala., district young people's leader, will be guest speaker. Y.W.A.'s will take part on the program.

It is with grateful hearts we report we now have seven organized Young Woman's Auxiliaries in this Association. These young women are, through mission study and the planned programs of their organization, opening the windows of their hearts and letting the vision out and the world need in as they find their place in service for the Lord.

Churches where there is an organized Y.W.A. and their capable, consecrated counselors are as follows:

Alpine — Miss Sara Nell Moore.
Bethesda — Mrs. Payton Langford.
Clanton — Mrs. Clemon Henley.
Ebenezer — Mrs. Bill Ruddick.
Indian Grave — Mrs. Leroy Childs and Mrs. Elbert Jones.
Maplesville — Mrs. V. B. Potts.
West End — Miss Euna Powell.

Our goal is organizations for every age young people in the Baptist churches of Unity Association. We have only touched the hem of His garment in our responsibility to the young people of this community. The prophet Isaiah gives us our marching orders, "Behold I set thee to build and to plant."

Come! And be blessed in encouraging our young people to grow in wisdom and in statute and in favor with God and man.

Helen Hayes Busy With Full Schedule and Activities

Personality Interview—Cooper Speaks

Helen Floyd Hayes of Clanton is one University of Alabama student who makes every minute count. Right now she is busy rehearsing a sorority skit for the Jason's Jamboree on the University campus February 16. "I will do the same old Carmen Miranda song and dance routine which is already so familiar to all the home folks." Helen said.

By budgeting her time Helen has been able to do many other things besides rehearse, however. She has worked on the school magazine, the Rammer-Jammer, and has helped in campus charity drives. During the fall quarter she made a 2.9 average in the School of Commerce out of a possible 3.0. She is therefore keeping up the excellent record she made in high school.

Helen is the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hayes. She graduated from Chilton County high school last spring as valedictorian. In the fall she entered the University to major in secretarial studies.

Helen likes the University because of the many interesting people here. "Since I have been here I have met people of all religious, nationalities, and from all sections of the country," Helen said.

Helen likes all her studies here, but her favorite subject is religion. "Religion class has taught me how much people differ in their views and how one creed may be as good as another one," Helen added. "I, too, have taken a broader outlook on life because of this class, and now more than ever I want to find things out for myself," she continued.

Though Helen is majoring in secretarial studies, her major outside interest is music. "I had such a conflict when I came to college," Helen said. "I just couldn't make up my mind whether to major in music or to go into the School of Commerce." Helen chose Commerce, but she is continuing her study of voice. She hopes to continue in music through college and to emphasize it after graduation, she said.

Meanwhile Helen will sing and dance on college programs while she studies math and shorthand. During the fall she made a hit in a sorority skit presented in the Sigma Chi Derby here.

Right now Helen is excited over a shiny new sorority pin which she received January 31. A big pearl in the center of the pin will soon be replaced by a diamond which her sorority is giving her for making the highest grade of the new initiates.

"I don't know how I did it," Helen said. Her friends know how she received this honor, however. For a little girl Helen manages to get a great deal of work done.

And that is the secret of her success. By carefully budgeting her time Helen has combined studying and activities into a well-rounded college life. And for Helen, college life "just can't be beat."

CENSUS BUREAU'S CURRENT POPULATION SURVEY

Information on the number of persons who are currently unable to obtain full-time work will be developed in the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey in February, it was announced today by Program Supervisor Helen N. Thornton, from the office at Clanton, Ala.

The Current Population Survey interviews each month a representative cross-section of 25,000 households throughout the country, including a number in the Chilton, Perry area, Mrs. Thornton said. The study to be made in February is one of a special series designed to assess the impact of reduced hours upon the nation's employment situation. According to a similar study conducted in November, about 2½ million persons were working short hours because of slack work, layoffs, or because full-time jobs were not available and similar economic factors.

This month, special questions will again be addressed to all persons who worked only part time during the survey week. These questions, which will supplement the regular questions on employment and unemployment, are designed to find out why persons working part time are on a limited work schedule and whether they would prefer full-time work.

The survey will be conducted in the Chilton-Perry area during the week of February 13 to 18. Supervisor Thornton emphasized that all individual information furnished the Census Bureau is treated in absolute confidence and that only statistical summaries are published.

Seven Months Old Tot Fatally Burned

The seven months old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Bearden near Maplesville at Randolph was burned to death last Thursday morning when their home was totally destroyed by flames.

Mr. and Mrs. Bearden were a short distance from the house when they became aware of the fire. Running hysterically into the burning building, Mr. Bearden found that the overhead ceiling had fallen in and he was unable to reach the child.

They have two other small children who had gotten out of the house safely.

All their belongings were destroyed. The cause of the fire was attributed to a defective electric wiring.

The infant child, Carolyn Delois Bearden, was buried Friday at Oak Grove Baptist Cemetery near Randolph, Ala.

An advertisement elsewhere in Chilton County News in this issue gives complete details.

Roll Call Next Sunday At First Methodist Church

Next Sunday, February 26, is Roll Call Sunday in the First Methodist Church, according to an announcement made today by the minister, Rev. W. Brunson Atkinson. "In many of our Churches over America, the first Sunday in Lent is Roll Call day, and the members are urged to observe Lent by being present at least once each Sunday during Lent," the local minister said. "In our church here, we are using the "Lenten Self-Denial Offering Banks" in our homes and will bring them back to church on Easter Sunday. The offering this year will go to World Service, or Missions," he added.

The Junior Stewards took as their project the matter of the distribution of these little "Easter Banks"—placing one in each home where there is a member of the First Methodist Church.

Every member, and of course, the many friends of the First Methodist Church are urged to be present next Sunday for the Roll Call, and every Sunday throughout Lent. Large crowds are attending the local church and there are to be special messages, based upon the Seven Last Words of the Master, for the next seven Sunday mornings, it was announced.

Nursery Open From 9:45 to 12—

The nursery at the First Methodist Church is kept by a practical nurse each Sunday from 9:45 to 12, and the parents are urged to bring their little infants and kindergarten children to the nursery. This makes it possible for both the fathers and the mothers to attend church school and church.

Mr. Roy Roper is superintendent of the adult division of the church school and an active worker in this class.

Board of Education Meets—

Mr. Joe Campbell is the superintendent and is kept busy planning for this group. The Junior Board of Stewards and the all-girl choir represent some of the recent planning and work. Also, in this age-group there is an active dramatic and radio guild, under the direction of Mr. Paul Reid.

National Brotherhood Week Observed; Mayor Issues Proclamation

National Brotherhood Week will be observed for the seventeenth consecutive year February 19-26th under the sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, announces Donald Comer, State Chairman and Jefferson County Chairman of the observance. "With the Governor of our State and the Mayors of our cities and towns, I join in asking all Alabamians to unite in the observance in schools, churches and clubs of all kinds," said Mr. Comer.

* * * *

By executive proclamation Governor James E. Folsom has designated the week of February 19-26 as Brotherhood Week in this state.

In calling on all Alabamians to join with the rest of the nation in making the observance, the Governor said, "One of the greatest heights an individual can reach is to learn to love his fellow man, regardless of race, color, creed, or political views."

"The first step toward this enviable goal," the Governor added, "must be taken at home through making a special effort to respect the rights and feelings of our neighbors and acquaintances with whom we come in contact during our daily life."

"Lasting domestic and world peace can only become a reality when mankind learns to live together in a common bond of fellowship born out of understanding."

* * * *

The following proclamation has been issued by many mayors in the state.

WHEREAS, the American Brotherhood was founded in 1928 by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc., to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, and to analyze, moderate and finally eliminate intergroup prejudices which disfigure and distort religious, businesses, social and political relations, with a view to the establishment of a social order in which the religious ideals of brotherhood and justice shall become the standards of human relationships;

WHEREAS the week of Washington's Birthday, February 19th to 26th, 1950, has been set as the Seventeenth Annual American Brotherhood Week, and;

WHEREAS the Father of our Country was among the first to see that to achieve this goal our Government must give to bigotry no sanction, to persecution no assistance;

THEREFORE, I, C. Fenn Jones, by virtue of authority invested in me as Mayor of the City of Clanton, do hereby proclaim the week of Washington's Birthday, February 19th to 26th, 1950, as Brotherhood Week in Clanton, and call upon all of our citizens to rededicate themselves during this period to the principles of the Brotherhood of Man under the Fatherhood of God.

Signed this, the 19th of February, 1950.

C. FENN JONES, Mayor.

Mr. Donald Comer announces that the Rev. W. B. Atkinson of Clanton is serving as Brotherhood Chairman of Chilton County.

Folks and Things About Town

Ordinarily we wouldn't admit it but we are going to let you in on a secret. Members of the Clanton Lions Club are pro-Fain. Not necessarily profane There's a difference you know. A great difference. In fact we're pro-Fain, too. We think she is about the cutiest little girl the Lions could have named their 1950 Queen.

John M. Higgins is a candidate for member of the State Democratic Executive Committee from this, the Sixth District. There will be eight elected from this District. John is the only one we know of running from Chilton County. All loyal Chilton Countians should get behind him and let their friends in the other Counties of the Sixth District know they want John Higgins elected. You know in a race like that, where, when and if, you are elected it costs you money to belong, there isn't much interest shown by the voters. As a rule they go down the list and put their mark by the name they are most familiar with. Well, it's our job to see that the voters in the other six counties get familiar with the name of John Higgins. The counties of the Sixth District are: Chilton, Shelby, Tuscaloosa, Hale, Green, Sumter and Bibb.

Jeff Miller missed his calling. He should have been a radio announcer. We heard his fishing program the other evening over WKLF and were surprised. We thought we were listening to a professional instead of our local business men. In this locality the program too, should be mighty popular where fishing stories are the favorite indoor sport.

Speaking of radio programs, have you heard Helen Parrish's "Listen and Learn" program. Somehow we never had been near the radio when she went on the air until the other afternoon. Her program is well named and Helen is really good. Knowing absolutely nothing about radio work, we are an authority on the subject, but if you can't take our word, listen and learn. You'll be a Helen Parrish fan, as we are, after you hear her once.

Note the new gutters going in on Sixth Street between Fourth and Fifth Avenue North. Going to be a wonderful improvement. Asked a City Councilman to investigate the possibility of a fire hydrant somewhere in the vicinity of Dent Williams new home. The closest one is at Terry Marcus' and there are a dozen families that would benefit, with more being added all the time. Too, it would give another outlet closer to the end of the water main for the purpose of "clearing up" the water for users close to the end of the main. Said he would look into the matter for us, but must have found the idea all wet. We haven't heard a thing.

This is Brotherhood Week. Just in case you aren't entirely familiar with what Brotherhood Week is, let us try to tell you. The week is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. The purpose is to emphasize the principle and fact of human brotherhood, as taught by two great and related religions. Observe it in spirit and in fact.

Mr. W. C. Nuss, who operates the Nuss Tin Shop, was badly injured Saturday about noon when his automobile was in collision with another vehicle on the Montgomery Highway just north of Prattmont. He was rushed to the hospital here where it was found several ribs had been pulled loose and his injuries were painful. We're sorry about Mr. Nuss and hope he heals fast and gets along okey.

Collect Revival

It is encouraging to know that God will pour out His Spirit upon any group of people that will seek His divine blessing. The recent revival at Wheaton College in Illinois is a proof of this statement. It was the best that was in the students of that College which responded to the moving of the Holy Spirit conviction, and caused them to confess their sins, and to confess faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. It was not weakness on their part at all, but a sure evidence of a soul hunger for something more real in life, and for a deeper life with their Creator.

A. T. HICKMAN

It is significant that God chose a college that had not denied His name, but had been contending for the faith once delivered unto the saints. This shows again that God takes notice to any people who will not deny His Word, but will hold it up as the Light unto our feet, and a Lamp unto our path. Wheaton College is noted for its faith in the Bible, and standing for the fundamental truths taught therein. It would be our prayer that such a spiritual revival would break out in every High School, and every College, and every university in America. It would do more to combat against Communism and all other isms which seek to destroy the American way of life, than any other one thing. I am praying that God will give a spiritual revival to every church denomination in America. Friends, we need to get back to God, and the truths of the Bible to save our nation, and the nations of the World.

The revival at Wheaton College was not started by some "Hell-fire preaching evangelist," or some spectacular, sensational program, but just by the moving of the Holy Spirit. This proves that it came in answer to somebody's prayers. A Supernatural presence of the Spirit of God was witnessed in the chapel. The prayers and confession of sins lasted for 38 hours. God had planned the whole program. What would happen in our churches if we would only allow the Holy Spirit full right of way in our services? Friends, let us do as Wheaton College has done for years, and that is pay much attention to the religious side of life. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thrist after righteousness; for they shall be filled."

MAKE A BALE OR MORE OF COTTON ON EVERY ACRE IN 1950

Each acre of cotton in Chilton County this year should make one bale or more. It will do this if the weather is normal and if you do the following:

1. Plant on the best cotton land on the farm.
2. Prepare a good seedbed and let it settle before planting.
3. Use 500 to 600 pounds of 4-10-7 per acre and side-dress with 100 to 125 pounds of nitrate of soda or equal nitrogen from other sources. This is especially desirable on the lighter sandy soils. You may use 600 pounds of 6-8-4 per acre on heavier soils and where extra potash is not needed.
4. Plant pure seed with 80% or better germination that have been delinted and treated. Use 3 pecks to one bushel of reginned seed per acre.
5. Use one of these varieties—Coker 100 Wilt, Plains, or Stonewilt—good wilt-resistant varieties.
6. Plant on time—April 1 to April 15. For a period of years, cotton planted April 2 at LaFayette Experiment Field, and April 10 at the Prattville and Aliceville Experiment Fields made the highest yields.
7. Space for a regular stand. Plant in rows 3 to 3½ feet apart. Leave enough plants so you will have 2 to 3 stalks per hill 15" to 18" apart when cultivation is completed.
8. Cultivate shallow and often enough to control weeds. Do not destroy stand by careless chopping and plowing.
9. Control boll weevil and other cotton insects with 20% texaphene or the 3-5 mixture of B.H.C.—D.D.T.

Buy at least 30 pounds of poison for each acre of cotton when you buy fertilizer. More poison may be needed but 30 pounds will be enough to protect cotton for one month. Do not start dusting cotton until plants are fruiting freely. Cotton poison is good crop insurance. It will keep if you do not have to use it this year.

If these things are done by every cotton grower, Chilton County should make a good cotton crop this year.

Windows clean easily with one of the following: Two tablespoons of vinegar to four quarts of warm water, two tablespoons of washing soda to four quarts of warm water, or two tablespoons of kerosene to four quarts of warm water.

YOUR HEALTH

DIABETES IN CHILDHOOD

It is estimated that 5 per cent of all diabetic cases begin during the first 10 years of life. Diabetes is considered a hereditary characteristic. There have been many cases, however, in which diabetes appears in families where there was no known history of the disease. It is common for all children to show a fondness for sweets, but it has not been noted that children who develop diabetes had a previous history of overindulgence. The dangerous ages seem to be between the seventh and twelfth year.

Excessive thirst and a corresponding excessive urination may be the first danger signals. Loss of weight, a decrease in appetite and easy fatigue, muscular pain, emotional upsets, increased irritability and poor scholastic performance are other signs. Frequently parents do not realize the significance of these minor symptoms that are disregarded until more critical signs of illness appear. Among these are vomiting and severe abdominal pains, followed by an increasing drowsiness and finally coma.

The patient must be placed under the close supervision and observation of the physician. Diabetic children encounter many problems that the adult diabetic does not have to face. Every effort should be made to shield him from exposure to disease, while at the same time protecting him with available forms of immunization.

Sincere encouragement is far better emotional food than pity. He should be educated as rapidly as possible in the nature and treatment of his disease and learn the two rules that are to govern his life, the daily injection of insulin and adherence to diet. The best thing parents can do for their child is to instill in him the concept that with sensible care of himself he need not fear for his future.

HEART SURGERY

Operating on the heart is like trying to repair an engine while the engine is running; for the heart is an engine, a double-chambered, muscle-powered pump which drives blood through the circulatory system. This engine must be kept running during operation, in order to keep the patient alive.

Heart surgery is a dramatic thing in which a human life is in the balance. There is danger of stopping the engine and danger of fatal bleeding. And most dangerous is the fact that any damage to the interior of the blood-vessel system is likely to be followed by the formation of clots in the blood. These clots may be thrombi which are stationary plugs or emboli which are floating plugs, and either may block the circulation.

Spectacular advances were made in the surgery of heart wounds during the last war when shell fragments and other foreign bodies were removed from the heart chambers themselves. Heart conditions caused by infections are among those now being treated through surgery.

Perhaps the most striking progress in heart surgery is shown in cases of congenital defects of the heart at birth, such as cases popularly known as "blue babies.' Also surgery is now correcting coarctation, a narrowing of the aorta which reduces the flow of blood to the body.

In 1896, a British physician said, "Surgery of the heart has probably reached the limit set by nature." Not so, for surgery of the heart has made more progress in the past ten years than in all previous surgical history.

Baptist Church Notes—

At the morning service last Sunday we received three new members, Mr. Keith Litz, who came to us by letter; Misses Mary Edna Griffin and Melba Littleton, both for baptism. Baptismal services will be held at the close of the worship service next Sunday evening.

The services continue to be well attended and as the church grows numerically, so do we grow spiritually. Everyone who attends these inspiring services, goes away feeling spiritually lifted.

We are now in the midst of getting the educational departments of the building enlarged and reconditioned to take care of the growing membership. The architectural department of the Sunday School Board, Nashville, is drawing the plans. Immediately upon receipt of the accepted plans for our church building department, work will begin on readjusting the basement.

We have voted to buy a Hammond organ and a new piano for the church. We are all rejoicing in this. Anyone wishing to help with either the music or building fund, please see one of the finance committee or if you former members, boys and girls, who were reared here and baptized in this church and moved away wish to help, send your contribution to the pastor, the church clerk or church treasurer of the Thorsby Baptist Church. No, we are not soliciting funds we merely made this statement to you who may receive your county paper and keep in touch with the church of your youth in this way. Many have moved away, some to distant states, and still feel a kindred tie with your home church.

Be sure your old friends remember you and always welcome you back to attend any church service with us.

Ferrill Gibbons has made some good pictures of the church. Anyone wishing to, may see them at the church or Gibbons Studio.

The entire church family is thrilled to hear the Junior Choir sing at the evening services. This group of youngsters have increased numerically until the place set aside for them is filled. More chairs will be provided though when others join them. They add interest to the worship program and this Youth Choir can sing.

A cordial welcome to all to attend the church services at the Thorsby Baptist Church.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court.

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval.
> "It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all.
> "Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes.
> "I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence.
> "But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

> "I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size.
> "If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Letter to the Editor

Editor Chilton County News:

Please publish the following letter which I have this date given to the Editor of The Union-Banner for publication:

To the Editor of The Union-Banner:

In the issue of The Union-Banner, dated February 16, 1950, on page 2, column 6, under the heading of "Report of Auditors on Officials of Chilton County," is the following:

"Proof of illegal delivery and/or use of county gasoline is evidenced by affidavit of J. J. Johnson, road distributor, who disposed of the gas, as stated on orders of Judge W. J. Parrish and all commissioners according to affidavit of Mr. Johnson. Mr. Johnson states in his affidavit that Commissioners Hoyt Freeman, J. Monroe Parrish, R. J. Ousley and Howard Roper also authorized him to put gas into private cars."

I have checked the copy of my affidavit which I made and furnished the auditors and no where therein did I state that Commissioners Hoyt Freeman, J. Monroe Parrish and R. J. Ousley authorized me to put gas into any private automobile, automobile truck or tractor and the foregoing quoted statement to the contrary is false and is a misquotation of what my affidavit contained. At no place in my affidavit did I state that Commissioners Hoyt Freeman, J. Monroe Parrish or R. J. Ousley ever authorized me to put county owned gasoline into privately owned automobiles, automobile trucks or tractors.

I will appreciate your publishing this correction in as prominent place as you can so that the public may be correctly informed of the true facts.

Yours very truly,
J. J. JOHNSON.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS CIRCUIT

I know from various expressions that I am expected to make a person to person canvass. This many can do and all should do when they can. Thus I feel I should explain that this is impossible for me. First, I have been already in two weeks of Grand Juries and have one more possible week. With this week, I have five Jury terms of Court and there are three non-jury sessions totalling about a week. This is seven weeks before the primary. Then I must make preparation. For instance, this week I have 112 cases on the docket. Perhaps no one lawyer or firm will have more than 12 cases, but I must be ready for 112; unless perchance I am willing to be shown up by the very able and shrewd lawyers of this Circuit as an ignoramus, totally incapable and incompetent, and thus costing the counties thousands of dollars each that should go to roads, old age and indigents or to other worthy purposes.

Before entering this office I had four years general practice and one year as County Solicitor. Even then I felt only reasonably able to do creditable comparable work with my esteemed predecessor, Mr. John Bateman. With the vastly increased business of this day, I feel my one greatest appeal for your votes should be the 23 years study and experience you have given me in this position, and that thoughtful voters will know that of all offices this is one that should not be handed out as a favor to some individual but should be reserved for someone capable of favoring all the voters and their children by preserving the County treasuries from constant depletion of large amounts of money that should go to them.

You can easily see that with from 100 to 175 cases on the dockets of Elmore and Chilton, and fewer in Autauga, unless the solicitor with cooperation of other officials expertly handles the docket, and unless the law violators have a fear of the Solicitor that causes many pleas of guilty and profitable compromises, you could easily have Criminal Court constantly in session, thus radically reducing the money available to the Commissioners' Court. The only even partial remedy would be reducing the area of the circuit which is not now in preview.

I have heard of many false rumors against me by those who do not yet know that intelligent voters who are not already against a candidate disregard such unless they are well established before the campaign, and that such rumors aid only the opposition. I have no doubt that disparaging remarks are, or will be, circulated about my opponent. This, if done, is unfair as it is not helpful in determing proper campaign issues. If this is being done or should be done it will be without my approval.

I am in the prime of life, and according to my physician in excellent health.

I will therefore be able to see but few of you and only from the urban centers. I therefore take this method of asking your support, and asking you to help make my campaign by favorably speaking to your family, neighbors and friends.

Very cordially,
WINSTON HUDDLESTON.

WARDROBE TO TAKE ON BRIGHTER LOOK

Auburn, Ala. — No longer do salesladies try to sell customers dull colored dresses for the winter or early-spring wardrobe, observes Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist.

She points out that the traditional navy blue will be pepped up in 1950 with such colors as daffodil yellow, beige, and gold. Also, leading colors will be all of those in the range from beige to gold and from pink to red. Neutral colors used alone or in combination with maple sugar, blue, ivory, navy blue, or black will be in the spotlight. Yellow for both toppers and accessories will be found on the market. The yellow trend includes such colors as mimosa, porcelain, gold, banana, lime and chartreuse.

BUY NEW HYBRID CORN SEED TO ASSURE VIGOR

Auburn, Ala. — Hybrid corn seed is produced as a result of controlled breeding, and the last step in the program produces seed that has what is known as hybrid vigor.

"It is the vigor that makes adapted hybrids outyield the old varieties," reveals Charles F. Simmons, A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist. "But the vigor is lost after the first crop is made, and from then on the yield drops. Seed saved from a planting of hybrid corn will not yield any better than the better open-pollinated varieties and may actually yield less. In other words, to get the advantage of hybrid vigor, farmers should buy new hybrid corn seed each year."

Mr. Simmons' recommendation is based on results of Experiment Station corn variety tests made in 1947 and 1948. In the tests, new seed of one hybrid yielded 51.4 bushels per acre compared with 43.6 bushels per acre for seed of the same hybrid that was saved on the Experiment Station from field plantings.

"Since the cost of good hybrid corn seed is seldom more than $1.50 to $1.75 an acre," says the agronomist, "the tests show that the increases obtained by using good seed of a recommended variety are usually much greater than the extra cost of the seed."

For complete information on the performance of various varieties of corn in different sections of Alabama, farmers are advised to get a copy of the 1949 corn variety test report from the local county agent, A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Substations and Experiment Fields, or by writing to the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station, Auburn, Ala.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

A. R. Hayes and R. C. Crumpton, Randolph Route 2, staked off five meadow outlets last week. Part of these outlets will be planted in sericea lespedeza and others in Kentucky 31 fescue. The sericea will be planted at early cotton planting time. The fescue will be planted this fall. In addition to furnishing a place to empty terrace water, these meadows will also be used for haying and grazing.

These two farmers are a very fine example of what any two joining farmers should do to control excessive water run off. By connecting their meadows and terraces, they will do away with the ditches that are beginning to wash out on the land line between them. We need more cooperation like this between joining farmers. Then the job of conserving our soil would be made a lot easier.

Perry Burnett, Clanton Route 5, is another farmer that is preparing to help conserve his soil by planting some meadow outlets. This farmer staked off three meadow outlets last week also. These three will be used to control road and terrace water and also for hay. He plans to plant them in sericea lespedeza.

* * *

Farmers who live on the milk route who plan to sell milk some time in the future, should begin those plans by planting some of their pastures this spring. One of the best summer pasture plants that we have is sericea lespedeza. When used with one of the reseeding clovers, it will furnish nine to ten months grazing per year. Also, it will stand more hard grazing than most any other pasture plant. Another good pasture plant, whose planting season is near, is kudzu. Unlike sericea, kudzu can only stand up under light or temporary grazing. For grazing during the dry periods in summer and fall, kudzu has very few equals for this section of Alabama. Every one who milks cows should plan for a field of kudzu just for this reason.

Now "Doc" Can Read The Sunday Papers

The missus had the sniffles last Sunday morning, so I went to "Doc" Emerson's to pick up some cold tablets. When I got there "Doc's" drugstore was closed but there was a sign on the door saying that Red Smith's was open.

When I got to Red's I asked what's up and he says, "Not much business on Sundays, so 'Doc' and I decided to alternate every week staying open. This way one of us can rest, read the Sunday papers like other folks—and we won't be letting anyone down, who might need something."

More and more, Americans are voluntarily cooperating to get things done. Take how the beer retailers have volunteered to adopt the Brewers' Self-Regulation Program. For a long time now, they have been seeing to it that their outlets are kept clean and law-abiding—a credit to the community.

From where I sit, this is an example of real democracy—voluntarily cooperating for our own and for the public's good.

QUESTIONS FOR ALABAMIANS

The legislative committee of the Alabama Education Association has presented some questions to citizens through the Alabama School Journal. Citizens might well ask them of candidates for the Legislature in the current campaign. Here are the questions:

Will the 1951 Legislature maintain schools in keeping with the standards which Alabama citizens have provided in recent years?

What will it cost to provide for increasing school enrollments and critical building shortages?

Will it be necessary for the new Legislature to levy new taxes in order to maintain present school standards? If not, what existing state services will be cut?

The background of these questions was created by the 1949 session of the Legislature when, instead of providing new taxes or new revenues to meet the state's school needs, it took a $16,000,000 surplus in the educational trust fund and spread it over educational appropriations for the next two years. In consequence, when this biennium is ended, school appropriations will be automatically cut back by $8,000,000 a year.

What shall be done then? Shall we halt, or slow up, the educational progress we have been making in recent years? Shall we continue to overcrowd our classrooms, overburden our teachers, use shacks and other temporary structures for school houses? Shall we levy new taxes for school purposes?

Some candidates might glibly answer that they will take care of school needs by economies elsewhere in the state government. But where can such economies be made? With the bulk of our state revenues earmarked for certain causes, where can the state save $8,000,000 a year to be added to school funds?

It is always possible, of course, to effect some savings in governmental operations. But it is hard to see where $8,000,000 could be cut annually from operations of Alabama's state government without loss of important service which the public needs and desires. If we add that sum to school appropriations without any increase in revenue, then conservation must suffer, or the Highway Patrol, or mine inspection, or some other of the many activities of the state.

Aspirants for the Legislature, therefore, should be asking themselves the questions the Alabama Education Association has asked the people. Shall we permit our schools to slip back? Shall there be new taxes? If so, just what should they be? Candidates should have definite answers, not generalities.

WILD ANIMAL HOUSING PROJECT

Hollow trees found in the woods should not be cut down because they make excellent bird and animal dens. If a hollow tree is still living, it should be killed and left standing: then it will not take up plant nutrients that surrounding timber could be using.

MANAGE OWN TIMBER

Although one Alabama timber owner operates a store, a gin, and two sawmills, he has always found time to personally mark and measure timber on his 7,000 acres of land.

The year 1949 was another year of outstanding accomplishment for Liberty National Life Insurance Company with new high records being established. The growth of the company, as measured by the increase of its resources, was again spectacular. Resources increased during 1949 by a larger amount than ever before in the history of the company—nearly ELEVEN MILLION DOLLARS—and now stand at a record figure of more than SEVENTY-FOUR MILLION DOLLARS. Impressive proof of the outstanding service being rendered the insuring public by Liberty National Life Insurance Company in its operating territory is demonstrated by the more than TWO MILLION, TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND individual policy contracts outstanding and by the fact that a death claim is being paid each twelve minutes of the work day. Such a record of service is evidence of the high esteem in which the company is held. Every effort will be made to continue to warrant this good-will.

During my race for Governor I want to see and talk with as many people and visit as many places in Alabama as possible. In my opinion, the best way to accomplish this is to travel by air. After all, the campaign for Governor does not really get started until March 1st, so there are only about sixty days left to cover our 67 counties.

I believe that a helicopter offers the ideal way to travel. With it I can land anywhere, as a landing field is not necessary. As a matter of fact, a helicopter can go straight up and can land in a 10 foot space. It is my intention to "drop in" on my friends all over Alabama.

The helicopter will be equipped with a loud speaker so that talks can be made everywhere. I am going to put on the most aggressive campaign ever seen in Alabama.

GORDON PERSONS.

SHORT COURSE FOR AERIAL APPLICATORS PLANNED

Montgomery, Ala. — A short course for the aerial application of agricultural chemicals has been arranged by the State Department of Aeronautics, with the cooperation and assistance of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute and the Alabama Flying Farmers Association, it is announced by Asa Rountree, Jr., State Director of Aeronautics. The course will run two days, March 20-21, and will be held at Auburn. This will be the first course of its kind ever offered in Alabama.

While the course is designed specially for aerial applicators, it will be open to farmers, representatives of chemical producers, equipment manufacturers and all others interested in the application of agricultural chemicals. They are cordially invited to attend.

The course will be a practical and technical one, with the program covering many phases and types of chemical application. Lecturers will be from the staffs of the Alabama Extension Service and the Auburn School of Agriculture.

HOMEMAKERS NEED TO BE GOOD MECHANICS

Today's homemaker needs more mechanical knowledge than ever before, according to Stella Mitchell, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist.

"The hand that rocks the cradle now runs washing machine, dish washer, vacuum cleaner, sewing machine, and an increasing number of other mechanical servants," explains Miss Mitchell. "Whether the homemaker uses them to best advantage and keeps them in condition depends considerably on her understanding of how they work. In emergencies she may be called on to make simple repairs, such as changing an electric fuse, patching an electric cord or plug, or opening a clogged sink drain."

Miss Mitchell adds that the mechanical-minded housewife always has the ability to use and run her household equipment economically.

MAPLESVILLE JUNIOR 4-H CLUB MET

The Maplesville Junior 4-H Club met Thursday, February 16, 1950, with the president, Laura Ann Dennis, in charge. We had songs led by the song leaders, Sylvia Moore and Jean Moore. The secretary, Betty Ruth Williams, read the minutes of the last meeting.

Miss Mattie Jo Barber, Home Demonstration Agent, took charge. She told us that March 12th was the 4-H Rural Life Sunday. Plans were made for churches in each community represented to prepare a special program to be given in the church by the 4-H club members on that date.

Miss Barber gave each 4-H club member a Record Book and explained how the book should be used. We are to keep a record in these books of the things we sew and make for ourselves, what we cook, can and any improvements we make in and around our home.

She told us some of the things we could do in our project work at home. She told us how to get along better with our families at home and our playmates at school so we can all have more friends and be happier.

The meeting was adjourned by the president.

JEMISON HIGH TRIPS C.C.H.S. 55 TO 50

In a free-scoring contest Wednesday of last week, the Jemison Basketeers out-lasted the Clanton varsity team and chalked up their second win over them this season by a 55 to 50 count. Trailing 15 to 9 at the first quarter, 27 to 24 at the half and 38 to 32 at the end of the third quarter, the Clanton boys edged to a tie and took the lead with only three minutes to go. From this point the fans went groggy with excitement.

The C.C.H.S. team endeavored to put on the freeze, but little Floyd Collins snatched a quick pass and wormed through the defense for the pay-off crip-shot, putting J.H.S. in a one-point lead. He was fouled in the act of shooting and a free shot was good. Three more points were added to this J.H.S. rally the last minute to give them their 5-point victory.

The King Bee of Jemison honor went to Collins who rammed 19 points through the net; he was followed by his mate Hayes who hit for 11 points.

Seals of C.C.H.S. topped all scoring by burning out the nets for 23 points The J.H.S. defense couldn't stop this chap, who was the real wheel-horse for the Clanton attack. He shot one field goal with three guards trying to wrap him up. That's how good he was.

Both teams committed numerous fouls, but in so doing, the players gave the spectators a real demonstration of good sportsmanship, and too, a game worth remembering.

The Jemison Bees avenged their previous licking at the hands of the Clanton Bees by over-hauling them by a score of 37 to 36 in the preliminary. This game merited about as much noise and suspense as the A-game.

Jemison High was slated to play Verbena this morning (Thursday) at 8:00 a.m. in the Third District Tournament being held in Selma.—Robert B. Johnson.

Committeeman Speaks

I, John S. Cook, as a member of the Democratic Executive Committee of Chilton County, wish to say publicly that we are in need of men who stand firmly for what we Americans voted for 175 years ago. And we, the members of the Committee, feel our responsibility, though we meet in a small room, to discuss and endeavor to correct some of the wrongs—especially those resulting from the fear of American citizens to speak openly, and the apparent confusion that obstructs their viewpoint, when the larger and more important affairs of this great County and State, and of the Union, are on the board.

For example, we were not allowed to vote for a President, and thus were in lack of co-operation in our State Legislature. And we live in a County handicapped by a suspicion of misappropriated funds. And always we tend to forget or overlook the vital answer, that if one loses, all lose.

Our future existence naturally depends upon our working out this and associated problems, wisely, justly and to the end.

If we can accept our past mistakes as in the memory of a small boy who did a wrong, but grew up to be a strong, good man, it seems quite plausible for me to ask all our citizens thus to outlive the past, and grow steadily into the strongest County in the State. And I say we can do this, as the Democratic Party is the undying political power of the world, as we know it.

Our Registrar's Office is open for you twice a month. Come and register—and raise your standard of citizenship! Pledge yourself to work for and to guard the party's honor; to closely watch the County's interest—and rest in the untroubled light of a better government!

And we would enjoy a visit from a candidate who knows where there is a crystal-clear spring, and a gourd hanging by—for REAL refreshment instead of a spot-bottle! You may term this the main problem of our era, or just one of many problems, my friends, but it lies deeper than most men realize. It affects the welfare of our County, and it rests close to the heart of every citizen of our County. The best homes of our community — the medical profession — our most treasured friends—so many of them constantly combatting the spread of the influence of alcohol. That seems to be the drift, in our Nation.

And as a bit of advice from the third richest County in Alabama, may I suggest that special care be given the accustomed checking of sales and salesmen of our State? It may be that this process will add to the financial strength of the State, and to the advantage of its taxpayers.

In reading the announcements and contacting the different candidates, I think they are all fine fellows, who, if elected, wish to perform with efficiency, all duties allotted to them. So let's keep up the good work and hold up democracy in our county, state and nation.

J. S. COOK.

4-H PROJECTS PAY OFF IN CASH TOO

Boys in 4-H Club work like to grow something to sell; they like to put money in their pockets.

"Evidence of this fact was indicated in 1949," says J. C. Ford, A.P.I. Extension Service garden and orchard specialist, "when 1,656 4-H boys completed projects in fruits, truck crops, and market gardens."

He points out that every town presents an opportunity for civic clubs and farm boys to team-up for the good of all—education and money for the boys; good food and good health for the town.

7. Quick Acting. Chilean Nitrate is immediately and completely available.
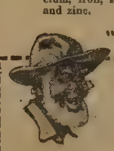
8. Anti-Acid. Chilean Nitrate helps keep the soil sweet.
9. Time-Tested. Chilean Nitrate has been proved by more than 100 years of research and practical farm experience.
10. Doubly Profitable—Economical. Chilean Nitrate improves the quality of crops as well as the yield. Consistently excellent effect of heavy applications year after year upon crop and soil alike makes it an outstandingly profitable and economical nitrate for every need and purpose.

"THEY'S ONLY ONE NATCHEL SODA!"



"Just being natchel makes Chilean soda different. Lot of farmers says it's because the nitergen is all nitrate, and that's how plants likes it best. Lot of 'em figure the soda and all the other minerals in it help make good, strong stands, too."

Early in 1949 a group of friends and supporters of Elbert Boozer approached him and urged his acceptance of a plan they proposed to aid him in his campaign for Governor of Alabama in 1950.

They wanted his approval of the organization of Boost Boozer and Build Alabama Committee all over the State. They also asked him if he would use a giant trailer bearing a replica of the State Capitol in touring the State during his campaign. They proposed to build the trailer if he would use it. He accepted their offer.

The trailer was built by the Committee and the Committee owns it. It is being loaned to Mr. Boozer for the campaign. A member of the Committee will accompany him on his tour and explain how the trailer was built. When Mr. Boozer is elected, the trailer is to be offered to the State to be used to tour the whole nation loaded with Alabama Manufactured items and Alabama farm products as a great traveling advertisement for Alabama.

The traveling model of the Capitol has been completed. It is equipped with desks, telephone, radio, a public address system, etc. From its steps Elbert Boozer will make his campaign speeches.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Well, the last time we had a girl, which, I might add has been some time ago, was Annette Broadhead, and we've also got one this week. (A boy, that is!)

Boy, Grace Lawrence had a party Monday night that was plenty hep. I think it was about the most even sided crowd that I've ever seen at a party (in case you don't understand) I mean there was just about the same number of boys as there was girls, in fact, there was two more boys than there was girls. Anyhow, everyone really had a swell time; and, by-the-way, it was a birthday party and I think she got five cartons of different brands of chewing gum. Somebody told her that they knew if she was a Lawrence she'd like chewing gum. Oh, well, 'nuff said

Remember, fellas, spring training starts pretty soon and we had better have a good team this year or else. I do believe there are going to be some mighty small boys out, but they'll grow up eventually. . .MAYBE!

Well, we've just gotta have a boy now. . .He HAD! Sorta light brown hair, but I think he got it all cut off. Anyway he has dark eyes, weighs about 160 pounds and is about five ft. seven inches tall. GUESS!

Like I said, looks like we're stuck for the rest of the year with those daily tests. Well, maybe next year they will have mercy on us poor students and cut down on them.

Here's some sharp ones, maybe some of you haven't heard:

"His brush is gone, now what'll we do," said Mike Robe 1 to Mike Robe 2

"Her chariot made 80 per; so they picked up what had Ben Hur."

"Twinkle, twinkle, one-eyed car,
We all wonder where you are?"

Boy, ain't I smart? It's too bad I didn't write them myself.

Man, I don't believe I've ever seen as pretty apples as we are getting in the lunchroom nowadays! I sure hope they keep it up.

Boy, that make-up artist really knew what he was doing, didn't he, keeds? He could really make those boys look older. You know, I think Freddie Popwell made a swell Abe Lincoln. I'm afraid Mr. Pyron got the most laffs and ribbings because he was the first one to get operated on and we had never seen anything like it before. (Maybe it was just Pyron). ha.

2. Planting time—To be arranged by sales agencies.
3. Soil—Plant on well drained soil capable of producing ½ bale of cotton or [illegible] bushels of corn per acre.
4. Fertilizer—800 pounds complete fertilizer per acre 10 days to two weeks before planting. Heavy application of manure before turning. Side dress with 200 to 300 pounds of nitrate 25 to 30 days after planting, or when corn is 10 to 12 inches high.
5. Spacing—3½ foot rows 12-15 inches in drill.
6. Seed per acre—eight pounds.
7. Cultivate—same as other corn—shallow, not with steel [illegible]. Usually only two plowings necessary.
8. Maturing about 87 days from planting.
9. Dust for corn ear worm—start [illegible] days [illegible] has been applied. Buy 3 [illegible] DDT [illegible] corn.
10. Start cutting corn when grains [illegible] show pale yellow color. Don't wait for fully mature kernels and dark yellow color to develop.
11. Plant only those acres that you can treat as specified above.

BOLL WEEVIL POISON

Boll weevils were the main cause for most of the poor cotton yields here last year; however, there were many growers who used poisons correctly and made almost normal crops.

SHRINE CLUB RECENTLY ELECTED DIEFENDERFR

The Clanton Shrine Club recently elevated Noble L. E. Diefenderfer, who has been serving as vice president, to the presidency of that body. The meeting was held at the Masonic Hall at 7 30 p.m. and Clanton Chapter No. 27 Eastern Star served the Nobles a delicious chicken dinner. The annual election of officers was held and the newly elected officers were installed by Noble Earl [illegible] Andrews of Montgomery, the Past Potentate of Alcazar Temple. When returning food packages to the freezer after defrosting, take time to make an inventory. It is a good time to bring older packages to the front and mark them plainly for first use.

METHODIST CHURCHES MAKE REVIVAL PLANS

Revival plans being made for Spring revivals on the Clanton Circuit were announced today by the pastor, Rev. John C. Rountree. One of the greatest evangelistic efforts ever to be put forth in the Methodist Churches of this area will be put forth previous to and during these Spring meetings. Fortunately, the Walnut Creek Church has been able to secure as the visiting evangelist a noted Lawrenceburg, Tenn., pastor, the Rev. O. H. Landingham. This revival will begin Sunday, April 9th, and will continue for ten days. Special prayer services will be held in the interest of this revival.

At Pleasant Grove Church Rev. Van Landingham will be the visiting minister in another revival. A special committee made up of delegates from all church organizations of Mt. Nebo and Pleasant Grove, met Sunday, February 12, to make plans for a joint revival. The decision of this committee was to secure Rev. O. H. Van Landingham as evangelist and hold the services in Pleasant Grove Church. Special days of prayer will be set aside and it is expected that the joint meeting will be a great success.

CORN STALK NEEDS BARREL OF WATER

Auburn, Ala. — Over 100 gallons of water are required to produce one pound of hay, and a barrel of water is needed to produce a single stalk of corn.

"These facts should indicate the importance of water," declares S. K. Doughty, A.P.I. Extension Service soil conservationist. "While there seems to be plenty of water for everything, it is not always available. Plants can use water only when it is within reach of their roots. If the water runs off the land quickly, it is out of reach of the plants. Then, naturally, it is usually best to try to keep most of the water on the land where it falls."

Doughty asserts that the best way to conserve water is to fit crops and practices to the needs of the land. On most every farm a combination of the following practices is required on row-crop land; terraces and sod outlets, contour cultivation, cover crops, and crop rotations plus mineral fertilizers.

ARMY'S NEW CAREER GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The graduates of Chilton County high schools were urged to consider the Army's new Career Guidance Program in a statement made here today by Sgt. Aussant.

"Never before has the young man of 17 or 18 been faced with such a wealth of opportunity as that offered him by the Army," he said.

"Army entrance standards have been raised and the competition for enlistment is becoming stiffer all the time, but the benefits of Army service are becoming increasingly greater."

Sgt. Aussant cited the Army's new Career Guidance Program as one aimed at the educated, alert, physically fit young man — with advancement based on personal efficiency and individual initiative more than before.

"In essence, the Army's career plan sets up specific job fields in which similar skills and occupations are grouped. The career soldier advances within his chosen field through new technical school opportunities as well as expanded on-the-job training."

"The openings are fewer, but it will pay well to check closely with high school officials or personnel in the recruiting station here in the New Wade Building, Clanton, Ala., for latest information on quotas and opening dates," Sgt. Aussant stated.

You Have a Vital Stake in Telephone Bargaining:

It's YOUR money that pays telephone wages

Southern Bell Wages and Working Conditions Already Are Among the Best --- Any Increase in Wages Would Have To Be Paid By Telephone Customers---There Is No Other Way Wage Increases Can Be Paid

You have a vital stake in telephone wage negotiations, for it's the money you pay in to us that we pay out in telephone wages.

Telephone employees are well paid. Their wages compare favorably with the wages paid by other concerns in the community for work requiring similar skills.

Telephone wage rates have been increased 117% since 1939, compared with an increase of less than 70% in the cost of living.

But wages are not the whole story. Telephone employees have the advantage of steady work, with no seasonal layoffs. They get vacations with pay, up to three weeks, plus six holidays a year. In addition, they enjoy the real security provided by one of the best pension and benefit plans in any industry. Among other things, it provides:

- A pension with a minimum of $100 a month, including Social Security, at age 65, and liberal provisions for earlier retirement.
- Sickness and accident benefits, up to a full year's pay, depending on length of service.
- Death benefits, up to one full year's wage, depending on length of service.

For all of these benefits, the employee pays nothing — the Company pays all

Any way you look at it—wages, working conditions, pensions and benefits—telephone employees are doing all right. And that's the way we think it should be. It takes all these things to get and keep good people.

The telephone business is regulated in a way that Unions and most other businesses are not. Federal and State Commissions determine the rates we charge for service. Any increases in telephone wages would force us to ask for an increase in telephone rates.

What About The Contract?

Southern Bell and the CWA-CIO are engaged in collective bargaining on wages at the request of the Union. We earnestly hope that a settlement can be reached that will be fair to the employees, to telephone users and to the company. Meanwhile, the public has every right to expect uninterrupted service under the present contract between the Company and the Union, which provides that, quoting the contract itself, "UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES MAY IT (The Contract) BE TERMINATED EARLIER THAN JUNE 5, 1950."

Barbara Fain Named 1950 Queen By Clanton Lions

More Than $500 Realized For Sight Fund

Clanton Lions Club has chosen their Queen for 1950. She is pretty Barbara Fain, daughter of Mrs. C. C. Polk of Clanton.

The Lions held their first Queen contest in 1939, the year they were organized, to raise money for their Sight Conservation Fund. Every year since except the war years, they have named a Queen each year in an annual contest when seventy-five to one hundred prizes are given away by Clanton merchants, and money is raised for the Sight Fund.

At the contest this year more than $500.00 was realized for this fund during the contest. Five past and present queens took part. The first Lion Queen was Mary Neil Smith who is now Mrs. Fred Elliott of Opelika. In 1942 Helen Parrish was Queen. 1943 Peggy Ramsey. 1948 Sylvia Lambert and this year Barbara Fain. Also present to enjoy the festivities this year was Miss Joan Aussant who was chosen to represent the local Lions Club as their Peach Queen entry in last year's Peach Festival.

All money received from this contest each year is used by the Club to buy glasses for under privileged children and old people.

MISS BARBARA FAIN

Builders of Clanton

ONE OF A SERIES

It must be that banking gets in your blood like printers ink, Frank Callen got banking in his blood when he was a boy and never was able to do anythink about it.

In going back through the years it seems that once or twice, Frank tried to break away from the banking business to go into another field but he landed right in the seat occupied by his father, the late W. T. Callen.

It was in 1914 that Frank went to work with Peoples Savings Bank, after returning from school. In 1916 he went to the old Traders National Bank in Birmingham for two years then back to Clanton and into the United States Army during World War I, where he served in the Convoy Service.

After the Armistice was signed in 1919 he worked at the First National Bank in Montgomery where he stayed only one year. In the year of 1922 his father died, he was President of the Peoples Savings Bank at his death, and young Frank was named President. After five years in this capacity he decided he would try the mercantile business so he resigned his office at the bank and spent the next three years selling merchandise.

But, it seemed it was no use, he was a banker and back to Peoples Savings Bank he went as President again. He has remained there ever since.

In 1920 he married Amy Callen of Montevallo, and to them were born two children, William T. Callen, namesake of his paternal grandfather, and a daughter, Ann, who is employed with her father at the bank.

In the past generation Mr. Callen has served his county well and is truly "A Builder of Clanton." During the past war he served on the local draft board, took a leading part in all bond drives, helped organize the Clanton Country Club, and numerous other endeavors to better his home county.

He is a member of the Methodist church. Has never held a public office and says he doesn't aspire to hold one. He is satisfied and happy at his desk at the Peoples Savings Bank.

TO OBSERVE RURAL LIFE SUNDAY, MARCH 12th

The youth of Chilton County will observe Rural Life Sunday, March 12, in eighty-seven churches, assisted by the Home Demonstration Club Rural Youth Chairman, says Mrs. Aubrey Smith, Chilton County's Chairman for the Rural Youth Objective.

In making plans for the observation of Rural Life Sunday, the girls and boys are putting into practice the training of the Head for clearer thinking, the Heart for greater loyalty, and the Hands to larger service which is part of the pledge they repeat at each of their 4-H club meetings. Committees have been selected to work with the local minister in making plans for this observation. A girl's chairman and boy's chairman have been selected in each of the churches to make arrangements for these programs. The girls are planning to dust the furniture in the church and arrange floral decorations. The boys will act as ushers, distribute song books and take the morning offering. The group will sit in a body and will present a program.

In addition to local leaders selected by the boys and girls, the following club chairmen will assist with this observation:

Mesdames G. F. Williams, Morris Williams, Hugh Champion, Thelma Hathcock, Homer Melton, Leslie Thornton, Geraldine Deason, Jimmy Ward, Aubrey Smith, T. R. Gore, A. A. Beamon, Bernie Johnson and Clinton Smith.

CLANTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SPONSORING AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM

The Clanton Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an active agriculture program for the area within a thirty mile radius of Clanton.

The Agriculture Program includes an effort to get 1500 acres set to strawberries now for production in 1951. County Agent, Red Glasscock, says, "Farmers still have about thirty days in which to get their strawberry plants set this year."

The Chamber of Commerce urges all farmers who set new strawberry acreage this spring to give Stapp, Acting Secretary, their name, address and acreage set. Some time later in the summer, a drawing will be held in Clanton and the name of the grower whose name is drawn from the box will be given a prize of $25.00. Next year another prize of $50.00 will be given to the grower, within a thirty mile radius of Clanton, who produces the most No. 1 berries per acre as shown by his or her sales tickets.

Do you realize what 1500 acres of strawberries set now will produce in 1951? According to conservative estimates, 1500 acres of strawberries will produce about $750,000.00 worth of berries. $750,000.00 would pay for having waterwork systems installed in about 1250 homes. It would pay for the papering and painting of about 1500 homes. $750,000.00 would buy about 2000 deep freeze units or 3000 refrigerators for the homes of this area. $750,000.00 would more than buy the shoes and clothing of all the children within a radius of thirty miles of Clanton.

TACKY PARTY AT COLLINS CHAPEL

Emily Post As Host - But A Heel At The Wheel

What makes an automobile driver an Emily Post as a host and a heel at the wheel?

The answer to that question would go a long way toward solving the traffic accident problem which brings death to more than 30,000 Americans every year, the National Safety Council, says.

Common courtesy is so important to safe driving that the month of March has been designated by the Council for a nationwide campaign on motor manners.

The propaganda guns will be leveled at these six highbinders of the highway:

GANGWAY GUS — This is the fellow who gallantly holds the door open for ladies or patiently waits his turn at a buffet luncheon. But at the wheel he's a "me-first" guy who bluffs out the right-of-way at every intersection, weaves and jockeys through heavy traffic and forces pedestrains to jump for their lives when turning corners.

SID SCATBACK—"What's the rush?" is his motto at home when it's time to mow the lawn or dress for dinner. But the minute he climbs in his car, every second counts. He roars away from stoplights, fudges on stop signs, slides his passenger off the seat when he stops, and on the open road keeps the speed needle around the 70 mark.

RONNIE RULEBOOK — This character lectures his son on playing the game according to the rules. At the bridge table he's a junior grade Culbertson when he quotes chapter and verse to his partner. But to him the traffic regulations were written by dopes, and he breaks them every time he thinks he can get away with it.

TOM TOOTER — At home and in business, he believes that a "soft answer turneth away wrath." But at the wheel he has a horn for a brain and blasts his way through traffic by sheer volume of sound. Many a pedestrain is prematurely gray from meeting him.

BERT BULLHEAD — This fellow can be either a driver or a pedestrain. He just won't give in to the other guy. He carries a great big chip on his shoulder and dares anyone to knock it off. But in the drawing room his friends think he is an agreeable cuss.

GIL GALAHAD — In his home, this fellow insists that you take the most comfortable chair or have the last piece of steak. But don't try to take the last parking space from him, or he'll lock fenders with you at the drop of a hat.

The Folsom Method

Whatever may be said of Big James Folsom, one cannot deny that he is a political craftsman who has left a lasting precedent in Alabama on the best mode to woo voters.

Big James four years ago went back to the grass roots in earnest and overrode almost universal newspaper and court house, plus Goat Hill, opposition to win the Governorship.

Now, in 1950; there is many a candidate who is seeking election on a formula patterned after Folsom. No more than two or three of the aspirants are campaigning on issues that were so far-reaching as the Folsom proposals.'

But there are more than a few cooking up crowd teasers that are designed to bring in the folks from the rural routes to see and hear the candidates.

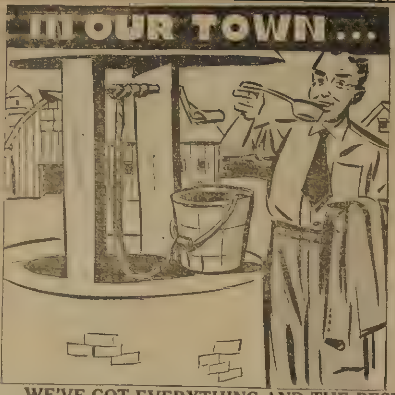
We happen to be a great believer in the theory that office-seekers should see, handshake and blackslap with the electorate, long and often.

We feel that it makes for better government to have the farmer, the small town resident, yes, even the big town slicker, see, hear and understand the views of the candidates.

If Big Jim has done nothing else for Alabama, he has made it mandatory for a man running for Governor to go to work.

It's more to it since Big James got elected than delivering a few radio addresses on a statewide hook-up, or inserting a series of newspaper advertisements.

Just delivering luncheon club addresses don't reach the great mass of voters. A man hoping to be a winner is going to have to plow methodically and diligently, day in and day out, because it's the man who is seen and heard by the most who will be riding high come May 30. — Andalusia Star-News.



....WE'VE GOT EVERYTHING AND THE BEST
The next time you take a drive or a walk a few miles out of Our Town look around a little. You'll see Mother Nature in all of her beauty, and farm lands that are overflowing with food that gives life to the whole world. Yes, we can all be proud that Our Town is a part of this area that helps to make our community a continually better place in which to live, trade, and do business.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

A dozen years ago when we came to Clanton one of the first things we learned was that everybody who wanted advice about anything went to see Frank Callen. We can say without contradiction from those who are in the know, there is no more highly respected, or universally admired friend and counselor in Chilton County, than Frank Callen. He has befriended many, many citizens of our community through the years and with the deepest respect for his unselfish service to the county we present him this week as "Builder of Clanton."

We're sure everyone has heard of the old "man bites dog," angle preached to young newspapermen when they go in search of news for their paper. Well, we have it. Mrs. Glennie Ransom has asked us for a magazine. Yep, that's right. After selling us magazines every week for years, now, she comes and asks us if we have a magazine that she can have. If that's not the old "man bites dog" angle we never heard it. And the funny thing is we had the magazine she wanted. If she really knew the facts, that's a better story even than the man biting the dog.

Now that L. D. Easterling has bought Baird Auto Parts Co., and moved it to South Clanton, we suppose that "moving spree" we spoke of the other week, will start. Mr. O. P. Klinner Furniture Co. will go where the Baird Auto Parts Co. was. And then Mr. Bell will ring down the curtain at his old stand and go to where Klinner was. Then Mr. Jim Wade will start in remodelling that building for Watson's.

Miss Elsie's Shoppe opened Saturday for business. She will specialize in baby things, and ladies things, and a few items for men, such as shirts, both sport and dress, ties, handkerchiefs, etc. It's a very pretty little shop and is very appropriate for little gifts. Visit Miss Elsie, she has issued a standing invitation to one and all to shop her Shoppe.

'Tain't the cow with the long tongue that gets all the grass. It's the little fellow that keeps chopping. 'Nuff sed, you candidates.

Charles Taylor is a candidate for a place on the State Democratic Executive Committee. He graduated from Chilton County High School several years ago and went to Montgomery where he attended school and worked. He is now employed by a meat packing company there and travels over most of the Sixth Congressional District. Don't be confused now. Charles isn't running against John M. Higgins who announced last week. True they are both running for the same office, but there will be eight chosen or elected from this District, and John and Charlie are both seeking a seat. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor.

If a fellow wants to get down in the gutter there are surely plenty of them in our fair city to get down in. The city fathers are adding block after block, every day, or week. We never saw so many gutters and sidewalks being built here at one time. Sure looks good too. Nothing improves the streets like gutters and sidewalks. Gives a clean, aligned appearance to the homes as well.

Was over at Arthur Taylor's Skating Rink the other night. Arthur called us in the office and stand, and set-um-up to a coke. Besides having a vantage point to view the pretty girls skating, (some said boys were skating too, but we didn't see 'em) we were right at the box office where Arthur keeps the ticket rolls. He has a beautiful skating rink and recreation hall in his new building and the crowds are really turning out. Anybody want to buy some tickets to the skating rink at half-price?

Speaking of entertainment, our town is waking up. Friday night one had a choice of attending the basketball tournament at the High School Auditorium, the Wadesonian, old and new, the Drive-In just north of town, the new recreation center, to name those we think of off hand. And a large crowd of Chilton County folks attended College Night at Montevallo. There's always something doing in a small town, and don't let them fool you.

Parting shot—Bet you think we are trying to get a loan at the bank, don't you?

World Day Of Prayer

Last Friday was World Day of Prayer; also last week was Brotherhood Week. It is well and good that we observe "Brotherhood Week," and the "Day of Prayer." For the two go hand-in-hand. There is no way of having real brotherhood without prayer. And if we have prayer as we should, we will have the brotherhood that the world is so much in need of. But we cannot have the brotherhood of man and not recognize the Fatherhood of God. But I am wondering how did the millions of our people observed this day of prayer, and this all-out brotherhood week? Did we observe it in spirit and in truth, or did we make a mock of it by attempting to observe it with ceremonies, programs of readings and such like, which only may come from the lips of the reader?

A. T. HICKMAN

Jesus said that the Father seeketh such to worship Him who will worship Him in spirit and in truth. For God is a Spirit, and he that worship Him, must worship Him in spirit and in truth. Friends, we cannot depend on ceremonies, rituals and programs to save this world from chaos, but an old-fashioned prayer meeting, with old-fashioned religious revivals will do it. Some of our statesmen have already told us that the only thing that will save America is a revival of religion.

Another College Revival—

A spontaneous marathon revival of old-time religion has broken out in another one of our colleges. This time at the Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky. Dean J. B. Kenyon called it, "A sincere demonstration of faith as hundreds of students lined up to testify for God." Friends, I joined in prayer with the blind student in praying that such a revival spirit will spread to the State University at Lexington, Ky.; and not only there, but to every college and university in America. The high schools of our country could also take on some of this revival spirit; and I am sure every church denomination in our land also needs a spiritual revival. Thank God for the revival of old-fashioned Gospel preaching that is sweeping the land; this will bring and is bringing a nation-wide religious revival. We need it.

Your Health

YOUR POSTURE

Your posture shows a number of things and may account for that backache you've been complaining about. It also shows your disposition. Your disposition is sour—but your posture is sagging.

Nearly everyone was born with the basic foundation for a good posture, but through neglect, lack of proper supervision, and susceptibility to certain fads some persons develop a faulty posture.

Posture means the relationship of the various parts of the body, when good posture, the inner organs of the body are permitted to function more efficiently with less strain, while poor posture places abnormal strain on muscles, joints and ligaments, which may produce disturbances of the chest, abdominal and pelvic organs.

Good posture results in a well coordinated body balance. The feet, with toes pointed straight ahead, carry the weight evenly, lightly and with a certain "springiness." The head is up, the shoulders back and the stomach in. Somehow the walk of a person with good posture carries added characterists — alertness and interest. On the other hand, the person whose feet turn out in shuffled steps, whose shoulders sag, stomach bulges and whose head hangs suggests laziness and loss of interest.

Habits can be danegrous things. Carrying school books on the same side day in and day out may result in a sagging effect. Slumping in a chair is a bad habit. Better relaxation is achieved by sitting straight up with the tip of the spine resting against the back of the chair and letting the bone structure carry the sitting weight of the body. This position also gives the chest organs a freer opportunity to function normally, as well as the abdominal muscles and organs.

Bad postural habits can be corrected by concentrated effort. If you are inclined to cross your legs, see to it that you do not always cross the same leg. If you carry books or packages, shift them from side to side. In other words, be posture conscious.

Have a physical examination to rule out any organic defect. Perhaps that fatigue that causes you to slump or "drag" about may be due to improper vision or inadequate nutrition.

THE DAIRY PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM.

J. R. Parrish, A.P.I. Extension Service dairyman, believes that the dairy price support program will prevent prices received by farmers for milk and butterfat from declining dangerously in 1950; also, he believes that the program will tend to support prices paid for milk sold for fluid use.

When greens are packed in baskets or crates, finely crushed ice should be placed in the containers. If greens are bunched and loaded in bulk on a truck, ice should be placed between layers and over the load.

School will be in session on Saturday, March 4th. This will be the last Saturday session this year.

Examinations for the fourth term will be held on March 9th and 10th. The annual spring holiday will be March 13th.

The class of 1950 presented a monkey fir tree to Thorsby Institute at the chapel period Thursday morning, February 24th.

Ann Heaton, president of the class, was in charge of the traditional ceremonies. Following group singing of the senior hymn, Bessie Plumlee sang "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer. The class then led the way to the spot selected for the planting of the tree. Bobbie Ann Barnett read Psalm 1 and Sidney Lanier's "Ballad of Trees and the Master." Each senior read a short appropriate quotation as he placed a shovelful of dirt on the roots of the tree. The president then presented the shovel to Robert Holley as a representative of the junior class.

It has been a T. I. custom for some years that the senior class select and set out a tree to improve the campus and to serve as a memorial to the class.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

A spokesman for the Southern Bell Telephone Company declared today that a strike on wages by Southern Bell employees while the present contract is in force would be wholly illegal.

The spokesman was commenting on an announcement by the CWA-CIO, the union which represents Southern Bell employees, that a strike was being taken among the employees. "According to the terms of the contract, under no circumstances may the contract be terminated earlier than June 5, 1950," the Telephone official said. "The contract may be terminated June 5 only if no agreement is reached in the present 30 days of wage bargaining and provided further that at least 50 days advance notice is given of intention to terminate on June 5. If agreement is reached in the present bargaining the contract remains in full force until June 5, 1951."

The Company began bargaining sessions with the Union on February 6th.

"Threat of a strike by Southern Bell employees just doesn't make sense, and balloting on a strike while bargaining is in progress obviously is a further attempt to stampede the Company into granting exorbitant demands."

"Although bargaining which was opened at the Union's request had been going on for two weeks, it was not until last Friday, February 17th, that the Company was able to get the union leaders to make their demands specific. Now while we are studying the demands, the union leaders threaten us with a strike pistol."

"We do not believe Southern Bell employees want to strike. We believe they will live up to their obligation to the public and to their contract. Telephone users have every right to expect that they will do so."

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

Church Items—

Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert, ex-pastor of Maplesville Baptist Church, are moving this week to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where he is called to pastor the Hopewell Baptist Church.

Everyone here should be much in prayer as we seek another pastor. As we pray we must be willing to be led by the Holy Spirit. Come to church and have a part in calling another pastor, instead of staying away and criticizing.

The Young Adult Sunday School Class of the Baptist and Methodist churches honored Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Gilbert with a party at the high school home economics building last Tuesday night. A buffet dinner was served to 42 people. After the bountiful dinner, games and songs were enjoyed. The class presented to Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert a table top radio, as a token of their love for them.

Rev. Gilbert was not only a great teacher, preacher and pastor, but a friend to all, and loved very much by all who knew him. This class and others shall always remember him as a guiding light in their future lives. We pray God's richest blessings upon he and his good wife. Maplesville suffers a great loss in their moving away.

The observance of Week of Prayer for Home Missions at the Baptist Church is well attended. A very interesting program for each day is held this week at 3:00 p.m.

The Maplesville High School Glee Club rendered some beautiful songs at the Baptist Church last Sunday at the evening service with Mrs. Annie Laura Potts playing the piano.

Mrs. Thomas' Class Makes Trip To City Water Works

CLANTON'S WATER WORKS

We were studying water in our health book and Mrs. Thomas suggested that we could write questions we would like to get answered about our town's water works. Later we decided we would visit the water plant. One afternoon we lined up in squads and went to the filter plant.

In the plant we saw pumps, large vats of water, and machines that add chemicals to make the water clean. Later we asked Mr. Blalock some questions concerning the capacity of our water system and the amount of water we used daily. Then we thanked him for carrying us through the plant.

On the way back we stopped at a service station and bought cold drinks.

It was a very educational trip and one I shall long remember.—Byron Gillespie.

OUR TRIP TO THE WATER WORKS

While studying water and water works in health, we decided we would visit Clanton's water works. One clear, warm day we thought it would be just the day for us to make the trip.

On Monday, February 20, 1950, we went to Clanton's water works. We left the school about 11:30 and arrived at the plant about 12:05 o'clock.

Mr. Blalock, the superintendent, showed us through the plant and explained the different pipes, tanks and filterers. We tasted some alum, which they use to purify the water. Mr. Blalock also gave us some sodium phosphate glass, which is used to prevent the pipes rusting. We learned that the present water works of Clanton were built in 1939. We were told that Clanton was still using backyard wells in the early nineteen hundreds.

On the way back to school, we stopped at Miller's Service Station where we all had drinks. When we were passing Mrs. Upchurch's home, we saw two squirrels playing chase on the lawn and in the trees. We arrived at school about two o'clock.—Elizabeth Oglesby.

A TRIP TO THE WATER TANK

Once we went to the water works
Where water in pipes goes squink, squink, squink.
Mrs. Thomas had said that we must be careful.
'Cause one little boy, falling in, got his hair full
Of that awful, awful, oozy old mud
And had to scrub with the strongest of sud.
Of course Mr. Blalock pulled him
out.
But that [illegible]
[illegible]
Mr. [illegible] the manager of every [illegible]
That makes the water so pure and clean
When we'd explored upstairs and down.
And understood well that plant [illegible]
We [illegible] and hurried
out
So Curtis could question without a shout.
Then we looked at the tanks, so very high,
Reaching, I thought, almost to the sky.
Then climbing the hill, we went to the store,
For Mr. Blalock had done his chore.
There we had drinks for everyone.

WATER WORKS

We began thinking about visiting the water plant when we had a subject in health about water. We then began making preparations to visit our plant.

Our group captains made rules for us to obey during our trip, and each member of the class wrote out questions they would like to have answered about our city water. Many of these questions were answered by classmates or by books we read on the subject for the remainder we found answered when we visited the plant.

As we walked along to the plant, we saw several beautiful scenes of flowers and squirrels playing contentedly in trees, eating nuts.

Clanton's modern water works was started in 1939.

The water is filtered by running through tons of sand and gravel. After this, the water is mixed with lime, alum, and different chemicals, which make it very bitter. The water is sweetened with sweet lime.

On our way back to the school, we stopped at a store to get a drink. While we were there, we saw a small alligator.

We then went back to school and resumed our studies.—Curtis Baker.

BEST FOOD BUYS FOR SOUTHERN CONSUMERS

Auburn, Ala. — Pork, Irish potatoes, and eggs will be among the best bood buys for southern consumers in March, according to A. W. Jones, A.P.I. Extension Service marketing specialist.

These items, Jones explains, are the top trio on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's monthly plentiful foods list. Hens set an egg production record in January, and liberal egg quantities are to be found on all retail markets. Pork, of course, has been plentiful for several months and current hog marketings are still heavy enough to keep consumers supplied with tasty and economical pork cuts. Irish potatoes usually move into the plentiful class in the spring, and this year is no exception, believes Jones.

DAIRY SUPPORT PROGRAM

The farm price support for milk used for manufacturing purposes is approximately $3.07 per hundredweight for milk that contains 3.95 per cent butterfat.

PEANUT BUTTER FROM HOMEGROWN PEANUTS

Auburn, Ala. — The food budget set up for Alabama farm families includes five pounds of peanuts for each member of the family.

"A part of this amount," says Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist, "may be made into peanut butter. It may be used for sandwich fillings, cooked dishes and desserts; in soups, scalloped vegetables, stuffings, and omelets; or as part of the fat in biscuits, cookies, and cup cakes."

Miss Curtis reveals that a blend or mixture of Virginia and Spanish peanuts is usually used to obtain the most desirable percentage of oil and the proper consistency. Peanut butter should be fine and granular rather than pasty. If it is too fine the butter sticks to the roof of the mouth, or if it is too coarse it has a gritty texture.

Here is one way to make peanut butter: Roast four cups of shelled peanuts. Remove skins, grind the peanuts through a food chopper or meat grinder, and add one teaspoonful of salt. Next, remove one-half cup of the crushed peanuts, grind the remainder the second or third time using a smaller knife, or take up the tension of the plate until the grinder is hard to turn. Mix the coarse butter with the fine. Put peanut butter into clean sterile jars. Seal the container air tight, and if the peanut butter is to be stored for several months, process jars for 10 minutes in a water-bath canner to remove air from the tops of jars to prevent rancidity. Store jars in a cool, dry, dark place.

BEFORE BUILDING LAKE GET REGULATIONS FROM THE HEALTH DEPARTMEN

The construction of an artificial lake creates a potential malaria hazard. This fact prompted the State Board of Health to adopt regulations in 1927 governing their construction and maintenance. The purpose of the regulations is to prevent the spread of malaria among people living within the zone of transmission around any artifically created lake. These regulations are based upon state laws now on the statute books, and are for the purpose of protecting the health and welfare of the people. Unless an impoundage is properly constructed and maintained, conditions are created which provides a favorable breeding place for the malaria transmitting mosquito.

Regulations governing the construction of ponds are on file at the County Health Department, and will be explained to anyone interested in the construction of a pond. These regulations must be abided by, so if you plan to build a pond in the future contact the County Health Department beforehand. It may save you time and money. — E. M. Moore, County Health Officer.

ALABAMA GARDEN CHART DISTRIBUTED IN STATE

Auburn, Ala. — The A.P.I. Extension Service has prepared a guide for gardeners called the Alabama garden chart. It is printed on cardboard, 17½ by 28 inches, and has been distributed to seed dealers in every county of the state.

J. C. Ford, Extension garden and orchard specialist, urges gardeners to consult the chart. It contains planting information which includes a list of 63 vegetable varieties recommended by the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station.

"There are eight columns in the chart," says Ford, "which list the kinds of vegetables, varieties recommended, planting dates, amount of land and seed or plants for a family of five, distance between plants, depth to plant, and the usual length of time from planting until the vegetables are ready for use."

Since the charts are too large and expensive for general distribution, Ford says that gardeners who want a copy of the information contained in the chart will find most of it on pages 10, 11, and 12 of the Home Garden Bulletin, or on pages 86, 87, and 90 of the Handbook of Alabama Agriculture, fourth edition. Local county and home agents have these publications for general distribution. Only the home garden bulletin is free.

CLANTON F.F.A. NEWS

The Clanton F.F.A. has a total membership of forty-six active members who are planning to carry out a total of 468 projects. We are planning on entering the following contests:

Parliamentary procedure, beef judging, dairy judging, quartet, forestry, and home improvement.

Along our cooperative line we have established hot beds to enable the members to receive plants to start their vegetable gardens; a school nursery has been started to porvide hsrubs to landscape the members' homes. We have also started an F.F.A. pig chain and a chapter news letter. We are now taking on as a project with the P.-T.A. the landscaping of the Clanton Elementary School. We have ten boys who are planning on showing pigs in the Montgomery Fat Hog Show and also several boys who are planning on showing fat calves in the Birmingham Cattle Show. Two of our most important objectives for the future are the presenting of a trophy to the boys in each of the three agriculture classes having the best supervised farming program. Another objective we have if it materializes is the awarding of a scholarship to some deserving farm boy to our agricultural college.

The members of the Clanton F.F.A. are proud of their fine record they have made so far, and we give a great deal of credit to our advisor, Mr. W. A. Lecroy.—Carrole Johnson, Reporter.

PLANT KUDZU

Kudzu, both green and frosted, is recommended for grazing. Its use seems best adapted to the soils of the Coastal Plains and Piedmont Areas of Alabama.

TIME TO FERTILIZE AND DISC ALL KUDZU

The final date to fertilize kudzu in 1950 is almost here, especially in south Alabama.

D. R. Harbor, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist, advises that kudzu be fertilized each year if the best yields of grazing and hay are wanted.

He recommends that 54 to 60 pounds of available phosphoric acid per acre be applied. This amount of phosphate is contained in 300 pounds of superphosphate or 600 pounds of basic slag. The fertilizer should be broadcast on the kudzu and disced into the soil.

"The discing is very important," says Harbor. "It helps get the fertilizer into the soil and encourages the kudzu plants to multiply. Discing also cuts down weeds and bushes and permits kudzu vines to run on the ground and take roots at more joints, increasing the number of plants per acre."

JUNIOR PLAY AT ISABELLA

The Junior Class of Isabella High School will present their play, "The Whole Truth" by William D. Fisher on Friday evening, March 10th, 1950, at 7:30.

The characters are: Mr. Joseph Martin, the father, John Evans Culp; Mrs. Mildred Martin, the mother, Fannie Lee Mims; Johnny Martin, their son, Hershel Scott; Elizabeth Martin, their daughter, Martha Ann Donovan; Helen Martin, Mr. Martin's sister, Betty Carroll; the Reverend Jacob Teasie, pastor of the local suburban church, Donald Graham; G. Whitford Mundorf, a business associate of Mr. Martin, Franklin Tucker; Aunt Mat Worth, Mrs. Martin's wealthy aunt, Virgil Delene Carter; Tom DeNorth, the sweetheart of Elizabeth Martin, Lee Smith; Lucille Armitage, Johnny's Sweetheart, Helen Klinner; Johnson, the Martin's butler, Franklin Wilson; Harriet, the Martins' maid, Rachel Smith.

This is a farce in three acts by William D. Fisher. This is a drama in modern family life that promised to tell the truth and nothing but the truth. What would you do if you promised to tell the truth, nothing but the truth about a new hat your wife had just bought? How could you explain to your wife when you came home late at night if you had to tell the truth?

If you would like to know the answers to these questions, come to Isabella High School Friday evening, March 10th, 1950.

County FFA Meeting Held

The regular monthly meeting of the Chilton County Future Farmers of America was held at Jemison last Friday. Representatives and advisers from Clanton, Verbena, Maplesville and Isabella were present.

The Jemison F.F.A. Quartet won a very close contest over the Chilton County High Quartet. Johnny Folmar was the automatic winner of the speaking contest because no other chapter had a speaker entered in this contest. The winners in these two contests will represent Chilton County in the quarter-finals contest to be held the latter part of this month.

After the contest the County F.F.A. Basketball Tournament was finished. Jemison was the winner over Isabella in a nip and tuck battle. Isabella won over Maplesville in another very close game. All players that participated in these games are to be commended for their fine sportsmanship.

The Chilton County F.F.A. members are planning to start a pure-bred pig chain. Five registered gilts, one for each chapter, will be purchased some time during the month of May. All gilt pigs raised will be placed with F.F.A. members in the County.

Committees have been appointed and will meet next Monday night, March 13th, in the Jemison High School to draft final plans. Watch for plans and details which will be forthcoming soon, in your local county papers, then get set to come on out and have a grand time.—Robert B. Johnson, Publicity Chairman.

Builders of Clanton

ONE OF A SERIES

A. REEDIE TAYLOR

October was the day that Columbus discovered America and also the day that Chilton County discovered Reedie Taylor. However, it was some 414 years later.

Mr. A. Reedie Taylor was born and reared in Chilton County and with the exception of a few years in Chambers County has remained here since. He went to work in 1923 at the Peoples Savings Bank and remained there for three and one-half years when he resigned to go in business with his uncle, Tom Taylor. They bought the Chicago Sales Company from the late V. J. Elmore. At that time it stood on the lot where the First National Bank now stands.

Two good things happened to Reedie in 1930. He moved his store to the present location and married Miss Pauline Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lawrence of Clanton. To this union three children were born, two girls and a boy.

In 1933 Mr. Taylor went to LaFayette and opened a business after selling the local Chicago Sales Company to Mr. Tom and Dewey Rockett. He also organized a business at West Point, Ga., which he operated for three years.

In 1940 he came to his home county and purchased the Chicago Sales Co. from the Rocketts and closed out his West Point Store. Since that time he has devoted most of his time to "Building Clanton." He is one of the most civic-minded citizens of the little city and spends hours each day in working with civic groups to make better his community.

As a hobby in recent years he has taken up golf for exercise and relaxation, but at the latest report it seems golf was getting the best of Reedie. But with fooling aside, A. Reedie Taylor is truly a "Builder of Clanton," and has the respect of all who know and do business with him.

Kiwanis Club To Present Black Face Minstrels Soon

The members of the Clanton Kiwanis Club will present the Happy Hollow Blackface Minstrels at the New Wadesonian Theatre on March 20th, 1950.

Only local talent will be used and after talking to a few of the members it can be safely said that the production will be a "wow."

Local members who will act as End Men are J. W. (Dick) Hayes as "Apple Jack"; Jerry Bodden as "Bag Ears"; Howard Boockholdt as "Clingstone"; Chick Carlton as "Fig Bar"; Jesse Culp as "Epicure"; Winfred Lecroy as "Drizzle"; and Paul Reid as the Interlocitor.

Soloist will be: Dent Williams, Charlie Patterson, Clifford Jones, Joe Murphree. Eight chorus members will be presented during the evening. Music will be under the direction of Mrs. Alma Huddleston and Miss June Lake.

Joe S. Campbell, main shock absorber.

Admission prices will be 80c for adults and for children under 12 years 40c. Advance sale will be made on tickets and it is important that purchase of same be made before the night of the show in order to be sure of a seat. Seats are limited to 550.

LIFE SAVING WORK OF "CANCER TEAM" TO BE DESCRIBED BY WXXX

The "combined operations" of medical men in many specialized fields, all working together to save cancer victims, will be the subject of the next "For the Living" broadcast, heard over station WKLF on Tuesday, March 14, at 1:00 p.m. How this "cancer team" goes to work, diagnosing, identifying and then treating different types of cancer by surgery, radium or X-ray, will be dramatized by Edward G. Robinson and Herbert Rawlinson, stars on the program. Special music has been composed for the program by Jeff Alexander and is conducted by Lynn Murray.

"For the Living" is being presented as a public service by WXXX, in cooperation with the American Cancer Society which has prepared the entire series of broadcasts as part of its continuing educational campaign against the dangers of cancer. Statistics show that more than 200,000 Americans will die this year of this deadly disease—many of them needlessly because they waited too long before seeking medical help. The American Cancer Society seeks, by means of these programs and many other ways, to acquaint men and women everywhere with basic knowledge that will prevent such tragedies. All the principals appearing on "For the Living" broadcasts have donated their talents to further this purpose.

EARL PARRISH CONTINUES ILL

Earl Parrish, cashier at the First National Bank, continues ill at his home. He has been confined to his bed for the past week or so and reports are that he will be for some time. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

PMA NEWS

The PMA office announces that they are now in a position to make premeasurements of the 1950 cotton acreage allotments. This premeasurement can be done for a small charge to the farmer.

An allotment up to 10 acres will be premeasured for a flat charge of $5.00, and each additional acre above the 10.0 or a fraction thereof there will be a charge of 25c. Example: If a farmer has an allotment of 12.4 acres, the charge to the farmer would be $5.75.

To get premeasurement the farmer must come to the PMA office and make his request and pay his fee before a measurement can be made. This service is to the farmers of Chilton County, and any farmer who has this premeasurement and stays within the measured area is guaranteed that he will not be over planted. To obtain this service the farmer must apply before March 31, as this date has been set by the county committee as the deadline for applications.

LONNIE L. COST WRITES VOTERS

I want to ask the good people of Chilton County for the job as Commissioner of the First District. Here are a few pointers I believe in.

First, I believe in a fair deal to the public. With special favors to none. I believe the monthly report of the Commissioners Court should be published so that the people will know what goes with their tax money, who will get it, and what it is spent for.

I believe in looking after the county machinery and taking good care of it just as you would your own car or truck or piece of machinery. I believe in eight full hours work a day for the money paid, as the county's money is just as good as any other money, and also should be shared with the good people of the county when cutting rights-of-way, or building bridges or water boxes.

Now, friends, please give this letter a careful consideration and if you see fit to give me your support on May 2nd and I am elected, I will by all means prove to the people the above words.

Yours for a better county, schools and roads.

LONNIE L. COST,
Jemison Route 2.

CHARLIE TAYLOR WILL MAKE RACE FOR COMMITTEE

Looks like Clanton's young Charles Taylor will cut his teeth on politics. He will be a candidate this year for a place on the State Democratic Executive Committee from the Sixth Congressional District, and we dare say will be the youngest man in the State to make a race for public office.

Charles graduated at Chilton County High School and for the past three years has worked at Montgomery where he also attended night school. He took an extension course from the University of Alabama.

Charles says he is a States Rights Democrat, but only in the sense of the word, that he does not believe in racial equality. He does, however, believe that party differences should be ironed out within the party, and not by any "walk outs."

Charles will make an extensive campaign throughout the District and asks his Chilton County friends to lend their assistance to his campaign.

ANOTHER ENTERS RACE FOR THE STATE SENATE

Mr. L. W. Wooten of Montevallo, entered the race for the State Senate last week. his brings to three the candidates who will run for the place held now by Mr. Will Gulledge.

Previously, Tom Phillips of Siluria, and John Foshee of Montevallo, had announced they would make the race.

Mr. Wooten in giving the writer an account of himself for the past few years, says he has been in the automobile business for the past 30 years. Recently he sold out his business and organized the Montevallo Clay Company. He is also an official and general manager of the Montevallo Development Company that is building a sub-division on some 88 acres of land at Montevallo.

He was born and reared in Shelby County although he moved in 1921 to Pickens County where he spent 13 years on the Board of Education there. He now is a member of the Town Council of Montevallo, and a deacon in the Baptist Church. He is married and has three children. The youngest daughter is President of the Student Council at Alabama College.

QUINCY O. CULP

Mr. Quincy Osmond Culp, age 48, died at a local hospital in Clanton at 10:45 p.m. February 25th. Funeral services were held at Mt. Nebo on February 27th, with interment in adjoining cemetery.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Culp; two brothers, Delos Culp of Montgomery, and J. O. Culp of Sycamore; four sisters—Mrs. V. C. McKee, Mrs. H. L. Mims, Mrs. Arthur C. Henley and Mrs. H. O. Headley of Clanton.

Pallbearers were: James Earl Hosey, T. J. Headley, Clyde Headley, Comer Durbin, Wilson Atkinson and Loyce Stroud.

Flower girls were: Olivia Wilson, Ethel Headley, Joyce Davis, Joann Davis, Fannie Lee Mims, Rose Ann Williams and Mavorene Tucker.

J. Mell Martin & Sons in charge.

To Publish Pictures of

LOCAL CHILDREN

- Pictures of the children of this community are to be published in this newspaper as a special tribute to our Young Citizens of Tomorrow. Soon the responsibility for world destiny will rest heavily upon their shoulders. As Americans, they will meet those responsibilities without faltering. Among them, in the years to come will be many with fame and fortune. But, just as they are right now . . . with the dawn of a greater tomorrow in their fresh young faces . . . this newspaper wants a picture of these future professional men and women, and, who knows, perhaps a future president of our country. These pictures will be published in a forthcoming special feature. So, Mother and Dad, your cooperation will be needed to help make this event a colorful and inspiring exhibit!
- Arrangements have been made with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers for newspapers, to take the pictures at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children to the photographer. There is no charge or obligation. Children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.
- You do not have to be a subscriber to this newspaper and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the pictures taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in the paper. It is as simple as that!
- You can clip these pictures from the paper, thus obtaining a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children.

Below is the time and place to have your pictures taken without cost!

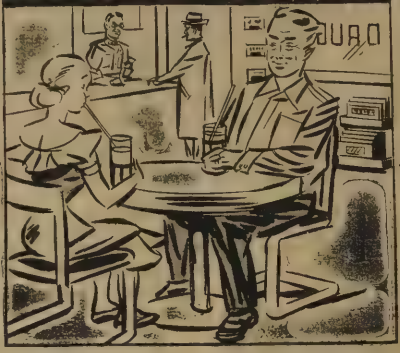
IN OUR TOWN ...



....BUSINESS AND PLEASURE DO MIX

The old saying that business and pleasure don't mix does not apply to the people in Our Town. When you're doing business with merchants who are your neighbors, it's actually a pleasure. That's the attitude of most everyone here. We all know that what helps Our Town helps each individual. It's this friendly spirit that makes mixing business and pleasure possible; and one of the many reasons why Our Town is a good place in which to live, trade, and do business.

Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy hasn't a thing on Chilton County Shoe Shine Boy at the Service Barber Shop. That boy can really pop a shine rag. It would be a good publicity stunt for the local barbers to hold a Shine Boy contest and choose the best Shoe Shine Boy in Clanton. Create a lot of attention and that's what makes business.

Understand that Chick Wade will move his Jewelry Store into the Bell Hardware Company building when they move. By-the-way, gentle readers, if all this moving that we have been reporting gets you confused, don't blame us. We try to give it to you as we hear about it and are just as confused as you are.

Dick Hayes's used car lot is fast becoming a reality. We haven't talked to Dick and learned his plans but you can see the property shaping up, daily. At present there is more business in azaleas being done there than in used cars.

The brother-in-law Floyd Clark, and sister, Ann, of Anniston, made a pop call Monday afternoon and stayed around for a few hours. Haven't enjoyed a pop call so much in years. Floyd always has a joke to tell no matter when or where you meet him. This one has to do with the old couple who wanted to take a ride in an airplane. The pilot told the old couple that he was a stunt flyer and they had better not ride with him, but they kept insisting. He finally gave in and took the couple up, with the understanding that they were to keep absolutely quiet. In fact, he told the old man that if they made any fuss at all it would cost them double price. Well the pilot took them up, did all the stunts, made all the loops, finally sailed into the runway and taxied to a stop. The old man climbed out and the pilot complimented him on his attitude and for keeping quiet and not making any fuss. "Yeah," said the old man, "I kept quiet all right. But I shore liked to have hollered when my old lady fell out."

Here's a few lines taken from Alapressa that should be memorized by every employee and employer:

What Is A Customer?

A customer is the most important person ever in your place of business. In person, by mail, or by telephone.

A customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.

A customer is not an outsider to our business—he is part of it.

A customer is not a cold statistic—he is a flesh and human being with feelings and emotions like our own, and with biases and prejudices.

A customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever won an argument with a customer.

A customer is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

That is what a customer is—in your business, or in any business. Some people seem to have forgotten some of these basic truths in recent years, but it is high time to be remembering them again. Tomorrow may be too late.

Well, the qualifying time has passed and all who are going too, have.

We guess it is because there are so many candidates for the state offices, but we have never in all our years in a newspaper office seen so much advertising mailed to newspapers under the heading "news release." Right now, it would really be "news" if every mail didn't bring a wastepaper basket full of "news releases" from the would-be office holders. The fact that he (or she) is running is news. But the other three pages of closely type written material stating their views, and wishes, and promises, is advertising.

When serving potatoes without their skins, remove the skins after cooking rather than before. This method not only saves the valuable nutrients but is quicker and easier than paring raw potatoes.

Do not use soda when cooking green vegetables. Soda tends to destroy vitamins, particularly Vitamin C which prevents scurvy and Vitamin B which is important in maintaining steady and vigor.

The Dangerous Beast

The dangerous leopard that caused so much excitement in Oklahoma City was apprehended after several hours hunt by nearly 4,000 persons, including officers, fully armed and using trail dogs, joined in the hunt. The people of Oklahoma City and surrounding communities were uneasy during the whole proceedings. They had a right to be; for a dangerous beast was loose, going about, perhaps seeking what it might devour. The people are to be commended for going into the hunt, and sparing nothing until the wild, dangerous beast was back in his cage. People of all walks of life were in danger, especially children and people unarmed. Now since the leopard is out of the way the people can rest easy there is no more danger from the leopard; but is there not another dangerous beast?

A. T. HICKMAN

In the Bible we read that "Your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." (I Pet. 5:8). And yet, there are people who do not seem to be alarmed at all of the danger of such an adversary. But the devil is capable of doing more harm to the human race than all the leopards in the world put together. He seeks not only to devour the body, but the mind and the soul of every man, woman, boy and girl. The devil is loose in this country; going up and down the highways and byways, the streets and lanes of our cities and country side seeking to destroy the happiness of mankind, and to destroy the American way of life, and to damn every soul he can in hell. And what are we doing about it? How can professed Christians who know the truth be so lax in their efforts to save man-kind from this awful adversary? And how can any intelligent man or woman not be aware of this danger?

Parents would not think about letting their children go out without protection against such a thing as a roaring lion, or a man-eating leopard; but they think nothing about allowing them to go out in the world unprotected against the adversary, the devil. They have allowed the devil to come right into the home and destroy the old-fashioned family altar of prayer and family worship. Destroy the godly Christian home training of the youth of the land. The devil leads astray to the road houses, movies, taverns, and the booze joints where he destroys the character, robs of virtue, and sends a person on his way to an eternal destruction. Let us wake up to the reality of evil in the world.

FACIAL NEURALGIA

The pain of facial neuralgia, which is a disease afflicting those in middle or older life, has been described as severe as any that man is ever called upon to endure. This pain lasts for from a few seconds to a few minutes but is of such violence that the sufferer winces and contorts his face in agony.

Neuralgia is an inflammation of the trigeminal nerve of the face and may spread throughout its three branches. Attacks of this type of facial neuralgia are brought on by apparently trivial movements, such as eating, drinking, talking, washing the face, or even shaving. A loud sound or even a light touch to "trigger zones" around the nose or mouth may bring on an attack.

In the beginning, there are often long intervals between seizures—months to years—but finally, in practically all cases, the pain becomes continuous and extends to all three branches of the trifacial nerve. In about 3 per cent of cases, tic douloureux, a spasmodic facial neufalgia, follows and affects both sides of the face.

Spontaneous recovery from facial neuralgia has never been reported. Although the condition is intermittent, it does not permanently disappear except as the result of proper medical or surgical treatment. Injections of alcohol into the branches of the nerve, while a radical treatment, seems, in exert hands, to be the best hope of successful treatment. At one of the leading hospitals in the United States it was reported that the average period of relief from facial neuralgia through alcohol injection is about a year and a half, though many are relieved for much longer periods.

Electrified Steps to Greater Freedom from Kitchen Chores

You took electrified STEP ONE to greater freedom from kitchen chores when you bought your ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR.

ELECTRIFIED STEP TWO is to go to an electrical appliance store; look at the many attractive models of Electric Ranges.

If you haven't already heard of all the convenience features from neighbors and friends who already cook electrically, ask the salesman to tell you about them. He'll tell you how the electric range does the cooking while you're shopping or visiting or attending church service; about oven temperatures that are exact so that you get good results each time you bake or roast; about the cleanliness of electric cooking. (Pots and pans don't get smutty on the outside when you cook electrically). He'll tell you, too, about the low operating cost.

Now select the model which appeals to you, sign up for the monthly payments, and you have taken Electrified Step Two—a step which will give you still greater freedom from kitchen chores.*

The Store That Constantly Lowers Your Cost Of Living

Reuben Newton Released The Following Platform

Fayette, Ala., March 4 — Reuben Newton in opening his campaign in a speech here today released the following platform:

In our boys and girls of today lies our hope for tomorrow. Their health, education and general welfare are close to my heart, and must be assured by the liberal use of our own resources and by Federal aid, without Federal control.

Every boy and girl in Alabama, white or colored, is entitled to educational facilities sufficient to prepare them for such vocations as they desire to follow. But a separation of the races in educational institutions and reasonable separation elsewhere is necessary to prevent friction and to promote harmonious racial relations.

If education is not to lose ground in Alabama it is of primary importance that all schools have a nine month term; all teachers are paid adequate salaries; and, to enable them to live with some sense of security, a continuation of the teacher's retirement system must be assured; a building program must be instituted to take care of unsafe and inadequate buildings and proper bus transportation provided for each community.

A broader program to improve the health of the people of Alabama should be applied through four main avenues: (1) training the people to do the job; (2) a plan for the care of the indigent sick; (3) the building of more hospitals throughout the state and (4) the development of county health units. Socialized medicine is incompatable with our system of free enterprise.

I shall work to simplify the system of passing upon the qualifications of those entitled to old age pensions as well as the system of paying pensions —and I shall fight to see that every man and woman over the age of 65 years and eligible for a pension receives $50.00 per month as a return for the investment they have made in developing this state.

I shall work diligently for the rebuilding of our major trunk highways in order to provide safer transportation and to encourage tourist travel to and through Alabama. And I shall work for the completion of hard surface farm to market roads.

I shall support the Alabama Wild Life Federation, County Conservation Clubs and every interested individua in the restoration and conservation of the natural resources that God so bountifully gave to Alabama.

Those convicted of crime should be carefully screened and classified and their work and environment so regulated that pardons and paroles may be granted on the basis of merit and with a reasonable expectancy of regeneration. Convicts should be trained and used, where feasible, for reclaiming land, fire prevention and rebuilding forests as well as for the maintenance of roads.

I shall advocate the establishment of graneries and elevators in connection with the marketing facilities of the state to the end that the farmers, including the 4-H, FFA and FHA boys and girls of Alabama, may receive for their corn the same prices paid in other states.

I shall sponsor and support more adequate facilities at Auburn and at our experiment stations and schools for teaching and research—to the end that our basic industries of general farming, cattle raising and dairying may be advanced on a modern and scientific basis.

The veteran deserves the gratitude of the State and Nation he has served. That gratitude must be expressed in increased benefits for the disabled and their families, in special license rates for veterans and, if feasible, a bonus.

I shall favor a constitutional amendment to exempt the wives and widows of Spanish-American, World War I and World War II veterans from the payment of poll taxes.

Since the Rainbow Division made its great record in World War I, the Alabama National Guard has enjoyed the highest rank in the United States. It shall be my aim to promote the interests of our National Guard in every manner possible.

I shall oppose any increase in taxes so long as essential state services can be maintained by honest work and thrift. I am opposed to inequality of taxation in all forms.

I favor collective bargaining, safe working conditions and a fair wage for labor and I believe that labor owes an honest day's work in return for the fair wage to which it is entitled.

As Governor of Alabama I shall do my utmost to carry out the mandate of our Constitution for reapportionment of legislative representation. I could not conscientiously take any other course.

Our state merit system has proved its worth and must be retained.

As Governor of Alabama I shall strive to create and maintain public confidence in the integrity of our state government.

Because of our present complicated society governmental services are essential today which were undreamed of a few years ago; but governmental extravagance in extending these services is inexcusable.

The best government is that which is closest to the people. Ways must be found for more adequate home rule by the counties and municipalities of the state.

Above all else today we need to quicken and energize faith in our form of government. We must emphasize the blessings of free enterprise and the worth and dignity of individual liberty. We must stand alert to combat all forces which would undermine our Democratic institutions. We must have faith in ourselves and in the future of our State and Nation. As Governor of Alabama I shall dedicate myself to a vindication of that faith.

Faithfully,
REUBEN NEWTON.

ALABAMA'S

GOVERNOR

Making his first bid for a state-wide office in 1946, Reuben Newton carried 40 out of the 67 Counties for Lieutenant Governor.

Without a state organization and with scant campaign funds Reuben Newton went straight to the people of Alabama.

The people found him colorful, liberal and understanding, but a sound thinker with a solid grasp of the state's problems.

The people liked Reuben Newton. They voted for him 153,572 strong. And they are going to elect him GOVERNOR of ALABAMA.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Last week's "Casanova" was James Pyron. You might say, "Don Juan," though he seems to go with all the girls.

Just think, kids, no more shows, parties, etc., for another six weeks. Those report cards really mess up things, don't they?

On the contrary, kids, we are supposed to have a dance next Friday night, but that doesn't necessarily mean everyone can go, does it? (By the way, the band is going to sponsor it and it should be a good night of fun.)

The Glee Club is going to sing on the air at the Baptist Church Sunday evening and it should be a good program.

You know, it looks like Billy Powell just can't find himself a girl these days; I really don't see why, though, because if it wasn't for Mr. Powell's temper he would be very nice company. (I didn't say he wasn't nice company because he is very friendly). Don't try to get my girl, Billy, because I'm supposed to be talking nice about you.

You know, I must have an awful lot of enemies. The other night I was at the skating rink and some guy came flying around a corner and uh. . . .didn't make it and almost landed in my lap. Almost is right, it hurt him a whole lot more than it did me.

Here's some sharp one's that are pretty nifty:

"I bought a wooden whistle, but it it wooden whistle.

So I bought a steel whistle, but steel it wodden whistle.

So I bought a lead whistle, still they wooden lead me whistle.

So I bought a tin whistle, and now I tin whistle."

Joe: "Did I ever tell you how I tried my jujitsu on a burglar?"

Moe: "No."

Joe: "Well, I got hold of his leg and twisted it over his shoulder. Then I got hold of his arm and twisted it round his neck, and before he knew where he was I was flat on my back."

The Decrepit old car drove up to the toll-bridge.

"Fifty cents," cried the gateman.

"Sold," replied the driver as he got out of the car.

Well, guess we've gotta have a girl this week: She has either green or grey eyes, shall we say, cat eyes, weighs about 120 pounds, she is a brunette, and brother does she have boy friends, she is about 5 ft. 4 inches tall and isn't bad on the eyes.

Say, I spoke of the skating rink a while ago. Man, it really is doing the business, and people, young and old, are thoroughly enjoying it. Here's hoping it stays open long enough for me and a few others to learn how to skate.

Looks like Ray Yeager just can't say mustaches right. It's either that or he's simply got a funny way of pronouncing the word. He says it is pronounced "mustacklies." Oh, well! He's supposed to be smarter than I am, anyway, so maybe that's the right way.

Bobby Kinney came up with a wise old saying in history the other day. Seems Mrs. DuBose was talking about King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella. She had already asked everything else about them so she asked Bobby whether Queen Isabelle was very beautiful or not. Bobby says, "I don't know, Mrs. DuBose, I never saw her." (Boy, that was sharp, wasn't it, kids?)

MT. PISGAH

We had a nice attendance Sunday for a cloudy day. Several are absent because of sickness. We hope they soon will recover and are back with us.

Everyone was saddened by the death of Mrs. W. C. Davis. Funeral services were conducted by Bro. C. F. Fuller and Bro. Gibson. She will be missed by all.

Mrs. G. C. Kicker and little son of Mt. Creek attended services Sunday.

We were glad to have Miss Bernice Davis at church with us.

Mr. Billy Yeargan of Auburn and friend, Mr. Norman Morris, of Auburn and Mobile, were at church Sunday. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Yeargan.

Mrs. Ernest Edwards, Mr. Thaimer Bean and Miss Elaine Edwards went to Montgomery Sunday to see Mrs. Edwards's mother who is ill.

Mrs. John Bryant and Miss Mabeline Coggins are ill. They were in Montgomery Tuesday and Wednesday to see doctors.

Mrs. Lee Ray has been sick several weeks, but we hope she's well again soon.

Miss Alma Faye Chadwick is in bed with a sprained ankle.

Miss Annie Fern Edwards visited the skating rink Saturday night.

Mrs. Oscar Davis's birthday was Tuesday. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Odell Jones and daughter, and Mrs. Elijah Chadwick.

Mr. Joseph Patterson and Miss Myra Davis were the Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis visited in Powderly, Ala., Sunday afternoon.—Reporter.

We are sorry to report Mrs. J. F. Spigener and little Sara Ann Chandler on the sick list this week.

Mr. W. H. Gafford shows some improvement this week. We are glad to report this.

Miss Frances Chandler and Flora Ann Williams spent Saturday with Miss Vera Chandler of Clanton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nelson and babies of Bessemer and Mr. and Mrs. George DeFreeze, Jr., of Fairfield, are visiting friends and relatives in this community this week.

Mrs. Clyde Chandler, Clydie Ruth and Ruth Williams spent Friday in Clanton with Mrs. Harvey Chandler who has been ill.

FERTILIZE COTTON

Reports from Extension-TVA unit test demonstration farmers in 1940 show that 141 farmers using an average of 446 pounds of fertilizer per acre made an average of 438 pounds of lint cotton per acre, whereas 65 farmers using an average of 705 pounds of fertilizer per acre made an average of 510 pounds of lint cotton per acre. The difference of 72 pounds o lint cotton per acre more than paid the fertilizer bill for the 65 farmers.

CANE CREEK

Rev. Jadie Thomas, our pastor, was present at the services both Saturday and Sunday. We were very glad to have him back after his recent illness.

Attendance was not so good at the services this week end. Everyone remember we have Sunday School each Sunday and preaching each first and third Sundays. Everyone is urged to attend and bring someone with you. Visitors are always welcome at this place.

All singers and lovers of gospel music are cordially invited to attend the Sunday afternoon singing the third Sunday in this month, March 19th. Some special groups of singers are expected to be present.

Rev. and Mrs. Jadie Thomas wish to express their sincere gratitude to all the members of this church who helped them in any way during the illness of Rev. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Robinson and family, whose house burned last Wednesday, wish to thank each and every one for the nice gifts and donations which they have received. Words cannot express their gratitude.

Rev. and Mrs. Jadie Thomas were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Willis and family.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING COMING TO THE FRONT

Auburn, Ala. — A successful year in artificial breeding was brought to a close at a recent one-day meeting for members of all Artificial Breeding Associations, announces Pete B. Turnham, A.P.I. Extension Service dairy specialist.

Other interesting artificial breeding information brought out at the meeting concerned 6,200 Alabama cows that were bred artificially in 1949 and the fact that Alabama's conception rate of artificially bred dairy animals was 62 per cent above the national average.

Officers of the Alabama Artificial Breeding Association elected at the meeting to serve during 1950 were J. P. Whiteside, president, Anniston; J. L. Pitts, vice president, Seale; and Fred Moore, secretary-treasurer, Auburn.

WALNUT CREEK

The Young People's Choir of the Walnut Creek Methodist Church will meet at the church Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock.

The regular morning and evening worship services will be held Sunday at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

As Sunday is Community Sunday at our church, we are expecting an exceptionally large congregation. If you have an interest in this church you will certainly want to be there for this special occasion.

Plans are continuing for the Spring revival to begin April 9th and great things are expected. Rev. O. H. Van Lordingham will be the visiting evangelist.

USE SLIP COVERS TO CHANGE STYLE

Auburn, Ala. — It's easy to change the style of furniture when slip covers are replaced, according to Alice Peavy, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist.

For example, the same chair can be styled early American, modern, or Eighteenth Century, depending on the choice of material, style, pattern, and cut of the slip cover. Seam finishes and trimmings help to express style.

Miss Peavy says that slip covers will protect furniture from dust and soil, provide seasonal changes in style and color, give a new color plan for a room without changing furniture, and reduce the cost of furniture upkeep.

"To be sure slip covers give all of these advantages," asserts the specialist, "one should know how to buy good fabric for long wear; put colors together to make the room bright and attractive; select patterns and textures to make the room restful and interesting; and make a slip cover, or know where to have one well-made."

Alabama Power Official To Direct Cancer Drive

BIRMINGHAM — Alabama will make its biggest fight against cancer in the months ahead, and the state-wide drive in April for funds to finance it will be led by E. C. Easter, vice-president of the Alabama Power Company.

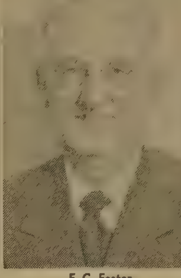
Mr. Easter, whose home is in Birmingham, is the 1950 State Campaign Chairman for the Alabama Division of the American Cancer Society. He was selected by a special committee composed of P. O. Davis, State Director of the Agricultural Extension Service; Fred Duran, vice-president of the Union Bank and Trust Company, Montgomery; and J. C. McGough, Probate Judge of Fayette County.

Alabama already is waging one of the most intensive cancer control programs in the United States, Mr. Davis, who is chairman of the committee, pointed out, and funds will be raised in the April drive to extend it even more.

"One out of every six persons alive in Alabama today has a life-and-death stake in the fight against cancer," Mr. Davis said, "because that is the number cancer will strike some time during their lives—one in six.

"But the cancer fight has made greater gains the last five years than ever before. The percentage of cancer cases cured has doubled since 1945. Money raised in April will mean still greater successes."

Mr. Easter will set up a fund-raising group, headed by a volunteer chairman in every county in the state. The money will be used to finance the cancer research, cancer education and cancer service programs.



E. C. Easter

Born and reared on a farm in Limestone County, Mr. Easter obtained his BS and MS degrees in Agriculture at Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Then for the next six years he taught agricultural engineering subjects and did various experimental work in agricultural engineering at API.

He was employed as Chief Agricultural Engineer by the Alabama Power Company in 1927, and in 1933 was promoted to manager of the company's Rural and Towns Division. He was appointed Sales Manager in April, 1949, and elected vice-president in charge of sales six months later.

His wife is the former Barbara Wright, of Auburn. They have one son, Everett C. Easter, Jr.

COTTON PEST CONTROL BROUGHT UP TO DATE

Auburn, Ala. — Alabama cotton farmers cannot afford to let the boll weevil destroy $50,000,000 worth of cotton again this year, declares W. A. Ruffin, A.P.I. Extension Service entomologist.

He urges farmers to use one of two poisons recommended by the A.P.I. Agricultural Experiment Station. One of the poisons contains 20 per cent toxaphene, and the other poison is a 3-5 mixture of BHC-DDT. These poisons are more than twice as effective as calcium arsenate. Toxaphene and the 3-5 mixture will control all kinds of cotton insects, while calcium arsenate will kill only the boll weevil.

"Those who wish to spray cotton with toxaphene or with a mixture that contains toxaphene and DDT will get good results if they do the job in the right manner," says the specialist. "However, spraying is no more effecting than dusting, and it is more difficult to spray than it is to dust. Special sprayers are needed to spray cotton, and, to be effective, the spray material must be applied at the rate of four to eight gallons of diluted spray per acre per application."

Concerning early cotton pest control, Ruffin points to records of the Experiment Station which show that cotton dusted three or four times early in the season did not make as much as undusted cotton. In other words, early and late dustings have not made as much cotton for three years as late dusting has alone.

The entomologist reveals that best results from poisoning cotton will come from dusting while the plant is setting fruit rapidly and while the crop is maturing. This fact means that cotton should be dusted the first time about lay-by time. Then dusting should be continued when needed every four to five days until first bolls start opening.

REMEMBER THESE TIPS WHEN BUYING GARMENT

The chance of securing a good fit is surer in a garment slightly too large than one too small.

Levice Ellis, A.P.I. Extension Service clothing specialist, reminds the buyer that fabric for alteration must be available. Always remember that garments fitted too snugly wrinkle more easily and show wear sooner than those properly fitted. A snug-fitting garment reveals both good and bad body features, especially the bad features.

Flavor, color, and food value of frozen foods are lost when leftovers are stored and reheated.

Brain Specialist Says Top Authors Often off 'Beam'

LONDON.—A London brain specialist has declared that great authors—to say the least—are sometimes "off the beam."

This analysis was made in an article in the British medical journal. The author is Dr. Russell W. Brain.

On the doctor's list of writers who have shown some mental aberrations were some of the great names of English literature: Boswell, Bunyan, Burns, Dickens, Johnson, Lamb, Ruskin, Shelley and Tennyson.

Some were insane, Dr. Brain said, in the sense that they could be certified as such and placed in institutions. Others, while not ready for the asylum, were classified as manic depressives, alcoholics, drug addicts, schizophrenics or "just plain nuts."

The doctor said Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities" bears marks of the author's preoccupation with violence and cruelty, and described this feature as a form of masochism (finding pleasure in pain suffered by one's self).

"Oliver Twist," on the other hand, was helped along by Dickens' hardening of the arteries, the doctor believes. Summing up his case generally, Brain said:

"The genius of literature has higher intelligence, more intense and differentiated feelings, a better memory, and a greater capacity for words than the rest of us. These, presumably, depend upon a quantitatively richer organization of his nervous system. He also has dynamic quality which often seems to raise even his madness to a higher power."

Study of Weather Effect On Stone May Take Century

WASHINGTON.—Federal government workers have gone to work on an experiment which may go on for as long as 100 years. They want to find out how various stones will weather the capital's climate.

To determine that, they have assembled 2,000 rocks from 47 states and 16 foreign countries and built them into a masonry wall 13 feet high, 38 feet long, and 2 feet thick.

The big rock heap is in a field at the national bureau of standards which tests all sorts of things for the government.

Music Stores May Replace Druggist Shops

NEW YORK. — The time isn't here just yet, but it may not be too long before you can get your doctor's prescription filled at the music store instead of the drug counter.

Something like a symphony or sonata for sinus, some Debussy for that feeling of debility and a little Rachmaninoff for that restless feeling. And who would overlook Mozart for measles or mumps?

Naturally, music won't set a broken leg or pull a tooth, but some of it will help you digest food better, quicken your breathing, give you more energy and lower your pulse and blood pressure.

The army spent money on the study of the curative and psychological effects of medicine at Walter Reed general hospital in World War II. Out of that venture has come the music research foundation.

Not Entertainment

It is not in any way an entertainment project. Indeed, the idea came as a rebound from an entertainment which drew an agonized scream from a wounded World War I soldier forced to listen to "Over There" . . . Over there where he had suffered terribly.

His scream was heard by Miss Frances Paperte, then star of the Chicago Opera co. Her eventual response was to decide that "all music is not good for all people." In World War II she tested out this belief among hospitalized soldiers, and later founded the Music Research foundation at a New York meeting in the home of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison.

Fritz Kreisler is honorary President. Charlotte Willkie Pihl is Treasurer: directors include Jarmila Novotna of the Metropolitan Opera and Dr. R. C. Williams, U. S. assistant surgeon general; among advisers are Edwin Franko Goldman. Deems Taylor and Fred E. Ahlert President of ASCAP which was the first large contributor to the foundation's funds.

Melodies Classified

Musical classifications are "stimulating," "soothing," "happy" and so on. Among the listings prepared by musicologists, are Chopin's Waltz No. 6 in D-flat ("Minute") and the "Peer Gynt" Suite No. 1, by Grieg, "gay;" Chopin's Mazurkas op. 50, "stimulating." Chopin's Prelude No. 7 in A major, and the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," "Soothing;" the Dance of The Spirits, from Gluck's "Orfeo And Euridice," "happy."

Some neuropsychiatric patients, submitted to some curative music. were found to be less tense, to cry less, to "socialize" better, to have an improved emotional tone. New York medical men testify to the utility of music in the treatment of cardiac diseases and the administration of anesthetics.

The doctor defines the patient's need: the musician selects and applies the appropriate number; the approach is primarily medical rather than musical, says Miss Paperte. She sums it up this way:

"The Music Research foundation is attempting to make a reproducible science of the present haphazard application of music to various uses." The greatest present need, she says, is a "standardized procedure."

BELIEVES IN THESE ENDURING PRINCIPLES OF AMERICAN LIFE

1. FREE ENTERPRISE: There can be no substitute for this doctrine of freedom that has made the United States the most powerful nation in the world.
2. COLLECTIVE BARGAINING: In the modern system the only way free men and women can receive their just guarantees under the law is through free collective bargaining with justice for all.
3. LOWER INCOME TAX: The colossal cost of the federal government has risen to a point where it strangles the growth of free enterprise in many ways. Income taxes and hidden taxes everywhere are taking too much of the earnings of the average man and woman.

I advocate action to lower these super-high taxes.

During the 1950 Campaign for Sixth District Representative in the U. S. Congress I hope to meet you personally, and to make clear my stand on the issues of the day. Your support and influence will be greatly appreciated. I will devote much of my time to the campaign between now and May 2nd.

Looks Can "Kill"

A month ago, it looked like "Our Town's" team in the County Basketball League wasn't going to win a game. Then, one day Slim Henderson came in and said, "Joe, I've got a story for you—listen . . .

"A few of us merchants know we've let our team down—and that's why they're doing badly. They still haven't even the same kind of uniforms [illegible] nothing to [illegible] up their morale. So next [illegible] giving the fellows [illegible] over at the hotel and [illegible] brand-new uniforms [illegible]

The [illegible] of the story is the team has taken four out of its last five games. They have the same players, but they play better—a good deal of it due to the way they feel with new uniforms.

From where I sit, when you LOOK better you do better. The beer retailers, in working with the brewers and their Self-Regulation Program, know this. That's why they keep their establishments so bright and clean. They "win," too—new friends and customers!

FORD WHISPERS WHILE IT WORKS!

AND IT FEELS LIKE AMERICA'S COSTLIEST CARS

QUIET 100-h.p. V-8. It's the same kind of engine now used in America's costliest cars . . . yet Ford offers you this engine for hundreds less than you'd pay for most "sixes." And Ford's V-8 is "hushed"—to deliver its 100 horsepower so smoothly you can hardly hear it—even at sixty.

NEW "HUSHED" RIDE. You ride in "sound-conditioned" silence—for Ford's 13-way-stronger "Lifeguard" Body is insulated to keep noise out. You drive in quality-car luxury, too . . . on sparkling new upholstery fabrics over Ford's new non-sag front seats.

THE ONE FINE CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD. Nowhere on earth can you find so many quality-car features for so little money! For only the '50 Ford in its field offers you the comfort and safety of Ford's low, level "Mid Ship" Ride—cushioned by "Hydra-Coil" and "Para-Flex" Springs . . . 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes . . . and "Finger-Tip" Steering.

There's a Ford in your future ...with a future built in...

I am for Old-Age Pensions, first, last and always.

I am for 12 months pay for school teachers.

I am for free lunches for school children.

I am for putting the sales tax on the wholesaler to collect instead of the merchant. That would take the tax agents off the road and save the taxpayers two to three million dollars annually.

I am for exempting everything that is a necessity of life from sales tax.

I will not pass any local bills without first submitting them to the people.

I will not vote any increase in taxes.

These things I promise to work for if you will send me to Montgomery to represent you in the State Legislature.

Jody Mims Seriously Injured In Hit And Run Accident

Jody Mims of Clanton Route 1, better known to his friends as "Uncle Jody," was seriously injured early Tuesday night when a car, reportedly driven by Buddy Earl Stubbs, left the road and hit him, breaking his leg and injuring him seriously on the head.

Mr. Mims, who is 76 years old, was walking along the Higgins Ferry Road with his son, E. E. Mims, and his little grandson when the accident happened. The driver of the car left the scene of the accident and the occupants were later picked up by the highway patrol when they took their dates to their home.

Spigener's Ambulance rushed Mr. Mims to Central Alabama Hospital and later transferred him to a Selma Hospital.

Highway Patrolman Braswell lodged Buddy Earl Stubbs and Lester Jacks in the county jail. Stubbs charged with leaving the scene of an accident and Jacks as a material witness. The automobile, it is reported, belonged to Jacks.

How America's greatest scientific minds — the men who made atomic energy a reality—are now at work to solve the age-old riddle of cancer will be narrated Tuesday, March 21st, on "For the Living" over Station WKLF at 1:00 p.m.

Pleads Guilty As Charged

The Clanton Kiwanis Club has been found guilty of sponsoring the best black face minstrel ever to appear in Clanton. According to reports of a preview held of the minstrel, it will keep you laughing from the time of the opening curtain until the last word has been spoken.

This minstrel features local talent only. It is sometimes amazing what good talent can be found right at home. People have been known to travel miles at great expense to see shows that wouldn't compare in fun and laughter to the minstrel that is about to be brought to you March 20th, at 7:30 p.m. If you are looking for an evening of fun and entertainment, why not come to the New Wadesonian Theatre Monday evening, March 20th, at 7:30 p.m. It is something that the whole family will enjoy.

CONGRATULATIONS!

We want to tell the Maplesville Glee Club how much everyone enjoyed their singing over WKLF Sunday evening. Thanks to Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Annie Laura Potts for their untiring efforts to keep these boys and girls in this club.

We especially enjoyed the song by Joe Harold Motley. Boy, keep up the good work and some opera will give you a job.

It's times like these that try men's souls." Wonder if the fellow who made that remark lived hereabouts?

No doubt there were cold shoulders, cold looks and chilly attitudes at every turn at the courthouse this week but it is not true that this is the cause of this cold snap.

If we are to believe that every candidate for governor who says he is qualified, is qualified, we have a billion dollars worth of talent in the governor's race this year.

Hope you didn't forget that Wednesday was March 15th. However, if you did, your Uncle Sam will be tapping you on the shoulder pretty soon and reminding you, again.

Drive You Crazy

With we Americans it has got to the point where it is drive, drive, drive. If something isn't done we believe the people will start boycotting drives of all kinds. For several years our drives for this and that have been overlapping.

Now The Birmingham Post has this to say in an Editorial Monday:

"Drive" trouble seems to be growing acute in this country.

Fund-raising campaigns for charitable and other worthy causes are becoming so numerous they are getting in each others' way. Sometimes as many as three and four are on at the same time.

People are beginning to complain that they no sooner contribute to one drive than they're solicited to give to another, local or national.

The situation is such that if the trend continues, many people will stop giving to any drive.

According to Secretary of Labor Tobin, "the great number" of such drives present a problem which has been discussed with concern by members of President Truman's Cabinet.

Unless private organizations solve that problem, Mr. Tobin told the Washington Community Chest Federation last week, the government will have to do something about it.

The government, he said, might establish an agency to collect funds for all national charities and causes and allocate the money on the basis of collections.

Local fund-raising organizations, he added, should consolidate their appeals at the local level. That's what hundreds of committees tried to do when they started Community Chests.

Mr. Tobin's remarks followed a report by Chauncey G. Parker, president of the Washington Community Chest, that "the multiplicity of independent, competing campaigns for funds," has created an almost "chaotic condition."

The original idea of Community Chests was to combine the money-raising activities of all worthy organizations in one, big annual drive in each city, saving the expense of many separate campaigns and sparing contributors and volunteer workers a year-round series of solicitations.

The idea worked for a while but never perfectly. It hasn't been satisfactory to some organizations. But getting away from that idea threatens to be disastrous to all organizations which depend on contributed funds.

One consolidated appeal in each community each year certainly would be better, in every way, than forcing the government to assume the job of collecting and apportioning funds for private charity and welfare causes.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Dan Baker was in to visit with us Monday of this week. He is a candidate for the office of Secretary of State. An ex-newspaper man and a graduate in law, Mr. Baker feels that he is well qualified to serve as Secretary of State. For his opposition he has two ladies and two gentlemen, there being five candidates in that race this year.

Everything is trial this week and most of the citizens of the county, it seems, can be found around the courthouse. And too, several dozens of gentlemen who are not citizens of the county are prominent there also. Some of the best legal talent in the State of Alabama is represented here this week.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the Messer family in the loss of their husband and father last Sunday. Just an ordinary, friendly, family sort of fellow, the kind writers like to call the "backbone" of our nation, was the kind of fellow C. D. Messer was. He had been a barber here for a score or more years and had a host of friends throughout this section. He will be missed by many, other than his immediate family. He made and kept friends.

We have a new automatic press at the News office that is just etching to do your job printing. It is a new offset press and confidentially the latest thing in economical printing. Up to now we have never claimed to do first rate printing like you could get at the bigger places because our country printing office isn't equipped to do the best. But, that was before we purchased the new multilith process press we now have. You send us a nice clean copy of what you want. We photograph the form and presto, you have a reproduction of your job just as the copy was presented to us. No type or makeup used at all. Let us show you on your next complicated rule form.

Dr. S. A. Barson, who has been coming to Clanton for the past several years has turned his practice over to Dr. Woodrow Wilson in the Hayes Building. Dr. Barson was ordered to discontinue his appointments by his physician.

Did you read where the Dean of Women at a large co-educational college had issued a statement where she and the president of the college had decided to stop necking on the campus.

Junior asked daddy what a sweater girl was. Daddy says: "Why, er-uh, a girl who works in a sweater factory," and after a moment's pause, "say, where did you get that question?" "Never mind that, daddy, —where did you get that answer?"

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Whaley, who have come to Clanton to live with us. Mr. Whaley is the pastor at the Church of Christ and they have moved into the residence formerly occupied by the Truman Lukers on Lay Dam Road. We are sure the residents of our little City will give the Whaleys a big welcome, and they will grow to love Chilton County and her people.

Friends at Chicago Sales Company are surely missing Miss Kate Aldridge. "Miss Kate" as she was affectionately called by most every one who knew her is progressing slowly at her home and says she will be up and about before too long to take her place again at the store. "Miss Kate" was a "fixture" in the business life of Clanton for more than a quarter of a century and is sorely missed by her many friends throughout Chilton County.

Charlie Wade bought some property here the other day that hadn't changed hands for the past thirty-seven years. Rumor has it that he might build a Drive-In Theatre. 'Course just rumor possibly, but that would make things interesting, wouldn't? And then if Mr. Jackson came to town and built a big new theatre close in, well, theatre goers sure would have a large variety of pictures to choose from each night, wouldn't they? You know, this could go on and on.

Your Health

SINUSITIS

The sinuses are hollow cavities in the bones of the head and face which are filled with air. They decrease the weight of the bones and also offer space through which incoming air may be warmed and moistened.

These hollows are connected with the nose by small openings; and inflammation of the nose may close the sinuses, interfering with drainage, and trapping air in the cavity. The chief causes of sinus trouble are infections of the nose and throat such as the common cold, influenza, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria. The pain in sinus infection is usually due to the swelling and closure of the sinus outlet. This pain may sometimes be relieved by putting a hot water bottle, hot wet pads, or an electric pad over the inflamed part. In more severe cases even medical treatment fails to cure sinusitis and an operation becomes necessary to open and drain the sinus.

Improperly blowing the nose by holding one side can force infection up into the sinuses. In blowing the nose violently, hold the nose at the bridge and blow through both sides. The frequent use of sprays, oils, and antiseptics in the nose may injure the mucous membrane and cause sinus trouble.

Symptoms of sinus disorder usually include a headache or pain over the infected sinus in the morning, which passes off later in the day. There may be pain in the cheek, upper teeth, or elsewhere in the head; and the forehead may be tender to pressure. The nose may become dry and clogged due to the swollen membrane and to lack of drainage.

A stuffy nose is not necessarily a sign of sinusitis; but if you have sinusitis, you need proper medical care. Uncured sinusitis often leads to bronchitis, mastoid infection, and arthritis; so do not delay seeing your physician.

deGraffenried Named As One Of House Conferees

Departing from usual committee procedure, a freshman of one of the major committees of the House of Representatives was chosen today to serve as a conferee on an important legislative measure.

Congressman Edward deGraffenried drew this assignment today when a subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee met in executive session to suggest conferees on the Uniform Code of Military Justice Bill. The appointment of Representative deGraffenried as one of the Democratic conferees transcended the usual procedure of appointing ranking senior members of a committee as conferees. He and the other House Conferees will start meeting with the Senate Conferees at an early date and the Conference Committee will reconcile the differences between the House and Senate bills to establish a Uniform Code of Military Justice.

This assignment came to Representative deGraffenried as a result of the great amount of work performed by him on this measure while pending before a subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee, his examination of numerous witnesses who appeared before the subcommittee and his outstanding training and experience in the legal field.

The Uniform Code of Military Justice bill seeks to pattern military laws and their administration as nearly as possible after civil rules and procedures. One of the cardinal provisions of the bill is the right of an enlisted man to have other enlisted men serve on the court martial boards before which he is tried and also provides for the appointment of competent legal counsel for each accused to represent him at his trial. The bill further provides for the establishment of a Military Court of Appeals to be presided over by three civilian justices.

Congressman deGraffenried stated: "The new law will make uniform the system of administering justices in the three branches of the Armed Forces, and it is my purpose to see that members of the Armed Forces are accorded the same privilege of a fair trial which our people have in their civilian courts."

Mercy Killings

Recently there have been two so-called "Mercy Killings" trials. The two persons charged with murder were freed in the trials. The courts cleared both. One was a young woman who shot and killed her own father while he lay in a hospital; she thought he had an incurable disease, but did he? The other one was the trial of a doctor who injected air into the blood veins of a woman who he thought was dying, with an incurable disease; but was she? Have not many cases been given up by doctors, and then the patient live? We have always heard it said, "As long as there is breath, there is hope."

A. T. HICKMAN

The law of the land, based on the Bible, forbids a 'mercy killing,' but it is astonishing how much sentiment was expressed in the two trials in favor of the young woman, and the doctor in spite of the truth they had taken life. Many people seem to feel and believe it to be a light thing for a person to dare to climb to God's throne and decide whether or not a human being should live or die. Why can't we remember what happened to Eve when she believed the devil's lie, "Ye shall be as gods."

There is an organized effort in the United States to have "mercy killing" legalized. It is claimed that more than 1,500 New York physicians are in favor of a law permitting them to end a patient's life by some painless means if he has an incurable disease, and if he and his family request it. This is man thinking that he knows better than God when an earthly life should end. Worst of all, the liberals of the greatest American pulpits are in favor of it. We are told that a petition calling for passage of such a law was signed by 379 Protestant and Jewish clergymen in New York. But to my mind, God still reigns, and surely He will not hold guiltless the hands that become stained with innocent blood. He has said, "Thou shalt not kill." And again He said in Rev. 21:8, "The fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murders, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolators, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone; and the murderer hath no eternal life abiding in him.

Many a sick person has been healed by divine power after many doctors had pronounced the case incurable. What if the light of God's salvation had not dawned upon the soul. Who would dare to send a soul to a Christless eternity?

HOW TO KEEP PEANUT LAND IN PRODUCTION

Auburn, Ala.—If peanuts are grown on fertile land continuously and are dug year after year, yields are likely to be lower each year, unless soil fertility is maintained by use of soil-improving crops.

In a 17-year experiment at the Wiregrass Substation, Headland, three crops of winter legumes turned under during the first four years of the experiment maintained the soil's fertility level for the first seven years. Peanut yields averaged about 1,500 pounds per acre. Afterwards, the yields declined steadily, and at the end of 17 years the per acre yield was less than 500 pounds. No legumes were grown after the fourth year.

Warning peanut growers not to leave legumes out of their program, J. C. Lowery, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist, reminds farmers that good land preparation will reduce peanut cultivation costs. He also says that where there is lupine or vetch on land to be planted in peanuts, the winter legume should be turned under at least 30 days before peanut planting time.

HATCHING EGG MARKET INCREASES IN ALABAMA

From a few thousand birds produced in 1934, the Alabama broiler industry has grown to an estimated 10,000,000-bird-a-year business. Along with this expansion there has developed an excellent market for high quality hatching eggs.

John Weeks, A.P.I. Extension Service poultry specialist, points out that farmers have been quick to take advantage of this opportunity to supply hatching eggs, and at the present time most of the Alabama broiler flocks are made up of chicks that were hatched from eggs produced on state farms.

"Broiler producers learned quickly that they must have a high quality chick for success with their program," says Weeks, "and Alabama hatcheries are doing a good job of supplying eggs that produce broiler-type birds

What value would you place on your telephone?

What value would you put on your telephone if you were to name your own price? What value would you place on those errands your telephone runs, all over town, in good weather and bad? What is it worth to chat with friends and relatives whenever you please . . . or to make a date for bridge or golf?

What value would you put on that hurry-up call to the family doctor . . . or on those important business calls you sometimes receive at home? What's the price tag on a familiar voice wishing you a heart-warming "Happy Birthday."

Probably you'd find it almost impossible to estimate the full value of constant dependable telephone service. When you think how much it does for you compared to what you pay, telephone service stands out as one of today's real bargains.

JEMISON F.F.A. PRESIDENT BUSY FELLOW

Besides being president of the local F.F.A. Chapter, Sidney Sample takes part in many other school and community activities. Sidney was in the finals of the Chapter Speaking Contest this year, he is a member of the F.F.A. Parliamentary team, F.F.A. Quartet, served as M.C. at our annual M.D.F.S. banquet this year, is feeding a beef calf for the Birmingham Show in May, one of the main clerks in our F.F.A. store, and we could well call him our "handy man of F.F.A." He is a member of the Beta Club and Service Club. Last year he was Vice President of the Beta Club and President of the Junior Class.

In addition to his school work Sidney has been active in Church and Sunday School. He has served as Secretary of the Sunday School and at present is choir Director of his church.

Sidney finds time to carry out a good supervised practice program also. He plans this year in addition to his beef calf, 10 acres corn, 2 acres cotton, 1-2 acre strawberries, 3 dairy cows, and established 2 acres permanent pasture.

He is a senior this year and would like to attend Auburn when he graduates.

Sidney states that F.F.A. has meant more to him than mere words can express.—L. C. Shields, Adviser Jemison F.F.A.

SURPRISE UNEXPECTED GUESTS WITH CHICKEN

Auburn, Ala. — One way to pleasantly surprise guests is to keep a supply of cooked chicken in the home freezer.

"The way to prepare chicken for freezing," says Lavada Curtis, A.P.I. Extension Service food preservation specialist, "is to cook it in a pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure for 40 minutes." She explains that this will make the chicken very tender.

After cooking, cool, then remove meat from bones and cut in half-inch pieces. Chill, then make a compact roll. Wrap roll in cellophane paper. After this is done, wrap the roll in heavy paper and store in the home freezer unit.

"When those unexpected guests arrive," says Miss Curtis, "the chicken is already cooked and may be used to prepare a chicken loaf, chicken a la king, or chicken salad."

MORE MILK PRODUCED THROUGHOUT ALABAMA

Auburn, Ala. — Milk production per cow in Alabama increased 5.7 per cent in 1949, according to a recent release from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1948 the average Alabama cow produced 3,500 pounds of milk. In 1949 the flow increased 200 pounds.

"However," asserts J. R. Parrish, A.P.I. Extension Service dairy specialist, "the average U. S. cow produced 5,239 pounds during 1949."

He points out that these facts show that Alabama dairymen are on the right road but still have some distance to travel before their cows catch up with the national average.

Parrish adds that another important fact is that Alabama dairymen kept more heifers and calves on the farm for herd replacements in 1949.

REMOVE SCRATCHES ON STAINED FINISH

To remove fine scratches cut through a stained finish, Alice Peavy, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist, says to mix oil colors with varnish to match the finish. Add a drop or two of Japan drier. Then using the tip of a small pointed brush fill the scratches with the mixture and smooth out the hard edges lightly with a finger.

"When the mixture is thoroughly dry," says Miss Peavy, "add a second coat, if needed, making it match the old finish exactly. Let dry and then rub the whole surface with furniture polish. After the furniture polish is thoroughly dry, the furniture may be waxed.

BEST WAY TO PREPARE SWEET POTATO FIELDS

Land where sweet potatoes are to be grown should be thoroughly broken well in advance of planting time.

John Bagby, A.P.I. Extension Service horticulturist, recommends that 600 pounds of 4-10-7 fertilizer be well-mixed with the soil and the land bedded 10 days or two weeks before the plants are set.

"High beds of at least 12 inches give best results and will make harvesting easier," adds the specialist.

A NEW COTTON VARIETY

A new cotton variety called Plains ranks among the leaders. It is a high-yielding, wilt-resistant variety, producing medium to large size bolls. The staple length is one inch or better, and the lint turn out is between 37 and 40 per cent. Plains was developed by Dr. A. L. Smith at the Georgia and Alabama Experiment Stations in cooperation with the Bureau of Plant Industry. Dr. Smith is now stationed at Auburn.

Clanton Independents Gold Medal Champs At Jemison

Measuring up to pre-tourney predictions the Clanton Independent Basketball team captured the first place gold medal trophy by defeating first seated Thorsby Basketeers 75 to 35 in the most successful tourney ever held at Jemison.

The Clanton boys proved their superiority quickly by eliminating Vermont 66 to 57 Wednesday night; then polishing off Verbena 93 to 32 Friday night in the quarter-finals; and upsetting the favored home team of Jemison in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon 59 to 39.

Thorsby had moved up to the final game by winning over Autaugaville 57 to 46; then by defeating a rugged team from Jemison High School 43 to 36. The J.H.S. team proved a stubborn foe for the Thorsby boys to rope in. They had led them most of the game only to bow in face of a late rally that cinched the game.

This win placed Thorsby in the semi-finals, meeting the Buck Creek team, whom they tripped 39 to 32.

Buck Creek then met the Jemison Redbirds in the consolation game. Jemison won 61 to 50, copping 3rd place honor.

The most bitterly fought games in the first round were the Clanton-Vermont game. A determined Vermont team gave the champions their worst rub of the tourney, losing to them by 9 points (57 to 66). A Calera High School team proved a hot potato for the Verbena team to handle, losing 50 to 49 on a last split-second shot by Hudman.

In the quarter-finals, the second-place winner, Thorsby, had a rough time in downing Coach Cobb's High School entry of Jemison by a 43 to 36 count. Buck Creek had a close call edging by W. Calera 45 to 42. Perhaps the most ear-splitting and thrilling game was the one in which the Jemison Redbirds squeaked by Plantersville 47 to 46. The Dallas boys really poured a thick score score on the locals in this one. It was a licker!

The semi-final games Saturday afternoon were the Thorsby-Buck Creek and Clanton-Jemison teams. They were spiced with much interest and they were well played to the delight of the spectators. The final championship game between Clanton and Thorsby was a much more fascinating game than the score would normally indicate. True, Clanton overpassed the Thorsby team, but the latter fought back all the harder and never let their spirits wane. This was a very noticeable factor among the fans. They well deserve their second place rating as Clanton deserves her first.

The tourney was played to good-sized crowds at everyone of the six sessions. The several hundred spectators who followed and witnessed the games conducted themselves in a high degree of refinement and order. For this excellent demonstration of good sportsmanship, the hosts of the tourney, the Jemison Community, takes great pride in expressing their sincere apreciation to the many visitors.

The awarding of the medals and trophies to the teams and players were made by Fred Smith, Mayor of Jemison, and Prof. Sidney Griffin, teacher in the Jemison High School.

The officiating of the games by Averett of Columbiana and Cummings of Maplesville, was excellent and impartial.

Thus the Jemison Athletic Association closes another chapter in her sports and athletic program, and is now setting her aims on the 1950 baseball season which is fast approaching with the balmy weather of Spring.

Dr. Hubert F. Wheat was born 16-miles North of Tuscaloosa, one-half mile close to the Moore's Bridge Road, in a log house similar to this picture. The family lived in the log house until he was fourteen years of age. His father tore it down and built a frame house. It is in good condition today.

Hubert spent his boyhood days on the farm, doing the kind of work that is to be done on the farm. The pots rattled at his father's house early every morning, and they plowed until the whippoorwill hollered.

On rainy days Hubert was at liberty to do what he wanted to do, so he made toy wagons, wind mills, fly guns, and all kinds of toy machinery. It seems as if he wanted to produce something. He went to school from six weeks to three months a year, and some years not at all, doing his studying by a pine-knot fire light.

When he became twenty-one years of age he was at liberty to follow his own intuition. Feeling the need of more education, he went to Jacksonville State Normal School, and entered low but picked up speed as he went along. He played in "As You Like It" and "Mid-Night Summer Dream," and stole the show in both. He graduated from Jacksonville Normal School on May 22, 1918, with honors. World War 1 was in full bloom then.

The Army had turned him down on a minor physical disability. He felt he should do something about it. Having some knowledge of physics and chemistry, he made it known to the U. S. Government. They received him readily, sending him to Warners, N. J., and taught him how to make ammonium nitrate, which is one part T.N.T. by the cyanamid process. When the course was completed he was moved to Muscle Shoals, Alabama, and was instrumental in putting Nitrate Plant No. 2 in operation. Here he was cited for his excellent service.

After the war was over the Government did not need his services any longer. He came home and taught in his home school, which is known as the Bethabara School. It was a one-teacher school. He persuaded the Superintendent of Schools to make it a two-teacher school. It was poorly equipped. He rang the bell, called in the Trustees, had a box supper, which sold well—raised enough money to equip the school with desks, black boards, maps, etc., and left about $100 in the Treasury. He then turned tooth-ward, graduating from Atlanta Southern Dental College, May 28, 1924, with high honors. He has been doing Dentistry successfully in Tuscaloosa ever since.

Oh, yes! One other thing his father appointed him Executor to his Will. He handled it with the diplomacy of a diplomat. All the children were please with his actions.

Ten Reasons WHY YOUR BEST BUY IS NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE

1. Natural. Chilean Nitrate is the only natural nitrate in the world.
2. Nitrate Nitrogen. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate.
3. Sodium. Chilean Nitrate contains sodium equivalent to about 35% sodium oxide (Na_2O). This acts like potash (K_2O) and helps to make the phosphate in the soil more available.
4. Iodine. Chilean Nitrate contains iodine to help meet the needs of plants, animals, and human beings.
5. Other Plant Food Elements. Chilean Nitrate contains small quantities of other elements that contribute to strong, healthy plant growth, such as manganese, potassium, magnesium, boron, calcium, iron, sulphur, copper and zinc.
6. Ideal Condition. Chilean Nitrate comes in free-flowing pellets — easy to handle and to apply in any distributor.
7. Quick Acting. Chilean Nitrate is immediately and completely available.
8. Anti-Acid. Chilean Nitrate helps keep the soil sweet.
9. Time-Tested. Chilean Nitrate has been proved by more than 100 years of research and practical farm experience.
10. Doubly Profitable — Economical. Chilean Nitrate improves the quality of crops as well as the yield. Consistently excellent effect of heavy applications year after year upon crop and soil alike makes it an outstandingly profitable and economical nitrate for every need and purpose.

"THEY'S ONLY ONE HATCHEL SODA!"

"Just being natchel makes Chilean soda different. Lot of farmers says it's because the nitergen is all nitrate, and that's how plants likes it best. Lot of 'em figure the soda and all the other minerals in it help make good, strong stands, too."

About half of these mothers are from ten to nineteen years old, themselves the victims of broken homes and unhappy childhoods. This is the story of one of them. It is a story as bold as the screen has ever told . . . a drama as powerfully REAL and emotion - crammed as life itself. It is a moviegoing experience you will never forget!

Hadacol Helps Textile Worker Stay On Job

The great textile mills of the Carolinas are booming again with shifts working day and night to turn out the nation's finest materials, and HADACOL is doing its part to keep folks on the job.

Many textile workers have reported the wonderful relief which HADACOL with its five B vitamins and four important minerals. This worker, a young father employed by the great Cannon Mills at Kannapolis, N. C.

Mr. Barnhardt

Jay W. Barnhardt, Route 3, Box 343, Kannapolis, N. C., is 30 years old and the proud father of two children. His work in the Cannon Mills calls for a great deal of standing up.

"I had been ill for several years," said Mr. Barnhardt as he explained how close he came to having to give up his work. "I suffered with a weak stomach. It became worse and worse with gastric disturbances. I just could not hold food and no food agreed with me. I could not sleep and finally I became so sick that my legs got weak as I worked in the mill each day."

Mr. Barnhardt, like so many sufferers, had tried many preparations without relief, when he heard about HADACOL.

"After the second bottle of HADACOL I began to feel better an dto regain the weight I had lost," said Mr. Barnhardt. "My digestion became normal again and today I am as well as ever. My legs no longer bother me. I eat and enjoy my food. I sleep well and have plenty of energy."

Mr. Barnhardt has taken several bottles of HADACOL and now takes the famous vitamin and mineral preparation to help stay well. He has had his wife take it with wonderful results and has recommended it to his friends in the mill.

Mr. Barnhardt suffered from a lack of B vitamins and the minerals which HADACOL contains. HADACOL comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

A lack of only a small amount of B vitamins and certain minerals will cause digestive disturbances . . . Your food will not agree with you . . . You will have an upset stomach . . . You will suffer from heartburn, gas pains and your food will sour on your stomach and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the signs of lack of B vitamins and minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a deficiency disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and mineral, which your system lacks.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

I am for Old-Age Pensions, first, last and always.

I am for 12 months pay for school teachers.

I am for free lunches for school children.

I am for putting the sales tax on the wholesaler to collect instead of the merchant. That would take the tax agents off the road and save the taxpayers two to three million dollars annually.

I am for exempting everything that is a necessity of life from sales tax.

DEFENDANTS CONVICTED IN BOTH CASES TRIED TO DATE

In the trials of the ten indicted in the county shortages only two cases were tried the first week of court and both defendants were found "guilty as charged."

The next case will be called next Monday morning and it is reported that Probate Judge W. L. Parrish will be the next defendant tried.

Court adjourned last Saturday night at midnight when the jury hearing the case of former Probate Judge J. Lee Smith reported the finding of "guilty." Mrs. Delene B. Wyatt had already been found guilty of second degree forgery earlier in the week.

It is probable that all of the cases will not be heard at this term of court. Sentencing was postponed in both cases.

Miss Margaret Kemp, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kemp of Clanton, has been chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 6 as its representative to Alabama Girls' State.

Margaret is a Senior II at Chilton County High School, and was selected because of her outstanding qualifications of leadership, character, scholarship and physical fitness.

The location of Alabama's 1950 Girls' State will be Huntingdon College, Montgomery. IN CONCERT AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Edwin Steffe

Edwin Steffe, who will appear here on March 27, at 8:00 p.m., at the First Baptist Church, is an American baritone whose successes have been equally noteworthy in grand opera, light opera, in recital and oratorio. Born in Washington, D. C., and a direct descendant of that William Steffe, who in 1852 wrote the music for what was to become practically a national anthem—"The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

At eight, Edwin Steffe was awarded a singing scholarship at the National Cathedral School, and was the soprano soloist at the Washington Cathedral; later he was to be its baritone soloist.

Studying at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore under Frank Bibb, he made his recital and operatic debut in Washington. Soon after the young man was musically encouraged when Nadia Boulanger, the famous French composer and conductor, invited him to sing the baritone part in Faure's Requiem.

Starting as soloist at Radio City in New York several years ago, this versatile artist has won ever wider recognition in the music field. He toured with the Columbia Concerts Opera Company, singing Escamillo in its "Opera-Comique version of "Carmen" in English. Last season he was soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Toronto Symphony, and the Houston Symphony. He is in constant demand for important oratoric works, and has repeatedly sung with the famous Bach Choir of Bethlehem, Penn.

1949 marked the fourth successive summer Edwin Steffe was featured at the St. Louis Municipal Opera where he was starred in major singing-acting roles.

The meeting is planned for March 27th at the High School lunch room, if arrangements can be worked out to this end.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT VERBENA MARCH 24

The senior class of Verbena High School offers as it's play this year, "Auralia Bridge From Hemlock Ridge," a three-act comedy. This is not a sit down play, it is decidedly a "get up and do" play, filled with side-splitting laughter from beginning to end.

The Verbena Glee Club will sing between acts.

The curtain goes up at 8 o'clock, March 24, 1950, when this extremely funny and unusual play will be presented.

EASTER SERVICES TO BE HELD AT JEMISON

The churches of Jemison wish to announce that their Easter Sunrise Service will be held at 6:00 a.m. Easter morning. The service will be held at the Jemison ball park. All who wish to come and worship are cordially invited to attend.

The Chilton County Unit of the Alabama Old Age Pension Association will meet at the courthouse in Clanton at 10 o'clock a.m. Saturday, March 25th. All members and interested people, young and old, are urged to be present. There will be speakers to explain why it is so important that the young folks take an interest.—T. W. Bryan, Chairman.

"RESEARCH WONDERLAND"

The amazing work of Alabama scientists in cancer research will be told in a special broadcast over Station WKLF, Friday, March 24th, at 1:00 p.m.

The broadcast will relate in simple terms the exciting story of five cancer research projects which are being conducted in Alabama. The projects are financed mainly by contributions to the American Cancer Society.

Titled "Research Wonderland," the program gives an interesting account of what the Alabama scientists are doing and what they have found in their search for the causes and cures of cancer. It tells also how financial support of the American Cancer Society's April drive for funds will affect the work of cancer research. Forty-nine cents of every dollar contributed by the people of Alabama last year goes to support research.

Mr. Dent Williams, 1950 Campaign Chairman of the Chilton County unit of the American Cancer Society, and Miss Marguerite Perry of the Chilton County High School faculty, will narrate the story.

Lions Present Grammar School Flag Pole

The Clanton Lions have presented the Clanton Grammar School with a flag pole. According to Prof. U. H. Abrams the State Laws requires the displaying of a State Flag and the American Flag on the school grounds and the Clanton Lions made them a present of the flag pole last week.

At the same time Col. and Mrs. E. J. Morrison made the school a present of the American Flag.

The faculty, the children and the parents are deeply appreciative of these gifts and Mr. Abrams on behalf of all, extends thanks to the Clanton Lions and the Morrisons.

BEDROOM PLANNING HIGHLY IMPORTANT

Consider convenience and comfort in bedrooms when making plans for a new house or for remodeling, advises Stella Mitchell, home management specialist.

She recommends that every bedroom have at least two windows on different walls for cross ventilation. A comfortable location for the bed should be considered when the plan for the room is drawn. Arrange the room so that the head of the bed stands against a wall to the right or left of a window. Be sure to leave at least 18 inches of free space on either side of a double bed and at least two feet between the bottom of the bed and the wall. Also provide adequate outlets for proper lighting and conveniences.

For more information about bedroom planning, see the local home demonstration agent.

SEEKING OFFICE AS SHERIFF

ERNEST DAVIS

Ernest is really in earnest when it comes to being elected Sheriff of Chilton County. He is working every day among the rural communities in behalf of his campaign.

Four Candidates For Governor Here Same Day

Tuesday must have been the Red Letter Day for candidates to visit Clanton for some reason or other. There were four of them here that day.

Tuesday morning Gordon Persons "dropped in" out of a clear blue sky to talk to the citizens in front of Clanton Laundry. A little later in the day Wiley Gordon came through, but we didn't hear him speech making.

Late in the afternoon Buster Bell and his choo choo train chugged down from the north and Buster spoke in front of the Jones Furniture Store from the top of his smokestack. Then along came Phillip J. Hamm to fulfill a 7:30 o'clock appointment at the courthouse along with his string band.

All in all it was quite a political day for the citizenry and gave a sample of what is to come for the next five weeks.

BEST WAY TO AGE BEEF BEFORE IT IS STORED

Auburn, Ala. — How much ageing does beef need before it goes into the frozen food locker? This is a question important to both the locker manager and families who use the lockers.

Lavada Curtis, food preservation specialist, says that ageing the freshly slaughtered carcass for a week or 10 days in a chill room increases the natural tenderness of the meat.

Longer ageing is often used, but it allows for the development of stale odors from the growth of mold on the surface of the meat.

Judge Oakley Melton is to be congratulated for the orderly manner of his court the past week.

Interest in the much publicized cases against the defendants was high, and even though some complained about the slow progress of the court, Judge Melton must be praised for his efficient handling of the situation.

Of Great Importance

Letters went out this week from Cohen Stapp to all members of the Chamber of Commerce listing the names of the members who received the largest number of votes for President and Directors of the Chamber for the coming year.

From eighteen names listed ten are to be chosen. The member receiving the highest number of votes will be President and the member receiving the second highest will be vice president. The remaining eight highest will be the directors.

It is of prime importance that you choose with care the men you select to direct the destiny of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce for the coming year. Within their hands lies the whole future of the organization and at a time when the organization can go forward or fold and die.

Not enough cooperation has been shown in the past for so important a part of our business life and growth, and the time is right for Clanton and Chilton County to go forward.

Mr. Stapp also announces in his letter that Mr. Paul Redmond will speak to the Chamber members at their organization dinner at the Chilton County High School. Mr. Redmond has a stake in Chilton County and is interested in her progress. He is a gifted speaker with a message for progress and security for Clanton and her people. It is hoped that the full membership will turn out to hear him.

The eighteen members receiving the highest number of votes and from which the officers and directors will be chosen are: J. D. Bell, Howard Boockholdt, Frank Callen, Claud Craig, John Deramus, Mack Godwin, Grady Heflin, Hollis Jackson, Doc Levine, John Mullins, Mrs. Lillian Simpson, C. E. Stapp, Reedie Taylor, Leo Thompson, Jim Wade, R. C. Williams, Buddy Willingham and Roy Roper.

YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Virginia Johnson came in to see us Friday morning of last week. She says she and Morris are on their way to Guam for a few years. That is where the U. S. Army is sending him. Virginia also told us about the death of her father, B. F. Ware, on Valentine Day. Mr. Ware was living at Boaz and was connected with the Snead Junior College. He also was pastor of a church there. He died suddenly after coming home from school that afternoon. Friends here will be sorry to learn of his passing. Virginia is staying at Boaz with her mother until Morris gets settled on Guam then she will join him there.

Faye Wooley and Carolyn Montgomery want the world to know how much they appreciate the Clanton Fire Department. Faye says too much praise cannot be given them for their fine work. The house that she and Carolyn live in caught fire the other afternoon and everything was handled so well and at such a minimum of loss that the two young ladies are going about singing the praise of the department.

While we are on the subject of fire fighting, let us tell you a sidelight on the same fire. Seems Chief Anderson was handling the traffic on the highway during the excitement when an automobile drove up and refused to continue on down the highway. The young lady driver told the Chief that she lived there, so he let her park and go in. After a very few minutes another automobile drove up and stopped and the driver told the Chief the same thing. The Chief scratched his head and said that one lady had already claimed the house but he guessed she could park if she lived there. No more than a minute passed before still another car came to a screaming stop and when the Chief tried to wave them on down the highway the driver came up with the same answer: "This lady lives here." By this time Chief Anderson really was scratching his head. He let them stop but was heard to mutter, "How many ladies live in this house, I wonder."

A committee met in Cohen Stapp's offices last Friday afternoon to organize for Alabama Industry Days, which will be observed in Alabama June 15, 16 and 17th. Bob Argo, who is with Alabama Mills, met with the local group to help organize the committee. Ten local citizens attended the meeting and all pledged their help in making it a big success locally. Shortly there will be an exhibit displayed in Clanton of every item manufactured in the State. According to Bob Argo the merchandise is being assembled in a Birmingham warehouse and will be shipped to the 175 newspapers of Alabama to be turned over to the committee, after which it will be turned over to the schools for an educational display. It is a wonderful opportunity to acquaint the people of the state with the products manufactured and grown here, and deserves the backing of our citizenship 100 percent. Members of the local committee are: Bob Taber, Dr. W. L. Parrish, Patterson Hicks, Howard Boockholdt, R. M. (Ben) Tucker, T. E. Wyatt, Mayor C. Fenn Jones, I. S. Levine, Leo Thompson and Cohen Stapp.

Bob Taber, Bob Windham and Jeff Miller are planning a fishing contest to run this summer and have many nice prizes for the winners. You fishermen with the tall tales and short fish won't have a chance though, Jeff is preparing an affidavit that will be signed and notarized before a claim can be entered for a prize. That throws it into a put-up or shut-up proposition and will eliminate a lot of fellows who talk a lot about what they caught but can't show the fish. It will be lots of fun though and everybody is eligible. You'll hear more about the contest later.

Your Health

American habits of diet make calcium deficiency a common defect of nutrition in this country, according to a report to the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association.

"The supply of bone-building minerals (principally calcium) during periods of growth is an important factor in determining the eventual stature of a person," the report says. "Study of dietary habits of various groups tends to show that people whose diets provide adequate calories, protein and calcium are tall in stature and those whose diets are poor in these substances tend not only to be short in stature but small framed, with finer bone structure."

"Milk and its derivatives, such as cheese and ice cream, are the chief sources of calcium in the diet and provide ample phosphorus for its utilization," the report points out. "Other protein-rich foods, such as meat, eggs, fish and cereals, add little or no calcium to the diet." Overweight individuals (principally adults) who must cut down on the food they eat can get their full quota of milk minerals from buttermilk or skimmed milk.

Maintenance of an adequate supply of vitamin D is important in regulating the ability of the body to absorb and retain calcium, the report emphasizes. Sometimes called the "sunshine vitamin," vitamin D is found in fish liver oils and vitamin D fortified milk and is produced in the body on exposure to sunlight. Some other foods, such as butter and egg yolk, contain small amounts of the vitamin but are unreliable sources. The report recommends that to obtain adequate calcium, healthy adults drink a pint of milk and eat a serving of milk products (such as cheese, ice cream or coffee-flavored milk) daily. Three glasses of milk provide an ample daily intake of calcium for average adults, according to the report. Drinking one quart of milk daily provides an ample amount of calcium for children and adolescents. Calcium intake can be substantially increased by liberal use of evaporated milk instead of cream in coffee.

American eating habits and wide distribution in foods make dietary deficiency of phosphorus and magnesium unlikely in this country, according to the report. "Our present knowledge of the requirements for skeletal minerals can be summarized simply. Ample evidence exists that deficiency of intake or utilization of these minerals results in slowing of growth and lengthening of the growth period; it is possible that such deficiencies in adult life may hasten senescence. There is no evidence of any ill effects from ample intake of these substances over long periods of time. The evidence favors strongly the maintenance of an adequate, even ample, intake of these mineral throughout the entire life span."

The Modern Noah's Ark

It has been suggested that a modern "Noah's Ark" be constructed deep in the foothills of the Ozarks. The purpose would be to save civilization in the next war, which will possibly be fought with A-bombs and H-bombs. There is the fear that civilization will be completely destroyed from off the face of the earth. In the 'Cave Ark' would be top scientists, medical experts, chemists, engineers and other specialists and promising young people who would insure a future generation. This is evidence that we are now living in days compared to the days of Noah. And Jesus said Himself, "That as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the days of the coming of the Son of God. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark. And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be."

A. T. HICKMAN

Again we find that God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was evil continually. And God said I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man and beast, etc. But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord, and God told him to build an ark to the saving of his house, for he was righteous in his generation. So the flood came, and only those within the ark were saved.

And now, man is convinced that God will not always strive with this generation, but will in like manner destroy; or shall I say, permit man to destroy himself from off the face of the earth. Friends, I expect it will take more than a cave in the Ozarks to hide man from God's wrath. For the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise (The sounding of some kind of A-bombs or H-bombs) and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. (2 Pet. 3:10). And then men will hide themselves in the dens and the rocks of the mountains, and will say to the mountains, "Fall on us, and hide us from the face of Him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb. For the great day of His wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand." (Rev. 6:15-17). PREPARE TO MEET THY GOD.

STEP 3
The THIRD ELECTRIFIED STEP to Greater Freedom from Kitchen Chores

If you are already using an electric range, electric refrigerator and a few other electrical appliances such as coffee maker, iron, radio, you probably are using enough electricity each month so that the current for additional appliances will come to you at the lowest rate.

That's a signal for you to take Step Three to greater freedom from kitchen chores — the step which will put an in your home. There are square tabletop models in white enamel finish which'll fit in with your kitchen counters; square tall types to fit in an un-used corner of the kitchen, or round styles for installation in kitchen, basement or alcove.

Whichever type you select, you'll have hot water at the turn of every hot water faucet — hot water for bathing, shaving, laundry, washing dishes — hot water for every household need! No fuss, no bother with an electric water heater. You install it and forget it. Silent, automatic, dependable, clean — it does the water heating job without attention.

Ask about electric water heating the next time you pass one of our stores or a dealer's.*

*P.S. Ask, too, about electric dishwashers — they're fast becoming one of the most popular electrical kitchen helpers.

Baptist Church News—

Vacation Bible School clinics will soon be under way in the state. It would be very fine for use to select our principal and secretary immediately so that they can attend one of the clinics and get the advantage of the most recent methods of conducting a Vacation Bible School.

Mrs. Longshore gave our pianist instructions last Thursday afternoon. This church will be indebted to Mrs. Ray for many years to come for the splendid service that she is rendering. May God continue to bless and use her is the prayer of all of us.

Please continue to remember the sick in your prayers and visit them.

Wednesday night at 7:00 we will finish the last chapters of the adult book, "Soul Winning Doctrines." It isn't enough for us to know about soul winning but I feel that we should do something definite about it. There is something wrong if the church is not winning people to Christ through the Sunday School, worship services and visitation program. Please let us examine ourselves and stay busy. It may be later than we think for some who do not know Him even now. Please be much in prayer for our Sunday School, B.T.U., W.M.S., worship services and other services and then let us put FEET TO OUR PRAYERS that we may help God answer them.

WHERE DOES THE STATE SCHOOL DOLLAR COME FROM?

Schools in Alabama are mainly supported by state and local funds. Federal monies amount to less than 2% of the total.

The three state funds contributing to schools are as follows:

Educational Trust Fund 86.56%.
Public School Fund 7.11%.
State's General Fund 6.33%.

The Educational Trust Fund was established in 1927. Today 15 taxes contribute to it. The largest are the sales tax, the income tax, and the tobacco tax. The sales tax alone amounts to over 48% of the school dollar.

The public school fund is the oldest one. The state ad valorem tax is the principal support.

The general fund varies. Every two years the legislature appropriates money to the school from the state general fund. In 1947-48, this amounted to over 3.5 million dollars.

Over three-fourths of the state dollar goes to the elementary and secondary schools. Schools of ner learning receive about one-eigl and the trust fund surplus abou ne-twentieth.

This trust fund surplus, duri and right after World War II, a mulated to $16,000,000 by last fa To keep schools going during the erg-ency, the last legislature gave acti-cally all the surplus for current needs. As a result, the surplus will be spent by 1951.

It is necessary that the next legis-lature appropriate considerable unds to keep our schools from clos in 1951.

"Left-Handed Compliment"

See where a bank in Denver is putting in left-handed checkbooks. They figure their southpaw depositors deserve just as much consideration as the right handers.

Time was when it was believed that left-handed people had no right to exist at all. If a youngster showed signs of using his left hand, his parents were supposed to break him of the habit—to force him to use his right.

But today most doctors will tell you that changing a child's natural left-handed tendency usually causes more harm than good. Stammering and other nervous disorders often get their start that way with children.

From where I sit, if a man wants to use his left hand—that's HIS business. It's not such a good idea to make anyone do things our way, just because WE think it's right. Personally, I think a mellow glass of beer is the finest beverage on earth. If you happen to prefer a Coke—why, go to it! Only leave me the same freedom of choice, won't you?

Hear him tell why Mississippi farmers had $65,000,000 more cash for the first six months of 1949 over 1948 than Alabama farmers had.

HEAVY INFESTATION OF SCREW WORMS EXPECTED

Auburn, Ala. — The year 1950 will probably be known as the screw worm year in Alabama.

W. H. Gregory, A.P.I. Extension Service livestock specialist, believes that this will prove true because screwworm flies are thought to have survived the winter throughout the state.

He warns that these flies are just waiting to lay eggs in an open wound. For this reason, farmers should inspect all livestock at least two or three times a week and treat all wounds with Smear 62. Even the very small wounds should be treated to prevent screw worm flies from laying eggs there.

"If worms are found in a wound," says the specialist, "they should be left there after treatment and not raked out on the ground."

He adds that if everybody does a good job of controlling screw worms this spring, Alabama farmers will have fewer screw worms next Summer.

LESPEDEZA SERICEA USED IN MANY WAYS

Alabama farmers are finding that lespedeza sericea is just what they want for their hillsides and highlands that are not adapted to the production of legume-grass permanent pasture mixtures.

"However," says J. C. Lowery, API Extension Service agronomist, "aside from being a good grazing crop, lespedeza sericea has some other good uses. It is one of Alabama's very best crops for meadow outlets. Also, it may be established on road banks and other places subject to erosion, and it may be used as a field border crop."

HOW TO CUT FARM MACHINERY COSTS

One way to cut farm machinery costs is to make full use of the machinery on hand, according to J. T. Gaillard, A.P.I. Extension Service specialist in farm mechanization.

He reveals that keeping extra mules or horses on a farm where there is a tractor that can do all the work costs about $200 per head a year.

Gaillard further states that taking proper care of existing farm machinery is another way of cutting costs by insuring longer life of the machinery. The plow, for instance, is still the No. 1 piece of equipment on most farms and with proper care it will last for years.

Misses Mary Frances Jones and Marjorie Ann Niblett were hostesses at the former's parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jones, at a miscellaneous tea shower Wednesday afternoon, March 15th, complimenting Mrs. Charles Klinner (nee Ann Taylor).

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Jones. Receiving were Miss Jones, the honoree, Mrs. G. B. Taylor, mother of the bride, and Mrs. O. P. Klinner, mother of the groom.

The bride's book was presided over by Miss Niblett. The tea table was covered with a hand-crochet cloth, and marked with a center piece of pink and white snapdragons with fern in a crystal bowl. Burning white candles in crystal holders completed the table appointments. Miss Dorothy Nell Blalock served tea, assisted by Mrs. T. C. McSwain, Mrs. V. J. Gragg, Miss Jewel Mims and Miss Betty Hayes.

Mrs. C. C. Carlton and Miss Betty Donaldson assisted in the gift room where many lovely gifts were on display. Yellow and white snapdragons were artistically used through out the receiving rooms for decorations.

The Rev. R. E. Wilkins filled his usual place in the pulpit at both morning and evening services on Sunday, March 19th, bringing a wonderful message at both services. We had three new additions to the church Sunday night—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Middlebrooks and Miss Mary Sue Williams. We are very happy to have these new members.

The Lord's supper was observed at the end of our Sunday evening service.

We had the privilege of having Rev. Buck Littleton to speak to us on Wednesday of last week, and I am sure everyone received a blessing from the message he brought. On Wednesday night, March 29th, the Rev. Paul Oden will speak to us.

Topic of the program was, "Alaska." This was given by Mrs. T. A. Powell and Mrs. H. E. Fulford. Business was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. J. I. Spiller. The hostess served light refreshments to the following: Mesdames Jim Blair, J. A. Baker, Ben Deason, J. I. Spiller and those taking part on the program.

Mrs. Herman Lowery entertained Circle Two on Monday afternoon. Mrs. J. D. Williams gave a very inspiring devotional on "The Parable of the Sower," taken from the Bible Scripture Matthew 13:1-9. Mrs. Kelly Gillespie and Mrs. W. E. Owens gave the program. Topics were "Can Hope Return?" and "Who Will Go?" taken from the Commission Magazine. After the old and new business were taken care of, refreshments were served to seven members and one visitor.

The Sunbeams of the West End Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Herman Lowery on Friday afternoon of last week. We had ten members present.

The Y.W.A. met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Jesse Jones. Miss Betty Jo Williams gave the devotional. Those taking part on the program were: Misses Sara Nell Wyatt, Betty Sue Owens, Willie Frank Wilson and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Gentry.

"ALABAMA'S UNKNOWN DISASTER"

When disaster strikes, word of the event usually spreads like wildfire. However, Station WKLF's listeners will be told Monday, March 27th, at 1:00 p.m. that disaster struck Alabama in 1949 with a surprising toll of lives—and passed virtually unnoticed.

"Alabama's Unknown Disaster," which is the title of the program, will be narrated by Mrs. Lillian T. Simpson, Commander of the Chilton unit of the American Cancer Society and Mr. I. S. Levine.

The broadcast tells of the work of the Chilton unit in combatting the disastrous loss of 2,800 lives to cancer in Alabama alone, in 1949. It emphasizes the need for funds and volunteers to successfully reduce this toll in years to come.

ANNUAL LESPEDEZA

Farmers who do not have perennial crops, such as alfalfa, lespedeza sericea, kudzu, or Johnson grass, to use for grazing or hay will find annual lespedeza a good crop to use if they have land which is not too sandy, droughty natured, and heavily infested with nematodes.

COUNTY MASONIC CONFERENCE HELD AT JEMISON, ALA.

The Chilton County Masonic Conference was held in Jemison. The Masons of Chilton County held their conference last Wednesday at Jemison, Ala.

The Master of the Conference, R. R. Sutley, called the Masons to order promptly at 10:00 a.m. After attending to the regular routine of business Bro. Sutley turned the conference over to our able District Lecturer, Bro. M. G. Roehm, of Montgomery, Ala.

Instructions were given in all the degrees of the Blue Lodge work. Most Worshipful Grand Master, Wm. J. Nash, Jr., of the Grand Lodge of Alabama was one of our distinguished visitors. He made several talks that was inspiring and elevating in making Masons realize what it means to be a Master Mason. Bro. W. M. Owen, Grand Senior Deacon of the Grand Lodge of Alabama was on hand and added his valuable services to the day's work.

Bro. W. A. Duke, District Lecturer of Bibb, Shelby and Talladega counties, did his part in aiding in instructing how the work should be done added to the day that was so well in every respect.

Bro. Walter C. Weems, a Member of the Committee on Work, attends the Chilton County Masonic Conference almost every year and never fails to do his full share in making it an enjoyable occasion.

Bro. Arlis R. Fant, Brighton Lodge No. 595, and District Lecturer of Bessemer District was among the visitors that added to the occasion in demonstrating the work.

Bros. H. O. Booth, Andrew Jackson Lodge No. 173, C. J. Fay, Keystone Lodge No. 778 and T. J. Liscomb, Prattville Lodge No. 89, were with us and their presence and support was greatly appreciated by all Masons present.

Rev. Hutchinson, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clanton, Ala., gave us a lecture on the progress that has been made in getting many strong Catholic followers converted to the Protestant cause. Rev. Hutchinson is one of the outstanding ministers of Alabama, while he has only been in this area a short time, he is already appreciative for his knowledge and scholarly attainment.

The ladies of Jemison served dinner and supper. The Prattville Progress of last week had the following in regard as to how the Conference would be entertained at the noon and supper hours: "As in the past, you may count on it that the ladies of Jemison will leave nothing undone during these periods of refreshment, one of the highlights in prompting Masonic brotherhood and lasting friendship."

In conclusion we will illustrate how the ladies fed the Conference by example of a young man who years ago went to Arkansas and fell in love with a very fine young lady, and they were married. "He wrote some of his Alabama friends that he had married a young lady who had few equals but no superiors." This can be truhtfully said of how our ladies of Jemison served the refreshments at the noon and supper hour.

FARROWING TIME

Hog growers should remember that eight pigs weaned per litter are usually twice as profitable as six pigs.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When laundering work clothes, turn cuffs down and then turn pockets inside out. Shake and brush clothes well to remove all loose dirt. Stains should be removed before washing and all rips and tears mended.

* * *

To make spinach tempting in appearance, cook it only slightly so that it retains its bright green color. Then serve it with shredded yellow cheese.

Attractive, comfortable clothes for youngsters in the family often may be fashioned from old and worn knit garments discarded by their elders.

* * *

While slip covers are still slightly damp, press the flounces and then work the slip cover into place on the chair or davenport. This saves ironing and gives a better fit.

* * *

Yellow varieties of corn are higher in food value than the white ones and are usually of better quality.

* * *

To prevent rancidity in frozen sausage, use two-thirds lean meat and one-third fat. Grind, season, and form into a compact roll. Wrap in cellophane, aluminum foil, or any other good wrapping paper.

Use your portable fan now for drying clothes indoors. Set the fan at one end of a line of clothes to speed drying or use it to dry coats and overshoes soaked by rain.

* * *

Hide water spots and other stains on handbags of smooth leather with shoe cream or wax polish, either colored or clear.

* * *

Salads should be served cold, crisp, and free of surplus water. They should be pleasing to the eye, harmonize in color and flavor with the rest of the meal, and be perfectly seasoned.

* * *

Fruits suggested for March shopping lists include apples, canned peaches, raisins and dried prunes. Chickens, fish, manufactured dairy products, and dry beans are also in good supply.

* * *

A tipsy pan on the stove is both unsafe and inefficient. Before buying a saucepan or frying pan, make sure it stands steady on a flat surface and that the handle is not so heavy as to throw the pan off balance. Look for the pan that "hugs the stove," fits the burner unit underneath, and has a close-fitting lid.

* * *

Work clothes must be made of durable material. Look for these points when buying and also keep a weather eye out for rust-proof buttons and buckles and a label that says sanforized shrunk.

* * *

Never place empty glass cooking utensils over a flame.

* * *

Every family should have a first-aid kit. Requirements for a home-made kit are adhesive tape, sterile cotton, swabs and sticks, sterile cloth for large bandages, vaseline, scissors, boric acid, compound tincture of benzoin, an antiseptic, and aromatic spirits of ammonia.

* * *

Observe safety rules constantly—accidents are costly in time, money and suffering.

PLENTIFUL EGGS

Eggs are a good buy, and prices are lower than they have been for seven years.

PREVENT CANNIBALISM

Cannibalism and feather picking among laying hens can be prevented by debeaking or using specs.

MILK

If Alabamians consumed the national average of over one pint of milk per day, the state's fluid milk industry could be increased 40 per cent.

Levine Heads Crippled Children's Clinic Drive

DOC LEVINE

Two thousand dollars for crippled children.

That is the goal set for the 1950 Easter Seal Drive of the Chilton County Society for Crippled Children, which is now already underway and is scheduled to continue for several days.

Announcement of the goal set for the campaign was made by Mr. I. S. (Doc) Levine, drive chairman, after the first meeting of his committee chairmen and officials of the society.

Mr. Levine declared that a high goal was set for this year's campaign than ever before because the need for assistance to crippled children and adults is constantly increasing and can only be maintained and expanded with adequate funds. Mr. Levine further emphasized that of all money collected in Chilton County will be maintained right here in the county for use by the local committee in furthering immediate assistance to those in dire need.

"Not only do we have more requests for services for already existing facilities," he said, "but we see every day the need for new services and facilities. This program takes money and under present-day conditions they take more and more money. We have not only set ourselves a higher goal for our Easter Seal Campaign, which is the chief means of support for our activities, but we intend to go over the top in our appeal for funds.

"The people of Chilton County are people who refuse to let their own neighbors go without help when they need it. They know, too, that there is never a time when a neighbor needs help more than when a little child is crippled and wants to learn to walk or talk and to become independent and ultimately self-sustaining.

"The Chilton County Society for Crippled Children is an affiliate of the Alabama Society for Crippled Children, one of more than two thousand member units of the National Society for Crippled Children and adults. Easter Seals help finance not only the services of the local and state societies, but also national programs to benefit the cerebral palsoed and other neglected disabled groups. Seventy-five percent of the local quota is used in the county.

Mrs. Lillian Thompson Simpson is treasurer, Mr. Joe Campbell, drive chairman and Bob Taber, publicity.

Kiwanis Speaks Sunday Afternoon

Local citizens are combining their efforts in a program each Sunday afternoon over radio station WKLF. Sponsored by the Clanton Kiwanis Club, the program is titled "Kiwanis Speaks."

This coming Sunday the topic will be "Our Form of Municipal Government and How it Compares with Other Forms of Municipal Governments." W. B. Atkinson will again act as Moderator. Omar L. Reynolds will act as commentator giving the answers.

The Kiwanis Club will be represented at the meeting by Jerry Bodden and Dent Williams. The Lions Club and the Pilots will also have representatives at the meeting, but names could not be secured.

This is a people's program and the producers are anxious for the lay people of Chilton County to listen and take an interest in the new program with the thought to choose new and informative subjects each week of interest to the most listeners.

High Wind Blows Grady Deason's Top

The hard wind Monday unroofed the home of Grady Deason some 15 miles west of Clanton. According to Grady when he climbed into the attic to check the damage another mighty, funny thing happened. He found a letter written from Bryce Hospital at Tuscaloosa to a man in Birmingham, in the year 1931. Where the letter came from Grady hasn't the slightest idea. No one by the name on the envelope ever lived in that house or in that community. The only answer that can be reached is the wind that took the roof, brought the letter. But from where, nobody knows.

YOUR RED CROSS

Personal To Fund Chairmen
From Gen. George C. Marshall.

"I have recently completed a trip around the country in the interest of the 1950 campaign, during which I met and talked with many of you personally. The loyalty and enthusiasm of chapter and community leaders were very inspiring to me. The success of the annual Red Cross Fund Campaign depends upon the individual success of the chapter. I urge that all campaign workers in your chapter intensify their effort to assure a successful completion in March of the 1950 Fund drive.

My thanks for your devotion to this task which is so vitally important to our entire nation."

GEO. C. MARSHALL.

General Marshall has never failed us, let's don't fail General Marshall. As our drive stands now we are failing him. Chilton County has only one-third of their quota. PLEASE HELP YOUR RED CROSS.

WKLF Broadcast Shows How Neglect Of Cancer Is Fatal

The startling story of how a man of national importance dies, a victim of his own neglect and ignorance, is the latest broadcast in the "For the Living" series heard over Station WKLF on Tuesday, April 4th, at 1:00 p.m. Starring Edward G. Robinson and Donald Woods, the program dramatizes the efforts of a conscientious reporter who seeks and finds the tragic cause of the man's death.

Behind this narrative lies the essential message being pressed upon the American people by the continuous educational campaign of the American Cancer Society—that cancer can be cured if the victim acts quickly enough to secure competent medical help. Mr. Robinson and other principals on this series, presented by WKLF in cooperation with the American Cancer Society have donated their talents as a contribution toward the nationwide drive to lessen cancer's toll.

Special music has been composed for WKLF's broadcast by Hollywood's Fred Steiner, and is conducted by Lyn Murray. The broadcast itself was written and produced by Hu Chain.

Last year almost 200,000 persons died in this country because of cancer, many of them needlessly. "For the Living" emphasizes the necessity of watching for cancer's early danger signals and seeking immediate medical aid while complete cure is still possible. A simple, easy-to-understand booklet explaining the seven danger signals may be secured free by writing "Cancer," Clanton, Ala.

Ker - Choo

It is indeed fortunate that more sickness hasn't popped up at the trials than has. With ten defendants, a host of attorneys, and hundreds and hundreds of spectators, all jammed into the small courtroom and a constant "skat" and "ker-choo" going around, it's a wonder they haven't had to call the trial off on account of flu or something. Those attending with bad colds, if they must, should be more careful with themselves and their bad colds. If sneeze you must, or cough, do it in your handkerchief. That's the next best thing to staying at home.

Have Fun

Our county teachers are in Birmingham this Thursday, Friday and Saturday attending the AEA. Our only comment is "have fun."

Teachers need, like others, a time to get away from it all and "take their hair down" as it were. We're sure the AEA will do them all a lot of good even if they do have to attend a lot of stuffy meetings and listen to a lot of political speeches. They'll come back feeling better and go at their tasks with renewed interest and energy.

Why Hold Back The Progress of Your County?

Lately it has come to light that every time the County Commissioners begin improvements on a road they run across a few citizens who do not cooperate. They would rather keep a few feet of the edge of their land than to see the road by it widened and improved.

Usually thse few feet are covered with scrubby trees, vines and whatnot, and are an eye sore to the land anyway. The cleaning job alone would be worth the land they give, and they get a passable road to boot.

It is a hard job making a good road from some of our bad ones anyway and these added obstacles make the job worse.

It is very easy to see the many advantages of improved roads by your property so why not help yourself and others by donating a little land or a big tree that is in the way. It won't cost you a cent but it will be worth a lot in the long run.

Let's cooperate and make Chilton County a better place in which to live.

The Farmers Balk

Farmers always have treasured their independence and throughout the world they have been bulwarks against the spread of communism. In Russia and other Iron Curtain countries they have been regimented and put on collective farms, but other nations are finding it difficult to bring them under thumb.

The Montgomery Advertiser observes that Tito of Yugoslavia fell out with Joe Stalin because he was unable to regiment independent farmers who owned their own land. Such regimentation is the strength of communism; it places many people in position to be controlled by a few, in the guise of having their welfare looked after by the government.

Pointing out that Yugoslavia had long been a land of small farmers, The Advertiser continues:

"There, as elsewhere, a main communist goal was to put all farmers into 'collective' farms. In other words, destroy their independence, make them mere hired hands working for the government, instead of independent operators and bosses of their own domain.

"The Yugoslav farmers balked, and hard. Tito decided he had better risk offending Russia than to have a farmers' rebellion on his hands. He called off the hounds."

American farmers still have the highest standard of living and income in the world, and they have developed this under the free enterprise system, with a minimum of regulation designed to give them parity of income with other people. They look with suspicion on plans which would make their income dependent upon the federal treasury, rather than their ability as farmers, and thus take away just that much of the independence they have so jealously guarded throughout the ages. — Aabama Farmers State.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

A man who sells tire patch had a puncture and had to call a local service station to fix it—no tire patch. The other afternoon while we were at home leaving instructions with the "Mrs." as to what we wanted for supper that evening, a gentleman knocked at the door and asked to use the telephone. He wanted to call Mr. Tom Burdette to come out and fix a puncture on his car. He sold tire patching but didn't have any. Gerald sent out and had the tire patched and the gent on his way in no time at all. Bet that fellow carries a sample of his product from now on.

J. Kenneth Jackson, son of Joe Jackson of the Clanton Drive-In, visited with Clanton friends the week end. Kenneth is employed at Huntsville with a Radio Station there. Says he likes Clanton and will be a regular visitor in the future. Fine young chap and he's welcome.

We destroyed an enemy the other day. Ordinarily you'd think one shouldn't gloat over such a thing, but we made this enemy our friend.

A plane made a forced landing near Maplesville last Thursday and called W. L. Parrish for help. The Judge met them and gave them a warm Southern greeting and sold Alabama to them in a big way. The gentlemen were flying farmers from Indiana who had been with more than 600 visiting on the Gulf Coast. Judge Parrish offered to drive them around the county to see our better farms but they were anxious to get home and left by train that afternoon. The pilot left next day after getting his plane fixed. The flying farmers were: Paul Rober, Rev. W. C. Polsom, Geo. C. Davis, L. C. Lievrance and R. W. Moore, all of Bleufton, Ind. The Judge proved himself an able goodwill ambassador.

Reese Mims and Jelly Bean have a new barber. He is Douglas Vines who was with Eubanks Barber Shop before coming to the City Barber Shop. This barber turnover here is getting hard to keep up with.

Dr. Hubert Wheat came in to see us Monday while he was in town in behalf of his candidacy for Congress. He says he will talk Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the courthouse. He invites one and all to come out and hear what he has to say.

The Governor was in town the other day. We didn't get to talk to him but suspect it was in connection with the taking-over of the road between Jemison and Maplesville by the government. This will make this a Federal Aid Project and according to Charlie Cox the best thing possible for Chilton County as several thousands of dollars worth of repairs are necessary now on this highway.

That awful wind for hours Monday really kept people in their homes and places of business. The air was so full of dirt and the wind blew so hard that it was dangerous to get outside. We bet the cleaning plants around here do a land-office business the rest of the week.

And the City Council and Mayor continue to put in gutter and curb and dress up our city.

Another lovable character passed to the great beyond the past week. Mr. Hugh Jones answered the call that will come to each of us in his turn. Scores of relatives and friends throughout Central Alabama mourn his passing. Mr. Hugh was one of our favorite people. We appreciated his unassuming manner and his friendly way. We'll miss him too.

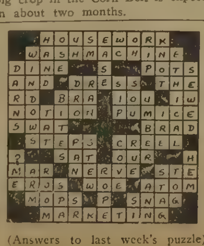
Fred Smith was a visitor the other day. He was advertising the banquet to be given by the Jemison Athletic Association on April 14, at the school. Dr. Ian Stuart of Dublin, Ireland, will be the principal speaker for the occasion. Better get your ticket early if you plan to attend. The tickets will probably be at a premium.

MARKETING TIPS

Price trends for the past few weeks have been favorable for many products that Alabama farmers sell at this time of the year. Cotton, hogs, poultry, eggs, and beef cattle are among those that have shown price advances. These favorable price trends, however, are seasonal increases that are usually expected in late winter and early spring and do not represent a reversal of the generally downward trend in agricultural prices in relation to parity.

A. W. Jones, marketing specialist, says that farmers who are interested in marketing their production to the best advantage over the year can well afford to watch both the long time and the seasonal price trends during the year. The usual mid-winter decline in poultry, egg, and some other prices came about a month earlier this year than usual.

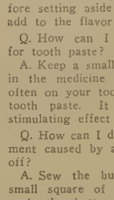
Prices are also recovering their losses earlier. Hog growers in Alabama would probably do well to finish out and sell last year's pigs and market them as rapidly as possible. The rush to market of last fall's big pig crop in the Corn Belt is expected in about two months.



(Answers to last week's puzzle)

Preacher, Doctor and Lawyer

There are three very important things every man should have to call his own. A preacher, a doctor and a lawyer. When in need of legal advice or counsel every man should have his own lawyer whom he knows and has confidence in. And go to him for such legal advice and counsel. This lawyer will become your friend, and will feel obligated to defend you and your interest whenever needed. He will advise you well for your own good and interest. I have such a friend. I go to him when I need his service, and he is interested in my welfare.



A. T. HICKMAN

Then every man should have his own doctor. The one whom he calls his family doctor. When any member of the family is sick this family doctor should be called. This doctor will become a close friend to your family, and will go to the call of his patient any hour of the night or day. No sacrifice will be too great for him to make in the interest of those who have chosen him as their own family doctor. I have such a friend in every city where I have lived for any length of time. The medical profession is a high and noble one, and doctors like to be courteous to their fellow-doctors, and not get in upon each other's field. This can be done to their interest, if people would have their own family doctor, and when he cannot be gotten, then his advice should be taken into consideration for the call of another.

Then last but not least; every man needs his own preacher. His family pastor; his spiritual adviser. Friend, choose for yourself a minister of the Gospel. There will come a time when one will be called to render service. I was talking to a friend of mine one day, and told him that he should have a family minister; a home church. To this he agreed, but made no attempt to select a home church, and a family preacher. One day something happened that made it necessary to call a preacher. A death was in the home. The family doctor was called, but there was no family preacher. A sad situation when a minister is needed, and people have none of their own, but have to borrow one. Friend, wake up along some important lines in life. Chose for yourself and family a lawyer, doctor and by all means do not neglect selecting your family preacher.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I correctly soak wash?
A. Clothes are correctly soaked if the very soiled parts are rubbed with soap first, then soaked in cold suds if they are to stand over night. Use hot suds if they are to be laundered before cooling.

Q. How can I keep white ivory toilet article from turning yellow?
A. After the articles are cleaned, place them in the direct rays of the sun for an hour or more, and this will prevent their turning yellow.

Q. How can I vary the flavor of cornstarch pudding?
A. Add one or two tablespoonfuls of currant or raspberry jelly, just before setting aside to cool. This will add to the flavor and appearance.

Q. How can I make a substitute for tooth paste?
A. Keep a small bottle of table salt in the medicine cabinet and use it often on your tooth brush instead of tooth paste. It has a remarkably stimulating effect on the gums.

Q. How can I darn a hole in a garment caused by a button being torn off?
A. Sew the button securely to a small square of strong tape. Then push the button through the hole, leaving the tape on the underside. Hem the patch to the garment.

Q. How can I clean gold and silver articles?
A. Try dipping a wet cloth in cigar ashes and scouring the articles.

Q. How can I make a dry mop?
A. Tie pieces of cloth firmly to the end of a discarded broom handle. Slit the pieces of cloth into strips about one inch wide, dip into kerosene, and then let it dry for several hours, or overnight, before using.

Q. How can I loosen hardened putty when removing a pane of glass?
A. Try spreading soft soap over the putty. After a few hours the putty will become soft and will be easy to remove.

Q. How can I prevent an omelet from falling?
A. Beat a little powdered sugar and cornstarch into the yolks of the eggs.

Q. How can I clean black silk?
A. Brush and wipe the silk thoroughly, lay on a flat table, right side up, and sponge with hot coffee which has been strained through muslin. Iron when partly dry. Black silk can also be cleaned by sponging the soiled parts with water in which potatoes have been boiled.

Q. How can I remove cigarette stains from the fingers?
A. Rub with powdered pumice or a cut lemon. Then wash the hands in soapsuds, rinse and dry thoroughly, and rub a good hand lotion into the skin.

Your Health

YOUR PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

A periodic physical examination is the best insurance anyone can have to maintain a good health status. A complete physical examination serves two ends: The early detection of disease and the prevention of disease. The latter objective is the chief aim of medicine; but if disease is present, its early detection will lend itself to control more easily.

In a complete physical examination, the history of the patient is very important. In other words the health background of the patient and his family may yield information of great importance to the physician in making a diagnosis. And that is why trust and confidence in your physician are essential. Holding back information, being secretive and otherwise uncooperative are unwise. A person in describing his complaints to a physician should tell the whole story. Aches and pains stem from a cause. If an examiantion by the physician proves that organically the body is sound, hidden fears, resentments, and worry may be placing such an emotional strain on the individual that physical discomforts will be noticed.

The next step in the physical examination is the check-up on the body. This includes an investigation of the heart, the lungs, reflexes, an examination of the eyes, ears, glands; a probing or palpation of the pelvic organs, and a study of the blood pressure.

The physical examination also includes examination of the blood and of the urine, both of which reveal conditions that may be present, even though symptoms may not be too marked. Blood tests show various abnormalities, such as anemia or leukemia, the presence of infection in the body, and syphilis. An urinalysis will reveal diabetes or some kidney disease.

Many people would like to have a physical examination, but postpone it because they do not have a physician, or do not understand how to find one. Every state has a medical society which in turn is made up of county medical societies. To obtain a physician, check with your county medical society. Some county medical societies are not large enough to maintain their own headquarters or a full time staff. To learn the name of the secretary of your county medical society, direct your inquiry to the state medical society.

Farmers Advised Of Child-Labor Provisions

Birmingham, Ala. — Mindful that the potato digging, strawberry picking, and cotton chopping season is at hand, Regional Director Joseph C. Noah of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions has instructed Investigation Supervisor James H. Ogle to alert investigators working under his supervision that they are now expected to require full compliance with the recently strengthened amendments to the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. During the next few weeks, Mr. Ogle's investigators will be expected to be especially watchful for any violations of these provisions.

"Previously," Mr. Noah stated, "child-labor in agriculture was prohibited during the time the child was required by law to attend school. Now, Congress has said that it shall be considered that oppressive child-labor exists if the under-age child is employed in agriculture during school hours for the school district where such employee is living while he is so employed."

"It is important," Mr. Noah continued, "that the growers keep in mind that a child under 16 years of age may not be hired to chop or pick cotton, dig potatoes, pick strawberries, or engage in other agricultural work during school hours for the school district where such employee is living (other than their parent's farm)."

Attention was called to the penalty for violations of the child-labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. A person who wilfully violates the child-labor provisions of the Act shall upon conviction, be subject to a fine of not more than $10,000 or for imprisonment of not more than six months, or both.

Local school officials can advise the farmer of the school hours for the school district where any prospective under-age child employee is living. Additional information may be obtained by writing 1007 Comer Building, Birmingham, Ala.

SHOULTS

Bro. Mike Moore brought us two good sermons Sunday and Sunday night. The ones that missed church really missed a good blessing and we had a lot to miss. Friends if you have an excuse to stay at home and not go to church, won't you please read your Bible. Excuses won't count the Day of Judgment. What are you doing about the Master's business? He tells us to work while the sun shines for the day will come when there will be darkness.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Thelma Hathcock. She was taken to Vaughn's Hospital in Selma last Friday, but is getting along nicely. We pray that she will soon be home.

Mrs. M. G. Smith from Birmingham is staying a few days with Mrs. Messer Smith.

Mrs. Chessie Lou (Latham) Hess and family from Birmingham visited her parents Sunday. Her health is much improved.

Miss Miriah Freeman's Wednesday night guest was Miss Evelyn Nix of Clanton.

Mrs. Jimmie Ward was honored with a birthday dinner at the home of her sister, Mrs. N. E. West, and family, Sunday. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. West viewed the Alabama Power Plant at Lay Dam, which proved to be very interesting.

Mrs. Hymon Atcheson, Wayne and Jerry, visited Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Davenport Sunday afternoon.

Attend the church of your choice next Sunday, but do atend church.

Rev. Mike Moore had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lawrence Sunday and visited several homes in the community Sunday evening. Alton Lawrence is still in bed with the flu.

The Home Demonstration Club will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Gilliland.

The 4-H Club boys and girls reported a good time at the rally Friday, in spite of the sore legs and sunburnt faces they brought home with them.

We would like to give Miss Mattie Jo Barber a bunch of roses for her good work with these boys and girls.

PREPARING SEED BED

Thorough preparation of land for truck crops is essential to successful crop production. Mr. John Bagby, horticulturist, asserts that a good seed bed may greatly aid germination and determine whether or not a good stand is obtained. For small seed, the land should be turned and allowed to settle before planting in order to get a firm seed bed. When they are to be set on beds the soil should be prepared 10 days to two weeks ahead of setting the plants. The top of the beds should be knocked off to remove any crust which has formed.

"A seed bed which is grassy when the seed are planted," warns Bagby, "will be hard to cultivate; do this job before seed are planted."

Here's a tip on making your work easier. Adjust working surface heights to permit good posture while you work.

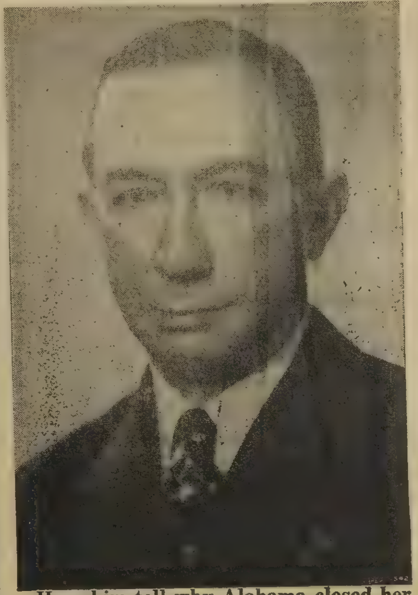
HEAR ALBERT STAPP
Candidate for Governor and One of the South's Great Speakers



Hear him tell why Alabama closed her books on September 30, 1949, with no money on hand, a lot of unpaid bills and a bonded debt on our backs of $46,870,000.

Hear him tell why Mississippi closed her books on December 31, 1949, with all bills paid, no outstanding bonded endebtedness and a cash-on-hand balance of $42,135.603.

Hear him tell why Mississippi farmers had $65,000,000 more cash for the first six months of 1949 over 1948 than Alabama farmers had.

If you are interested in seeing Alabama go forward, your vote and influence for Albert Stapp will be the greatest contribution you can make now toward that goal.

Clanton West End Baptist News—

In last week's West End Baptist B.T.U. news there was an error about the number of members present the preceeding Sunday evening. (I'm sorry). Instead of 14 members present, it should have read 14 members present in the Youth Department alone. There are fifty or more members in the entire B.T.U.

Mr. Luther Little spoke at the Wednesday night services of last week. He chose the 23rd Psalm for his Scripture reading. It would have done everyone good to have heard this wonderful talk. Especially would it have helped all young peeople to always live right. Mr. Little mentioned that so many great men have grown from boys who took the Lord as their Shepherd while very young.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Wilson were the new additions to our membership last Sunday. We are so glad to have them with us.

Remember that our revival begins Sunday morning, April 2nd, with the Rev. R. W. Stuckey as guest speaker. Everyone is invited to come and worship with us. Let us be much in prayer for our revival which will run through Easter Sunday.

MUSIC APPRECIATION CLUB

The Music Appreciation Club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, March 21st, at the home of Mrs. Reedie Taylor with Mrs. Joe Campbell as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Erle Ellis, president. The members then sang the National Federation Hymn and immediately following repeated the Club Collect in unison. Mrs. Ellis presided over the business session and the new officers were elected for the next club year.

They are as follows:

President, Mrs. W. E. Huddleston; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Joe Mullins; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Joe Moore; recording secretary, Mrs. R. C. Williams; corresponding secretary, liams; treasurer, Mrs. Sibley McGowin; parliamentarian, Mrs. Napoleon Johnson; chorus director and custodian, Mrs. Erle Ellis; accompanist, Mrs. Howard Boockholdt; reporter, Mrs. David Tingle.

The program was a real treat for all those present. The Club was indeed fortunate to have James W. Bittenger, Band Director of the Chilton County High School, present a very informative and instructive talk on the musical instrument, the Flute. Then Mr. Bittenger, a very talented and accomplished flutist, rendered several beautiful selections. He was accompanied at the piano by Miss Bobbie Grey.

At the conclusion of this most enjoyable program the hostess served an attractive and delicious salad plate to members and a guest, Mrs. Harold Lawrence.

SARDIS

Friends, we would like to correct a mistake that was made in the singing afternoons at this place. The time is every second Sunday afternoon instead of the fourth Sunday.

We understand that visitors from all around gathered here for the singing last Sunday afternoon. We are truly sorry about this mistake and invite everybody back to meet and sing with us every second Sunday afternoon.

Remember Sunday, April 2nd, is our regular preaching day. We would like to see a large crowd present and meet at 10 o'clock for Sunday school.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thoughts to each and everyone that were so nice at the death of our dear husband and father.

May God's richest blessings abide with each of you. — Mrs. G. E. Mims, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mims.

Another Plane Lands—

This time it was not a candidate for governor. Last Thursday morning a plane was forced to land here in an oat field of Dr. C. N. Parnell's on account of the engine bursting as the plane flew over Maplesville. The pilot, Mr. R. W. Moore, and two young men passengers from Ft. Payne, Ind., were returning from Pensacola, Fla., to their home in Indiana. The pilot made an almost perfect landing in the oat field, without injury to themselves or the plane. The plane was a 170 Cessna-NC2590V, and will have to have a new engine before it can be flown. The plane was pulled by tractor near Dr. Parnell's barn, tied down and left until later. The men boarded a bus to Clanton, got a plane to Birmingham, then a plane to their home in Indiana. Mr. Moore must have been a good pilot.

It was served buffet style and was very delicious.

THINGS WE SEE & HEAR

(by TUCK)

Well, keeds, I told you it wouldn't be long until A.E.A. and it wasn't. Here we are right in the middle of it and haven't got a thing to do except work. Well, it's not so bad having to work, at least it's better than trying to beat some knowledge into our thick skulls.

Last week's "Sweetheart" was Fred Thompson, folks, and believe it or not I think I came as close to describing him right as I have anybody yet.

Looks like we had a little dust storm Monday, doesn't it? Well, at least we got out of school two periods. (No hard feelings, Miss Perry. I like Biology better than anything I have.) No foolin'!

You know, Mrs. DuBose says the reason she likes boys better than girls is that boys are so sensible, they don't giggle all the time and tell everything they know. Well, I'm not on her side there because I don't think I'd like "mum" to be the word with my girl. Now, don't get me wrong! In all other respects I think she's right about boys. (I do think all of 'em are crazy though, when it comes to women). Well, most of them!

You know, I don't know what this world's coming to, they're growing 'em dumber and lazier every day. The other day in English class Wallace (Frog) Neeley said something that should be news to students of anatomy. Miss Griffin asked "Frog" why was there a hinge on your jaw and he came up with a rather amusing quotation. "Frog" says the reason you have a hinge on your jaw is so your lower jaw won't fall off. You know, that reminds me, I'll bet Miss Perry would like to know that so she could tell the rest of us.

These six weeks have gotten to where they go by like they had wings (which is perfectly all right with some people). The only trouble is they fly by just as fast or faster during the Summer months, which is not perfectly all right with ME.

Well, "Miss Junior High" this week is a pretty cute girl. You know, it's a funny thing, I never do know the color of their eyes. Oh well, that's logical with the girls. I'm not supposed to get that close to them anyhow. Anyhow, she has blonde hair, weighs about 115 pounds, is about 5 ft. 6 in. tall and is boy crazy. (Most of the time.) I don't think she has a boy friend at the present time. Heck! she has them off and on so much I can't ever tell whether she does or doesn't.

Kinda looks like this is bad weather even for teachers, doesn't it, kids? There was about four absent last Friday and they've been absent off and on for a long time now. Oh well, I guess they are just tired coming to look at our ugly kissers every day. Well, gee whiz, their faces are getting kinda old too, you know.

JEMISON

Tuesday evening the Quest Club met at the home of Mrs. George Naish. Flower arrangement was the theme, with many different ideas carried out with fruit, vegetables and flowers. James Lester Pate played two trumpet solos, accompanied by Mrs. Homer Carroll. Jo Langston, Sue Bratton, Janice Jones and June Handley sang two songs. After the business the hostess served refreshments with flower motifs.

* * *

The Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. S. W. Cost Wednesday afternoon. After the business Miss Mattie Jo Barber gave a demonstration on planning meals for the family. Then the hostess served refreshments.

Dwight McKay is visiting his mother, Mrs. Marvin Dawson.

Mrs. Homer Carroll is feeling better after a few days of illness.

Mrs. Lester Pate, Mrs. Jim Springer and Mrs. S. W. Cost shopped in Montgomery Thursday.

Mrs. J. L. Hayman, Mrs. B. C. Blewster and Mrs. J. A. Preston were shopping in Birmingham Thursday.

Mr. J. A. Peterson's home was entered by burglars Sunday morning, while his family was attending church. This is the second time in about two months this has happened.

The Jemison Juniors honored the Seniors Friday night with a party.

Census To Make Certain All Babies Are Counted

All babies born during the first three months of 1950 will be enumerated on two different forms when the Census of Population is conducted in April. They will be counted only once in the population however.

The special listing of all infants under three months of age as of the April 1 Census date is explained by Supervisor L. C. Warr in charge of the Clanton District Office of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. In the first instance, information about the infant will be included in the regular Population Census questionnaire for the conventional population count. Secondly, information about the infant and its parents will be recorded on a special "Infant Card" for use in checking birth registration records with the object of determining the accuracy of birth registration totals. As a by-product, the double listing will assure the inclusion to a greater degree of accuracy of new-born babies in the Census.

"It is astonishing how often the new-born member of the family is overlooked in both Census and birth registration records," the Census supervisor observed. "Lapses of this kind by parents affect the accuracy of population counts and failure to register the infant's birth deprives it of an important record that may be needed in later life to establish age and citizenship. While birth registration records are maintained by the States, the record kept by the Census Bureau can be used by individuals as evidence in lieu of birth certificates when the latter are unavailable.

"Prior to the development of comprehensive birth registration systems by all states in the last three decades, many millions of Americans began life without being officially registered. Consequently, it was estimated in recent years, about 50 million Americans do not have birth certificates. With the inaguration of the Social Security system in 1935, the need of older people for proof that they had attained the age of 65 years and were qualified for old-age assistance benefits was underscored. Lacking birth certificates, it was necessary for them to produce other evidence. Census records were recognized as auxiliary evidence, as were church baptismal certificates, family Bible entries, early school records, and similar items. World War II legislation limited employment in many wartime projects to American citizens. Again, Census records were useful as evidence. During the last 15 years, more than two million Americans have obtained copies of their Population Census records from the Census Bureau.

"Under Federal legislation and Census Bureau regulations guarding the confidential nature of information recorded in a Census, copies of the Census records of individuals can only be revealed upon written authorization by the individuals to whom they relate. Otherwise, the information is used only for statistical purposes and is published only in anonymous tabulations.

"I feel sure that realizing the importance of these records in the future lives of their children, parents in this area will make certain that their babies are not overlooked in the 1950 Census," the Census supervisor concluded.

BURNING FIELDS

"Stop and think before you burn off a field this spring."

It is revealed by the proper authorities that each forest fire burns enough pulp-size trees to produce all the newspapers in the United States for 12 months.

Fire has no respect for boundaries. It will burn from your fields into those of your neighbors. Remember that you break the law when you burn fields without notifying proper authorities. You are liable to fines up to $1,000 and imprisonment up to one year for burning Alabama woodlands.

FORMER CHILTON COUNTY GIRL WEDS

Mr. W. G. Thames of Greenwood, S. C., announces the marriage of his daughter, Geneva, to Fred Calvin Paysinger of Ninety Six, Saturday morning, March 11, at 11:30.

The single ring ceremony was performed before a small group of friends and members of the immediate families by Judge D. S. Jones.

Before the service the guests were entertained by Miss Doris Wilson who played "Because' and "I Love You Truly." The wedding party entered to the Lohagrins Wedding March and the vows were spoken while Miss Wilson softly played "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was beautifully attired in a cocktail length dress in taupe with shoes and bag to match and bride's pink hat and gloves. Her corsage was a single purple throated orchid.

Miss Annette Bosler of Greenwood, bridesmaid and only attendant of the bride, was charming in cinnamon dress and hat with shoes and bag in taupe with white gloves. Her flowers were dutch iris.

Bill Randall, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a high noon tea was served the wedding party and guests by Mrs. O. N. Littleton, sister of the bride.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Paysinger went to their home at Apt. 2-E, Building 2, Academy Apts., in Greenwood where they are now at home to their many friends.

Mrs. Paysinger is the youngest daughter of Mr. W. G. Thames and the late Mrs. Mattie L. Thames, formerly of the Union Grove and Rocky Mount communities.

POLL TAX Exemption FOR Veterans' Wives and Widows

Favored By

REUBEN NEWTON

Your War II Vet.

Candidate for

GOVERNOR

"I shall favor a constitutional amendment to exempt the wives and widows of Ex-Service Men from the payment of Poll Taxes."

Excerpt from Newton's Platform.

NEWTON'S REASON:

"It was not gratitude alone that caused the people of Alabama to exempt veterans from poll-tax payments. It was recognition of the fact that those called to risk their lives for the nation's safety emerged from the service with an increased sense of individual responsibility for good government. Their wives and widows have shared their sacrifices and their sense of responsibility for sound government. They, too, must be exempted for payment of poll taxes."—Extract from Newton's speech at Enterprise, Alabama.

PREPARING SEED BED

For small seed, the land should be prepared and allowed to settle before planting in order to get a firm seed bed. When plants are to be set on beds the soil should be prepared 10 days to two weeks ahead of setting the plants. The top of the beds should be knocked off to remove any crust which has formed.

ABUNDANT FOODS FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL

Auburn, Ala. — An important source of information for thrifty food buyers is the list of plentiful foods prepared each month by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A. W. Jones, A.P.I. Extension Service marketing specialist, explains that the list of abundant foods is designed for the dual purpose of helping food buyers get the most for their food dollar and helping farmers by broadcasting what they have for sale.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's interpretation of a plentiful food is one that is generally available on most markets, in heavy supply, and not a luxury item.

The April list of plentiful foods includes protein foods, such as eggs, pork, broilers, fryers, hens, dry beans, dairy products and fish; and vegetables, such as Irish potatoes, carrots, cabbage, onions, beets, lettuce, canned corn, canned lima beans, fruits, apples, canned peaches, raisins and prunes.

COTTONSEED PATCH

If at all possible the cottonseed patch should be at least 100 yards away from cotton, especially if the two fields of cotton differ in variety.

CHILTON COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL N.F.A. NEWS

The Chilton County Training School N.F.A. I am for mail box roads.

I am for Old-Age Pensions, first, last and always.

I am for 12 months pay for school teachers.

I am for free lunches for school children.

I am for putting the sales tax on the wholesaler to collect instead of the merchant. That would take the tax agents off the road and save the taxpayers two to three million dollars annually.

I am for exempting everything that is a necessity of life from sales tax.

I will not pass any local bills without first submitting them to the people.

I will not vote any increase in taxes.

These things I promise to work for if you will send me to Montgomery to represent you in the State Legislature.

$875.00 CANCER GOAL FOR CHILTON COUNTY

To fight cancer through research, service to patients and education, Chilton County will raise $875.00, Dent Williams campaign chairman for the American Cancer Society's 1950 Cancer Crusade, said today.

Cancer killed more than 2,800 men, women and children in Alabama last year, Mr. Williams pointed out. "And the most tragic part of it is that at least a third of them need not have died," he declared. "They died because they didn't know the danger signals of early cancer and didn't receive adequate medical treatment in time.

"It is to stop this needless waste of life as quickly as possible and to help find the causes and cure for all types of cancer that the American Cancer Society is asking the people of Chilton County to give more generously than ever before. Calls on the funds of the American Cancer Society have increased greatly. More money than ever before must be raised if the cancer control needs of the state are to be met," Mr. Williams said.

Funds raised here in the 1950 Cancer Crusade will finance an expanded program to teach every man, woman and child in Alabama the facts that will enable them to recognize cancer while it is still in its early, curable stages; to help make possible diagnosis and treatment for patients who cannot afford to pay for them, and to help pay the cost of the nationwide multi-million dollar cancer research program, the chairman declared.

"The $875.00 that is our goal in Chilton County is only a minimum figure," Mr. Williams said. "We must raise at least that amount to carry out the basic cancer control program. Much more is necessary to expand present services and to add other much-neeedd services.

"I believe the people of Chilton County will not be content to do a 'minimum' job. I am confident their contributions to the cancer campaign will far exceed the goal," he declared.

The campaign is scheduled for the month of April.

No "Pot Of Gold" In Alaska Says Fleetwood Carnley

There's no pot of gold at the end of the 4,000-mile trip to Alaska these days—and job hunters can save themselves grief and hardship by staying away.

This is the news which Fleetwood Carnley, director, of the Department of Industrial Relations, has been asked to pass on to Alabamians who may have been misled by glamous reports of job opportunities in America's outpost.

"The United States Employment Service is joining with the Alaskan Employment Service in urging workers to stay away except in a few skilled categories," Carnley said. "We receive monthly reports of the tragic consequences of workers who pay for lists of rosy job opportunities in Alaska, only to find that there are no jobs there—and that a loaf of bread costs 40c to 50c."

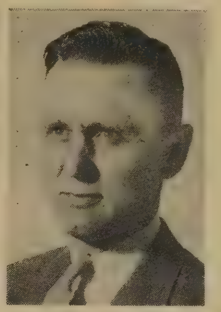
Not only are job openings almost non-existent, but it's impossible to find a place to live, and Alaska's "summers" last only two or three months and even then it is rare for the temperature to rise above 70 degrees. This has resulted in many workers suffering both hunger and cold.

Messages from the public employment service in Alaska always emphasize the point, "Tourists are welcome, but no facilities available for job-seekers, and no jobs."

Only exception to the "no help wanted" situation in Alaska is the need for a few trained nurses and civil engineers, reports from the employment service indicated. Even in the case of nurses and civil engineers, applicants are urged to establish contact and get a definite job committment before making the trip.

Explanation for the army of job-seekers who are "besieging" Alaskan officials is the amount of publicity given the area as a defense problem, the reports of army maneuvers, and irresponsible private employment agencies which sell lists or charge fees, according to officials.

Arthur Watson Risks His Life To Save Fisherman



ARTHUR WATSON

Heroism in all it's glory was displayed at Mitchell Dam last Friday afternoon late when Arthur Watson risked his life to save that of a Birmingham fisherman, John L. Hoffman.

Arthur probably won't like being made a hero of, but this is the way it happened: A group of Alabama Power Company employees at work on top of the dam had noticed this boat several times during the afternoon. It seemed it's owner had been taking some awful chances out in the rough waters below the dam.

The fisherman finally brought his boat up to the bank below the dam and was crawling out on the weather deck when Arthur Watson decided that something should be done and left the top of the dam to lend his aid. Before reaching the water, cries of "hurry, hurry" reached him and when he got to the boat no one could be seen anywhere near the boat.

Watson dived into the river, shoes, all his clothes, and even his tools still in his pockets, and fought his way to the boat now being carried out into the river by the wind. When he reached the boat he saw the hair of Hoffman's head just beneath the surface of the water and grabbed it and pulled him up until he could reach his arms and then pulled him into the boat. Quickly he started artificial respiration and by that time aid had come from across the river and all together they got the drowning man to shore and later by a Martin ambulance to Central Alabama Hospitl. He was discharged from the hospital Saturday afternoon.

Whether Arthur Watson likes to admit it or not, he's a hero, and there are scores of folks around who saw the incident that can vouch for the fact that he saved the life of John L. Hoffman last Friday afternoon.

Your Best Investment

Daily we are importuned indirectly and directly by various enterprises to make an investment of one kind or another, in stocks, bonds, small businesses, insurance, a refrigerator, a home or any one of a number of things.

But this month an appeal is being made to us in this community to invest in something of inestimable value, which is bound to return to us dividends not measurable in dollars and cents.

It is an investment in the health, happiness and future independence of the crippled children and adults of our community.

It is an investment to be made in the form of a contribution to the annual Easter Seal Drive for funds for the Crippled Children's Clinic. These funds are used to provide direct services in the form of medical, therapeutic, empoyment and recreational aid for those who are unable to afford them for themselves.

We have here a number of crippled childgen, many of whom can be ultimately either wholely or partially self-sustaining if they are given proper treatment and guidance. As they become self-sustaining, they are, of course automaticaly removed from the rolls of those dependent upon public or private philanthropy. They become contributors to the life and the economic stability of our city.

That is why a contribution to the Easter Seal Drive —and your personal use of Easter Seals—is the best possible investment you can make.

It is an investment in a human being.

Today's Easter Customs Had Religious Origins

Almost all of today's colorful Easter traditions, from gaily-hued Easter [illegible] to cheery Easter greeting cards, similarly stem from centuries[illegible] religious customs and practices.

Easter falls on next Sunday, April 9th, this year. Officially, Easter is the Sunday following the first full moon of Springtime—a formula dating back to the Old Testament.

When the Israelites were in bondage in Egypt, Moses led them forth by the light of Springtime's first full moon. This became the Jewish Passover Season. Jesus was celebrating the Passover when he was seized and crucified. So the early Christians established Easter—the Feast of Christ's Resurrection—as a "moveable feast" like the Passover, calculated on the same ancient lunar calendar to ensure that the two holy days would always occur only a few days apart.

Early Christians worshipped in secret because of Roman persecution. At Eastertime, on the walls of the catacombs, they drew crosses with flowers. They also dyed eggs—a practice borrowed from the Persians—staining them red to symbolize Christ's sacred blood.

Gigantic Paschal candles were instituted under Pope Zosimus to light congregations watching on Easter Eve. They were blessed while singing a triumphant hymn attributed to St. Augustine—the first "Easter music" ever composed.

EASTER REPLACES PAGAN SPRING FESTIVALS

Christian converts in Northern Europe found it hard to give up their belief in Eostra, beautiful pagan goddess of Spring. Her name survives in our word "Easter." The Druids in England worshipped the egg as a symbol of the witch-goddess Creirwy or Llywy, who is still remembered in children's legend as Mother Goose with her golden egg. Polish children for centuries continued to throw painted eggshells into streams to carry their Easter greetings to gnome-like men living underground.

In medieval Europe it was the custom to put out all household fires on Easter Eve. On Easter Morning, in the church courtyard, a new fire was struck from consecrated flints. Parishioners took home blazing torches to relight their hearth fires, symbolizing the beginning of new life. Keeping these "holy fires" going was considered protection against storms, droughts, famines and plague.

In France and Belgium, church bells bestow more Easter eggs than the famed Easter Bunny. When the bells are silenced during Holy Week, parents explain they have flown off to get the Pope's blessing. The youngsters tumble outdoors before dawn on Easter to watch the bells "fly back from Rome" with Easter gifts. As the children scan the skies, parents secretly scatter bon-bons and colored eggs in the grass.

For centuries from Moscow to the Rhine, decorated eggs were the traditional Easter gift among devout Christians. Mailed to distant friends, however, these fragile Easter greetings often arrived shattered. About 1850, the practical folk of Northern Germany began sending drawings of Easter eggs instead. Holy Land scenes were substituted a few years later.

Folks and Things About Town

--By BEN

Odd how fellows meet up with old friends after many, many years, isn't it? Kelton Whaley, the new pastor at the Church of Christ, and Herbert Linton, manager at Watson's, were schoolmates at Cullman High School. Both played basketball and Kelton says Linton was a "humdinger." . . . The other day we were in a meeting with Bob Argo of Birmingham. When we were grammar school boys in Talladega we knew Bob. We remember him because he had such a pretty sister. They called him Knox then, that's his middle name. Could have been "stinky," he was that bad.

Bill Eiland is about ready to open his offices here. He will open in the office of his dad, Dr. John D. Eiland. Bill finished his internship at Alexander City last month and finished his State Board exams last week. He's a full fledged optometrist now and ready to serve his fellow Chilton Countians.

Alcoholic Anonymous is doing all right here. Reaching a lot of people that couldn't be touched otherwise. They will have a meeting at the City Hall next Sunday afternoon and a nationally known speaker will talk to the group. You are invited to come and meet with them.

Looks funny to see Mr. Dave Cohen loafing about, taking it easy. Suppose he's entitled to it after working for forty years without taking a vacation. He sold the Parisian Store last week and says he will spend a while vacationing and resting. He hasn't made up his mind what he'll do.

Judge Parrish calls and informs us that Ed Propst will be here every Monday and Tuesday after April 10th, to give driving tests. He has been coming all the time but on other days of the week.

Sunday is the real beginning of Spring no matter what the calendar says. People just naturally count from Easter. Guess it's because that's when they all dress out in their Spring finery, don't you? We have a wide choice of stores to shop from this year and you can certainly do your shopping at home if you want to. New stores, by-the-way are coming to our town regularly now and what with all this wonderful new street building and widening Clanton is booming.

Leo Langston, Town Clerk at Jemison, is hollering about us leaving the story out last week about their big banquet to be held there about the middle of April. We left it out on purpose. Folks are prone to forget a date when it is set too far ahead so we thought we would wait until closer to the date and folks would remember it better. But, Leo says that ain't the idea. They all wanted the publicity before the final date of sale on tickets which is Friday. Well to get us out of hot water the only thing for you folks to do now is to get busy and buy your tickets fast. That is before tomorrow (Friday) night, when the ticket sale closes. It's going to be quite an affair with lots of fun.

Guess you saw where the young lady that got the job as a private teacher had to resign. The pupil was too backward and the child's father was to forward.

YOU can have fun figuring out your message from the Orient by use of this pleasant little letter puzzle. If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract from 7. If more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract from 13. Now take this result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT at the top of this puzzle. Then, starting at the upper left corner, check each one of your large key letters as it appears from left to right. Below the key letters is a code message for you.

Christ Lives Today

"He is not here, He has risen." These were the words spoken by the angel to the women who came to the tomb early in the morning. The women wondered who they could get to roll away the stone, but to their surprise, the stone was already rolled away, and Christ had risen from the dead. He was no longer numbered with the dead, but as they looked for Him, the angel said, "Why seek ye the living among the dead, He is not here, He has risen." Thank God, our Redeemer lives today. The founder of Christianity lives today. He was dead, but He is alive, and alive forever more.

A. T. HICKMAN

Job asked the question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" (Job 14: 14). Later on Job gives us an answer to this question by saying, "I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God. Whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another." Job made it clear that he believed in the life beyond the grave.

David adds his testimony to another life by saying, "God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave, and shall receive me, then I shall behold His righteousness, and be satisfied when I awake in His likeness." Friends, did you know that the resurrection of Jesus is a sure evidence of our own resurrection. For if in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But Christ is risen from the dead, and became the first fruits of them that sleep. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive. Christ the first fruits, afterward they that are Christ's at His Coming.

I trust that at this Easter season when the Christian world once again commemorate the resurrection of Jesus Christ that every one will get a clearer vision of the truth and the reality of Christ and His love for fallen man. For we must believe in His Resurrection in order to be saved. But if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead,, thou shalt be saved. . .Christ lives today, He lives within my heart.

How Can I?

(By Anne Ashley)

Q. How can I make a good whitewash?

A. Fill a bucket half full of lime and cover with water to depth of about 2 inches. Let it stand 24 hours to slack, or until the consistency of paste. Dip out desired portion and thin with water to required consistency. A teaspoonful of bluing to a half bucket of whitewash will make it clear and white, and a half pint of salt aids in sticking.

Q. How can I remove scorch stains?

A. If a garment is scorched, rub onion juice into the stains immediately after the accident hapens. This will remove the spots if they have not become too badly burned.

Q. How can I soften a used and hardened paint brush?

A. Try boiling it in vinegar. If one treatment is not satisfactory, repeat the operation.

Q. How can I restore the nap of velvet?

A. Heat a flat-iron, turn it upside down, place a wet cloth over it, and lay the wrong side of the velvet over the cloth. Rub up the nap rapidly if necesary, but usually the steam will do this.

Q. How can I have a better gas flame on the kitchen range?

A. Use an ordinary pipe cleaner to run through each little valve. This will clean the openings of all grease and dirt and will make the gas flare much better and brighter.

Q. How can I aid materially in loosening the dirt and stains when washing clothes?

A. One tablespoonful of kerosene to each boiler of clothes will help wonderfully.

Q. How can I make certain when buying shoes, that they will be comfortable and not too tight?

A. If the feet swell readily, always buy shoes in the afternoon. By this time the feet have spread to their greatest extent and the new shoes will be comfortable at all times.

Q. How can I relieve the pain of heartburn?

A. It is often effective to dissolve one teaspoonful of salt in half a wineglass of water and drink it slowly.

Q. How can I quickly clean the bath tub, wash bowl, or other porcelain articles?

A. By using half of a lemon rind.

Q. How can I make tomato jelly salad?

A. Boil until thick, 1 quart of tomatoes, 1 bay leaf, 1 pinch salt, 1 pinch cayenne. Strain add 1 ounce good gelatin, and dissolve; in water. Place in molds, and then in refrigerators. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

TYPHOID FEVER

Even though the cause and method of transmission of typhoid fever are known, this serious disease is still a problem. While the number of cases has dwindled from several thousand to a few hundred a year, the disease is so infectious that one person may be responsible for an epidemic that will result in many deaths.

The trouble starts when the typhoid bacillus enters the body through the mouth. Some ten or fourteen days later, the infected person complains of fatigue, headache, loss of appetite, fever and diarrhea. A rose-colored rash may develop.

Typhoid fever is a filth-borne disease, for it develops in communities having inadequate sanitation and sewage disposal. The germ is expelled from the infected person's body through his bowels and bladder. Because the germ multiplies rapidly and the sewage disposal system is faulty, it invades milk and water supplies. It is also spread by other contaminated food.

Persons responsible for the transmission of disease are those currently sick; those who are convalescing from the condition, and those who have recovered but who still harbor the typhoid germ. If a carrier is a dairy employee or other food handler, he may be spreading the disease through his own faulty habits of hygiene, particularly in the inadequate cleansing of his hands after he has been to the bathroom.

The common fly is an offender in the spread of typhoid, for it feeds on anything that is insanitary, depositing its filth on kitchen and eating utensils. The disease may also be acquired by swallowing water when swimming in polluted water, handling soiled clothing, linens, blankets, improperly washed dishes and eating utensils, and possibly using fever thermometers that have not been sterilized.

Control of typhoid fever is a community project. Special attention to water supplies, disposal of sewage, pasteurization of milk and the control of typhoid carriers on an individual and community basis are necessary. In addition the education of the public to good community and individual hyggiene is an important factor.

Prevention of typhoid is the keynote in its control and this can be accomplished by immunization. Be sure not to let your immunization lapse.

MAPLE SPRINGS

Sunday School will begin an hour earlier Sunday in order to allow the people to attend the singing at Poplar Springs.

Bro. L. D. Hughes delivered two very inspiring messages Sunday. For his sermon Sunday morning he took his text from the 13th chapter of Revelation, and Sunday night he took his text from Isaiah.

There will be a meeting of the R. A. and G.A. organizations next Friday night. We need the interest of the young people to make these organizations grow. We urge all the young people to attend this meeting at 6:30 Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Rich spent Monday night in Sylacauga visiting relatives due to the death of Mr. Huff Burkhalter.

Mr. and Mrs. Reedie Patterson and daughters, Inez and Betty Joyce, and Miss Earlene Foshee spent Saturday afternoon in Montgomery shopping.

Sunday Miss Betty Comer had birthday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong and relatives. Mr. Armstrong was also celebrating his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Comer of LaGrange, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Comer and boys of Tuscaloosa visited Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Comer a while Sunday afternoon.

We need more people at prayer service which is held each Wednesday night at 6:30.

Since the weather is getting warmer and most of the people are getting over flu, we expect to see more people coming to church. Sunday we had 121 present for Sunday School and more came in for preaching.

Don't forget to come to Sunday School at 9 o'clock Sunday. You are needed at church, so go to church somewhere Sunday.

PLEASANT GROVE METHODIST PROTESTANT

The Pleasant Grove Methodist Protestant Church is located on the Billingsley Highway, 6 miles west of Clanton.

Last Sunday was our regular preaching day. Bro. Graham, the regular pastor, was unable to be with us due to a protracted meeting at Old Kingston. In his absence the associate pastor, Bro. Dobson, filled the pulpit at the 11:00 hour, and brought a wonderful message to a large crowd. Bro. Willie (Bill) Baver brought the evening message. These two young preachers have a wonderful future and we bid them God's speed throughout their life.

Remember there is a Methodist Protestant Church, 6 miles west of Clanton on the Billingsley Highway and it is filled with the same refreshing atmosphere and the same old welcome awaits you there. You old time Methodist Protestant people, come and get a refreshment of what you were raised on. It will make you feel like you are back home again.

Preaching services are held each first Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Also the third Sunday and Sunday night.

JR. CITIZENS CLUB MET

The Junior Citizens' Club of the Clanton Elementary School was called to order Monday, March 27th, 1950, at 1:30 o'clock, by the president, Jeanette Crew.

We prayed the Lord's Prayer, repeated the American Creed and sang our club song, "God Bless America."

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved as corrected.

The treasurer reported a balance of $2.17. We then voted to pay Mrs. Propst $2.00 of it.

The Activity Committee reported that we went to Mrs. Warr's room that week, and that we had two extra play periods that week.

The room committee reported that they had washed the boards, swept the floor, washed the lavatory and straightened the books.

The membership committee reported that there had been 25 different people absent that month and this had been equal to 104 days.

The P.-T.A. committee reported that we had 41 members and that P.-T.A. meets next Tuesday, April 4, 1950.

Conservation, the topic of the program, was discussed by several of the club members.

Respectively submitted,
JANICE WOOD,
Corresponding Secretary.

A WORD TO THE VOTERS

Just a word in regard to the Commissioners race in the First District.

Friends, I have said many times every district should elect their own Commissioner, but as that isn't the case, we are asking you good people in the lower part of the county for a little help. Friends, I have known Lonnie Cost for the past 38 years, was raised up with him, had lots of business dealings with him and always found him to be honest, truthful and fair; always ready and willing to help in the up keep of his schools and churches.

Now, friends, don't forget to help us out in electing Lonnie Cost on May 2nd.

A good crowd was out for MYF Sunday night and a wonderful program was given. The Sub-District MYF meeting was held here Monday night. A large crowd attended from all churches in the district. COLLINS CHAPEL

On next Sunday morning at 6 o'clock we will have a special Easter service at the church. Everybody is invited to attend. Bro. Burks from Thorsby will deliver the message.

On Friday night of this week we will meet for choir practice at the church. We have a good Sunday School and Training Union, but there are people in the community who do not attend that we need and we would be so glad if they would come. We have a good pastor who would like very much for you to attend each service. Bro. Hughes is doing all he can for our church so let's all come out and help him. A good crowd was out to hear Bro. Buck Littleton Sunday night.

We have a good school here, also a fine faculty, and wide awake P.-T.A. that believes in Christian principles and is always ready for any program that is upbuilding to the community.

John Thomas Strain was home from Howard this week end.

Mrs. Helen Vinzant and baby from Sylacauga visited home folks last week.

The G.A. met at the home of Mrs. Tom Strain last Thursday night. So don't forget our Easter program. Everybody come.

Here Are A Few Facts About

W. D. 'Bill' Frinks
CANDIDATE FOR
Lieutenant Governor

He is thirty years old, born and reared on a farm in St. Clair County.

He served in the army from 1941 to 1943. While serving in the army, he received injuries that makes it impossible for him to do manual labor.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, American Legion and Disabled American Veterans.

Frinks has lived in Birmingham since 1943, been in business for himself.

He owns and operates the Ace Cleaners and Laundry.

Frinks attended Branchville Elementary School, and St. Clair County High School, at Odenville, Alabama.

He is especially in favor of Old-age Pension and will work hard to see that this law is passed. If the forty-nine Legislature had represented Alabama and its people properly this law would have been passed then.

Frinks is interested in better schools and better roads, and will try to get more industries to come to Alabama, and give more of our people employment.

This is Frinks's first time to seek public office.

Won't you please give him this chance by voting and supporting him, and get your friends to vote for him?

Frinks is just an average citizen and he will work hard for the average citizen.

Frinks says, while traveling over the state of Alabama, he has found the need for the Old-Age Pension Law to be passed. He has found that many of our elderly people are suffering great hardships.

Frinks believes that Alabama needs a Marshall Plan as badly as Europe does.

He also thinks we should take care of our people at home before sending aid to other countries.

If you will give Frinks a chance you will never be sorry. You will always be proud to have a man of this type to represent you.

He will be honest and fair to everyone. He will work in harmony with whoever the people elect as our Governor, to bring gAlabama a fair administration.

If the time should come, Frinks is well qualified to become our Governor.

All you need to do is to ask anyone who knows him.

(Pd. pol. adv. by St. Clair County Farmers Committee for W. D. Frinks)

STEVENS - FOX

Miss Annie Lee Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Stevens, became the bride of Douglas Hoyt Fox in an informal ceremony read Thursday, March 9, at 3:15 p.m., in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Grady Birchfield, pastor of the Hackneyville Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony.

Miss Stevens's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Ethel Cummings of the Isabella Community near Maplesville. Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Addie Lee Stevens of Alexander City.

Baskets of white and pink snapdragons decorated the attractive living room and dining room.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street-length navy dress with navy accessories and she carried a white prayer book covered with white carnations.

Misses Frances Hancock and Janet Lumpkin, classmates of the bride, were bridesmaids. Miss Hancock wore a gray suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Miss Lumpkin was dressed in a navy suit with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Little Miss Tommie Charlotte Stevens, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer. She wore a light blue dress with a corsage of pink carnations. Mr. Fox served his son as best man.

Mrs. Stevens, mother of the bride, was dressed in a navy suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Fox, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a gray pin-stripped suit, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride changed into an aqua suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations for the reception held in the dining room. The bride's table lace-spread was centered with a tiered embossed cake.

The couple are now at their home on Route 3, Alexander City. They are resuming their studies at Hackneyville High School where Mrs. Fox is a senior.

Other guests attending were: Mrs. Addie Lee Stevens, Mrs. W. T. Stevens and William Jackson, Ernest, Gerald and Charlotte Fox and Miss Barbara Tankersley.

QUICK GLANCE AT THE FATS AND OIL STORY

According to information from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, a major rise in the general level of prices of fats and oils does not appear likely in the next few months.

Foy Helms, A.P.I. Extension Service economist, believes that the production of fats and oils will continue at record or near record levels during the remainder of the 1949-50 crop year and probably will be large again in 1950-51. The expected increase of about six per cent in the 1950 pig crop indicates a moderate increase in lard and grease output next fall and winter. Also, farmers will replace some corn and cotton acreage with soy beans in 1950.

PERHAPS THE STRANGE ANIMAL WAS A NUTRIA

Auburn, Ala. — The nutria or coypu, not so well-known in Alabama, may provide future income for the Alabama trapper.

"The animal," says Earl F. Kennamer, A.P.I. Extension Service wildlife marketing specialist, "is also known as the South American beaver and was imported into this country only a few years ago. The nutria was brought in to determine whether or not it could be grown here for its valuable fur. After production started many of the animals escaped, and at the present time this highly reproductive and valuable fur bearer numbers in the millions. It is found in Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Mississippi, and other states. The average value of its pelt is $3.50—more than twice the amount received for a similar grade of muskrat pelt.

MAKING SLIP COVERS? BETTER CONSIDER SHRINKAGE

An accurate allowance for shrinkage cannot be made when the percentage of residual shrinkage is not stated on the material.

To help homemakers avoid making a poorly fitted slip cover, Alice Peavy, A.P.I. Extension Service home management specialist, suggests that they keep the following labels and their meanings in mind: Shruketized—guaranteed residual shrinkage 2 per cent; sanforized—guaranteed residual shrinkage 1 per cent; and commercial standards CS59-41—residual shrinkage 2 per cent.

CLEAN RANGE FOR PULLETS

Many Alabama farmers find that growing pullets on a clean range away from old birds helps control parasites.

HOG WEIGHTS

Farmers lose three ways when they carry market hogs to heavy weights. When more lard is produced, the price of hogs goes down; when hogs are carried beyond top weights, they are usually docked in price; and when hogs are carried to heavy weights, slower gains are made per pound of feed.

Judge's Rulings Cutting Down Traffic Deaths

LOS ANGELES. — Judge Roger Alton Pfaff, tough but fair-minded war veteran, was becoming one of the most talked-about men in Los Angeles and his reputation was spreading beyond his own borders.

His domain is the downtown Civic Center traffic court here. He is operating in the manner of a black-robe evangelist to stop the terrific traffic carnage which has been rampant here.

Since he began handing out penalties the traffic death rate in Los Angeles has dived. Deaths by autos numbered 409 in 1947. After only 10 months of Judge Pfaff's term, they amounted to [illegible]—a drop of [illegible] per cent. Los Angeles had gone from the highest of the 14 big United States cities in traffic tolls to fourth from lowest.

The Pfaff crusade was born 14 years ago when he, a young law student, was haled into court on a charge of driving through a red light. The judge asked for his plea.

"Guilty, but—"

"Five dollars. Next case."

The judge recalls that he came out of the courtroom "boiling mad."

The next years were too busy for him to devote any time to traffic infractions. He was graduated from law school, practiced in Los Angeles, served in the state legislature and in the infantry and OSS during the war.

Highway Deaths Shocking

Returning from Europe, he was shocked to observe slaughter on United States highways that measured that on the battlefield. When he was appointed a Los Angeles municipal judge in 1943, he surprised his colleagues by requesting traffic court duty. Most of them avoided it.

Los Angeles drivers now warn each other, "Judge Pfaff will get you if you don't watch out!" They have reason to fear the 42-year-old jurist. An offender came before him with a record of two previous $100 drunk driving fines. He was charged with driving without a license.

"I notice in the officer's report," said the judge, "that you stated you were not going to serve time, that you had lived in California long enough so that you could 'pull strings' and pay fines. Well, it looks as if you're in the wrong court. You can't buy that kind of driving here."

The sentence: 180 days in jail.

Stiff judgments aren't the only element of the Pfaff formula. He preaches traffic safety with a zeal of a Billy Sunday. Before each session he tells the defendants:

"I want each of you to become a crusader for better driving."

Offers Advice

He talks for 20 minutes and offers this advice:

"1. Practice courtesy. Sixty per cent of citations arise from failure to yield the right of way. Why be so rude to one another? Courtesy can be infectious. Try it.

"2. Slow down! If you are late to work, don't try to make it up on the road. You'd be better off staying at home in bed and not going to work at all."

The lectures have paid off. Of the 200,000 persons who passed through this court in 1943, only two percent returned. One happy defendant wrote the Los Angeles Times:

"Maybe it's the heat! For imagine receiving a ticket for speeding, spending the morning in traffic court, getting fined $20 and thoroughly enjoying the consequences.

"Truly the judge is a man with a mission going far beyond the call of duty in a tremendous personal effort to assist the cause of traffic safety . . ."

Religious Motto on Coins First Used in Civil War

WICHITA, KANSAS.—It is not generally known, but the motto "In God we trust" which appears on American coins was put there by public demand. It was done during the Civil War when religion had reached one of its highest points during the history of the United States.

Letters by the thousands urging some kind of religious motto on U. S. coins poured in to President Lincoln and Treasury Secretary Salmon P. Chase. There is some evidence that Lincoln, himself, advised such a motto after receiving a letter from a clergyman. Other countries had followed the practice for centuries.

Chase instructed the director of the mint on November 30, 1861, to prepare such a device. He said that "no nation can be strong except in the strength of God, or safe except in His defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our national coins."

Several suggested forms of a motto were prepared, including one that read, "God Our Trust," and "God and Our Country." First use of the present motto was on the 2c piece of 1864. That was the first year this coin appeared, and it was minted yearly until 1873.

Hollywood Actress Abandons Career For Religious Work

HOLLYWOOD. — One of movieland's most promising actresses was quitting the movies and a career to become a missionary or a religious teacher. Colleen Townsend, the actress, making that statement, said her decisions had been made "because Christ is first in my life and I want to be where I can serve Him most."

The pretty brunette notified the studio where her career was hitting the top that she would not renew her contract. She said she would enter a theological school to study religion for two years. Then, she said she would go into "Christian education, [illegible] in churches or missionary work."

(Miss Townsend was "Sweetheart of The Orange Bowl Festival" and appeared at the half when Santa Clara defeated Kentucky at Miami in the [illegible]son football game in [illegible].)

"It's not that I can't serve Christ in motion pictures, but I feel God has led me into some sort of full-time service," the actress said.

"I first accepted Christ two and a half years ago and it was then theology became interesting to me. I had never let it become important before.

"Many young people I'd gone with to Hollywood high school asked me to join the First Presbyterian church. What those young people had challenged me. They had something I wanted.

"I realized I had gone to church all my life, but didn't know what it was to be a Christian. So I looked into Christ's teachings."

Miss Townsend had gone to "various" churches, including the Presbyterian and the Mormon, when she was in high school. At Brigham Young university in Utah she was a member of the Mormon Sunday school on the campus, she said.

Milkman's Faithful Donkey Helps Solve Master's Murder

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT. — A milkman's faithful donkey has helped solve his master's murder in a unique case here.

Gunmen killed milkman Hassanein Atta, 45, for reasons unknown. Atta's donkey, covered with his master's blood, continued on his usual rounds, stopping before each place where Atta had customarily delivered milk.

A shopkeeper noticed the blood and called police. Officers backtracked and arrested two men who had not even bothered to flee, believing it would be hours before their crime was discovered.

Ferret Honored by Airmen For Solving Tough Problem

RAPID CITY, S. D. — An 18-ounce ferret named Pete has been honored by the nation's air force as the hero responsible for final conversion of the Rapid City air base into a key northern B-36 bomber outpost.

It was Pete who solved the tough problem of running an important telephone wire through a conduit six feet below a reinforced concrete runway. Engineers feared they would have to tear up the runway to lay the wire.

But the ferret's owner sort of felt that Pete should solve the problem. So, he fitted the ferret with a harness, attached a string and dropped him into the 2,210-foot long conduit with the order: "Take it through, Pete."

Twenty minutes later, Pete ran out the other end dragging the string which was used to pull the heavy telephone bale through the conduit.

Pete took the line through twice more in record time. But he was panting when he took off on the fourth and final trip. He stopped halfway through the tube.

After waiting a half hour for the tired ferret to gather wind and complete the trip, the workmen began twitching the string in an effort to dislodge Pete.

The long distance rescue efforts continued for three hours with no luck.

Finally Pete emerged from the end of the tube to be greeted by assembled and anxious high brass, three and one-half hours after he dived into the conduit.

Pete only blinked at the cheers. Apparently he had gone to sleep in the middle of the biggest day of his life.

Would-Be Do-Gooder Gets Suspended Term for Pains

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—James Brown was trying only to do a good turn, but the best he got for his trouble was a suspended sentence on a drunkenness charge.

Brown, a 41-year-old service station attendant, thought he was doing the right thing when he drove a citrus truck to police headquarters for safekeeping after the station's parking lot closed.

But he did the wrong thing when he staggered up to the police officer on duty with the keys to the truck dangling from his fingers.

Magistrate C. W. Pensinger suspended sentence on the drunkenness charge because of Brown's "good intentions."

Steno Writes Sky-Ad Letters Two Miles High

INDIANAPOLIS, IND. — It's a stenographer's business, of course, to write letters—but when one writes letters in the sky which are one mile wide and two miles high, that certainly should entitle one to a designation as a unique stenographer.

Betty Pettitt is the stenographer who writes those huge letters in the sky. The trim, brown-eyed pilot-secretary is the only skywriter in Indianapolis and, she believes, the only woman skywriter in the business.

A 35-year-old brunet, Betty's entire aerial career has been happenstance. Born in the Adirondacks, near Saranac Lake, N. Y., Betty loved the sky and admired women fliers. But she had spent seven years helping a music foundation in Newark, N. J., before she went overboard for flying.

One of her two sisters got her a pass on a flight to Montreal. That did it. Betty started pilot's training, got a private license in 1943 and enlisted as a women's air force service pilot the following February. After that, she tested planes. When the Wasps were disbanded, she stayed on at Napier Field, Ala., as a Link trainer instructor for a year.

But the end of the war brought the end of flying opportunities for women, she found. She served stints as an airline co-pilot and hostess in New Jersey, ferried small planes for distributors, and then started to work as a pilot-secretary for a New York coal wholesaler. Then Betty's boss became too ill to fly.

Answers Ad

Answering an ad in a flying magazine, she came here in October, 1947, as pilot-secretary to Rollin H. Stewart, an automobile distributor. Stewart already had a man writing the name of his automobiles in the sky. When the skywriter decided to be a salesman instead, Betty Pettitt took over. After one demonstration, she was on her own.

"I practiced making little crisscrosses and lining up letters," she said. Now she knows the flight plan for her usual "message" by heart.

"You see, it's all done backward and upside down," she explained. "I'm always thinking two letters ahead in order to save time."

A check with the airport weatherman shows whether the winds at 10,000 feet are under 15 miles an hour, as they should be.

It shouldn't be too dry, either, because then the smoke is dissipated. "Sometimes a small change in altitude makes all the difference in the world," Betty said.

Climbs Two Miles

Climbing two miles, she sights along a familiar road or fence row. She pulls the smoke throttle on the left side of the cockpit in the AT-6. Betty the skywriter counts off eight seconds, then shuts off the smoke. The first line of the first letter is done. She banks sharply and comes back to finish the letter. If she's crossing a "T," she flies 50 feet higher, or the slipstream would disperse the smoke in the first line.

She uses the grid pattern of roads and fields in the open farming country around Indianapolis to line up her sky letters.

Writing against a background of fields and rivers, Betty finds the letter "B" one of the hardest. So is "O," but "S" isn't bad.

By the time she has finished, she may be on the way across the city, 10 or 12 miles away from where she started. Sometimes she flies a thousand feet up or down to check her spelling. But not until she lands the plane does she know how it looks to people on the ground.

By then vagrant winds may have mixed two letters together, and it's usually all gone in 10 minutes.

Old Pecos River Bridge Ends Career After Long Service

DALLAS, TEX.—The old Pecos river bridge — once the highest structure of its kind in the United States—is being retired after 52 years of service.

In 1921, a young army aviator swept low over the Pecos river and sent his open cockpit plane roaring under the bridge, the wingtips barely missing the supporting spans. The aviator was Jimmy Doolittle, who has since done many even more daring things.

The Pecos bridge long has been the pride of the Southern Pacific railroad. According to the company, the span is 321 feet above the river at its highest point, and 2,180 feet long. It was put into service in March, 1892. Before the war, it was capable of handling the freight loads and the comparatively slow speeds of locomotives then used; but during the war the increased loads and new high speeds made it necessary to build a more modern bridge.

The latter span was completed in 1944 and is now in use. The old bridge, however, was being dissembled for removal to Guatemala, where it is expected to see further service as a highway bridge over one of the country's deepest streams.

German Paddles Small Kayak 30,000 Miles to Australia

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA.—For seven years and four months Oscar Speck, a local opal cutter, paddled an Eskimo kayak 30,000 miles up rivers and across oceans from Germany to Australia.

But war had come while he made his way down the Coral Sea and Speck was a German. So, with the end of his odyssey almost in sight, he was arrested and spent most of the next seven years in confinement.

Speck's amazing quest began at Ulm, on the Danube, in May, 1932. He was 25, canoeing was his pastime, and Germany was in the depths of a depression. It seemed to him a good time to get out of Germany for awhile.

He loaded his collapsible 18-foot kayak with a prismatic compass, charts, water containers, lots of condensed milk, chocolate and cheese. There was no room for a sextant, and anyway, squatting so near the water his horizon was only two and a half miles.

With two strong arms and two square yards of sail, he took off down the Danube, to Bulgaria, to Turkey, to Cyprus. He had meant to stop there. But he went on—to Syria; down the Euphrates to Iraq, and then along the Arabian coastline to India, thence to Ceylon.

Still he went on. He had a new goal now: Australia.

The years passed. Kayak after kayak wore out and replacements ordered three months ahead, arrived from Europe. Speck used up five. He went to Burma, Singapore, Sumatra, Batavia, Sourabaya, Bali and the islands ahead. He capsized 10 times, was blown off his course, taken prisoner by tribesmen.

Hitler was almost unknown when Speck left Germany. But Hitler's war stopped him when he was 18 miles from Thursday island, and he finished his journey in a police launch.

Today, Speck, now an Australian, is comfortably settled in Sydney and has his own opal cutting business. One day, he hopes to revisit Germany to see his 80-year-old mother. But he will come back to Australia.

"I got here the hard way," he says, "I intend to stay."

Court Holds Fate Of 'Bubble-Gum' Fund Left to Kids

WINCHESTER, VA.—On Virginia's highest court rests the faith of 400 children at John Kerr public school. For the children are hoping the court will return to them the $85,000 "bubble-gum trust" left them by "Old Man Henry."

They were disinherited under ruling of a corporation court judge who ruled that the strange bequest of the late Charles B. Henry was invalid. The judge awarded the estate to Henry's relatives.

When Henry, an 80-year-old curbside merchant, died he specified in his will that the income from his estate should be divided each Christmas and Easter among the John Kerr pupils.

He wanted them to spend it as they chose—on "bubble gum or toys," or otherwise. He just wanted them to "remember old man Henry." Each child would have received under the bequest between $5 and $10 a year.

The lower court judge ruled that the trust fund was not a charitable trust, that it did not provide for educating the children, and that the net effect would be to tie up Henry's estate for all time. Thus, he said, it violated the rule against the creation of perpetuities.

Attorneys for the Shenandoah Valley National bank, trustee said, however, that they probably would appeal the decision to the Virginia supreme court.

Suit in the case was brought by Mrs. Harriett H. Taylor, Winchester, first cousin of Henry, and other kinsmen.

Bachelor Comes to Work, Turns Out as Baby Sitter

OMAHA, NEB. — Charles Padgett, 35, a bachelor, came to plaster a ceiling and stayed three days to sit with seven children.

That was the story he told authorities after three days of diaper changing, cooking and "playing with the kids."

Padgett said he went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durbin to do some repair work. Mrs. Durbin left the house to "go down town." She asked Padgett to watch her seven children ranging in age from 11 years to 10 months. She said she'd be "right back."

But, Padgett said, she didn't come back.

"I finally put the kids to bed after I'd fixed dinner," he said. "I kept watching for the mother. The kids were swell. I even got used to diapers."

When juvenile authorities heard of the plasterer's plight, they came to the rescue.

New Auto Speedometer Idea May Add to Highway Safety

SILVER CREEK, N. Y.—Development of a new auto speedometer device may help cut down the country's traffic fatality toll.

A gadget which constantly projects in brilliant illumination the changing reading from the dashboard speedometer to a tiny metal screen on the windshield has been put into production. The dime-sized screen is fastened about two inches below the driver's normal line of sight.

The relatively inexpensive accessory is hailed by the concern's president, Lawrence Schmitt, as "the first basic improvement in speed since the advent of the magnetic speedometer decades ago."

"The automobile driver now can keep his eyes on the road where they belong at all times and still know his exact speed," Schmitt said.

Kentuckians Asked to Give Babies' Weight at Birth

LOUISVILLE, KY.—Kentuckians have been asked to include the weight of their babies when giving information for birth certificates.

J. F. Blackerby, registrar of births and deaths at the state department of health, said the request was in line with a nationwide campaign to find causes of pre-maturity, leading cause of infant deaths. The information will be valuable in setting up a program to reduce the infant death rate, he said.

Blackerby reported new forms for certificates in use since January 1 have a section for such information at the bottom of the certificate, labeled "For Medical and Health Use Only."

Information in this section is confidential, he said, and is not included when copies of certificates are issued.

14-Year-Old Boy Steals $28,000 Fishing Trawler

DUNDEE, SCOTLAND.—The 14-year-old sea-lover whose three-day solo voyage made him seasick pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing the $28,000 fishing boat in which he sailed half-way to Denmark.

Johnnie Guthrie said he stole the trawler Girl Jean. The trawler Reptonian found him stranded three days later 200 miles out in the North Sea and towed him back.

Johnny was taken to a remand home—British equivalent of a reform school.

Doctor Keeps Body of Wife In Glass Case

LONDON. — Dr. Martin Van Butchell, a distinguished London doctor, was a man of wide learning and skill, but he could not bear to be parted from his wife. When she died, he was stricken with grief—but he thought out a scheme by which he might continue his day-to-day life with her.

Mrs. Van Butchell alone had seen the soundness of the reasons underlying her husband's eccentricities. Other people were inclined to laugh when the doctor rode a pony painted with brilliant green and blue spots. But Mrs. Van Butchell agreed that since her husband had first learned to ride on a rocking horse, it was wise for him to keep as close to the original as possible.

Dr. Van Butchell detested buttons and designed a garment of white elastic wool, stretching from ankles to neck, which served the purpose of coat, trousers and waistcoat all in one. His wife appreciated its convenience in saving a busy doctor's time.

Poured Drugs in Lake

Even when the doctor visited the Serpentine and by pouring drugs into it turned it into a lake of medicine, Mrs. Van Butchell could never see anything but common sense in the affair.

The doctor made very good medicine, and so prodigious a dose as an entire lake of it enabled everyone to try its qualities, if they felt so disposed.

The doctor realized how well it pays to advertise. When he went riding, he carried a jawbone slung about his waist as a sign of his profession. Once every week he sat on his doorstep with a little tray of cakes, tarts, sweets, apples and nuts, and gleefully dispensed hospitality to the children of the district, making good friends with them, knowing that the children of today can be the doctor's patients of tomorrow.

Now, with all these means of adding to the gaiety of life lingering only in his memory, he looked at his wife's body and considered his scheme for enjoying her company for years to come.

Appearance of Health

He consulted his old friend, Dr. William Hunter, one of the foremost anatomists of the day. Hunter was familiar enough with his friend's queer ways, but he listened in astonishment.

Dr. Van Butchell wanted to embalm his wife, restoring the appearance as nearly as possible to one of health. He dispatched her body to Dr. Hunter's dissecting room, and there a remarkable change took place in Mrs. Van Butchell's appearance.

A mixture of oil of turpentine and camphorated spirit of wine injected into the vascular system gave her an appearance of ruddy health, particularly when her cheeks were suitably padded and stuffed with powdered niter and camphor. In a glass fronted case, Mrs. Van Butchell was laid and held in place by a bath of plaster of Paris.

Errant-Husband Seeker Has Outstanding Record

NEW YORK.—George H. Lamb is one of the few favored men in the nation who are able to combine business with pleasure to an extent each year which insures them of a nice vacation.

Lamb is chief of the abandonment bureau of the Queen's district attorney's office. Every year, at about the time the season in New York indicates how desirable a warmer clime may be, Lamb hies himself to Florida or California or some other equally attractive setting.

Instead of a rod and reel, however, he takes along a few bench warrants charging abandonment and a lot of addresses and telephone numbers supplied by deserted wives with families to support.

He usually returns with a large bag of errant husbands. His last haul was 24 delinquent husbands and fathers out of a possible 37. Of these, 21 signed papers agreeing to help support their children. The other three refused to sign. With the aid of local police, Lamb had them arrested and returned to New York.

In his day Lamb has brought back some 3,000 errant fathers. He likes to think of the children who have benefited by his work.

MAKE MORE CORN PER ACRE IN CHILTON IN '50

More corn per acre is being made in Alabama and in Chilton County.

During 1949, six thousand one hundred and seventy-one (6,171) Alabama adult farmers produced an average yield of 64.2 bushels of corn per acre on their project patches. Also in 1949, three thousand three hundred and six (3,306) 4-H Club members produced 65.1 bushels of corn per acre.

In 1949-50, Chilton County producers (4-H and Adult) reported results on "test" patches of corn. They reported an average, measured corn yield of 69.8 bushels per acre. The county's total average corn yield has been increased from less than 13 bushels per acre to approximately 25 bushels per acre in the last five years. Considering the fact that near 50,000 acres of corn are annually planted in Chilton County, this increase (near 12 bushels of corn per acre) represents a cash income on today's corn market of near ($900,000.00) nine hundred thousand dollars. Chilton County farmers, by applying better production methods to an established crop, have brought about this increase. The present annual valuee of corn resulting from use of better practices is as much as that derived from sales of all tomatoes, sweet potatoes, strawberries, blackberries, beans, squash and all green leafy vegetables sold from the county in 1949. It was 75 percent as much as the total 1949 county cotton income or near 50 percent more than alst year's peach crop income.

Yes, real progress has been made in Chilton in corn production. The trend is only started. In 1955, the county can easily be producing an average corn yield of near 50 bushels per acre.

Here are the five simple factors that have created present progress and that, if more extensively used, will give us the "50 bushel average in '55:"

1. Continue to improve land and plant corn on best corn land on farm.
2. Using better hybrids or varieties as proven by experiment station.
3. Planting proper date (May 1st).
4. Thick spacing and adequate fertilization.
5. Shallow cultivation and early "lay-by."

GRAIN AND GRAZING STUDIED BY FARMERS

Auburn, Ala. — A rotation consisting of a crimson clover-ryegrass combination followed by grain sorghum with oats planted in the sorghum middles was observed by DeKalb County farmers recently.

County Agent John Pate, who led the tour, pointed out that over a four-year period crops in the rotation have produced the following average yields: Oats, 65 bushels plus winter grazing, and grain sorghum, 45 bushels. The crimson clover-ryegrass mixture has provided grazing from about October 1 to early May.

In explaining how the crops and land are handled in the rotation, Pate said that after oats are combined for grain, oat stubble is turned and the land prepared for a crimson clover-ryegrass combination to be seeded in late July. Before seeding, however, 500 pounds of 0-14-10 per acre are applied, and after plants are up to a good stand a top-dressing of 200 pounds per acre of nitrate of soda or the equivalent is made. If grazing is needed, the crimson clover-ryegrass is top-dressed again in February with the same amount of nitrogen. The mixture is usually ready to graze about October 1 to the 15. Grazing is continued until early May; then the cattle are taken off to allow plants to make seed. The area is then prepared and planted to grain sorghum about June 15.

During the tour substation men pointed out that the grain sorghum receives 300 pounds of 4-10-7 per acre at planting time. In late summer, oats are drilled in the grain sorghum middles. When they are up to a good stand, 200 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre or equivalent nitrogen from other sources are used as a top-dressing. When oats reach the grazing stage, cattle and hogs have access to them until March 1. They are then top-dressed with 300 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre and allowed to make grain.

SUPPORTING THE BROOD SOW

It takes about five and one-half pigs per year to pay a brood sow's room and board bill.

A sow should produce a least 12 hogs for sale annually. This fact should be remembered since spring litters are being farrowed on many Alabama farms at this time.

Farrowing time offers a big opportunity for hog growers to help assure a profit when the pigs go to market about six or seven months from now. Big litters of pigs are the foundation for making money from the sale of hogs. The average farmers weans about six pigs per litter. Eight pigs weaned per litter are usually twice as profitable as six pigs.

These are the reasons that it is necessary to give proper attention to sow and pigs at farrowing time. In other words, good management during this time and the eight-week suckling period will do much towards sending 200-pound hogs to market in about six months.

PLANT COTTON ON TIME

There is an expression "anytime will do." Not so with planting cotton. It pays to plant at the right time. Early planted cotton makes the highest yields per acre.

Farmers in the county who make the highest yields year after year plant cotton around April 1.

For several years cotton planted from March 27 to April 10 at the Prattville Field made the highest yield. Cotton planted about a month later made over 100 pounds per acre less seed cotton per acre.

The best time to plant, however, may vary from farm to farm or even on the same farm, because some types of soil warm up and can be planted earlier than cold-natured soil.

To get and keep a stand on early planted cotton, plant cotton shallow on a firm seedbed. Use one bushel per acre of delinted and treated seed. Use a liberal amount of good cotton fertilizer (6-8-8, 6-8-4, or 4-10-7) at or before planting time. Do not let fertilizer come in contact with seed.

Planting cotton early does not add extra cost, but will make extra yields.

SOUTHERN EATING HABITS IMPROVED

Auburn, Ala. — Southern meals have been changing considerably in recent years, according to Mary Hulsey, A. P.I. Extension Service nutritionist.

She says that records of foods used by white and Negro families in 1936 and in 1948 show many differences. All families in the study had a much wider variety of foods in 1948 than in 1936. The trend in cereal foods has been toward a wider variety of purchased products with the greatest increase in white bread, ready-prepared cookies or cakes, and crackers. White families used more ready-prepared cereals in 1948 than in 1936. Negro families used more spaghetti and macaroni. Many white families used more pancake mix instead of mixing their own batter.

Miss Hulsey further states that more fruit is being served at southern dinner tables today. In 1936 as many as one-sixth of the Negro families were eating no fruit. The 1948 records showed that many of these families also had more fruit of a greater variety.

PRODUCING COTTON

Best yields of cotton cannot be produced from poor "skippy" stands, according to O. N. Andrews, cotton improvement specialist. To get and keep a good stand of cotton, he urges farmers to plant three pecks to one bushel of reginned and treated seed per acre with at least 80 per cent germination. This planting should be done on a firm seed bed.

"Best stands are usually obtained when seed are planted about one-half inch deep," says the special. "Of course, depth of planting will vary with type of soil and moisture conditions. Do not let seed come too close to the fertilizer; this mistake may kill germination. Be sure that planter is properly adjusted to plant regularly. If heavy rains occur immediately after planting, it may be necessary to break the crust with a weeder, rotary hoe, or harrow. This will help get a stand and control grass and weeds. After a good stand is obtained don't destroy it by careless chopping, hoeing, and plowing."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

(By Olin G. Fields)

Charles W. Wallace, Cooper, is getting ready to build a completely new terracing system. He is starting this spring by sowing down all his meadow outlets in sericea. These will be ready to turn terrace water on this fall. The new terraces will be run and built then. In addition to furnishing a water disposal area, these meadows will also be utilized for hay and turn rows.

* * *

Dewey Collins, Thorsby, is in the process of setting out 25 acres of kudzu crowns. This kudzu will be used for hay and temporary grazing. For this section of the state, we know of no other crop that will beat kudzu for temporary grazing during the dry seasons of the year. Due to this one fact alone, kudzu is important in any grazing system.

* * *

The sericea planting in Chilton County will be larger this year than ever before. A lot of farmers will be planting sericea for the first time. These farmers, and others too, should not make the mistake of planting on a poorly prepared seed bed. Good seed bed preparation is the first step in growing any crop successfully and this is especially true in the case of sericea. With a good seed bed and an early planting date, the chances of making a failure are very slim.

* * *

To prepare land for sericea, turn and disk thoroughly. Harrow land with a section harrow before planting seed. After seed are sown, run a cultipacker over them. If you don't have a cultipacker, use a brush top or a section harrow with the teeth slanted almost flat. For a spring planting, plant before April the 15th. In some cases, good land preparation can be made by double or triple disking with a disk harrow. In all cases where you planting sericea on sedge land, be sure you have killed the sedge before sowing your seed. Sedge is one of the worst enemies of sericea.

For further information, come in and see your County Agent or Soil Conversationist.

Telephone Wages Are Way Ahead of the Cost of Living

Eight General Increases in the Last Ten Years Have Boosted Wage Rates 117% While Living Costs Have Increased About 73%. Any Further Increase in Wages Would Have to be Paid by Telephone Customers

Telephone employees, like everyone else, have faced a steep increase in the cost of living during the last ten years. What about telephone wages—have they kept up?

As the chart clearly shows, telephone wages have more than kept pace—leaving a substantial margin in our employees' favor. Telephone wage rates have been increased 117 per cent since 1939 compared with an increase of about 73 per cent in the cost of living for Southern cities.

Southern Bell employees have received eight general wage increases in the last ten years. In addition, they regularly receive automatic "progression" raises according to a schedule which begins the day they start work and continues with frequent increases until they reach top pay for their respective jobs.

During the next twelve months, 3 out of 4 Southern Bell employees will receive at least one such automatic increase. Many will get two and three.

Today, as always, Southern Bell people receive wages which compare favorably with those paid by other concerns in the community for comparable skills and experience. Can you think of any yardstick fairer than that?

Add to good wages the assurance of year-round employment, liberal sickness, accident and death benefits, and a pension plan that is among the best in all industry, and you can readily see that telephone employees are doing all right.

CORN LEAF WITH WHITE STRIPE MAY LACK ZINC

Auburn, Ala. — If corn is white in the bud when it comes up and later shows white stripes in the leaves, there may be a shortage of zinc in the soil.

"Especially is this fact true," says D. R. Harbor, A.P.I. Extension Service agronomist, "if previous crops have been grown on the same field and have been fertilized according to recommendations for normal conditions but still have shown the same markings."

The specialist says that the way to control this zinc shortage is to apply 10 pounds of zinc sulfate per acre with the complete fertilizer mixture used under the corn at or before planting. Do not use the zinc sulfate as a side dressing. When an application of 400 to 500 pounds of a complete fertilizer per acre is made and the zinc sulfate is added by the fertilizer mixer, about 50 pounds of zinc sulfate per ton of fertilizer should be used. It is doubtful if the use of zinc sulfate will pay when low rates of fertilizer are used.

I am for mail box roads.

I am for Old-Age Pensions, first, last and always.

I am for 12 months pay for school teachers.

I am for free lunches for school children.

I am for putting the sales tax on the wholesaler to collect instead of the merchant. That would take the tax agents off the road and save the taxpayers two to three million dollars annually.

I am for exempting everything that is a necessity of life from sales tax.

I will not pass any local bills without first submitting them to the people.

I will not vote any increase in taxes.

These things I promise to work for if you will send me to Montgomery to represent you in the State Legislature.

Sincerely,
JIM PLOTT.

HOLY WEEK CALENDAR FOR THE CATHOLIC FAITH

Easter Sunday, April 9, the Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at the Catholic Chapel of the Resurrection at 8:30 a.m. by the Reverend Stanley Pawlikowski, C.R., of Montgomery, Ala.

Confessions will be heard from 7:45 before Mass.

On Monday or Holy Thursday the church commemorates the institution of the Blessed Eucharist.

At 7:00 p.m. the recitation of the Rosary followed by meditations and prayers.

Good Friday the "Tre Ore" or Three Hours Agony of our Lord will be observed from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m.

"And it was about the Sixth Hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the Ninth Hour." It is these Three Hours of His Agony on the Cross spoken of by St. Luke that a Christian likes to accompany His Redeemer, as He hung upon the Cross in atonement for our sins. The "Tre Ore" is one of the most impressive of Holy Week observances. It consists of a series of reflections or meditations, interspersed with prayers and sacred canticles bearing upon some one of those Seven wonderful sayings uttered by our Lord during the agony of His crucifixion, as recorded by the evangelists:

"Father forgive them; for they know not what they do."

"This day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

"Woman, behold thy Son! Behold thy Mother!"

"My God, My God why hast Thou forsaken me?"

"I thirst."

"It is consummated."

"Father, into Thy Hands I commend my spirit."

Catholics will please take notice of the above and of their Easter duties. The Festival of the Resurrection of our Lord from the dead, conclusive proof of His Divinity, is the principal Feast of the Ecclesiastical year, from which all other feasts derive their value. It begins the fifty day period of joy and peace in the Risen Christ.

To the Voters of Chilton County:

Four years ago you elected me as your County Superintendent of Education. Since then I have tried hard to earn the confidence you had placed in me. I have endeavored to administer your schools in an honest, fair manner. I was rewarded for these efforts when so many of you came to me expressing appreciation for my efforts and encouraging me to seek re-election. Consequently, I am asking you to give my re-election serious consideration.

This job of Superintendent of our schools is a very complicated one. Any person first coming into the office has much to learn before he can do his most efficient work. The past four years have been a good training period for me and I feel that I am in much better position to do some good work in the schools than I was when I began. Besides these four years, I had served 1 year as supervisor of the County's transportation system, which is one of the most important phases of the school work of the county. In addition to this experience, I have served as principal, teacher, and bus driver in my years of school work.

I was born in this county and got my public school education here. All of my school experience has been in this county except for two years.

Please consider my record as superintendent, my qualifications and experience in making your choice. I have no political affiliations other than the fact that I am and have been a lifelong Democrat; being a member of one of Chilton's pioneer Democratic families. I believe in tolerance in any phase of life. I believe that a school system should be operated on the basis of merit in order that our children get the God given right of the best education their county can afford. Our schools face a serious crisis and should have the best available leadership. You are to choose this leadership and I beg you to select your man on this basis, regardless of who he may be.

You may expect a clean campaign for this office. My opponent is a good school man of high standards. We expect to conduct our campaign on ethical standards befitting school men. Please do not consider either of us responsible for any undesirable or unbecoming rumors, since such attitudes are detrimental to our school system.

This time of the year is one of the busiest for school people. I feel that you expect me to perform the duties of my office in such a way that our schools will not be neglected. Consequently, I will have very little time to campaign, since I am not going to take time off to do so. I will not be able to come to your homes, and about the only ones of you I will be able to see are the ones I run upon in my daily duties and in the towns on Saturday afternoons. Please consider this and do not decide against me because I have not come to you personally. I feel that there are very few of you who make your decision on this basis,

I hope to be the party nominee after May 2. Your help to this end will be greatly appreciated.

HOWARD BOOCKHOLDT.

SARDIS

Attendance was good Sunday and Sunday night for our regular preaching services. Our good pastor, Bro. Cox, brought two very inspiring sermons. We had visitors from other communities which we were very happy to have with us and invite them back at all times.

Sunday, April 9th, is our regular singing evening and we invite everyone out to Sunday School at 10 o'clock and singing in the afternoon. We do especially invite all the ones back who got disappointed the fourth Sunday evening as this was not our singing evening.

There are still some sick in our community. Let us be much in prayer for those who are not able to attend services.

We are starting a prayer service each Sunday night before B.T.U. and invite everybody out to worship with us. Hope to see you next Sunday and Sunday night at church.

Candidate for Governor

ALBERT STAPP, 53, a native of Pickens County, grew up a farm boy.

After finishing Kinney Hill school, he rode horseback 8½ miles from his father's farm to Gordo, where he attended high school two years before enlisting in the Navy April 11, 1917. He served 2½ years in the Navy Transport Service. He enlisted as an apprentice seaman and was discharged as a first class petty officer. Upon being discharged Stapp returned to his father's farm. His father soon sold the farm and moved to Aliceville, still in Pickens County. There Albert clerked in a store for one year before entering Aliceville high school from which he graduated in May 1922.

Stapp came to Birmingham August 1, 1922, securing employment first as an insurance salesman. One year later he entered the employment of Firestone Tire & Rubber Company as shipping clerk. After being employed by Firestone for twelve years in various capacities from shipping clerk to district sales manager, he resigned and entered governmental service as a deputy clerk in the Criminal Court of Jefferson County. He worked there five years.

Stapp established his own auto service business in 1940, which he operates as the Stapp Auto Service Company. He has become one of the most successful independent service station operators in the state. In November, 1947, he was honored by being re-elected to the state presidency of the Independent Service Station Association of Alabama.
